As the judge was pronouncing sentence, Miss Lusk, who was standing at the bar, released her hold, and fell backward in a dead faint. She had to be carried out of the court room.

Before sentence was pronounced, Judge Lueck had determined that Miss Lusk was sane at the present time. He based his opinion on advices of the insanity commission which he had appointed to examine her mental state.

Sheriff Bert Morris said that he would take Miss Lusk to Waupon by automobile Wednesday morning. All three alienists appointed by the court testified that they found Grace Lusk sane, both now and at the time she shot and killed Mrs. Mary Newman Roberts a year ago. Miss Lusk was calm when she descended the jail steps, but broke into fury when she saw Sheriff Bert Morris, who was witness for the state in the trial.

TRENCHES LIGHTED FOR WAR FILM BY STAR SHELLS

Canadian Army Supplies Real Thing to Aid Filming of "Freedom of World

Night photography in motion pictures is one of the biggest problems that directors have to face. Until a year or two ago it was supposed to be impossible to make a good picture at night, and when the idea was broached of reproducing the battle front in France and showing a night attack the general comment was "impossible."

The picture in question was "For the Freedom of the World," a tremendous patriotic spectacle produced by Ira M. Lowry, which will be seen at the Bradley Opera House on next week Thursday and Friday, June 27, 28.

As the full co-operative of the Canadian Government had been granted for the filming of this thrilling story of the famous American Legion of Canada there were no difficulties regarding the thousands of men in uniform who were to appear. The only thing that worried anybody was photographing an attack at night.

Ordinary lighting, as generally used in pictures, was, of course, useless in illuminating the tremendous trench system which had been constructed under the supervision of the directon.

After tests had been made and it was found that magnesium flares and every other trick of illumination known to the motion picture trade were valueless in lighting such a huge area, the director suggested that nothing on earth was quite so brilliant as the star shells used in lighting up "No Man's Land" between the trenches during the progress of an attack or to prevent surprise by the enemy.

The Canadian Ordinance Department was communicated with, and permission obtained to use the necessary number of star bombs trench rockets and fixed lights. The secret composition of these various devices gives a light more brilliant than anything else in the world.

The result is an exact reproduction of war front conditions, no trouble resulting in photographing even the most remote sections of the trench system. Even a downpour of rain which continued for two hours scenes would not destroy the efficacy of a lighting system devised for use in any sort of weather.

GOVERNMENT WAR FILMS TO BE SHOWN IN TECUMSEH

First Exhibition under Auspices of Michigan War Board will be Made Here on Tuesday, June 25

The official United States government war moving pictures, which are being shown throughout Michigan under the direct auspices of the Michigan War Preparedness Board, continue to create unusual interest. Everywhere they are screened the people marvel at the magnitude of the work the American army and navy are now doing and at the same time are compelled to express great surprise at the heights the soldiers and sailors have already attained.

They are shown absolutely by the War Preparedness Board, and all proceeds over and above the actual exhibition expenses, go to the fund for dependents of the Michigan men now in the service of their country, no matter in what branch of service. The government takes care of the dependents up to a certain sum each month, but it has been found that in many instances, by reason of peculiar individual conditions, that sum is insufficient. Hence the state finishes the work and now has a payroll of dependents running well over $5,000 a month.

If any person thinks there is lack of preparation in the army and navy of this country, his ideas will be quickly dissipated and his fears quickly dispelled when he sees these moving pictures. The fine intensive training which the men are given is shown in all of its details while the use of masks, to withstand gas attacks, is depicted in minuteness.

From the navy come pictures of the torpedo boat destroyers under Rear Admiral Sims and Sims himself is shown on the deck of his flagship hunting the sea for some trace of U-boats. The American submarines, of which few people have any expert knowledge, but which are now over there with Sims and making their presence felt in no small way, are given to the extent of 1,000 feet of film. All told there are six reels of 1,000 feet each, and the combination gives an excellent idea of the army and navy, what they are doing and what they have been taught to do.

Howard City.—A 400-pound bear that escaped from a circus near Cadillac terrorized the farm district one mile south of town Thursday night. Vern Thrall, a young boy, drove a herd of cows past the bear, thinking it was a large dog. Postmaster Reynolds and local merchants have organized a bear hunt. Later reports indicated that the bear had been seen near the Porter Mills, 4 1-2 miles southwest of town.

East Lansing.—An effort to find employment in the country for Michigan women ambitious to become "farmerettes" will be made this season by the federal office of farm labor, located here. "We are not making any special appeal to women to enlist for work on the farms, except in the fruit orchards," Director A. B. Cook declared, "but if there are women who would nevertheless like to try their skill in agricultural pursuits we will endeavor to place them with willing employers."

Bay City.—A large number of Bay City Odd Fellows went to Caro to participate in the annual exercises of the cantons of this district. The program was carried out in the Methodist church and was attended by uniform ranks from Bay City, Saginaw, Flint, Alma, Fair Grove, to the number of over 200. Frank Hall, of Flint, and staff and Major McNally, of Saginaw, commanding officers, were in charge. About 75 Rebekahs were in attendance.

HERE WEDNESDAY

Streets Literally Packed with Autos and People

Wednesdays entertainment attracted an enormous crowd to Tecumseh. The two business blocks down town were literally packed with autos and autos were parked on streets for a block or two back each way from the center of town. About the usual crowd were in for the afternoon but when evening came autos and rigs came streaming in from every direction loaded with people. Wednesday's crowd compared favorably with the largest attendance of last season.

The program was carried out as announced in our last issue with the exception of one act which the booking agent was disappointed in getting for us but they sent another which proved to be a good substitute, the act being an imitation monkey act by three experts. The Clinton band gave a fine program and Band Master Skinner kept his band playing until late in the evening. All stores report a thriving business and everyone seemed to have the best kind of a time.

Come again next Wednesday, the program for next week will be given in our next issue and everyone will be most welcome.

"EMPEY ONE OF THE GREATEST ACTORS," SAYS PRESIDENT OF VITAGRAPH

"Sergeant Arthur Guy Empey is one of the greatest natural actors ever to come under my supervision," states Albert E. Smith, president of the Vitagraph Company, and producer of "Over the Top" starring Empey, which will be presented by Manager Montgomery at the New Royal Theater Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, June 26, 27, and 28.

This is a significant tribute to the fighting hero of the Somme for Albert E. Smith is noted as a maker of stars, having introduced to the screen such present-day celebrities as Earle Williams, Harry Morey, Anita Stewart, the Sidney Drews, Clara Kimball Young and innumerable others.

In reply to Mr. Smith's statement, Sergeant Empey merely smiled and said, "The trenches do funny things to a man. A puppy dog might go into them and come out a poet. I don't know what acting is. When I go before the camera, I forget the director, the camera man and the studio. As practically all the scenes of the play are actual episodes I have experienced, the thing is easy for me. I simply live them over again—and get the same thrills I did originally. Sometimes I get too realistic, as when I knocked down two 'German' guards. That's what a fellow would naturally do if he could, wouldn't he?"

"Over the Top" is shattering all records in filmdom's greatest achievements. The Majestic Theatre, Detroit, has just completed a four weeks' run of "Over the Top" to a capacity business and hundreds were turned away.

Crescent Theatre, Adrian, have been playing to crowded houses for three days and people, without number, turned away, who were anxious to see Sergeant Empey in his most heroic work.

The management of the New Royal have made it possible to give a three days' run of "Over the Top." Every man woman and child in Tecumseh and surrounding country will want to see this most wonderful of all photoplays. We have tried to fix a price and time of showing that will accommodate everyone. Our seating capacity being limited we urge the public to come early, yes, come in the afternoon, and we will do our best to accommodate you.

Don't fail to see "Over the Top" It will make you 100 per cent. patriotic and show you just what our own boys of Lenawee county are up against right now in "No Man's Land."

TECUMSEH BANKS ARE NOW MEMBERS OF THE FEDERAL RESERVE BANK

Our local banks have just received a notice from the Federal Reserve Bank for this district, located at Chicago, which informed them that their application for membership has been accepted. This membership will enable any local bank to avail themselves of the many advantages offered by the Federal Reserve system and will greatly strengthen their activities and usefulness in this community.

Port Huron.—William E. Strattan, Detroit, architect, has submitted plans to committee representing Port Huron medical society for proposed new hospital to cost $200,000.

Pontiac.—James H. Lynch, a member of the Democratic state central committee, has resigned because he does not approve of the committee's apparent determination to conduct a campaign in Michigan next fall.

Detroit.—Notice has been received through war department channels by Fred J. Robinson, assistant manager of production, division of ordnance, of his appointment to the position of district chief of ordnance for Michigan.

Grand Rapids.—F. W. Hinyan, president of the Michigan Potato Shippers' association, in a statement said that practically the entire potato crop of Michigan had been cleaned up. Nearly 9,000 cars had been shipped up to June 1.

Muskegon—Both the Crosby Transportation company and the Goodrich Transit company vessels, plying between Muskegon and Milwaukee and Chicago, are carrying capacity cargoes, the shipments both in and out breaking all past records.

Grand Rapids.—The Michigan Railway company have advanced the interurban fare from Kalamazoo to Grand Rapids from 97 cents to $1, the rate from Grand Rapids to Allegan from 65 to 75 cents, and other advance in proportion.

Only a Short Walk from Co. B

Girls, Don't Worry, the Boys Won't Have a Chance to Marry French Maidens

Somewhere in France,
May 24, 1918

Dear Friend, Mr. Mize:

Just a few lines to let you know I am feeling dandy and hope you and all the boys are the same. I have been under the doctor's care for the last ten days, suffering with an abcess, but have fully recovered and am back on the job agai I sure hope this is my last sickness while I am in the army for this is no place for a sick person. I have certainly had the real army experience since we left the States and, believe me, you have to be in No. 1 condition to stand it. The trip across the ocean I stood in fine shape and the fish were sure disappointed with me, but a good number of the boys sure did lay them in a good supply, although I was terribly dizzy for a few days. I must confess that my nerves were in a better condition when I got my feet on the ground again, because you know that crossing the War Zone is not the most pleasant place to be on the water, although the Yanks have sure made a joke out of the subs. Believe me, the people over here give the Yanks the credit.

I was talking to a Tommie the other day and I asked him how long the war would last. He said "Aw, as soon as the bloody Yanks cut loose, it won't last long. Your chaps are always in good spirits. You can hear them singing going and coming from the front. They merely take it as though it was a game of some kind."

Well, he certainly is right, because I have been with thousands of them and I have never seen them down hearted yet. They are all anxious to get it over with, so they can go back to the States where life is worth living. The few boys that have jobs in Paris like it fine, but the boys up here are sure tired of it. There are no places to go and nothing to see but a stripped country.

There is a small town inside the limits we are allowed to go to and most of the boys visit it real often to buy some wines and beer on account of the water being so poor, but for the town itself there is nothing to see but a few old stone stores and nothing doing whatever.

The better class of people have moved away to a more peaceful part of the country than this has been since the war started, but the few left seem to be very pleasant and are very good to us boys. They still wear the old time wooden shoes.

Well, I must not leave out the Y, for we sure spend many good hours there, and if it wasn't for the Y, I really don't know what we would do. They have a fine program every night and it is always the best that can be secured. They generally have moving pictures about three times a week, entertainers two nights, sports of all kinds one night and Sunday is devoted to church meetings so you see the Y is one great feature of the army life.

Well, I haven't seen but a few of the French girls and don't think I will if I am always up here, but I understand the boys who are in the camps near where there are plenty of girls are so well protected from them that the girls in America won't have to worry about the boys getting married. Ha Ha! They sure keep the lid pretty tight on the boys over here.

Well, we roll out in the morning at 5:30 and leave for work at 6:30. We take our mess kits with us for we get our dinner at a field kitchen. And you can imagine what a nice open air ground floor dining room we had during the wet season, but we never mind that. I am hungry all the time and can eat like a horse, although I have lost several pounds since coming, but am in No. 1 conditio.

We get back to the camp about 5:30 and by the time we wash and eat it is about 6:30 so you see we don't have much time to ourselves for we have to be in bed by 9:30. About the only chance we have to go any place is our Sundays off and then we can't go far for the soldiers are not allowed to ride on the trains and there are no other means of traveling and, besides, we have to have a pass if we go outside the camp limits, and passes in France are very few and far apart.

I m only a few minutes walk from Co. B of Adrian but have as yet been unable to get over and see them.

Well, you know I don't dare write anything about the war or tell anything about the place I am in or what I am doing, so will close for this time as I have told you all I know. Give my regards to all the boys and if you find time I sure would be glad to hear from you.

AMERICAN STEEL & WIRE WINS AGAIN

CHICAGO STREET STOP MUST BE MADE IN TECUMSEH

State Railroad Commission Issues Order Requiring Safety Stop

All Trains are Required to Reduce Speed to Six Miles per Hour While Going Through Town

Village Clerk J. D. Service has just received a certified copy of an order requiring the New York Central Railroad Company to make a safety stop with its engines and trains before passing over Chicago street crossing in this Village and also requiring them to reduce the speed of all trains and engines over the crossing in town six miles per hour.

This order is the outcome of a recent investigation which was made here by a representative from the State Railroad Commission. This order will meet with quite general approval as far as the sentiment here is concerned as many have thought that some accident would surely occur at this Chicago street crossing. Forcing all trains to stop will largely eliminate the possibility of such an accident. A full text of the Commissioner's order appears below:

Application having been received from the citizens of Tecumseh for additional protection at the Kilbuck, Pottawatamie, Chicago and Logan street crossings of the New York Central Railroad in the Village of Tecumseh,

An inspection of the premises having been made by Inspecting Engineer Bice at which time the Village of Tecumseh was represented by its president, Mr. Fisher, and the New York Central Ralroad Company by its division superintendent, Mr. Bissell, who were heard with reference to said application.

The Commission, after examining the report of said inspection and due consideration having been given thereto

HEREBY ORDERS: That you, the New York Central Railroad Company within ten days from the service hereof, cause a safety stop to be made by all your engines and trains before passing over the Chicago street crossing;

AND IT ISFURTHERORDERED: That the request for additional protection at the Kilbuck, Pottawatamie and Logan street crossings be and the same is, hereby denied;

AND IT IS FURTHER ORDERED That the speed of all of your engines and trains passing over the above named streets be reduced to a speed of six miles per hour.

C. L. Glasgow, Chairman,
C. S. Cunningham, Commissioner.
A. A. Keiser, Commissioner.

CONCERTS AT CAMP CUSTER POSTPONED

Some weeks ago the quartette and minister of the Presbyterian church received an invitation from the Army Y entertainment bureau at Camp Custer to give a series of four concerts at the camp. It was planned to have such entertainments next week but the general order for entrainment of the 85th Division has closed all forms of entertainment at the camp. The boys are now working from daylight until dark getting ready to leave, so there is no time for concerts. The bureau says there will be plenty of opportunity for these concerts at a later date when the new quota is settled in the camp.

LYCEUM COURSE

Patrons of the Lyceum course at the Presbyterian church last winter are in for another disappointment. The Winter's Concert Co., which was to have been here during June, was ordered south by the Bureau for a series of concerts. The promise is now made for the last week in August or the first week in September. It is the plan of the committee to have the other two numbers the same week in which the Winter's Co. appear. assure the patrons that the course will be completed if it takes all the year to do it.

AGRICULTURAL MEETING

There will be a meeting of the Agricultural Club at Grange Hall at 8 o'clock this evening. Chester Spaulding, assistant state club leader, will be present and address the meeting. He will bring charts with him to illustrate his lecture which will treat on the saving of seeds from this year's harvest.

The public are cordially invited to be present. Everybody come and encourage the Club in their work.

RED CROSS NEWS

Mrs. Margaret Schneider is in charge of the Headquarters this week and will be next Friday. Mrs. Harry Dunn and Mrs. Raynor Anderson will be in charge the rest of the week. Mrs. Schneider has been one of the most assiduous workers, having hardly missed a day this year.

Mrs. John Nyland has a barricade of sweaters around the window of her husbands store, 80 grey sweaters and as many of the khaki, as we could make, was the quota assigned to Tecumseh, yet 119 warm woolly sweaters are there in the window and Mrs. Nyland looks forward to 150. Of the 57 grey ones, 50 were donated and Mrs. Nyland says that the work done by her committee has been so uniformly good that no sweater has ever been returned to her.

A number of children, 10 years and under got up a concert in Mrs. Frank Nyland's barn, and invited the neighbours, last Tuesday. They had a number of tableaux, and rigged up a dressing room and collected 68 cents for the Red Cross.

A letter received from Mrs. Floy Freeman Reason gives an account of the bombing outrages on Col. Reason's hospital in France, two weeks ago, in which two nurses, two doctors and four sergeants were killed, and five others wounded.

The hospital is four miles from Arras, and being very near the front, has been kept very busy. It was formerly an old French barracks, and accommodates now 1250 patients. The hospital and grounds cover 75 acres, and they raised their own vegetables chickens etc., in order to economize on supplies. A clipping from a London, England paper, says that the Canadian stationary hospital under main building was struck and burst into flames. Sisters Pringle, McPherson and Baldwin and ten officer patients of the operating staff were buried in the ruins. Sisters Hodge and Thompson in the adjacent wards removed all the patients and remained on duty. Sister Ward escaped with scratches and led the patients out over the ruins. The entire building was gutted. The condition of Sister Lowe in another raided hospital is critical. Most of the sisters who went through these recent ordeals received leave, but they expressed their readiness to remain.

Mrs. Reason was Miss Floy Freeman of Tecumseh.

America will show the Fiend of Berlin that ten hospitals will grow from every one he destroys.

AUTO FIRE

James Updyke has an unpleasant experience

James Updyke had quite an unpleasant experience Wednesday while on his rural route. Coming by the home of Issac Sloan, he discovered smoke coming from his car and stopping to investigate found it afire. Some men working in a nearby field came to his assistance and by a liberal use of gravel soon had the fire extinguished.

Albert VanDoren was called by 'phone and came to the rescue, towing the car to the garage. It was found that some damage was done to the electric wiring and some other minor parts. It was a narrow escape for Mr. Updyke.

TECUMSEH EVIDENCE FOR TECUMSEH PEOPLE

The Statements of Tecumseh Residents are Surely More Reliable Than Those of Utter Strangers

Home testimony is real proof.

What a friend or neighbor says compels respect.

Here's a Tecumseh statement.

And it's for Tecumseh people's benefit.

Such evidence is convincing.

That's the kind of proof that backs Doan's Kidney Pills.

Thomas Langton, retired farmer, W. Chicago St., says: "I had kidney complaint and suffered with my back a great deal. My kidneys acted irregularly and the kidney secretion were unnatural. I used Doan's Kidney Pills, getting them at Wright & Son's Drug Store, and they strengthened my back regulated my kidneys and benefited me in every way."

Price 60c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Langton had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfgrs., Buffalo, N. Y. adv

LEISURE WOMEN HARD AT WORK

Y. W. C. A. Spends $5,000,000 on Girls the First Year of War.

"Stand behind the country's girlhood!" This is the slogan of the most remarkable group of women ever brought together for work in a common cause.

When the War Work Council of the National Y. W. C. A. was organized last June it mobilized many of the best known women in this country, among them Mrs. Thomas Marshall, wife of the Vice President, and wives of several members of the President's cabinet—Mrs. Robert Lansing, Mrs. Newton D. Baker and Mrs. Josephus Daniels. Mrs. Henry P. Davison, wife of the head of the American Red Cross, is treasurer.

Other members of the council are: Mrs. John D. Rockefeller, Jr.; Mrs. Dave Henry Morris, granddaughter of Commodore Vanderbilt; Mrs. John R. Mott, wife of the international secretary of the Y. M. C. A.; Mrs. Robert Speer, Mrs. Henry Emerson Fosdick, Mrs. William Fellowes Morgan, Dr. Katherine Bement Davis, Mrs. Robert Coleman Du Pont, Mrs. Percy V. Pennybacker, and many others equally prominent.

In this first year of its work, the War Work Council has expended $5,000,000 on work for women and girls, both here and in Europe—wherever war conditions have menaced their physical or moral safety.

DRESS YOUR PART, SAY BUSINESS WOMEN

Furs in broiling weather and gauze stockings and slippers in midwinter will get a setback at the Business Women's exhibit of business clothes in New York city, scheduled for the early summer.

What to wear and how to wear it is one of the first questions which the new National Business Women's Committee is taking up. A standard in dress for business is the object.

When a hundred delegates from twenty-five states met at the National Board building of the Young Women's Christian Association, in New York City, in May it was to represent the 9,000,000 business women of this country and mobilize them for patriotic work.

Better working conditions, equal pay for equal work, efficiency in the various activities into which women are going and the promotion of business opportunities were the object. This committee of twenty-five women, known as the National Business Women's Committee, is the connecting link between the business women's organizations of this country and the National Young Women's Christian Association, which has thrown all its machinery open to the movement. Miss Lena Madesin Phillips, a lawyer from Kentucky, heads the movement.

ALL SORTS OF NEEDS MET BY HOSTESS HOUSE

Her brother's name among the list of killed in the evening paper—if only she could reach her other brother at the neighboring camp before he saw it.

For two hours and a half she tried vainly to reach him by telephone. Then she thought of the Young Women's Christian Association Hostess House—why not try it?

"Tell him," she called over the wire to the operator, "that some one at home is very sick." In fifteen minutes her brother's voice came over the wire—he had run all the way from the barracks to the Hostess House upon receiving the message.

The Y. W. C. A. Hostess Houses at the training camps answer many needs besides the service to women relatives and friends of soldiers. Like all well conducted houses they are friends to everybody.

Forty-six of these housese are already open and twenty-four are building at army camps, aviation fields, naval stations and marine barracks. Nine are for friends of colored troops.

MAIMED, BUT STILL GAY

"The gay little air which crippled men returned from the front all wear is the most pathetic thing that I have seen in France," writes a Young Woman's Christian Association war worker in Lyons.

"In spite of crutches and drawn faces they all look at you as you pass them on the street as though they would say, 'It's nothing to me that I have only one leg left to my name.'

"Lyons has multitudes of wounded, exchanged prisoners, refugees and the most motley crew of munition workers that any town can produce.

"In the great munition factories there are Chinese, Algerians, Moroccans and hosts of other races whose faces and clothes are so yellowed by the acids among which they work that their nationality is only a guess."

Great numbers of the workers are French refugee women. It is among these that the Young Women's Christian Association has opened social rooms which are these women's only chance of home life. Work of this kind has been established by the Young Women's Christian Association during the past year in a number of French cities.

Henry Clay's Diplomacy.

The following is an instance of Henry Clay's readiness in getting out of a difficult situation. On one occasion a vote he had given in congress offended one of his constituents who unbraided him for it and declared he would never again support him for congress.

Meeting this constituent on the court green Mr. Clay said to him: "I am sorry you will not again support me for congress because of a vote I gave on a certain measure. When your rifle misses fire do you throw it away?" "No," replied the constituent, "I do not throw it away." "What do you do with it?" asked Mr. Clay. "Why, I pick my flint and try it again," replied the constituent. "Well," said Mr. Clay, "are you going to throw me away because I have missed fire once? Won't you let me pick my flint and try again? Won't you treat me as you do your rifle when it misses fire?"

This ready reply satisfied the constituent and completely won him over, and he was ever after one of Clay's most faithful supporters in his candidacy for congress.

BROTHERS DOING THEIR BIT

John J. Blesing has just received the following letter from the Rev. Elmer Walker, commissioner to Camp Hancock in the Presbyterian War Work, which shows that our boys are making good whereever they may be placed:

June 21st, 1918.

Mr. John Blesing,
Tecumseh, Mich.,

My Dear Mr. Blesing:

I had the great honor of meeting your most worthy son Russell the other day in camp. Allow me to [illegible]tulate you on having such a fine manly Christian son. He is the type of fellow that are going to win this great war for us. I am at your service for anything you may wish being done for him.

Sincerely yours,
Elmer Walker.

We also give extracts from letters written by Verl Blesing to his father which are of interest:

Post Hospital, Hempstead, N. Y.

Dear Father:

Just a few lines to let you know I am in the best of health and sincerely hope that you are.

Have been pretty busy up until about fifteen minutes ago, changing dressings on my patients. Have eight more to change, but will put in what little time I have until then by dropping you a few lines.

I have 25 patients, all in bed too, so you see I have a little work to do. [illegible]ve another fellow helping, but he hasn't had any experience so he's not much help when it comes to changing the dressings. One thing, though, he is willing to help do all he can. He is studying all the time whenever he has a chance.

I have got up one more rung on the ladder. Am now a ward master and on day work too. Sometimes my work takes me far into the night. My duties consist of keeping my ward clean at all times (I have two men doing the work, I am ze Boss) records of all patients entered transferred or discharged for duty, respiration, temperature and pulse records, make out diet cards, change dressings and help on the operating table, and several other minor things. Am sure kept busy. One more rung and a first class sergeancy is assured me.

There was a mistake made in my exam that was too late for the Major could not correct in time to make me a Sergeant Sr. He gave me a wardmaster's job. No more sub-marine or flat boat chasing for mine from now on.

I am doomed to stay here until the middle of September anyway, the Major says, then the present hospital personnel will be relieved and sent across. Three months is a long time to wait.

Am going to take up baseball for my pastime now. I have been asked to pitch for the hospital team which I am going to do. Will pitch my first game Sunday against a team from Fort Slocum. They are reported to have a very strong team.

Guess this is all so will say "goodbye," With love, Verl.

REV. WELD IN THE ARMY Y

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Slayton received a letter Friday from their son Percy written on the boat. In it he says:

'While wondering around the boat I met Rev. Weld. This will be his second trip over with the troops. He wears a uniform and is under military discipline having the privileges of a second lieutenant.

"I keep busy figuring the pay roll so it will be ready when we land. Our officers are in one of the cabins, so very nice to work in.

"I am feeling fine and enjoying myself, have lost no meals. Will soon be on soil again and glad to have change of scenery. Remember me to all the old Tecumseh friends.

"Lots of love, Percy F. Slayton, Supply Detachment, 8th Field Sig. Bu., 4th Division (Regular) Care Chief Signal Office, American Ex. Forces.

"FREEDOM OF THE WORLD" GREAT WAR DRAMA, HERE

"For the Freedom of the World," said to be the greatest war spectacle film ever conceived, comes to the Bradley Opera House this week Thursday and Friday, June 27 28.

The story—a tale of love and deception cowardice and heroism of the highest order—was written by Captain Edwin Bower Hesser, an officer in the American Legion of the Candian expeditionary forces, and produced by Ira M. Lowry. Its scenes are laid in Canada, the United States, and on the battlefields of Western France

Probably never before has a war picture been seen which sets forth in a more effective manner a pictorial exposition of the reasons why the United States has gone into the great world conflict—and gone in to win! In the course of the film story spectators may see a realistic photographic raproduction of the life of their sons, brothers, fathers and others they love are at present living in the training camps throughout the country and the hardships they will later be priveleged to undergo in the trenches of the battlefields of Europe.

Actual battlefront conditions have never been so faithfully reproduced in a motion picture as in "For the Freedom of the World,"

Since the war began there have been literally hundreds of military pictures produced, but without exception when they have depicted a battle scene the result has simply been some movie director's idea of war. In this one, however, men who know war as it is in the trenches supervised the battle scenes, and for the purpose of realism, an elaborate system of trenches was built. Officers returned from the front line in France have expressed the belief that the film must have been made over there, so perfect is the realism.

"For the Freedom of the World" was made with the co-operation of the Canadian authorities. The story based on the American Legion of the Canadian Army, tells for the first time of the thousands of young Americans who answered the call to fight for liberty before their own country had entered the war.

The General Staff in Canada gave permission to use as many troops as necessary, and it was an easy matter to build the elaborate defenses which show the frot line. A night battle was planned and when the time came to turn the camera cranks, no one on earth could have told that it was simply for a movie.

The thousands of men who crouched in the trenches had all the enthusiasm of men going over the top for the first time and, as actual bomb fire and star shells were used, it was almost unpleasantly realistic. Every precautionn had been taken in advance for the safety of the soldiers and there were no accidents during the battle. No more thrilling or inspiring picture has ever been made.

At the private showing in New York, where hundreds of miltary men were present as guests, the audience broke out in cheers many times during the performance. The heart-touching quality of the story is one which will strike home to the millions whose husbands, brohers and sweethearts are going to fight America's batles overseas.

UNITE ON NEWBERRY

Paul H. King, executive chairman of the Newberry Senatorial Committee, asked for an expression, has issued a statement for the press of Michigan as follows

"I have been asked for a statement as to the position of our Committee, and am very glad, indeed, to make one, although as a matter of fact it had not occurred to me that oue was necessary.

"The fact that a few of our good friends in the Democratic party have met together and decided upon a candidate for United States Senator has not in any way disturbed the friends of Commander Newberry, who are so earnestly and successfully advocating his nomination

"This action has certainly aroused the spirit of the Republican party in the state Many republicans do not hesitate to express themselves as believing that the party in Michigan is able to select its candidate for Senator without outside suggestion. Moreover, the attention of everyone has now been called to the necessity of the selection at this time for this high office of the ablest man available

"It is unquestionably the patriotic duty of every citizen to lend his effort to help bring about the selection of such a man That is why, I believe, the men of Michigan, irrespective of party in many instances, are rallying to the support of Truman H. Newberry. They know that he has the ability, the broad experience and the vision of the future and that his integrity is beyond question. He is not only in the service himself, but his sons also, and in fact his entire family. He is doing everything possible to help win the war He is devoting his entire time and attention to his duties in the Third Naval District. EMPEY'S MESSAGE TO THE BOYS WHO WILL GO "OVER THE TOP"

Sammy, old boy, remember that you are going over to France to lick hell out of Germany. You can do it, too.

Sammy, you've never been licked yet and you are getting too old to learn new habits.

EMPEY—GOD BLESS HIM!

By Edwin F. Kuehn, Savannah, Ga.
From New York Sun

Who is it boosts our funds so high?
Who wafts its incense to the sky?
Who raises thousands far and nigh?
Guy Empey!
Who was it not too proud to fight,
Who shed his best blood for the right—
Who helps the smoke funds day and night?
Guy Empey!
Who came back to his native shore,
So wounded he could fight no more
Yet still gives of his priceless store?
Guy Empey!
God bless him!

Ten Reasons Why Michigan Should Send
TRUMAN H. NEWBERRY
to the United States Senate

First—Because of his marked ability. As a business man, as a member of Roosevelt's Cabinet and as a Commander in the Navy he has shown himself capable and efficient.

Second—Because of his broad experience in national affairs. As Secretary of the Navy he came into close touch with Congress and legislative action, knows how laws are made and is thoroughly familiar with legislative processes.

Third—Because he is a worker, "a man who does things."

Fourth—Because of his splendid record—Able seaman on the "Yantic" in the Naval Reserves—Lieutenant on the "Yosemite" in the Spanish-American war—Secretary of the Navy and now a Commander, he has always "made good."

Fifth—Because he is a Michigan man. Michigan born and bred and a part of its business and industrial life, he is in close touch with the affairs of our great state. He knows Michigan conditions and needs.

Seventh—Because he is genial, approachable and sympathetic. Much of his time is taken up with doing things to help, personally, the boys in the Navy and he delights to be of service to them.

Ninth—Because of his 100% Americanism. Not only in the service himself, but his two sons as well, he is doing all he can at his post of duty to help to win the war. He is the "Win-the-War" candidate.

Tenth—Because of his knowledge of the war, he is the best man we have in Michigan to help solve the problems arising and to arise out of this, the greatest conflict in history.

Ability—Experience—Industry—A Splendid Record—Integrity—Home Ties—Helpfulness—Good Judgment—Knowledge of War Conditions and Problems—all these are found in Truman H. Newberry.

HE IS THE BEST QUALIFIED MAN IN MICHIGAN FOR UNITED STATES SENATOR.

This week has been designated as War Savings Week and all over Michigan a drive is being made to bring Michigan's quota up to the 100 per cent mark and if Michigan holds good her record she will smash this 100 per cent mark by a big over subscription. Some way the buying of these "baby bonds" in Michigan has lagged and it is thought that the people of our state have not understood about the advantages offered through the medium of the War Savings Stamp plan. It has been thought perhaps that they were intended for the children and a chance for them to invest their small savings.

The Government has authorized an issue of $2,000,000,000 W. S. S. to be sold in 1918. Michigan is far behind to date, many states have already passed their quota and a drive is being made this week to bring Michigan up to where she belongs.

What is the plan? The Government has made it a savings plan and has placed these "baby bonds" within the reach of all. Cards are furnished by the Post Office, Banks or at various designated places of business for the use of those who wish to invest. These cards have spaces for 16 stamps, each worth 25 cents and when purchased they are to be stuck in the square indicated upon the card. When the 16 stamps are affixed it is to be taken to the Post Office or Bank and by paying an additional amount of from 17 to 23 cents according to the month the card is taken in, a larger stamp will be issued in place of the card turned in. This larger one bears interest at the rate of 4 per cent. figured quarterly at compound interest and will net the investor $5.00 at the expiration of about five years. This makes an attractive investment and an easy way to procure it. The plan of this drive, however, is not to get people to pledge to take so many 25 cent stamps, but to pledge themselves to buy a number (as many as they possibly can) of the $5.00 stamps. The smaller plan is acceptable, but if Michigan raises her quota our people have got to subscribe for the larger stamps.

Lenawee County has done better than most counties in the state in buying W. S. S. but she has got to come much stronger to raise the amount assigned to her. Tecumseh township must purchase $45,000. in W. S. S. in order to do her share. Our township has made an enviable record and has taken care of all her war calls in 100 per cent style and we are sure that our people will do their full duty in this weeks drive.

The township has been divided into districts and a house to house canvass will be made this week. Mr. H. S. Temple is chairman for our township and Mrs. E. E. Hendershot is chairman of the ladies organization. The following captains have been chosen to take charge of the four quarters of the township:

Ladies—Mrs. G. A. Rathbun, Mrs. C. A. Bidwell, Mrs. J. B Kennedy and Miss Asenath Hosmer.

The drive starts today and will end Friday night. Be sure and be ready when the committee calls upon you and remember that you are expected to do your full duty, we want no slackers in Tecumseh township. A record will be kept of those who do not buy so none can escape. You are not giving, you are investing and remember that we are going to win this war and what our nation does will be the great power which must be used to win.

The news coming from the other side is most encouraging and it begins to look as if the power of Prussia is fast crumbling. We must not slacken our energies at this time but must push harder than ever that nothing may be left undone to make the victory of the allies complete. We feel sure that every true American is willing and ready to sacrifice that they may support our Government to the limit. Be a true red blooded American and stand back of these boys who are leaving us with every dollar that we can possibly give.

Some one has said: "If one of our boys hesitated as long in going over the top as some people do in buying Liberty bonds or War Savings Stamps he would be court-martialed and shot for cowardice. And if the same punishment were meted out to non-combatants for financial cowardice an awful lot of people would be shot at dawn.

How much of your income do you fritter away and how much do you invest in W. S. S.? Remember that many of the men at the front give their lives.

Everyone knows best how he can reduce his expenses so that he may have more savings with which to buy War Savings Stamps.

RED CROSS NEWS

Dr. Pauline Bredow requests a large attendance this week in order to finsh ihe quota of surgical dressings for Tecumseh.

Dr. Bredow would also be glad if all those who have old copies of the Free Press would bring them to the Headquarters as they are exactly the right size for paper bags for pads, and they save a great deal of work.

The list of members and renewals is now completed to date, if any have been omitted, kindly notify Mrs. Hardy.

In case any name should be accidentally omitted, please remember that the officers of the Red Cross have in many cases neglected their own business to do Red Cross work, and that they do a great deal of work far more than the general public has any idea of, absolutely without any remuneration whatsoever, and that the most of them are put to a considerable amount of expense in running their own particular office.

Miss Florine Bennett has made a list of all members and renewals published in the Herald, and any member can exemine the list at the Herald office.

The Red Cross concert in Mr. Smith's barn at Warsaw was an unqualified success. The floor was laid between 11 a. m. and the hour of the concert; when the company arrived the workers were busily nailing up the steps, and the members had to wait until they could ascend.

There was an immense crowd, a third of the audience could not get into the hall at all, and it is estimated that a hundred autos were in the yard. Every number was doubly and trebly encored with loud applause.

After the concert the hall was cleared and Mr. and Mrs. Will Coller kindly donated their services in providing some excellent dance music. The audience came from all the country around, besides from Onsted, Tecumseh, Tipton, Clinton and Adrian.

Delicious ice cream, cakes and other refreshments were sold by the Warsaw ladies, and the meeting only broke up in the small hours of the morning.

$73.75 was collected for the concert and dance, which was divided between Warsaw and Tecumseh, the proceeds from the refreshments went to the Warsaw Red Cross. The net amount has not yet been ascertained.

The Red Cross concert on the Four Corners, Tecumseh, will take place on the evening of July 10th. Any ladies married, or single who will assist in the collecting committee, please telephone Mrs. Thomas McCann.

Mrs. Hardy addressed the Lutheran church at Bridgewater in German on Sunday. The members of the congregation expressed a desire for a Red Cross concert.

"You said that it had been reported in Toledo that the surgical dressings made in America and sent to France for redistribution to both United States and French Hospitals had been so badly made that our organization spent most of its time remaking them.

I made an investigation, and have the statement from the head of this Faisanderie Branch of Surgical Dressings that the dressings received from America are practically PERFECT, and from the head of the receiving department, who not only receives the cases from America but under whose supervision the dressings are repacked for shipment, that the American dressings are 999 per cent. GOOD.

Please, therefore, continue to deny this false statement. If possible trace it and go directly to the person with the facts.

Cases sometimes arrive which have been smashed and the dressings become dirty, but that happens in transportation and is in no way the fault of the American workers.

We have on our lists 1900 and some French Hospitals which may call on us once a month. At Faisanderie we make only about one third of the dressings for them, and the other two thirds come from America."

Jenny C. Law Hardy,
Publicity Director.

ANNIE LAURIE REAL PERSON

American Girl of Same "Ilk" Gives Facts of Origin of the Popular Scotch Song.

More than once has the question as to whether Annie Laurie, the subject of the ever-popular and ever-living song bearing her name as title, was a real person or mere fiction.

A letter has come to hand that was written by Miss M. E. Riddle, daughter of the late Judge Riddle, for many years a circuit court justice in this section, says a writer in the Pittsburgh Gazette-Times. The Riddles were of Laurie ilk, as Scotch folk say, and they had gone to some considerable pains to get the story of the song straight, as there had been considerable contention about it. Here it is:

"Jean Riddell (the name later spelled Riddle) was married to Sir Robert Laurie, the first baronet of Maxwelton. One of their daughters was Annie Laurie, celebrated in Scotch song.

"Annie Laurie was famed for her beauty and cleverness, and was a social favorite in all the country round about, so it was not at all surprising that she captivated a Mr. Douglas of England, a man of culture and of letters, who composed the song bearing her name.

"But seeing that the course of true love does not run smoothly, she married a Mr. Gurgesson, leaving Mr. Douglas to his hunting and his verses.

"To this day many pilgrims go to Maxwelton, drawn thither by the much-loved song, 'Annie Laurie.' Many also visit Craigdorroch, where she spent her married life in comfort."

WARY OLD BIRD IS TRUTH

"Where do you get the absurd facts you print?" is a favorite query put to newspaper men. In the view of these cynics, newspapers spend most of their time misspelling names, imagining incidents that never happened, and generally manhandling life as it is led.

There is just one answer to be made to the query above, and that is: "Newspapers get such of their facts as are absurd from the absurd human beings who for one reason or a thousand refuse to relate facts accurately." Newspapers, truth-telling newspapers, spend a very large part of their time correcting these misstatements, running them to their source, and getting at the truth. A certain proportion of error gets by—not as great a proportion as can be heard in any village neighborhood gossip, for it is the concern of newspapers—of honest ones, that is—to allow for errors and correct them, whereas it is the concern of those other purveyors of news, gossips, to create errors whenever they are more interesting than the truth.

The next time you find an error in your favorite newspaper, try an experiment. Try to capture one small fact yourself, in your own home town. You will quickly discover just how wary a bird the truth is and how very unpopular.—New York Tribune.

Japanese Arts and Letters.

The Yamato association has been formed by distinguished Japanese citizens for the purpose of making Nippon's achievements in arts and letters better known to the western world. Its promoters believe that Japanese civilization is not correctly understood by the vast majority of Occidental people. Her naval, military and scientific advancement is recognized, but the West has yet to comprehend the significance of her achievements in the humanities. The Japan Magazine, commenting upon the new organization, says: "Many foreigners are disposed to look upon Japan as merely a military nation, whereas her most important side is the genius of her unique civilization and character. If people could get a glimpse of the soul of Japan they would have quite a different opinion of her. This can best be had from Japanese art and literature, which in many ways are equal to those of the West. Even those Occidentals who try to appreciate Japanese art prefer the least representative art of the nation. And as for Japanese literature, it is practically unknown among western people."

The association will publish works on Japanese history, literature and art and make translations into European languages of the best works of Japanese writers, ancient and modern; in addition its endeavor will be to promote the improvement of the national music and drama.

First Irish Coaching Company.

In 1815, an Italian, named Bianconi started the first coaching company in Ireland, running long cars over various regular routes. Long cars soon became the safest and most reliable means of traveling over Ireland, and Bianconi turned rich and prosperous Writing in or about 1842, Mr. and Mrs Hall, who have written much of Ireland, tell us that "persons of the highest respectability" used the long cars for traveling. At this time, although these cars passed through 128 towns they had not made their way into the north of Ireland. The cars varied considerably in size, requiring from one to four horses. The fare, even over the rockiest roads in the West, was two pence farthing a mile. The Halls carefully explain that passengers were provided with "dry and comfortable horsehair cushions and aprons" and that, in wet weather, the long cars never journeyed more than two stages without changing the cushions.

MASONS ATTEND CHURCH SUNDAY

In Commemoration of St. John's Day

Tecumseh Lodge No. 69, F. & A. M., attended the morning service at the Presbyterian church Sunday. The brothers met at the lodge room at 10:30 and marched in a body, 50 strong, to the church. The purpose of the meeting was to commemorate St. John's Day and the pastor took for his subject "God-sent Men and the Kaiser."

Rev. Rex in a very forceful, able manner, pointed out how history shows that the God-sent men throughout the ages were not the style of men represented by Ceasar, Frederick the Great, Napoleon and Kaiser Bill, but were the men who really had stood for the great things that have made the world better, men who have not worked for self advancement or power, but have stood and suffered for a great principle. In his opinion this great war would produce such a man. It may be President Wilson or it may be Gen. Foch, but the Kaiser will learn to his sorrow that it is not the man who has expressed himself as being especially endowed by God to lead the German hordes to victory. That "Me and Gott" stuff would not be tolerated by a peaceful and liberty-loving people.

METHODIST LADIES GIVE THREE UNIQUE PARTIES

The Ladies Aid Society of the Methodist church have divided themselves in circles, each circle representing a certain section of town. Each circle have pledged themselves to raise a certain sum of money or rather a kind of rivalry exists among the various circles to see which one can do the best during the year.

Friday Circle No. 4 gave what they styled "A Progressive Party" which proved very novel and enjoyable.

The first party was given at the home of Mrs. H. W. Whaley. As the ladies arrived they were met at the door by little Miss Catherine Whaley who sold them a small flag around which was wrapped a paper upon which was printed the fortune of the guest. These were read by the guests and furnished a good deal of amusement. Jello and whipped cream with little sandwiches were served by their hostess.

From Mrs. Whaley's the ladies were escorted to the home of Mrs. Fred Davis where they were entertained by progressive conversation. The ladies on entering were expected to give a sum of money for their entertainment. Punch was served to the guests here.

The final party was given at the church where the balance of the entertainment in the nature of a musical was given and the much-feasted guests were served to sherbert and wafers. The admission charges taken at each place netted the circle a goodly amount.

STOLEN CAR

A seven-passenger car was found down near the old Blood place Saturday night where it had been left, after running into a telephone pole, and being badly damaged. Two men left it and hired some one to take them to Holloway where they hired another party to take them further on and so escaped detection. The car is thought to belong to a party near Jackson.

Authorities were notified to leave the car where it was until called for and in the meantime almost everything of value has been taken from it.

FOR QUICK WORK IN HAY TIME

Louden Hay Tools

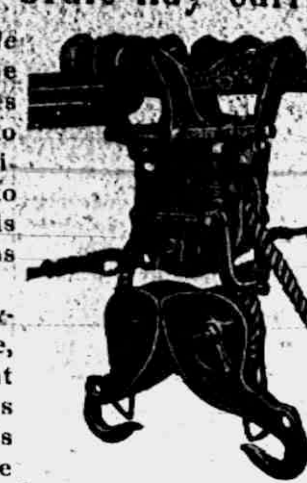
(Standard for Fifty Years)

What's One-Third Of Your Time In The Hay Field Worth To You?

Louden Hay Tools will save it. With them you can move bigger loads easier and faster than in any other way and avoid the delay which often lets the rain catch your hay down, spoiling it for use or sale.

Do you wish to put up your hay with forks or slings, from end or center driveway, with horse or engine power? We can furnish you a complete Louden outfit at a reasonable cost. The line includes fork and sling carriers for both steel and wood track; grapple and harpoon fork; slings; power hoists; pulleys; and all hay tool accessories.

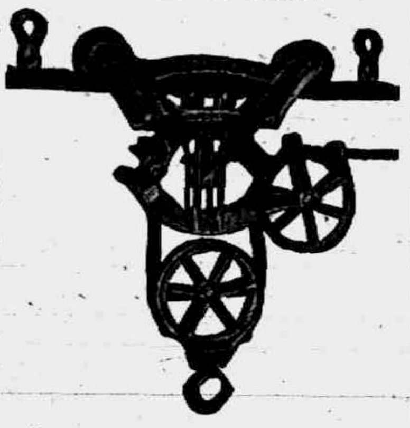
The Louden Cross Draft Hay Carrier



works on a different principle from that of other carriers. The draft rope runs at right angles to the track, passing down to the team or hoist in a most direct manner. It serves only to elevate the load. The carrier is pulled into the mow by means of the shift ropes.

By this plan the team travels only half the usual distance, and only half the usual amount of draft rope is required. As the team goes out the load is elevated; as it returns to the barn the load is carried into the mow. It is only necessary to carry the load high enough to clear the hay already in the mow. The load is held at any height by an automatic rope lock. May be rigged for either ropes or slings.

The Louden Junior Hay Carrier



is the most popular and biggest selling hay fork carrier. It is suitable for use in any style of barn. In long barns where hay is unloaded at both ends the carrier can be changed from one end to the other without changing a rope or pulley.

The Louden Power Hoist

comes to the rescue when help is scarce and high priced. It does the work of a team and a driver in about one-third the time. Nothing complicated about it; any one can operate it,

THESE ARE ONLY A FEW ITEMS OF THE COMPLETE LOUDEN LINE. LET US KNOW WHAT YOU NEED FOR YOUR BARN.

Facts An Automobile Owner Should Know---

GASOLINE SHORTAGE

So many stories are circulating regarding the gasoline situation that the following condensed facts may prove of interest to automobile owners. Accept the plain truth and kill once and for all these pessimistic outbursts.

GASOLINE SHORTAGE: There is none.

The refiners of the country are producing more than eight and one half million gallons of gasoline per day. There are now in storage over 500 million gallons surplus. In fact more gasoline is being produced each day than is being consumed. However, the Government is short of Fuel Oil but Fuel oil cannot be produced from Crude Oil, without at the same time producing the lighter oils such as gasoline and kerosene. The United States Navy and the combined navies of our allies must have Fuel Oil and in order to get Fuel Oil you must produce Gasoline. How therefore can a shortage be possible?

NO SUNDAY DRIVING RUMOR: Bosh

The persistent rumor about not driving nights, Sundays and Holidays had its originality in Chicago at a recent meeting of the American Automobile Dealers Association who went on record there to support any movement to close garages nights, Sundays and Holidays, if by doing so, the extra expense of maintaining this service could be eliminated and the mechanics so employed be released for Government Service.

GASOLINE TAX: Same Answer. Nothing to it.

A high tax would so curtail its use that immense stocks would pile up the same as kerosene did a few years ago. Should the Government, however, levy a tax it would naturally be a small one the object to produce revenue to carry on the war and not to curtail its use. However, don't waste gasoline. Conserve whenever you can. Eliminate waste. Use every drop. Kill idle engines. Prepare against any possible shortage in the future. Drive a car producing a maximum number of miles per gallon.

DO YOUR BIT—DRIVE A BUICK. The mileage per gallon you will find unusually high.

Talking Good Coffee

Does'nt make Coffee good, does it If it DID all Coffee would be the best.

No—it takes more than talk it takes a knowledge of what is what in Coffee to pick and choose—to pick and choose the GOOD—to let the rest go

Because there are a great number of Coffees that masquerade under false colors

We want you to judge our Coffee by the Coffee itself—not by what we say

CORRESPONDENCE

MACON

(June 21, 1918)

Mrs. Rachael Ransom

Mrs. Rachel Buhl Ransom, aged 80 years, during the absence of her son George and his wife at Camp Custer, had a dizzy spell and fell from the porch Sunday afternoon, sustaining internal injuries, from which she died about 9:30 p. m, Monday.

The neighbors, after many efforts finally succeeded in getting a message of the accident to the travelers about 3 p. m. Monday and, although they put forth every effort to reach home quickly, they were delayed by numerous blow-outs and punctures and finally missed their way in the dark, arriving home about 5 o'clock Tuesday morning, but too late to see the dear mother again.

Funeral services were held at the house Thursday at 2 p. m. with burial at Ridgeway. Our sympathies go out to the sorrowing ones.

The Dog Surprised—Also the Little Girl

The other day Dog Tip Day lay quietly snoozing in the sun on his own doorstep. Little Mary Howell lives in the adjoining yard and loves dogs. Tip looked so nice that Mary just couldn't resist hugging him (in her way). She went from her yard thro' the gate, to where he lay. Suddenly something pinched each of Tip's cheeks just awfully hard (Mary's hug). Now, Tip had a very sore cheek, a memento of a recent dog scrap and Mary's little fingers pressed right into it and oh! how it did hurt. Thus rudely awakened and before he half realized what he was doing, Tip had grabbed Mary by the cheek with his teeth. Then, when she screamed, he slunk away, dog fashion, behind the house. Mrs. Day called up Dr. Morden who soon arrived and cleansed and dressed Mary' bitten and bleeding cheek. The wound is healing nicely and Mary loves dogs just as well as ever but perhaps not quite so hard.

Wheeler—Remington Reunion

Tuesday, June 18, was held the 78th anniversary of the Wheeler—Remington reunion at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Gilmore in Macon. The house was beautifully decorated with flags and at an early hour the freinds began to arrive from Detroit, Jackson, Adrian, Bridgewater, Tecumseh, Clinton and Macon until 55 had gathered to strengthen the family ties and renew the family spirit that has kept alive for the past 78 years.

At noon the family sat down to a most bountiful dinner. Afterwards music was enjoyed and a social time till good-byes were said until another year should bring all together once more.

Webster Campbell of The Moody Bible Institute, Chicago, was a caller in town Wednesday.

The Ladies' Aid of the Presbyterian church will hold their next social on the lawn at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Rob Johnson in the afternoon and evening of Tuesday, July 2. Supper served from 6 o'clock until 8 o'clock. Everybody has a cordial invitation to come.

AN APPRECIATION

From Beth Satterthwaite to the B. Y. P. U.

Through the kindness of the B. Y. P. U. we print the following letter from Beth Satterthwaite who is doing her bit as a nurse over there.

Sermaize, Co. Bains, Marne, France.

Dear Old Friends:

If I don't hurry, your little afghans will be showing wear before you know how welcome and useful they are. They have done hours and hours of active service already. We especially like them for wrapping up the kiddies out doors. There is so much tubeculosis that we try to use every bit of sunlight and fresh air.

I decided to put one of yours on a bed in the nursery and save the other for an especially poor child to take home, but my small Paul saw it under my arm and raised such a howl for it that I put it on his bed for the sake of peace. They adore bright colors after all the terror and hardships and poverty that has filled their small lives. They all know the American flags now.

I am so proud that Tecumseh is so alive to what is going on over here. Red Cross there seems to be doing more and more instead of running down.

Our chateau was also used by the Germans for a hospital while they occupied the town. They left in such a hurry that they left their patients and one of their soldier-nurses left his diary. Among other things he spoke of how attractive this village had been before it was bombarded and burned. He said that even to an enemy these ruined towns were pitiful because you could picture the same thing happening to their own dear German home towns.

It makes you so thankful that little Tecumseh isn't suffering like so many of our Allies' homes. It makes me shiver to think of Tecumseh burned and treeless with you all living in your cellars or in new shacks with graves of our own boys and our enemy's boys all over your lawns and fields, and every man who could carry a gun on duty, leaving the old men and boys and women to do all the work (without whimpering or heroics) and a lot of our brothers and fathers in German prisons and no word from a lot of others at the front for weeks—and a lot of very comfortable people not owning a handkerchief—and most of our women in mourning.

I'm so proud that the Stars and Stripes is taking a real part now. We have reason to believe that American soldiers are at the helm in the new offensive just starting. The old guns are booming more heavily again and we all feel a big weight hanging on our hearts. We are not near the sectors of great activity, but we are near enough to realize part of the agony the world is going thru.

Your work of carrying on is far from wasted and I wish I could give you the feeling of satisfaction you deserve in it. Take good care of the blessed little town. We are so glad we came and that we can be used a little, but just imagine how good it will seem to see you all again and get back on the Raisin River, and the peaceful shade of our beautiful old elms and maples, and to the fine spirit that lives there.

Gratefully and cordially,

Beth Satterthwaite.

Laura Comfort joins me in thanks and good wishes to you.

DUNDEE FARMER GETS CASH FOR WHEAT

U. S. Food Administration sends Nelson D. Curtis Government Warrant for $341.36

Wyman Wells of Tipton has never called for his check in Tecumseh Bank—Cady matter in Washington

Lansing, June—Frank D. Fitzgerald, executive secretary to Food Administrator George A. Prescott, has received an official receipt from Nelson D. Curtis, a Dundee farmer, for $341.36, representing payment for 173 bushels of wheat, minus the transportation, handling and other charges. Curtis refused to sell his stock of wheat and the same was requisitioned by the government.

Wyman Wells' check for around $5000 is still uncalled for at a Tecumseh bank. The banker told Mr. Fitzgerald that Wells is a peculiar type and the voucher might be there for weeks or months before Wells would call for it. So far as is known at Lansing Wells is satisfied with the settlement, which represents the price of his grain as graded by he U. S. Grain Corporation, less the expense incident to marketing the same. Wells is the Tipton farmer who threatenel all sorts of violence if anyone attempted to take the wheat, which was moved to the elevator under the surveilance of a detachment of men from the State Constabulary.

The case of Walter Cady, the Ypsilanti farmer is now under investigation in Washington. The government in his case took the wheat and sent him a check which he declined to accept, refusing to accept the registered letter carrying the settlement. It is not known at Lansing how the Federal authorities will dispose of the Cady matter.

Traverse City.—A system of selling farm produce has been devised here at a meeting of producers from northern Michigan counties. The scheme provides for local farmers' co-operative associations to be federated into larger ones taking in groups of counties geographically related. The plan of the Western Fruit exchange will be followed. The group of which Grand Traverse county will be the center includes the counties of Emmet, Cheboygan, Otsego, Antrim, Kalkasha, Wexford, Leelanau, Benzie, Manistee and Charlevoix.

BOYS AND GIRLS OF MICHIGAN PROVE SELVES RECORD PRODUCERS.

Winners of Crop Championships are Announced by M. A. C.—Set Marks for Elders to Shoot at.

East Lansing, Mich. From among the 30,000 youngsters who in 1917 were members of the boys and girls clubs of Michigan, the six best producers of food and home products have been selected by the boys and girls club departement of M. A. C. as all-state champions—or as one of their leaders have called them "as the Fochs of Michigan's Junior army of the soil."

Harold Ray Coffman, aged 17, of St. Johns, in Clinton county was awarded the state corn-growing championship. On one acre he produced 83 bushels of shelled corn, upon which he was able to realize a profit of $133.03. Most of his crop was of such high quality that he was able to dispose of it for seed purposes.

Second place as a corn-grower went to Glenn Whidby, 16 years old, of Delton. He raised 88.7 bushels of shelled corn on an acre with a profit of $98.95.

The poultry title went to a girl, Miss Ruth Coller, 16, of Ceresco in Calhoun county. Her total income from her chickens was $393.58 cents, her total expenditure $117.03 and her net profit $276.55.

The championship for bean production was awarded to Glenn Aldrich, age 13, of Big Rapids. From nine tenths of an acre of land he was able to secure 12 bushels of beans, which he sold for seed purposes at an average price of $15 a bushel. His profits for the season were approximately $150.

A Coldwater boy, Frederick Kibbee, aged 16, won the gardening championship. In a garden three-quarters of an acre in extent, he grew crops valued at $190. Of this $113 was profit.

The state honors in garment-making were awarded to Miss Bertha Collier, aged 15, of Battle Creek. During the course of the year she made garments valued at more than $40.

The awards were all for work done in the season of 1917, for with 30,000 boys and girls whose reports had to be secured and checked up, and the additional fact that some of the products produced were not sold until this spring, the work of selecting the winners was not completed until a few days ago. The young people will hold their titles until 1919.

A place is vacant in our home
Which never can be filled.
God in His wisdom hath recalled,
The boon His love has given
And though the body slumbers now
The soul is safe in heaven.

UNIFORMS HENCEFORTH FOR ALL M. A. C. MEN.

East Lansing, Mich. No more the polychrome cravat, the orchestral shirt or the razor-edged pantaloon for students of M. A. C. A general order has just been issued by the military office of the college informing students, active and prospective, that henceforth, and as long as the war lasts, they will be permitted to wear only khaki while on the campus All the civilian embellishments in which the college males have been wont to array themselves will be taboo.

The order has naturally brought up among students the question of how it will be possible next fall for the upper classmen to recognize the incoming Freshmen. Major P. G. Wrightson, commandant of the reserve officers training corps of the college, has cleared up this problem by informing students that the first year men will be required to wear a small green badge on the coat sleeve as an emblem of their freshness.

The opinion is also held that the putting of the entire student body on a military footing will largely do away with hazing practices.

WAR ON RICH PEASANTS—LENINE

Lenine Urged Fight Against Hunger Must Be Carried On By Bread Crusaders Composed of Red Guards

London—The city of Irkutsk, Siberia, has been captured by Czecho-Slovak troops under General Alexieff, according to Berlin advices received in Copenhagen and transmitted to the Exchange Telegraph company. General Alexieff is the former Russian commander-in-chief.

Ex-Czar Murdered.

Copenhagen—Russian Red Guards have broken into the residence of Nicholas Romanoff, former Russian emperor, at Ekaterinburg and murdered him, according to the Russian newspaper Vjia, says a Stockholm dispatch to the National Hidende.

Moscow—The central executive committee and the Moscow executive committee met to consider the critical food shortage and were addressed by Nikolai Lenine and Leon Trotzky, respectively, the Bolshevik premier and war minister, who urged civil war against rich peasants and village food speculators was the only means for obtaining bread for the starving cities.

Lenine urged the fight against hunger must be thoroughly centralized and carried on by bread crusaders, composed of workmen and the Red army sent by the central soviet to villages to organize the poor peasants in their campaigns against rich peasants.

Trotzky said the Red army was unable to fight properly because of lack of the food and that the counter revolutionists of all sorts were using hunger as a weapon to defeat the soviet.

Portland.—Doyle Hyland, this city in service overseas, is dead of wounds.

Marshal.—Women in short skirts and overalls are cutting weeds on railrood property near here for $2.75 a day.

Ferndale.—The village government has exhausted its initial loan of $1,500, from the First State Commercial bank of Royal Oak, and has passed a resolution asking for another $1,500 pending the collection of this year's taxes.

Saginaw—The Saginaw Shipbuilding Co., launched the first of 24 steel ships it is building on the Saginaw river at noon Sunday. The second one will be launched the Fourth of July. The local yards are seeking additional contracts.

Albion.—E. L. Moore, druggist, paid to the local treasurer of the Red Cross a $200 fine imposed on him by the Michigan state fuel administration for illegally filling out three applications for hard coal. He has turned back to O. H. Gale, local fuel administrator, all the hard coal he had on hand and this will be distributed to the poor.

Houghton.—The Greenwood Lumber company, operating in Ontonagon county, was ordered to sell 6 barrels of hoarded flour, by G. W. McCormick, upper peninsula food administrator, including one barrel found in the home of K. H. Bice, the manager, and one found in the home of his assistant. The company also was fined $50 for the benefit of the Red Cross.

ITALY ATTACKS FOE IN MOUNTAIN REGION FOR GAINS

NOTABLE GAINS OF GROUND HAVE BEEN MADE IN ADDITION TO HEAVY ENEMY CASUALTIES.

PIAVE RIVER AGAIN RISES; STOPS GEN. DIAZ' PURSUIT

Austrians Rushing Up Reserves From the East to Retrieve the Situation—Other War Happenings in Europe.

[illegible] along the borders of the Venetian plain the Italians have turned on the offensive against the enemy in the mountain region and are attacking on various sectors. Notable gains of ground have been made and in addition to heavy casualties inflicted on the enemy a large number of Austrians have been made prisoners and 16 machine guns have been captured, according to Rome.

The Italians have cleared the remaining Austrian rear guards from the Piave river and are in possession of the entire river front from the Montello plateau to the sea. At last accounts their forces which crossed the stream in pursuit of the retreating Austrians were still harassing them, inflicting heavy casualties and forcing the enemy to continue his disorderly retreat.

Austrians Reported Surrounded.

According to advices received in London, Austrian forces which have been pursued across the Piave are surrounded by General Diaz's troops.

Fate, however, has turned somewhat its balance in favor of the Austrians, for the Piave river again has risen and some of the pontoon bridges the Italians had thrown across the stream have been carried away, making impossible a quick pursuit, which General Diaz had counted upon.

The Austrians are declared to be rushing up reserves from the east in an endeavor partly to retrieve the situation.

Germans Build Naval Port At Triest.

Geneva—La Suisse says it learns the Austrian defeat in Italy has caused profound dejection in Vienna where demonstrations are taking in the streets and at Prague where the inhabitants are demanding peace.

The German newspapers are sarcastic concerning the retreat of the Austrians. As an example the Konstanz Zeitung asks "Must German troops be continually diverted from the important western front to bolster up our weak allies?"

It is reported the Germans have begun to build a naval port at Triest, entirely independently of the Austrian authorities who were not consulted.

German Army On Black Sea.

Moscow—The Germans have landed a force of 3,000 infantry and cavalry together with artillery at Poti, on the Black sea, according to an official communication recently issued.

Poti is a seaport of Russia, in Transcaucasia, at the eastern end of the Black sea. It is connected by rail with Tiflis, Batum and Baku.

Poti is the direct route to Bagdad, now occupied by Allied troops in command of General Allenby. If Germany should attempt to strike at India the quickest way would be by way of the Black sea.

Japan Ready to Strike At Germany.

London—In the house of commons Monday, Premier Lloyd George said:

"I have been informed on very good authority during the last few hours that hatred for the Germans is sinking deeper and deeper into the minds of the Russian people, especially in the parts occupied by Germans. My informant tells me that Russia is readier than ever to participate in any movement to drive the Germans from Russian soil.

"These things are full of hope, but here are difficulties of access to Russia. They only country having access on a great scale is Japan, but on this subject I doubt whether I can do good by saying anything."

"We are on the eve of a great event," the British premier announced and the benches of the chamber were transformed into a wild demonstration.

"There might be a blow coming within a few hours," the premier declared, in predicting the important events he was visualizing for parliament. "Certainly," he added, "it will come within a few days.

ULTIMATUM SENT TO TURKEY

Previous Inquiries Have Been Ignored by Turk Government.

Washington.—A virtual ultimatum was sent by the United States government to Turkey demanding an immediate and satisfactory explanation of the Tabriz incident.

There is strong reason to believe that a failure on the part of Turkey to give favorable response will be followed by a declaration of war on the part of this nation.

The offense for which an explanation is demanded is the action of the Turks at Tabriz in sacking the United States consulate there and looting the United States hospital. The United States demands to know whether the Turkish government avows responsibility for the outrage or whether it was the outcome of irresponsible mobbing, following the capture of Tabriz by the Turks.

Officials tonight made no effort to [illegible] over the failure of the Constantinople foreign office to pay attention to the inquiries of this government, and it is admitted that the relations between the two governments have never been more strained than they are at the present moment.

MANY RUSH TO PAY INCOME TAX

Washington.—The biggest harvest of taxes ever gathered by the federal government was finished Tuesday with the expiration of the time for paying excess profits and income assessments without added penalties for delinquency.

Estimates placed the sum collected from these sources at $2,775,000,000, and exact figures probably will be known next Monday or Tuesday. Almost $500,000 came in Tuesday from corporations and other big taxpayers who postponed payment as long as possible.

Payments not made today are subject to penalties of 5 per cent with 1 per cent a month interest. Indications were that the aggregate of delinquent payments on returns actually filed would not be large.

Hundreds of small business and professional men and other individuals failed to file returns or to make payments, however, and against these an intensive campaign will be waged, starting in two or three weeks.

SUGAR SHORTAGE HITS NATION

Food Administration Cuts Allowance to Three Pounds a Month Per Person.

Washington—Drastic restrictions on sugar consumption were announced by the food administration Saturday night. They include:

Reduction of home consumption to three pounds a person a month.

Reduction of less essential manufactured products, including sweet drinks, to 50 per cent of their normal sugar requirements.

Cutting of ice cream manufacturers to 75 per cent of their normal amount of sugar.

Food administration officials are working on details of a ration card by which they will enforce the three-pounds-a-month rule.

This scheme follows a serious reduction in the available sugar supply for the United States and the allies. Shipping shortage, destruction of over 200 French sugar factories and losses of thousands of acres of French and Italian beet sugar lands combined to create the scarcity.

EIGHTY-FIFTH PHYSICALLY FIT

"Misfits" Are Weeded Out By the Medical Department.

Battle Creek—No soldiers of doubtful physical condition will be taken overseas with the Eighty-fifth division. Rigid and frequent examination by the medical department have weeded out every man whose physical make-up might cause him to collapse under the shock of actual battle.

Men confined to the base hospital will be transferred to the depot brigade will furnish a physically fit substitute. A few whose training has been along special lines will be allowed to join the division before it leaves the Atlantic coast, providing they have sufficiently recovered to stand the ocean trip. Whatever vacancies occur before the division goes aboard ship will be filled by men from replacement troops established at the port of embarkation for just such emergency.

TO LAUNCH 89 SHIPS JULY 4

Will Have a Capacity of 439,886 Dead Weight Tons.

Washington—Celebration of July 4 this year will be made notable for all time by the launching from American shipyards of the largest number of ships of the greatest total tonnage ever put into the water in one day.

Independence day's contribution to the merchant fleet on which the world is depending for victory over the Germans will be at least 89 vessels with a capacity of 439,886 dead-weight tons.

Three of these ships will take the water at the Ecorse, Mich., yard of the Great Lakes Engineering Works, on the Great Lakes Engineering Works, on the Detroit river. The three hulls total 8,900 dead-weight tons.

Olivet.—Seventeen B. A. degrees were conferred upon seniors of Olivet college at the commencement exercises. Dr. Edwin W. Bishop, pastor of the Plymouth Congregational church of Lansing, delivered the address.

Port Huron.—Eighteen questionaires in local draft board offices are now being revised, and men who were taken out of Class 1 and given deferred classifications, will be re-examined and many of them brought back to Class 1.

Grand Rapids—Oakley C. Johnson, principal of the Grant high school near here, is being sought by federal agents as a supporter of the I. W. W. Police say Johnson had receipts for contributions for the defense of the I. W. W. members on trial in Chicago.

Holland—Students of the Holland high school, both boys and girls, will wear regulation uniforms next year. A committee, including Mayor Bosch and Superintendent E. E. Fell, selected the uniform. Blue cadet uniforms were adopted for the boys, the design similar to that of the West Point fatigue uniform.

KENYON—TREVIDICK

Home of L. D. Kenyon scene of very Pretty Wedding Last Evening

One of the season's most interesting weddings, quiet in all its appointments, was that of Mr. Lerenzo D. Kenyon's daughter, Merle Florence, to Ray W. Trevidick of Grass Lake, Mich, which was solemnized at 7 o'clock Thursday evening at the Kenyon home, 211 N. Pearl street, Tecumseh.

Rev. Cutler of Grass Lake officiated with only immediate families and intimate friends witnessing the ceremony. A ring service of unusual effectiveness was used.

Mrs. F. J. Mahrle of Jackson, Mich, was matron of honor while Mr. F. J Mahrle attended the groom. Little Miss Norrine Seager daintily carried the cluster of lillies that held the ring.

Miss Kenyon wore an exquisite gown of white silk marquisette and carried a shower boquet of bride's roses and white lillies, while Mrs. Mahrle was gowned in gray pussy willow silk and carried a boquet of pink roses.

To the strains of Mendelssohn's Wedding March the party took their places before an altar of ferns and white lillies. An elaborate three-course dinner which was served by three young ladies, followed the congratulations.

Mr. and Mrs Trevidick left for an extended trip to the East and upon their return will reside in Grass Lake.

Mr. Trevidick has been associated with the Glasgow Bros for several years and is held in high esteem by his many friends both in Grass Lake and Jackson. The bride has been a most successful and popular teacher in the public schools of Grass Lake for the past six years and has a host of friends who extend them congratulations.

The out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs J. L. Kenyon and children of Detroit, L. C. Kenyon, wife and daughter of Toledo; Roy Trevidick, Mr. and Mrs Ray Trevidick, Rev and Mrs. Cutler and son, Mr. and Mrs. Seager and daughter and Miss Olive Cadwell of Grass Lake; Mr and Mrs. F. J. Mahrle of Jackson.

Mr and Mrs Trevidick will be at home in Grass Lake after August 1st

"FOR THE FREEDOM OF THE WORLD"

A Masterpiece

To anyone who saw Ira M. Lowry's masterpiece, "For the Freedom of the World," at the Bradley Opera House last night, all question as to its being the "biggest and best" of the many war pictures offered the American public is removed. "For the Freedom of the World" is head and shoulders ahead of anything in its line yet seen in Tecumseh.

The film is devoid of the many "melodramatic" trench scenes of which so many of the war films are filled but in their place runs a thrilling ever interesting story which should bring every red blooded American to his feet.

The scenes of night battles were wonderful and gives one a excellent idea of what the real battle fields must look like during a night attack. "For the Freedom of the World"—certainly no other title could be more appropriate for this truly American play.

Thompson's orchestra of Clinton rendered some excellent music during the entire screening of the picture and will furnish the music again tonight. Two shows will be run this evening starting about 7:15 and 9 o'clock. Arrange to see one of them and see the greatest patriotic drama yet shown in Tecumseh.

Mr. Magley of Adrian was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Nevison Wednesday.

Mrs. Rose Burrow is taking a weeks vacation from her duties at the Rosacrans store.

Mrs. Florence Smith, who was visiting her son Claude Grey, Wednesday, returned to Adrian Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Jones and two children of Cleveland are guests of her parents Mr. and Mrs. John Lowry.

George VanTine was a passenger for Adrian Thursday in the interest of the Soldiers and Sailors Association.

Miss Jessie Avery of the U. of M. hospital, is home for a few days visit with her parents Mr and Mrs. F. D Avery.

More encouraging news is being received from Mrs. Eugene Harris this week. She is not out of danger yet but the doctors are very hopeful.

Mrs. Agnes Edwards of Tipton was a Tecumseh visitor Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. McIntyre of Dundee have been visiting relatives in town this week.

Ann Arbor—In an effort to find slackers, between 350 and 400 men of draft age were rounded up recently in draft raids in Washtenaw county. But eight or nine of the men taken to the armory were unable to prove that they had classification cards at home. They were sent to the county jail. Members of the sheriff's and police forces, and One Hundred and Seventy-fourth company Michigan State troops made the raids.

Ann Arbor.—After the city aldermen voted to allow poolrooms to be operated on Sundays in this city, Circuit Judge George Sample called County Prosecuting Attorney Carl Lehman, and City Attorney Frank Devine to his chambers for a conference. The aldermen's edict will be ignored, and the state law against opening pool rooms on Sundays will be rigidly enforced. "I will take the responsibility for the strict enforcement of the state law into my own hands," said Judge Sample.

Pontiac.—Oakland county's five Covert law roads to be constructed this year have been approved by the capital issues committee at Washington. Word was received that the Elizabeth Lake and Royal Oak-Clawson highways are given governmental sanction. Three others had been approved earlier, making a total of nearly half a million dollars in bonds for roads this year authorized. The county commissioners won approval on the ground that Oakland roads are important in government transportation.

BIG CROWD HERE WEDNESDAY

Three Good Acts Given and Plenty of Good Music by Clinton Band

Wednesday was another big day in Tecumseh and our streets had their usual crowd in the evening. The program consisted of three acts: Tyler, Head Balancer; The Freemans, tight wire act; The Walton, feats of strenght.

Some very difficult and clever stunts were given by this bunch of artists. The Clinton band, under the leadership of Mr. Chas. Skiner, gave a fine concert during the evening and between acts music was furnished by Tecumseh talent. Mr. Fred Dickinson sang a solo and the Temple Quartette rendered a selection.

This is W. S. S. week and the evening was also devoted to selling Thrift Stamps. A large number of ladies, dressed in the Red Cross regalia, circulated among the crowd selling Thrift Stamps and while this was going on a committee upon the platform were spinning a wheel, the lucky number receiving $2.00 in Thrift Stamps. The committee to re-imburse themselves sold twenty tickets at 10 cents each. From these sources "Uncle Sam" was enriched to the extent of about $350. and this amount will be turned in and counted on our township's quota for War Savings Stamps.

Another feature of Wednesday's program was the donation made by our Tecumseh merchants, who pledged themselves to turn over to the War Savings fund the entire receipts of their Wednesday's sales. It is impossible for us to make public the amount received from this source as the committee have pledged themselves to withhold any publicity in This plan however will net the township quite a large amount on its quota.

COLLER'S DANCE

As usual Coller's dance drew a good crowd Wednesday evening, 70 couple being reported. Music was furnished by Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Coller assisted by Fred Willetts of Adrian. The dances seem to be a grand finale to the Bargain Day entertainments and the participants were in no hurry to leave, dancing continuously until 1 o'clock.

ENTERTAINED

Mrs. F. G. Lewis very pleasantly entertained eight young ladies Wednesday afternoon, honoring her niece Miss Helen Bennett of Chicago. A two-course supper was served and later the company adjourned to "down town" where they engaged in selling War Savings Stamps, doing good work for Uncle Sam.

MACON

We are glad to make the correction that the black horse owned by Elmer Mellon, which we reported in a recent issue as being so seriously injured, was not hurt at all. The horse that had its leg broken was one of another team

Mr and Mrs. Frank Thomas were happily surprised when their son Charles greeted them in Tecumseh Wednesday evening. He had just arrived from Camp Pike, Ark. He has 30 days furlough and, if necessary, 60 days in which to recuperate from his recent severe illness.

ANOTHER TECUMSEH BOY WHO'S MAKING GOOD

Some Tecumseh people have received within a few days the following announcement:

"Mr. and Mrs Arthur Wrightson announce the marriage of their sister Mury Elinor to Captain Russell E. Adkins, United States Army, on the morning of Saturday, June 21st, one thousand nine hundred and eighteen, in the city of Chicago."

A card accompanying the notice reads:

Many of our middle aged people will recall Captain Adkins as the son of Rev. Frank Adkins who for six years was pastor of the Baptist church in Tecumseh. He graduated from our High School with the Class of, 1890 and the writer of these lines recalls that his Commencement oration was an original poem, "The Worm in the Oak," a very creditable production.

He and our Uncle Sam seem to "take to each other," for he entered Government employ here as clerk in the postoffice under the invitation and training of Capt A. D. Lawrence.

When the family returned to Ohio, from which state they came, he became a railroad train postoffice clerk.

His next step upward was to study medicine and after his graduation he married and was sent to China as a medical missionary. In that country he lost his wife by death, and some years later the condition of his sister's eyes compelled his return to this country. Now it seems he and Uncle Sam are again uniting their efforts to make the world safe for democracy. Success to them both is the wish of the writer.

He has many friends here who will be glad to hear of his health and advancement, for Tecumseh people are interested in, and proud of her boys of the past.

NOTICE TO DOG OWNERS

A communication has been received by Sheriff Fred Nutten from State authorities to the effect that owners of dogs in the Village of Tecumseh and the county of Lenawee at large, have not been complyng with the law.

The law states plainly that owners of dogs must secure a license the first of February of each year and the tag received with such license must be worn by the dog. The license fee is $2.00 on each male dog, $2.00 on each female which has been splayed (a certificate from a veterinary to that effect must be shown) and $5.00 on a female which has not been splayed.

The penalty for not complying with this law is $25.00 fine and costs or 30 days in the county jail or both in the discretion of the court.

This law shall be enforced in this county. The marshal or any other officer has just as much jurisdiction as the sheriff or deputy sheriff and they are expected to enforce the law.

Fred Nutten, Sheriff.

ST. PETER'S CHURCH SCHOOL ADOPTS A FRENCH WAR ORPHAN

April 14th the children of St. Peter's Episcopal church school voted to care for one of the little children made orphans by the present war, the cost of which is $36.50 per year. By the payment of this amount the child may be kept in the home of its mother or near relative. The children agreed to sacrifice a dish of ice cream, picture show, candy or such each week and bring the money to the church to be given to the orphan. In this they have done nobly and many have worked to earn more that they may have more to give. It has been only 12 weeks since the work began and they have paid for six months in that time.

The name of the little girl is Marie Perieur and it is hoped that we may soon have a letter from her telling of her life and home. It is hoped that the work of this school may inspire others to take up this great work in this hour of great need. Save the babies of France.

Why-A Redwood Silo?

Because Redwood is the most permanent wood that exists. Nature seems to have made Redwood especially for silos. Redwood will not shrink or swell. It does not rot or decay. It is fire-resisting. Redwood gives the superior silage qualities of wood and has none of the faults of ordinary woods or other materials.

You build permanent when you build of Redwood. Scattered throughout Redwood are little cells containing a remarkable preservative. This protects Redwood from rot and decay. None of the ordinary wood-rotting fungi can grow in Redwood. The even structure of Redwood—the way nature has shaped its growth, with its close layers of wood cells—prevents shrinking and swelling. Its freedom from pitch gives Redwood fire-resisting qualities. Searching government tests and investigations testify to the wonderful durability of Redwood.

Saginaw

Saginaw Silo

THE SAGINAW REDWOOD SILO

The permanence of Redwood and Saginaw Steel-Built construction—these two things give you a silo that is practically indestructible. The Saginaw Silo applies scientifically the principles of skyscraper construction. Decay, cave-ins, crumbling of walls, blow-downs, tilting or slipping of staves, or poor silage are unknown to owners of Saginaw Redwood Silos.

The Saginaw Spline-Dowel is a steel plate inserted to lock the stave sections in four places. It makes an air-tight joint between staves. Two spline-dowels in each stave unite the adjoining staves preventing any shifting or tilting of staves; prevents the staves buckling; makes a solid, rigid, united wall.

Saginaw Redwood Silos are made by the largest and most successful builders of silos. This leadership comes from building better silos, from giving dollar for dollar value in every Saginaw Silo.

Know about the Saginaw Silo before you build. Get the facts from silo owners. The Saginaw Silo will pay for itself the first year in feeding your stock fine, clean, succulent silage.

See Saginaw Agent in your county. He is silo-wise. He will give you expert silo information. Write for Silo book No. Tell us how many head of stock you have.

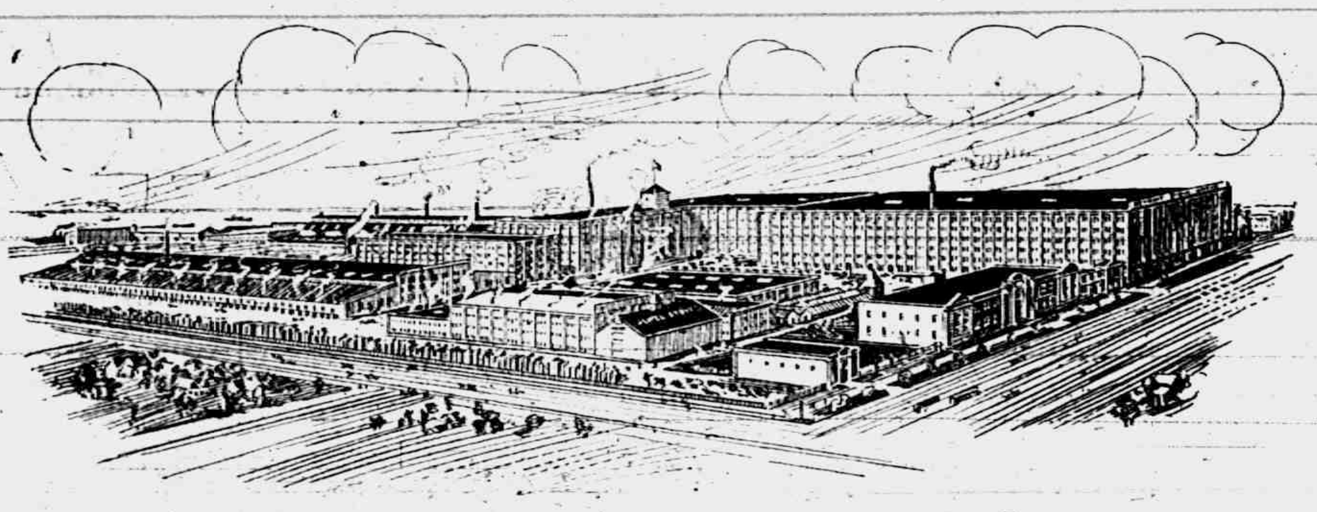
THE HOME Of The JEWEL



One Way Fuel is Wasted

Government authorities are urging every possible conservation of fuel. Investigation have proved that over $1,000,000 daily is wasted in fuel and food-stuffs because a large percentage of stoves are worn out and should be replaced by new ones

A stove or furnace that has seen its best days is a big expense to the owner because of the fuel it wastes. To operate such a stove is really an injustice to the public when fuel is so scarce.

Stove manufacturers are putting forth every effort to design and perfect ranges and stoves that will burn less fuel, and many improvements have been made. It is claimed the majority of stoves now in use could be thrown away and the owners would be money in pocket by buying the improved makes.

THE FIRST JEWEL STOVE

It is now over fifty years since the first Jewel stove was built at Detroit, and it is with pleasure we state today our plant is the largest stove plant in the world, covering 13 acres, employing over 2000 workmen.

If the pioneer stoves had not been good stoves, it is safe to say this industry would never have reached its present standings. To-day they excell in material, workmanship, and patented features.

HOW THE JEWEL IS MADE

Jewel stoves and furnaces are made of Kemi-Test Iron which is a blend of different kinds of pig iron, produced by the Jewel special formula. It makes the toughest, smoothest, and most lasting castings to be found in stoves. It is not hard or brittle, but is live and elastic and rings like a bell.

It is made by chemical analysis, not by guess-work, and so is always uniform in quality. No scrap iron whatever is used.

THOROUGHLY INSPECTED AND TESTED

At three different stages in their manufacture Jewel Stoves and Furnaces must pass the critical eye of an expert inspector. The slightest flaw in a casting, any carelessness in mounting or finishing is detected before the stove is O. K.'d for shipment.

No Jewel Stove or Furnace is placed on the maket until it has been thoroughly tested to know what it will do. After being designed the first one produced is subjected to a firing test. If it wastes fuel, if it does not heat, or bake in a satisfactory manner, it will never go on the market until it is made right; therefore you never have any risk when you buy a Jewel product.

Many Tecumseh People Testify to This

You can't sleep at night

With aches and pains of a bad back

If the kidneys are at fault

Here is Tecumseh proof of their merit.

J. B. Smith, E. Chicago St., says "I was caused a great deal of suffering by pains in the small of my back and when the attacks came on, it was all I could do to attend to my work. When stooping, I was dizzy and spots of fire seemed to flash before my eyes. I did not rest well and mornings when I got up, was tired and languid. I doctored and used remedies of various kinds, but got no benefit until I began taking Doan's Kidney Pills. They made me feel like a different person, completely ridding me of kidney trouble."

OVER FIVE YEARS LATER Mr. Smith said: "I gladly confirm my endorsement of Doan's Kidney Pills given before. I use them occasionally when I feel in need of a kidney medicine and they never fail to help me."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Smith had. Foster-Milburn Co. Mfgrs., Buffalo, N. Y. adv

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and for years it was supposed to be incurable. Doctors prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Catarrh is a local disease, greatly influenced by constitutional conditions and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Medicine, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is a consitutional remedy, is taken internally and acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the System. One Hundred Dollars reward is offered for any case that Hall's Catarrh Medicine fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

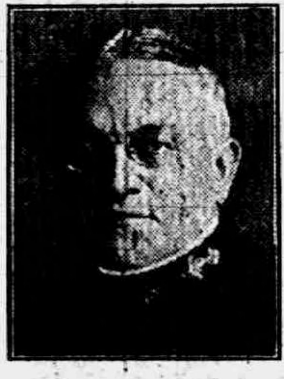
Newberry and Preparedness



Truman H. Newberry is no new convert to Preparedness. He has preached it for twenty years,—he has practised what he preached.

He stood for preparedness away back in 1896, when he helped organize the Michigan Naval Brigade.

As Assistant Secretary of the Navy under Roosevelt he urged preparedness. Speaking in New Orleans in 1907, he said:

"You can put it in the biggest type you have that we must have a bigger navy, and I hope such enlargement will come soon. It is for you people here to use your influence for more appropriations for the building of battleships and cruisers. There is no doubt that we shall need them and the sooner they are built the better."

"A large number of merchant vessels will be required in the event of a serious war," he pleaded.

He not only talked preparedness, but he prepared.

He put the Navy on a sure foundation. On our entry into the war it was the one branch of our national defense which was prepared.

He backs up his belief in preparedness by being in the service himself. His sons are in the service. His whole family is serving.

Newberry and Preparedness mean the same thing.

Truman H. Newberry is prepared to give Michigan and the nation wonderfully able service in the United States Senate.

21 BILLIONS FOR WAR

Huge Sums Are Granted by Congress.

Senate Approves $12,000,000,000 Army Bill and Several Other Measures.

Washington, July 1.—Saturday was a $21,000,000,000 day in congress, the biggest "money day" in the history of any legislative body in the world's history.

The usually deliberate senate set the pace by:

Passing the $12,000,000,000 army bill.

Adopting the conference report on the $9,000,000,000 sundry civil bill.

Giving the final O. K. to the $1,501,000,000 naval appropriation bill.

Passing the $5,000,000,000 fortifications bill.

This made effective, so far as the senate is concerned, $21,500,000,000 in appropriations, the bulk of it for prosecution of the war.

The house helped by adopting the $1,500,000,000 navy bill conference report and sundry civil report.

In passing the $12,000,000,000 army appropriation bill the senate emphasized sentiment for enlarging the army beyond the 3,000,000 men provided in the measure, but declined while awaiting the war department's new expansion program, specifically to direct the president to raise an army of 5,000,000 men.

After a week's debate and without a roll call the huge supply measure was sent to conference between the two houses, with a view to its enactment next Monday.

A futile effort was made by senators desirous of specifically ordering an army increase. An amendment by Senator McCumber of North Dakota proposing to "direct" the president to enlarge the army to 5,000,000 enlisted men, as speedily as equipment and clothing could be obtained, was rejected, 45 to 19, and an amendment by Senator Fall of New Mexico, proposing an increase of 3,000,000, also was defeated.

Among important legislative provisions added by the senate to the bill, many of which the house leaders already have agreed to accept, are the following:

Authorizing the president to organize volunteer Slavic and Russian legions.

Proposing the rank of lieutenant general for Provost Marshal General Crowder in recognition of his selective draft administration.

Providing for training and equipping of foreign troops, designed especially for the so-called pan-American army.

Amending the draft law to have quotas based on the number of men in class 1, instead of on state population.

Julia French's Brother Weds?

Boston, July 1.—Edward Tuck French, son of Mrs. Pauline Leroy French, is believed to have married Miss Lillian M. Harrington, telephone operator. He left home for the Plattsburg training camp, but stopped and got a marriage license here and a waiver of the five-day marriage law.

War Demand Cuts Port Receipts.

New York, July 1.—Tonnage requirements for troops and supplies are held responsible for a big drop in the foreign commerce of the port of New York in the fiscal year just ending. This year's domestic exports fell from $3,035,838,584 to $2,596,636,546.

Love in Fishdom.

This is no "fish" story as the term is usually referred to, but it is a story about fish. Jim Foster, student of fish affairs, vouches for its authenticity.

Jim has a collection of big live fish in a small aquarium in a down-town restaurant and for 12 hours every night he watches them perform.

"The fish are very affectionate," declared the fish student. "They are good-tempered and kind toward one another. See those two largest fish? They are 'married,' I guess, or else in love with each other. They always kiss each other good night and nibble affectionately at each other's mouths. The female of the two never puts her cold fins on the male one's back. And in the morning—say, it's amusing to watch them yawn and stretch themselves."—Detroit Free Press.

Port Huron.—The chamber of commerce has appointed a committee to investigate the possibilities of developing natural gas wells in this vicinity. Several wells have been sunk by private citizens and a good quality of gas secured.

Detroit—Minnie Denton has been sent to the detention home by federal officials for aiding her son, William R. Denton, to escape the draft. She explains she is not pro-German but simply a "conscientious" objector. Her case is being investigated.

Owosso—The investigation being made of the Detroit House of Correction is being closely watched by central Michigan counties, nearly all of which have contracts with the institution for the care of prisoners, paying at the rate of seventy cents a day.

Coldwater.—Crushed under a cylinder press in the Daily Reporter office when a roll of paper struck a lever and started the machinery, Frank L. Parker, 38 years old, was killed and Grant L. Smith, 40 years old, was probably fatally injured. Parker's father, a civil war veteran, witnessed the accident.

Benton Harbor.—Thomas J. Rector, 60 years old, former street commissioner, was burned to death by fire starting from an open gas jet at night. The man was alone in the house. Neighbors heard the explosion and found Rector unconscious. He died soon after being taken to a hospital. The lower floor of the residence was wrecked.

Kalamazoo.—Geo. L. Stein, newly-elected commander of the department of Michigan, United Spanish War Veterans, has announced the following staff: Chief of staff, Oscar E. Kilstrom, Grand Rapids; adjutant, Frank H. Presley, Lansing; quartermaster, Frank C. Burmaster, Kalamazoo; color bearers, Frank D. Davenport and Alfred Poland, Kalamazoo.

U. S. MEN REPULSE GERMAN RAIDERS AT MANY POINTS

Pershing Says Yanks Inflicted Heavy Losses on Huns in Picardy.

TEUTONS MASS FOR ASSAULT

Excessive Movements of Troops and Materials North of Chateau Thierry Believed to Presage Drive—Americans Well Prepared for Blow.

Washington, July 1.—Marked raiding and patrolling at several points held by the American troops were reported in General Pershing's communique, which was received at the war department.

Inflict Losses on Raiders.

In Picardy a small detachment of Americans captured 36 prisoners, including one officer, and inflicted severe losses on the enemy, while in the Vosges a German raiding party was repulsed.

Increased activity by the enemy artillery and airplanes in the Marne and the heavy shelling of the American positions in the Chateau Thierry region is also announced.

Americans Expect Drive.

With the American Forces on the Marne, July 1.—Excessive movements of troops and materials north of Chateau Thierry, together with the increased artillery and aerial activity, form the basis of the belief that American forces in this locality may be called upon to defend themselves in the near future.

Long streams of enemy troops and wagon trains have been observed in the neighborhood of the Boines wood. There have been more than fifty enemy aerial fights over the American lines northwest of Chateau Thierry in the last twenty-four hours. One German machine was shot down by our anti-aircraft guns.

Artillery Hits Column.

The American artillery has heavily shelled many vital and active spots within the enemy lines, once obtaining a direct hit in a detachment of marching Germans.

For days the Americans have been expecting that the Germans, stung by the defeat administered to them recently on this front, would make a vigorous assault upon the American forces, and it was partly for this reason that the American operations in the Belleau section were carried out.

With these operations completed, the Americans now have the country for several miles in front of them under their eyes and guns.

In consequence, when the expected blow comes, they will be that much better prepared to meet it.

U. S. Men Prepared for Blow.

The American troops have made all preparations, and the Germans will get an exceedingly warm reception if they try what the situation today indicates they have in mind.

The Americans say that, no matter where the enemy strikes, he is bound to pay dearly for his effort and that the bigger the target the better the American forces will like it.

To the east of Chateau Thierry, along the River Marne, except for constantly increasing long-range shelling on both sides, comparative quiet reigns. There has been no patrolling, because the bright moonlight on the water prevents a crossing, but the American snipers have been so active in the last four days that the Germans rarely make an appearance.

FRENCH DESTROY 20 PLANES

Nineteen Other Machines Damaged—Many Tons of Bombs Dropped on German Positions.

Paris, July 1.—The war office statement on aerial operations says:

"On June 28-29 our chasing planes brought down 15 German machines and destroyed two captive balloons. Nineteen other enemy airplanes were damaged.

"Our bombing planes in the same period carried out day and night expeditions, in which 47 tons of projectiles were dropped on aviation grounds, Somme sector, on bivouacks, in region of Rozieres and Braye, in the valley of Avre and on railroad sations of Soissons, Fere-En-Tardenois, etc.

"Five tons of explosives were dropped June 28 on German troops preparing a counter-attack in the region of Cutry."

U. S. AGENTS ARREST DEBS

Cleveland, O., July 1.—Eugene V. Debs, four times Socialist candidate for president, was arrested here by United States marshals as he was about to deliver a socialist address.

The arrest was made on a warrant in connection with Debs' speech at the Socialist state convention in Canton, O., June 16.

Terre Haute, July 1.—Fifth district Socialists nominated Eugene V. Debs for congress here.

How Would You Tie a Camel?

Because of its peculiar swaying motion in walking the camel has been called the "ship of the desert." This title may also have some reference to the extreme stupidity and passivity of the animal, which submits to great loads, which it will often carry for days at a time without stopping for food or drink, with no more urging than a ship would require from the hands of its pilot, says the Popular Science Monthly. The manner in which the drivers hobble the camels when they stop for a rest is interesting. They do not depend upon stakes driven in the deep, yielding sand, but simply double back and tie one of the forelegs of the animal, so that it can lie down or rise up, but cannot move from the spot.

RAISE WHEAT PRICES

Rail Rate Increases Necessitated Change, Says Hoover.

No. 1 Hard White Will Cost $2.26 at Chicago—Grain Corporation to Buy at New Prices.

New York, July 1.—A change in the government price of wheat was announced by the food administration. The change was necessitated, it was declared in a statement issued by the food administration, by the establishment of new freight rates by the railway administration.

The statement follows:

"After consideration of all factors, the food administration announced the price basis on various markets for the grades of No. 1 Spring, No. 1 Hard Winter, No. 1 Red Winter, No. 1 Durum, and No. 1 Hard White as follows:

New York, $2.39½; Philadelphia, $2.39; Baltimore, $2.38¾; Newport News, $2.38¾; Duluth, $2.22¾; Minneapolis, $2.21½; Chicago, $2.26; St. Louis, $2.24; Kansas City, $2.18; Omaha, $2.18; New Orleans, $2.28; Galveston, $2.28; Tacoma, $2.20; Seattle, $2.20; Portland, $2.20; Astoria, $2.20; San Francisco, $2.20; Los Angeles, $2.20.

The basis for No. 2 wheat will be 3 cents below No. 1 and the basis for No. 3 wheat 7 cents below No. 1. Grades below No. 3 will be dealt in on sample.

"It is the intention of the grain corporation to make effective a minimum price of $2 for No. 1 wheat, loaded on cars available for shipment from all points in the intermountain territory. Details as to how this will be made effective on wheat and on surplus flour produced in that territory will be issued by the grain corporation in the near future.

"We wish to emphasize that the above is the basis upon which the grain corporation is prepared to buy wheat at the above markets."

U. S. TROOPS ARE IN ITALY

Sent Directly From America—National Army Division Takes Up Sector on Front.

Washington, July 1.—The first American troops have been landed in Italy, General March announced. These are not the troops sent by General Pershing but forces sent directly from the United States.

The first American national army division has taken up a sector at the front, General March announced. This is the Seventy-ninth, which was raised in New York, trained at Camp Upton and commanded by General Bell. The troops were taken over under command of Major General Johnson. Five American divisions, which were brigaded with the British have been returned to General Pershing's command with their training completed. They comprise Kansas and Missouri troops, commanded by Major General Wright.

4 BRITISH SHIPS FIGHT 11

Admiral Reports Long-Range Encounter on Belgian Coast—Berlin Claims Destroyers Were Hit.

London, July 1.—A naval engagement off the Belgian coast wes reported by the British admiralty as follows:

"Four of our destroyers engaged eight of the enemy at long range for 15 minutes. Three more enemy craft appeared and ours fell back to their supports. The enemy did not follow. Our destroyers were not damaged."

Berlin, July 1.—Some German torpedo boats were in action off Ostend for half an hour, it was officially announced. Hits were observed on two of the opposing destroyers. All of them escaped in an artificial fog. The report said the Germans sustained no losses.

SENATOR TILLMAN VERY ILL

Lawmaker From South Carolina Suffering From Cerebral Hemorrhage and Recovery Is Doubtful.

Washington, July 1.—Benjamin R. Tillman, veteran senator from South Carolina and chairman of the naval affairs committee, is seriously ill at his home here. His recovery is regarded by his physician as doubtful. His left side is paralyzed and he has been suffering from a severe recurrent cerebral hemorrhage since Thursday.

19 DWINSK SURVIVORS LAND

U. S. Naval Lieutenant Among Men Who Escaped Death on Torpedoed British Transport.

Washington, July 1.—Arrival at Hampton Roads of 20 more survivors of the British ship Dwinsk, torpedoed 700 miles from the Delaware capes June 18, was reported to the navy department. Among them was Lieut. Ross P. Whitemarsh, U. S. N. Twenty-three of the crew of 148 are missing.

Columbus Car Men on Strike.

Columbus, O., July 1.—Street car service here stopped Sunday when union car men walked out because of the company's refusal to reinstate seven men discharged on Friday.

Grand Rapids.—William Robertson, 72 years old, was instantly killed when he fainted and fell in front of a street car from which he was alighting.

Grand Rapids.—Business sessions of the twenty-second national synod of the Christian Reformed Churches of America opened at Calvin college. The synod will be in session two weeks.

Eaton Rapids.—The thirty-third annual 10 days' meeting of the Michigan State Holiness Camp Meeting association will be held at Riverside park in this city Thursday, July 25, to Sunday, August 4, inclusive.

FRENCH DRIVE HUNS BACK ON 2-MILE FRONT

Enemy Positions Penetrated to Depth of Half Mile South of Ourcq River.

IMPORTANT RIDGE IS TAKEN

Italians Launch Heavy Attack in Mountains and Capture Monte Di Valbella and 800 Prisoners.

London, July 1.—French troops gained half a mile on a front of nearly two miles in an offensive south of the Ourcq river.

This is the second big march by the French within three days and is believed in some quarters here to indicate that General Foch is "jockeying" for position to launch a great counter thrust against the German armies in France.

In their latest operation the French carried the important ridge which extends between Mosloy and Passy-En-Valois. This height is seven miles southeast of Villers-Cotterets, which the Germans attempted to turn in their last drive for Compeigne from the north and east of that rail gate to Paris.

French Take 265 Prisoners.

Prisoners to the number of 265, including three officers, were taken in the thrust.

Further to the north, where the French last week gained a mile and a quarter on a four and a half mile front, the Germans had massed for a counter-attack in the neighborhood of Cutry, just southwest of Soissons.

A number of raids were made by the French over night, particularly in the Hangard sector before Amiens, and in the Vosges a German local attack was repulsed.

The French also improved their positions south of the Aisne in the region of St. Pierre Aigle and captured 100 prisoners.

British Front Under Fire.

On the British front heavy artillery firing is reported east of the Nieppe wood, where troops of Field Marshal Haig gained a mile in their successful drive of last week.

Field Marshal Haig in his dispatch reported hostile bombardments also in the neighborhood of Frestubert on the southern side of the Lys salient, just west of La Basse; north of the Scarpe on the Arras front, and in the neighborhood of Albert.

Italians Win in Mountains.

Strong enemy counter-attacks throughout the day and night were repulsed by the fire of the Italian infantry, artillery and machine guns.

KEY MEN TO STRIKE JULY 8

President Konenkamp Announces Date for Walkout of Commercial Telegraphers.

Chicago, July 1.—Monday, July 8, at six a. m. Chicago time, was announced as the date for the commercial telegraphers' strike against the Western Union. The order was sent out by S. J. Konenkamp, international president, after a conference with representatives of the railroad telegraphers employed on all railroads in the country. The latter handle Western Union telegrams and have decided to aid the commercial men if a strike was called.

President Konenkamp said he expected 5,000 of the 20,000 commercial telegraphers to quit. E. J. Thomas, chairman of the railroad telegraphers' committee, said 33,000 of his men would be affected.

The International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, President Konenkamp said, had pledged its assistance. This is expected to affect at least 10,000 men. The notice of the strike date was sent to the local unions of all three organizations.

The strike will not affect the Postal company. The strike order said that company had agreed to President Wilson's request to reinstate all discharged union men and permit the employees to organize.

U. S. FLYERS DIE IN FRANCE

Imlay City.—John Zimmerman was tarred and feathered by a crowd which declared he had refused to subscribe to the Red Cross.

GROSS PROFITS BY BIG FIRMS, IT IS CHARGED

U. S. Report Declares Meat Packers "Have Preyed Upon People Unconscionably."

TRADE BOARD NAMES FIRMS

Flour Millers, Coal Mine Operators and Steel Interests Also Accused of Huge Profiteering Operations in Filling War Orders.

Washington, July 1.—Investigations carefully conducted have led to the conclusion that profiteering exists among American industries at the present time, due in part to advantage being taken of "war pressure for heavy production" and in part to "inordinate greed and barefaced fraud," the federal trade commission announced in a report sent to the senate. The report was submitted in response to a resolution asking the commission to furnish the senate with all figures and information relative to profiteering, in order that steps might be taken to remedy present conditions.

Big Packers "Prey Upon People."

The report declares that unprecedented profits are shown in a survey of the packing industry. In this connection it is said: "Five meat packers, Armour, Swift, Morris, Wilson and Cudahy and their subsidiary and affiliated companies have monopolistic control of the meat industry and are reaching out for like dominion in other products. Their manipulations of the market embrace every device that is useful to them, without regard to law. Their reward expressed in terms of profit, reveal that four of these concerns have pocketed in 1915-1916-1917 $140,000,000. However delicate a definition is framed for 'profiteering,' these packers have preyed upon the people unconscionably."

Heavy Profit by Flour Millers.

Other outstanding features of the report, each supported by extensive data, are:

The heavy profit made by the low cost concern under a government fixed price for the whole country.

The heavy profit made by the flour millers.

The report is based on cost findings by the commission for the war industries board, the food administration, the fuel adminstration and other executive departments of industrial surveys and through enforcement of laws against unfair methods of competition. The products investigated, and which the report covers, are steel, copper, zinc, nickel, sulphur, lumber, flour, canned milk and canned salmon. Salaries and bonus paid high officials also were the subject of inquiry.

Price fixing by the government, the report says, has tended to prevent the market from running away, but at the same time it strengthens the stronger factors in industry in their positions and enriches them by profits which are without precedent."

"Profits Are Indefensible."

"While the price of flour has been stabilized by fixing a price for wheat and a maximum margin of profit for flour, the report show that profits increased from an average of 12 per cent on the investment for the four years ended June 30, 1916, to nearly 38 per cent in the year ended June 30, 1917. "These profits," it is stated, "are indefensible, considering that an average profit of one mill for six months of the year shows as high as $2 a barrel." Many millers exceeded the government maximum for profits and to that extent "the profits were larger and in general, in fact, were very great."

Investigation in the coal mining industry reveals, in the opinion of the commission, that despite government price fixing, large margins of profit have been made. Ranges in the cost of production in a field having the same maximum prices has caused some operators to make small margins of profit and others large margins, the bulk of the production enjoying the large margin.

In the oil industry large profits are now being made in fuel oil and gasoline, the industry being one where the law of supply and demand still operates.

Huge Profits in Steel.

Steel companies made abnormal profits before the government fixed a price for the product, and it is shown that some have since made unusual returns. Profits of the United States Steel corporation are estimated at 24.9 per cent in 1917, as compared with [illegible] per cent in 1916 and 5.2 per cent in 1915.

In practically every one of the other industries covered by the report it is shown unusually heavy profits have been made in the last few years. Abnormal salaries are also shown to have been paid executive officials.

Trade practices contributing in addition to profits to higher prices to consumers are noted as failure to ship goods or refusal to accept goods on a falling market, commercial bribery, and the tendency of manufacturers to maintain a re-sale price.

Eaton Rapids.—Because of the drought the past three weeks the strawberry crop has been shortened 50 per cent and other fruit, as well as the farm crops and war gardens, are suffering much for want of rain.

Lansing.—James C. Wood, of Manistique, state senator for the past six years from the thirtieth district, has announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination for congress from the Eleventh district of Michigan. The Eleventh is the largest district in the state. The upper peninsulans now want the seat and James C. Wood is their candidate. Senator Wood, in his announcement, declares for unremitting prosecution of the war, for national equal suffrage and for national prohibition.

Highly Honored for Gallantry in Battle

Second Lieutenant John T. Bissel of Pittsburgh has been recommended for the French Legion of Honor for distinguished gallantry displayed at Chateau Thierry. The story of his exploit offers a thrilling example of an officer's disregard for his own life in order that the men under his command might reach safety. He was in command of a company of ten machine gunners during the height of the fighting around Chateau Thierry, and he and his little band were cut off from all aid. By maneuvering himself into a position seen only by the French, he was able to summon aid, which quickly came. Lieutenant Bissel recently was decorated with the French Croix de Guerre for gallantry.

TEN KILLED IN CRASH

Building Collapses at Sioux City, Ia.—Many Hurt.

Sioux City, Ia., July 1.—The toll of death in the Ruff building, a three-story brick structure which collapsed, was estimated at ten to twenty, with a score more injured.

The building was being remodeled and the collapse is believed to have been due to removal of old supports. The structure was erected nearly fifty years ago.

Five tailors employed on the third floor of the Ruff building are believed to be buried in the basement. They are: Herman Feddern, Olof Rolsum, John Stutz, John Mouma, Olof Running.

When the Ruff building collapsed the east wall fell on the two other buildings, crushing both as if they were eggshells. A number of persons are believed to be buried in the ruins of these buildings.

Fire which broke out in the ruins of the Ruff building added to the perils of those imprisoned.

The escape of Oscar Ruff, one of the proprietors of the store, bordered on the miraculous. After being imprisoned under tons of debris for over eight hours, he was dug out practically unhurt.

R. F. Kugel, an employee of the Ruff Drug company in the building when it collapsed, was able to reach safety. His father, Charles Kugel, and brother, Merle Kugel, were caught in the ruins.

Frank Harp, one of the owners of the Beaumont & Braunger market, is believed to have been burned to death in the office of the market when the Ruff building fell.

Tecumseh township has failed to go "over the top" in the W. S. S. drive which was on last week, but she still has a chance to redeem herself for the time has been extended until July 8th.

The committee were in session Friday evening and when they had finished figuring up the total of pledges take by the various teams it was found that a total of about $35,000 had been pledged. This is $10,000 below the quote set for our township and means that more work has got to be done this week n order to put our township where she belongs in this drive. Many people will have to double their pledges and invest more of their savings in these baby bonds if we do our duty for "Uncle Sam."

We are not going to lose this war but did you ever stop to think what would happen if we did lose it? You have been reading the reports of what the Germans plan to impose upon the Allied countries if they win and how they plan to make England, France and America pay an indemnity of $45,000,000,000. This amount may be bigger if they win. The speed with which we win depends upon the way you save and give the Government your financial support. Buy W. S. S. and help make it possible for a quick vctory. You are the gainer, for these baby bonds are a good investment for you. Think it over and act quick for the week will soon be over.

HOUSE APPROVES NO LIMIT ARMY

Washington—Approval was voted by the senate military committee Saturday of the provision in the $12,000,000,000 army appropriation bill, as it passed the house, empowering the president to call to the colors all men of draft age who can be trained and equipped.

Plans of the war department for carrying warfare on the western front beyond the trench stage by a vast production of heavy mountain, siege and field guns were made known through the approval by the house appropriations committee of the largest fortifications program ever submitted by any government. The bill carries a total of $5,435,096,224, the principal expenditures being for heavy artillery.

Based on the American army of 3,000,000 men, the plans which the measure supports have been approved by the inter-allied war council through General Pershing, it was stated by Representative Borland, of Missouri, chairman of the sub-committee which framed the bill. While the program provides for home defenses from possible German air raids and for coast defense, the chief concern is for the production of field artillery. The total appropriation for heavy guns is $1,229,731,295.

The report shows that the new government plant for production of heavy artillery at Neville island in the Ohio river, near Pittsburg, is to equal the famous Krupp plant in Germany. For the Neville island plant $40,000,000 is appropriated.

100,000 MEN CROSS IN WEEK

Gen. Peyton C. March Revealed That More Than 900,000 Yanks in France

Washington—Failure of Germany in her main purpose in transferring submarine operations to the American coast was disclosed Saturday when General Peyton C. March, chief of staff, revealed that more than 900,000 American soldiers are now in France, 100,000 of whom were sent across in the last week.

The undoubted purpose of the enemy in sending its undersea boats to American waters, navy officials declare, was to slow up movement of American troops and supplies to Europe. The German action was at the same time a confession of the failure of submarine operations in European waters.

The fact that the submarines cruised along the steamer lanes near the American coast for several days before the first vessel was reported sunk indicated that they were hoping to waylay an unconvoyed troop ship.

Josephus Daniels, secretary of the navy, pointed out that the submarines have failed to sink or even to engage in battle with a single troop ship and he declared there has been no diversion of American destroyers from convoy work and pursuit of U-boats on the other side of the Atlantic.

NEW SELECTS OVER SEAS SOON

Many in June Call Will Accompany 85th Division to France.

Camp Custer, Battle Creek—It will shock relatives of the men in the June draft to know that approximately half of the arriving recruits will be assigned to the Eighty-fifth division and will move overseas with that organization very soon.

Because of disappointment of receiving more men from other middle-west camps and the transfer of many men physically unfit for overseas duty has become necessary to fill the division.

Expecting to form the nucleus of the next division, the June men believed they would have a long stay at Camp Custer while sufficient men were drafted from the state to form such an organization. When they left home they expected to remain in Michigan for many months, so the announcement that 3,000 of them would depart with the Eighty-fifth came as a surprise.

It is announced that while the men will leave Camp Custer with comparative little training they will be given ample opportunity to prepare themselves before being asked to take part in actual warfare.

It is probable they will be temporarily detached from the division after it arrives overseas and there receive the instruction which other members of the organization picked up in the Michigan camp.

Monroe.—Kenneth Hodgins, and Frank Hill, both 14 years old, of Ypsilanti, are in the detention home here. The lads left Ypsilanti in a canoe following the Huron river to Lake Erie, where the canoe capsized two miles from Monroe piers. They swam two miles to reach shore.

Flint—Cancellation of farm furloughs from Camp Custer has made critical the shortage of farm labor in this county. The civic war bureau Saturday issued a further appeal to school boys, factory and store employes to plan to spend as much of their time as possible on farms, helping not only with sugar beet crop but with other farm crops.

Bay City—Clarence Scram, reported severely wounded overseas, is the son of Mrs. Eliza Scram, this city. He is 20 years old and has been in service more than a year.

Bay City—George Wiedeman, of Midland, formerly employed at the Dow Chemical company's plant, was held to the United States grand jury on a charge of sedition.

Flint—Former Au Sable and Oscoda residents will conduct a reunion with games and races, followed by dancing in the evening, at Thread Lake park, Flint, June 22.

Olivet—Olivet college, one of the oldest and best known educational institutions in the state, following its commencement, exercises Tuesday, will close its doors for the period of the war. This announcement was made June 12, following the return of trustees from a meeting in Detroit, at which the decision was reached. The prospect of a decreased enrollment next year, due to the war, particularly among male students, with no offsetting diminishment in operating expenses, are the reasons given for the decision.

TWO GREAT WAR FILMS

At the New Royal

"Over the Top" with Serg't Arthur Guy Empey himself was seen at the New Royal, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of last week. This picture is without doubt one of the biggest hits that has yet been produced in the line of a war picture and attracted large crowds at nearly all preformances, people coming from miles around to see Empey's famous picture

The story is taken from the book written by Empey, and Empey himself takes the leading part. The United States Government co operated in the production of the film, and altogether it is a picture that appeals wonderfully to the patriotism of the American people at this time as it is giving one a close-up view of the great war that is raging "over there."

A little romance runs through the story which gives it added interest.

At the Bradley Opera House

Thursday and Friday of last week Manager Mark gave to the people of this communty Capt. Edwin Bower Hesser's great film "For the Freedom of the World." This picture is another of the great war productions and was written by Capt. Hesser, an officer in the American Legion of the Canadian expeditionary forces.

The general staff of the Canadian army gave her permission to use as many troops as necessary and the result has been that no picture yet produced gives a more realistic idea of the great war than does this one.

The house Friday night was packed and would have been Thursday night had not the rain ketp people away.

THE GERARD PICTURE

Below is a specimen of a conversation that took place between high officials of Germany and James W. Gerard, just prior to the war declaration between America and Germany, and the ordering home of the ambassador:

"The submarine has come to stay. There is no longer any international law,' said Hollweg, and the kaiser nodded assent. Gerard again remonstrated and Hollweg asked him why the United States had not stopped the British blockade.

"If a man robs my garden and another man at the same time murders my sister, I will pursue the murderer first,", retorts Gerard.

"But we give you fair warning to keep off the ships. We gave warning to the Americans who sailed on the Lusitania," said Hollweg.

"If you warn me not to walk in the street where I have a perfect right to be, the fact that you warned me does not justify you in killing me f I disregard the warning and go where I have a right to go. The sea is no nation's property."

The Gerard pictures, showing among other scenes, this one that took place after the sinking of the Lusitania will be given at the Bradley Opera House, next Sunday, maainee and night, July 7th. It is a film feature taken from Gerard's book, "My Four Years in Germany."

"If you want to know the reason why the United States is fighting with our allies to make the world free, and why every American should be a true patriot, see the answer in Years in Germany."

Signed: Robert Darnton, Pres.
Patriotic League of Lenawee County.

RED CROSS NEWS

Mrs. John Nyland took 170 sweaters and 60 pairs of knitted socks to Adrian on Tuesday; this is the full quota for Tecumseh. This quota, and what is being knitted now goes across the water to France, or Italy or where our soldiers need it most. So that when any of the knitters see a picture of a soldier fighting in the Alpine snows, it may be your particular sweater that he is wearing.

In future all socks will be inspected and tied up for shipment here.

Dr. Bredow says that her committee is getting along finely on absorbent pads, the work is 100 per cent. perfect, and she is delighted at the number of workers that have come lately. Out of 200 inspected pads, there was not a single faulty one. 300 have been made to date, and the full quota of 400 were finished Friday night, June 28th and went to Adrian Saturday morning, three days ahead of time. The full quota of 200 compresses will also go.

There will be work all next week on the 2x2 wipes with the exception of Monday, when there will be no work.

New members—B. F. Hall, Mrs. B. F. Hall.

Renewals—Mrs. George Blesing, Floyd Freeman, Mrs. Floyd Freeman Mrs. G. H. Rathbun, Fred Rosacrans, Mrs. Fred Rosacrans, Miss Marjorie Rosacrans, Miss Marion Rosacrans.

Miss Lellah Wuerthner renewed last March.

We are in receipt of another letter from our friends R. W. Knox, from London, England from which we extract the following.

He is an assiduous reader of the Tecumseh Red Cross work, but having changed hospitals several times since he was wounded, he has lost touch with our doings.

"I was very glad three days before I got wounded on the 8th of March to meet a number of U. S. A. boys, who had come to be attached to the British Army of engineers on the cite St. Pierre front at Lens. Several spoke of passing through Tecumseh on a train and it was certainly fine to meet them." He says they had a jolly time together that night in the Y. M. C. A. opposite their billets in old cellars of houses that were all in ruins, and most of the Americans were amazed "when Fritz put over a barrage the following morning. Our guns started later and for two hours it was 'Hell let loose,' as one of them remarked.

"We went west up to the front line that night, and a number of days later I and a number of my company were taken out all gassed and burnt. I was blind for 12 days and could not speak or eat, and suffered awfully with my eyes, but the TREATMENT AND GOOD CARE OF THE RED CROSS SISTERS SAVED MY EYES They are weak yet and only strong light affects them, and my burns are all healed up. The Huns put over between 4,000 and 5,000 shells that night, and we had little chance for any safety. But I was glad to get away from it for a time, and the following week the American engineers along with the British put over some new gass that made the Huns squeal, possibly you have heard about it by now.

"It is wonderful the work the Red Cross is doing and simply marvellous the way things are done right up towards the firing line. Night and day they are at it, and in many cases under very severe fire and difficulty. They lose no time in getting one dressed and sent to the nearest dressing station, and from there to the clearing station then train to hospital, and all kindness and the best service they can give are at ones disposal.

"I shall probably be back in France inside of three months.

"The war will last another year yet and the Huns are going to get it back doubly; so when we get our big brothers from the U. S. A. in big numbers alongside of us, then Mr. Hun look out. They will then be glad to ask for terms and a peace that that will make us all happy and let us back to our homes and loved ones."

'Best wishes to you, Mr. Burridge and success to the Tecumseh Red Cross Branch and its workers, from one who has seen the wonderful results of the Red Cross out in France.

Signed. R. W. Knox

Mrs. Tom Geddes of Britton had a letter from her son in which he said, "Mother do all you can for the Red Cross and the Y. M. C. A., for they certainly have been good to us boys."

Listen to Mr. Knox's cry: "The Red Cross saved my eyes!" there are hundreds of thousands like him, and millions of men of all nations say daily and hourly: "God bless the Red Cross." What greater reward could we ask for our work.

and has resumed charge of the headquarters which will be open as usual. Miss Louise Phelps has returned

Miss Phelps is in receipt of the following letter from the chairman of the American Fund for French Wounded in Detroit:

"Your box with its quota of our work and the donations reached us this morning. The quilts which came we are very glad to have and we can ship them overseas almost immediately. Also we are very much interested in the small pattern, consisting of drawers and waist sewed together. We have been working on sample garments of all sorts for boys and girls. So we are glad for new ideas of any sort. Mrs. Diack, our chairman, wishes me to thank you for the suggestion your garments offer and to say we find it so practical. that we will take great pleasure in following it. Also she wished me to mention the workmanship which she considered of exceptional quality. We are filling another order for you this morning. We are obliged to send night gowns and under waists instead of blouses and dresses, as outing flannel is the only material we can secure at present, although we are promised other material in the near future."

Mrs. Will Eccles is the cutter and the workers who sew on Friday afternoons are the ones who have made the goods mentioned in this very complimentary letter, and our school children are patching the quilts, which will go to cover their little brothers and sisters in France. More workers are urgently needed for Friday afternoons, also any donations of scraps of outing flannel will be gratefuly accepted by Miss Phelps.

The sum of $5.00 was paid to the Temple Quartette last Wednesday for their contribution to the Bargain Day concert. This amount was immediately turned over by them to the Red Cross Donation Fund.

Besides the $73.75 collected at the Warsaw Red Cross concert, the ladies of Warsaw made $50.98 net by the sale of ice cream and cake.

Do not forget the Red Cross concert on the Four Corners, Tecumseh, on Wednesday, July 10th, at 8 p. m. The company has raised $1166.75 to date.

Mrs. Hardy will give a Red Cross speech in German at the picnic of the Lutheran church, south of Holloway, on the 4th of July.

Dr. Bredow wishes to say to her workers that there will be no work in the surgical department until the new quota has be received.

EMPEY, AMERICA'S HERO, GIVEN OVATION AT NEW ROYAL THEATRE

Sergeant Arthur Guy Empey, hero of a hundred fights with the Hun, went "Over the Top" at the New Royal Theatre last week and with him went the sympathies and cheers of the largest audience that ever was jammed into a local theatre.

The showing of "Over the Top" the magnificent Vitagraph picture made from Empey's famous war book, was the most noteworthy event in the history of the new Royal Theatre and one of the most inspiring patriotic incidents this city has witnessed since the United States entered the war. There were three reasons for this:

First, the people saw the fighting sergeant and American soldiers in action for the first time.

Second, "Over the Top," as presented on the screen by the Vitagraph Co. is the most vivid, patriotic appeal that has been made by any agency other than President Wilson's own message.

Third, the audience which gathered to witness the great picture was the largest, most enthusiastic and most representative that has ever been seen in a local theatre. Many declare it to be worth twice the price of admission.

By special arrangement with the War Department the trench scenes were made at Camp Wheeler, near Macon, Ga., and more than 7,500 U. S. Regulars were used in the raiding operations. The airplane scenes, the most thrilling of the kind ever seen on the screen, also were made by government consent, the filming being done at one of the army aviation camps on Long Island.

The management of the New Royal Theatre is deserving of special commendation for presenting such a wonderful picture in such a wonderful way.

FROM OVER THERE

Somewhere in France
June 4, 1918

A. L. Pocklington,
Tecumseh Mich., U. S. A.

Hello Pocky and bunch:

Just a line from me to let you know I am well and having a fine time. I suppose you are making a few trips now days in the old buss or is Don Smith in the Army yet? I see they are taking them all. Well, they might as well get in the game now. It is hard to give up the good times at first but after you are in awhile and meet different fellows its a gay old life. Pay day is the only day in the army. That comes every month.

Well Pock, how is the old car working? These fine nights how I wish I was there to drive it for you up to the lake on one of those fishing trips we used to take. Those days are gone for me and I don't look to have any more for some time.

Signed up yesterday to go up by the lines to a replacement kamp where they fit you for duty in "No mans land". All I am waiting for now is the time to come when they say "Pack your pack, you are going to leave."

I am going as dispatch bearer and, believe me, it is some job. Wanted tank service but was out of luck and couldn't get a transfer. Well I guess the letter will be the last one for some time, so hoping you are well and having a good time will close with love to the bunch and Mrs. Mahaney and Mrs. Pocklington I send my regards.

Yours truly,

Good-bye and good luck.

Howard Hand writes a most interesting letter to his aunt Mrs. Alva Waring, which she kindly allows us to print.

June 2, 1918,

Dear Aunt Fannie, Grandma and all:

Your dear and most welcome letter of April 30 received May 31, and was so glad to get your letter as every word we get from back name is worth more than money to us; you cannot imagine how we enjoy them. Then too. I know the dear ones back home welcome our letters just as much even if they are short.

We would all just love to write about some of our experiences but of course we cannot so will have to wait and tell it to you when we come back to the good old U S. A.

I hope theso few lines find you all well and enjoying life at least as much as we are, for we surely do enjoy ourselves even if we are right down to real business, for we all know what we are here for and we'eo going to do our duty, and at the same time enjoy ourselves while doing it.

I am with the comissary now and do like it so well. I tell you it is mighty hard to sleep some nights for the big boys barking and believe me they certainly do bark too. While most of the music is in the air thru the day time it isn't quite so loud, still plenty loud enough and we do love to watch them.

Well, Aunt Fannie, this is the 4th country we have travelled in since leaving, A. C. F. & G. Get me?

We are still having ideal weather and I am in ideal health so I haven't anything to worry about and the loved ones back home have no reason to worry about me. Uncle Sam is just as good as he ever was and maybe a little bit better in his dealings with the soldiers. He gives us all we want to do and then gives us all we want to eat as a side dish and finishes up by giving us all the sleep we want, that is when it is quiet enough to sleep. Why, you know a fellow back in America has more to worry about than a soldier in F— or here. That is no joke either, those economical wheatless, eatless, heatless, sleepless and workless days, etc If we did worry the Y. M. C. A. would take it all out of us, that is up until our last move for they just opened one here but have nothing but writing material candy and tobacco. That is some organization. They do fix us up right on everything.

Under the same roof we are furnished with religious, educational and recreational entertainments, with a general store with stationery, with a library and everything needful, to help to all of us. There is only one thing the "Y" can't furnish, that is the letters from home and it leaves that up to the dear ones and friends back home so don't forget to furnish your part please its the most important of all and the most appreciated, as the Bible says what is more delightful than a good report from a far country.

I hear that the third liberty loan was over subscribed considerable and I am glad to hear it believe me it all helps this would sound pretty good don't you think just before making a loan drive Each time you [illegible] thrift stamp you help [illegible] when you buy a bond, old scout your helping put the light plum out

I like it here just as well as I did when I first landed on this side of the pond: have liked it right along, whatever we have been, one who is a lover of nature cannot help liking it. No wonder some of the greatest paintings in the world are of France, it certainly has anything beat I have seen a lot of it since Dec. 20 to Feb. 1st and it is all so new [illegible] we don't [illegible] old time chicken dinners, spring beds etc, you do not suffer any and surely will have some great experiences to tell about when we get back.

I happened to run across three Tecumseh boys just before making our last move: Bernard Hastings, Lloyd Woodcox and a Biggins boy and, believe me, even though I was not very well acquainted with them I was glad to meet them in France. Yes and I also see Clarence Chase but [illegible] Battle Creek boys yet. You will have to excuse blots and writing. Well guess I will have to close this as [illegible] I have gone the limit, so when your daily work is over and [illegible] bles free [illegible] ing, will [illegible] and drop me a few lines occasionally. Hoping to hear from you soon and often. Best to all.

DESTROYS SLEEP

Many Tecumseh People Testify to This

You can't sleep at night
With aches and pains of a bad back
When you have to get up from urinary troubles.
If the kidneys are at fault

Here is Tecumseh proof of their merit.

J. B. Smith, E. Chicago St., says "I was caused a great deal of suffering by pains in the small of my back and when the attacks came on, it was all I could do to attend to my work. When stooping, I was dizzy and spots of fire seemed to flash before my eyes. I did not rest well and mornings when I got up, was tired and languid. I doctored and used remedies of various kinds, but got no benefit until I began taking Doan's Kidney Pills. They made me feel like a different person, completely ridding me of kidney trouble."

OVER FIVE YEARS LATER Mr. Smith said: "I gladly confirm my endorsement of Doan's Kidney Pills given before. I use them occasionally when I feel in need of a kidney medicine and they never fail to help me."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Smith had. Foster-Milburn Co. Mfgrs., Buffalo, N. Y. adv

VAPOR BATHS IN LAPLAND

Writer's Strenuous Experience of Cleansing Process Finishes With Being Bastinadoed.

In Wide World Frank Hedges Butler describes a vapor bath in the land of the Lapps. He says:

The bathhouse is a small wooden structure generally situated some way from the dwelling house. It is divided into two compartments, one to undress in, while the other contains the oven which produces the steam. The oven is arched with large stones or pebbles, and heated by a fire placed beneath. Undressing in the first room, one enters the heated compartment. After a short rest on a wooden form or bench, which contains a place for the head, the attendants come in and bathe you. Cold water is thrown over the stones and the hissing vapor soon sends up a cloud of steam. The higher you sit from the floor the greater the heat. As more water is thrown over the red-hot stones the vapor becomes so intense that one can hardly breathe. We were soon gasping for breath and covered with a profuse perspiration which issued from every pore of the skin. Hanging up in the room were tender branches or twigs in a green state and retaining their leaves. Dipping these in water, the attendant began lashing and whipping me across the legs, shoulders, loins and back, till my body seemed quite red with the switching. The bastinadoing over, I was then washed with a soft flannel covered with soap, after which a jug of the coldest water was thrown over my head and body.

JOKE ON SCHOOL VISITOR

Fortunately Hamilton Mabie Was Well Able to Appreciate Unconscious Humor of the Children.

The late Hamilton W. Mabie, the well-known American essayist, was one of those genial men who enjoyed a joke on themselves. Illustrating this phase of Mr. Mabie's character, it is told that when he was a student Mr. Mabie made an address in which he told this story:

He had visited a school in Philadelphia in which there was a daily fire-drill. The teacher regularly asked the students, "Children, what would you do if fire were to break out in this building?" The children all repeated in chorus, "We would rise in our places, step into the aisle, and march quietly out of the building." On the morning when Mr. Mabie visited the school, while he was sitting quietly on the platform, the teacher stepped before the pupils and said, "Children, what would you say if I were to tell you that Mr. Mabie is to speak to you this morning?" The children promptly replied in chorus, "We would rise in our places, step into the aisle, and march quietly out of the building."

Interesting Life Statistics.

On the authority of experts representing forty-three leading life insurance companies in the United States, it appears that a spinster lives longer than a married woman. Business women live longer than business men. A woman who takes an endowment policy lives longer than a woman who takes an ordinary life policy. It is not easy to explain why an unmarried woman survives a matron, nor why a business woman survives a business man, but the longevity of the endowment woman is believed to be due to the determination to live until the policy matures. Will power is hardly less important in many cases than physique, and must always be reckoned with. Even in disease a man or woman possesses a natural tendency toward health, and cures which often are attributed to medicine are really the assertion of the will.—Capper's Weekly.

Maida Hill.

It is now more than a century since an English army fought in Italy, and won the battle of Maida over the French. Napoleon had vowed to conquer Sicily, and for that purpose the French pushed on into Calabria, and began to make extensive preparations. But the English forces for the defense of Sicily prepared to deal a blow on the mainland. A force of 5,000 men landed in the bay of St. Emphemia, and the battalions of the French fell before the bayonets of the British. Napoleon's hopes were shattered at a stroke. But the "daily-breader" from Kilborn traveling into London, by way of the Edgward road, never suspects as he passes by Maida Hill and Maida Vale, the origin of the name.—Christian Science Monitor.

Marshall—Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Church and son, and Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Rowland, had a close call while motoring to Detroit Sunday. In crossing the track at Parma, a west-bound Michigan Central train struck their motor car and demolished the radiator, carrying it 100 feet down the track. The engine of the auto went dead just as it reached the crossing. All escaped injury.

ALL HAVE THEIR UNDER-DOGS

Good Reasons Why People's Sympathies Are With the Fellow Who Is Temporarily Down.

Our sympathies naturally travel the line of likes—that is, the things we feel in ourselves, we feel in others. We applaud the under-dog, because we so often have been the under-dog. We like to lift the other fellow up when he is down, because we also have been down. Sympathy starts at home—or else it isn't sympathy.

Your periodic moods of failure and disappointment are your under-dogs.

So, instead of walking past these under-dogs of yours and casting no sympathy their way, pause to give them your heart and your hope, and soon the picture and fact will be your over-dogs—your victories and your genuine achievements.

No under-dogs can possibly appeal in importance to the under-dogs of your daily experience.

Perhaps you will applaud alone the under-dogs of your personal glooms and shadows, but what of it? As Lowell says: "Daily, with souls that cringe and plot, we Sinais climb and know it not." What difference, what odds, so long as over your "manhood bend the skies?"

Courageously cheer the under-dogs of your experiences and stay proudly by them until their fight becomes a factor of your kingship.—George Matthew Adams, in Good Housekeeping.

GLASS STAINED BY X-RAYS

It is well known that glass exposed for long to sunlight acquires a violet tint. In very old houses the windows facing south are often distinctly violet. Experiments recently made in the laboratories of the General Electric company at Schenectady with X-rays prove that these can be used to dye glass in many colors, principally an amethystine violet and an amber yellow, but also green and bright yellow.

These colors, according to Mr. Rosenthal, who conducted the experiments, are due to modifications of the physical structure of the glass and not to chemical alterations. The color can be made to penetrate to any desired depth, from a mere surface tint to complete coloration of the entire substance. And the same method can be applied to tinting porcelain, enamel and precious stones.

An interesting and important fact about this glass that has been colored by long exposure to X-rays is that it becomes impervious to the radiations that have transformed it. Thus it can be used as a protection against the glare of the sun or the snow and against the X-rays themselves.

MEAN TO STAMP OUT OBEAH

Authorities Will Put Stop to Practice Too Long Prevalent in the Virgin Islands.

The American officials of the Virgin Islands have taken steps to deal with the novel but serious crime of obeah, which has long been practiced in the islands. Matilda Francois has been arrested and incarcerated as an obeah woman, and announcement has been made that prompt action will be taken by the Americans to show that this wicked and shameful practice must cease.

The obeah is a sort of first cousin of the voodoo of darkest Africa, which is said to be still practiced in the interior of Hayti, and which has not been entirely stamped out in other islands of the West Indies group. The obeah man or woman sets up as a sort of witch doctor professing to cure all ills by use of charms, to be skilled in the preparation of love philters, and of concoctions that are believed to be certain to bring harm to the enemy of the victim who pays.

Superstition still has such strong hold on the minds of those who believe in obeah that they pay their good money and protect them in court until obeah cases at times have become the bane of officials. Often convictions are only brought about through deep-laid plots and skillful work on the part of the police.

SUCH A SMART BROTHER

A young lady in Lakewood is of the opinion that she is grown up—in which opinion she is not encouraged either by her parents or her older brother. She is fifteen, brother is sixteen. She thinks that young men should be allowed to call on her in the evening; brother jeers, parents shake their heads.

Finally the girl's mother consented to her having a certain approved boy call, provided he came on a Friday evening. And the excited damsel called the favored youth up on the phone and imparted the glad news. It is presumed that the young man (he was all of eighteen years old) spent a good deal of time at his toilet that evening—certainly the young lady took great care of hers. She was still primping when the swain rang the doorbell. Brother answered.

"Ah," began the caller, clearing his throat. "Is Miss Jones at home?"

"Come in," answered Brother, equivocally. Then he went to the foot of the stairs and called—

"Molly! Quit cuttin' paper dolls an' come downstairs. One of your playmates wants to see you!"—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

CHARTER ADOPTED BY DETROIT

The Final Count In 300 Precincts Was 32,690 Against 4,587.

Detroit—Detroit was given a new charter Tuesday by so huge a majority that no doubt was left in the minds of the hardest shellback that the old order of affairs municipal are doomed. Eight out of every nine voters cast their ballots in favor of a change, the final count of the 300 precincts being 32,690 for the charter and 4,587 against.

Elections before now have been termed landslides and avalanches, but that of Tuesday was a charge of men, armed with a determination no political boss could withstand, who swept over to victory their banner of civic improvement, leaving behind them the tattered remains of what was once known as the common council ring.

Every precinct in the city, including those that in the past were controlled absolutely, returned a majority for the charter.

FEDERAL TRADE COMMISSION CHARGES MANY FIRMS WITH WAR PROFITEERING

That profiteering by American business exists, in some cases to an alarming degree.

That the "big five" meat packers have "preyed unconscionably upon the people."

That Morris & Co., packers, reaped profits during 1917 equal to the entire net capital and surplus combined and made 343.7 per cent on the $3,000,000 outstanding capital stock.

That the other packers' pool profited some 27 to 47 per cent.

That steel mill profits in some instances ranged from 100 to 319 per cent.

That the profits of the United States Steel corporation rose from 12.3 per cent in 1914 to 24.9 in 1917.

That the average profit of the copper industry in 1917 was 24.4 per cent against 11.2 in 1913, a normal year.

That the New Jersey Zinc Co., zinc manufacturers, reaped 56 per cent profit in 1917.

That the commission finds no complaint against the western coast lumber operators for profiteering; that the southern pine producers made an average profit of 17 per cent in 1917, as against 5.2 in 1916.

That 23 coal mines in central Pennsylvania averaged a margin of 90 cents a ton in 1917, against 20 cents in 1916.

That leather profits increased as high as five times over pre-war years.

That flour millers made "unusual profits" with average earnings said to be 88 per cent of the investments.

That canned milk, salmon and other food producers made exorbitant profits.

COAL ALLOTTED NOT ENOUGH

Prudden Urges Householders to Use Bituminous and Wood.

Detroit.—Considerably less than one-half the state's domestic coal requirements will be taken care of by the 1,201,000 tons of anthracite allotted to Michigan, Fuel Administrator Prudden made known in a statement issued Sunday, in which he urged upon household consumers the necessity of their using bituminous coal and wood wherever possible in order that others whose baseburner or hot air furnace equipment must have anthracite will not be without fuel.

Distribution of coal throughout the state, Mr. Prudden said, will be along lines fashioned after the United States fuel administration's zoning of the whole country. The effect of this will be to send the bulk of the anthracite where it is most needed.

"Saginaw and Bay counties, for instance," he explained, "will be required to use their own supply of soft coal and wood to a large extent, receiving only such quantity of hard coal as is actually needed for base burners and hot air furnaces.

"Large cities, such as Detroit, Grand Rapids and Flint, will get a greater quantity of anthracite per capita than smaller places, because of the preponderance of base burners in city homes."

E. V. DEBS UNDER $10,000 BOND

Cleveland, O.—Eugene V. Debs, arrested here Sunday charged with violation of the espionage act in a speech at the socialist state convention at Canton, Ohio, June 16, pleaded not guilty to all 10 counts of the indictment, when arraigned before Federal Judge D. C. Westenhaver Monday morning. Attorney Morris Wolf, representing Mr. Debs, waived formal reading of the indictment with the understanding that the plea may be withdrawn later to test the validity of the indictment. Judge Westenhaved fixed bond at $10,000 and tentatively set the date of trial for July 30.

1,700 RAILROADS TURNED BACK

Lines Freed From Government Supervision Totals 30,000 Miles of Track.

Washington—About 1,700 short line railroads were turned back to private management June 29 by the railroad administration a few hours before congress passed legislation intended to prevent the relinquishment of many of them. Between 300 and 400 of the roads relinquished had sought to remain under government management. About 400 short lines were retained as part of the national system.

Short lines represent about 30,000 miles of track in the United States or about one-seventh of the total railway mileage.

SUFFRAGE PUT OFF TO AUGUST

Women Suffrage Vote Delayed Will Be Brought Up Next Month.

Washington—The woman suffrage resolution, on which a vote was prevented Thursday by an opposition filibuster, Chairman Jones of the senate suffrage committee announced June 29, probably will not be brought up again until next August.

Boyne City Mill Burns.

Boyne City—The W. H. White company's mill No. 1, built about four years ago and one of the most modern sawmills in the state, was destroyed by fire. The mill is valued at $300,000, and was a total loss. A strong wind blowing from the lake kept the flames out of the big lumber storage yard. The administration building, which houses the W. H. White company and the executive offices of the Boyne City, Gaylord & Alpena railroad, was threatened.

Greenville—Harrison Caswell, this city, has been cited by French officers for bravery in action at Cantigny.

Hillsdale—This city's ninth annual Chautauqua will be held August 24-29. A large part of the entertainments will be of a patriotic nature.

Kalamazoo—The body of George Fiske, 55 years old, who took his own life by hanging in the state hospital for the insane, was taken to Lacota Mich.

Mt. Clemens—Fourteen dozen bottles and 16 barrels of whisky were found in the establishment of John Charboneau, former local saloon keeper.

PRICE FIXING FAILS TO CURB PROFITS

FEDERAL TRADE COMMISSION IN REPORT SHOWS WHOLESALE PROFITEERING.

FIRMS MAKE MORE THAN BEFORE

Majority of Mine Owners Are Reaping a Larger Profit Under Government Price Than Ever Before.

Washington.—The report of the federal trade commission showing wholesale profiteering in the few staple commodities with which the commission has dealt undoubtedly will prove the entering wedge for enactment of a stiff war profits tax, but the feature of the report which interests members of congress more is the degree of failure revealed in the system of price-fixing.

Government interference with the established order of supply and demand has not proven satisfactory in other directions. For example, it did not succeed in supplying sufficient coal to keep people warm and industries running last winter. It has not prevented various food shortages or succeeded in bringing about a proper distribution of commodities, of which there is a plentiful supply.

Meat Profits Higher.

Even more serious profiteering by the meat packers is revealed by this does not fall at the door of the food administration in the same degree as the flour situation, for the reason that complete control of meat prices has not been taken over by Mr. Hoover. The government is now preparing to assume greater control of the industry. It has been announced, however, that an attempt was being made to hold the meat packers to a profit of nine per cent on the business transacted. For the year 1917, the trade commission report shows that the profits ranged from 16 to 26 per cent.

It is pretty certain that Messrs. Garfield and Hoover will be called on by congress to explain the results of their price fixing effort with respect to coal and flour, and it is also likely that Bernard M. Baurch will be summoned to explain why the steel industry and other dealers in raw materials, produced from the earth, have shown a vastly increased profit in the face of price fixing by the war industries board.

The report of the federal trade commission, however, proved a decided shock, as it showed that the majority of mine owners are reaping a larger profit under the government established prices than they ever made when they fixed the prices according to the demands of competition and their own consciences.

"The outstanding revelation which accompanies the work of cost finding, is the heavy profits made by the low cost concern under a governmental fixed price for the whole country," said the report and in this respect it refers particularly to coal.

VETERAN SENATOR STRICKEN

Reported Critically Ill and Recovery Is Regarded As Doubtful.

Washington—Benjamin R. Tillman veteran Democratic senator from South Carolina, and chairman of the naval affairs committee, is seriously ill at his home here and his recovery is regarded by his physician as doubtful. His left side is completely paralyzed and he has been suffering from a severe recurrent cerebral hemorrhage since last Thursday.

The seriousness of Senator Tillman's condition became known Sunday when his physician issued this bulletin:

"Senator Tillman is now suffering from a severe recurrent cerebral hemorrhage. There is complete paralysis of the left side. The attack came Thursday afternoon at the senate, and been progressive. Because of previous attacks and the age of the senator, the prognosis is unfavorable."

PUBLIC SCHOOLS ON HALF-TIME

The Plan Effects a Saving of Nearly $3,000,000 to Taxpayers.

Detroit—A decision to conduct half-day sessions in Detroit's public public schools during the war as a means of reducing proposed expenditures for 1919 was made by the board of education at a special meeting held Saturday, June 29.

This plan effects a saving of nearly $3,000,000 to taxpayers of Detroit and will enable the board of education to accommodate all school children in the city. In congested districts the board will provide portable structures for school purposes.

Up-State Forests Blazing.

Gaylord—With loss to standing and cut timber, estimated at $75,000, every available man in Antrim, Otsego and Montmorency counties was pressed into service Friday, June 28, to combat one of the most threatening forest fires in years. The entire district, which has had no rain for some time, is overrun with fires and a heavy pall of smoke overhangs the three counties. Most serious loss was Kneeland Lundeen, Bigelow Lumber company of 1,000,000 feet cut maple destroyed.

Muskegon—William Feeny, local police sergeant, was fined $10 in a Grand Rapids court for being drunk and disorderly while spending his vacation in that city.

Kalamazoo—Herbert Bogema, arrested as a deserter from Camp Custer, was taken back to the cantonment He said he came home for a final visit before going overseas.

Charlotte—Prof. W. S. Leavenworth for 15 years a member of the Olivet college faculty, next year will become head of the chemistry department at Maryville college, Maryville, Tenn.

Lansing—Variance in the alcohol content in near-beer manufactured in Michigan has led Fred L. Woodworth state food and drug commissioner, to order an inspection of such manufactories.

SUCCESS CROWNS 3-DAY OFFENSIVE ON ITALIAN FRONT

ITALIANS TAKE ENEMY POSITIONS IN ALPS WHICH WERE STRONGLY ENTRENCHED; VIENNA ADMITS DEFEAT.

DIAZ HOLDS GAINS AGAINST DESPERATE COUNTER-ATTACKS

Official Statement Issued At Berlin Claims 191,454 Unwounded Allied Prisoners Taken Since March 24, 1918.

London—Success apparently has crowned the offensive of the Italians in the mountains north of the Venetian plains. Launched on Saturday, the attack on the Austrian lines has gained rugged heights where the enemy was strongly entrenched, and the fighting goes on. Vienna admits a retirement to "prepared positions," which is the expression used in official statements to mean an enemy blow has gained important ground.

After three days of struggling in the mountains, the Italians are hammering hard at the most powerful and threatening positions of the enemy. They have not only gained ground, but have held it against desperate counter attacks by Austro-Hungarian forces which were mown down by artillery fire and completely checked by Italian infantry.

Detail maps of the area in which the fighting is going on do not show distinctly some of the places mentioned in the official statements. The Vienna admission that the new Austrian line runs through "Stemple wood" is, therefore, without significance, but as the positions held by the Austrians before the Italian attack began were above the forest line, it would seem the enemy had been ousted from the higher ground and placed at a disadvantage in the fighting to come.

An official statement issued at Berlin claims 191,454 unwounded Allied prisoners have been captured since March 24. Of these 94,939 were British, 89,099 French and the rest Portuguese, Belgians and Americans. Six Allied generals and 6,200 officers are said to have been taken by the Germans.

U. S. Army Corps in Line.

Washington—Resumption of the west front is expected momentarily by army officials here. General Pershing's reports, as well as French and British advices from the front have shown increasing enemy activity day by day, indicating Germans are preparing for another assault.

There is great stir and movement among Germans before American lines around Chateau Thierry. Part of the drive may be directed against this front in a renewal of the thrust at Paris through the Compiegne gateway.

If so an army corps of American troops stands shoulder to shoulder with the French again to block the road. The corps organization plan, however, calls for six divisions, four combatant and two replacement, and with the necessary artillery units and other additional troops, the total strength of a corps would be nearly 220,000 men. Undoubtedly, General Liggett has all the elements necessary for his corps if his organization is complete.

Austrian Offensive Costly Failure.

London—For several weeks before the Austrians began their futile assault along 100 miles of the Italian border it was stated in neutral countries that Austria soon would be driven into an offensive by Germany, to prevent Italian troops being sent in large numbers to the western front. Austria was reported as being averse to an offensive, do to wretched internal conditions. Dr. Alexander Wekerle, Hungarian premier, in a speech before parliament, has caused a sensation by admitting Austria's offensive was undertaken in order to keep Allied troops on the Italian line and also admitting the offensive in other respects was a costly failure.

Rumania Signed Teuton Peace Treaty.

Amsterdam—According to a telegram from Bucharest, the Rumanian chamber of deputies, sitting at Jassy Friday, ratified a peace treaty with the Central Powers after a short discussion. The only deputies who opposed the conditions were Trancu, Caganunescu, Codreanu, Cuza and Averescu.

"Age" No Bar to Work.

Washington—"Age has nothing to do with obligation to country. Because a man is more than 31 years old does not free him from duty. Whether an employer or wage-earner, the country's need must come before everything else. The good citizen will think of his nation before himself." Thus reads a poster, one of several, which is being circulated to manufacturers throughout by the United States employment service of the department of labor.

Lansing—Major Walter G. Rogers, quartermaster general in the Michigan National Guard, has been called into the federal service. He left immediately for Washington, where he will be assigned to the quartermaster's corps.

Bay City—Edward Meier, son of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Meier, this city, a water boy on the torpedoed vessel, Jacob Jones, who was thought to have been lost, has written his parents that he was rescued and will be transferred to another vessel.

Hastings—Mrs. L. H. Evarts, wife of the Barry county fuel administrator, has taken a nurse's position in Blodgett Memorial hospital, where she was employed before her marriage, in answer to an appeal to former nurses to release unmarried women for service overseas.

PRESIDENT SEEKS WIRE CONTROL

WILSON'S ACTION WAS FORCED BY THE THREATENED CALLING OUT OF MEN.

CONGRESS ACTS IMMEDIATELY

Plan of Control Will Be the Same As That Followed in the Operations of Railroads.

Washington—President Wilson Monday asked congress to give him authority to take over the control of all the telegraph, telephone, cable and radio systems in the United States.

The plan of control will be the same as that followed in the operation of the railroads. Postmaster-General Burleson will be named director-general of communications and all the business of the wire companies will be operated as a part of the postal system.

Speedy compliance with the president's request by congress is looked for. In both houses sentiment generally is in favor of prompt action on the resolution to authorize federal control, even to the extent of abandoning plans for the 30-day recess if necessary.

The house committe on interstate commerce, to whom the president addressed his communication urging the grant of power, got down to business as soon as the president's letter was received.

The committee met in executive session to go over the terms of the letter and to consider letters from Postmaster-General Burleson. Secretary Baker and Secretary Daniels, all of whom supported the president in his view that the telegraph and telephone lines should be taken over as a military necessity.

The president's action was forced by the threatened calling of the strike on the Western Union lines which departmental officials regarded as highly prejudicial to the government's war program. Although there have been suggestions from time to time that the government should assume operation of the lines of communication in time of war, the threat of strike has accentuated this demand.

BRITISH HOSPITAL SHIP SUNK

London—The commander of the destroyer Lysander, which rescued the captain of the hospital ship Llandovery Castle and those in his boat, telling of the circumstances of the sinking, as he learned from the survivors, made it quite clear that this was another instance of sinking at sight, and that it was obviously intended to follow the policy of "leave no trace."

One boat in which there were 12 nursing sisters, was seen to capsize. The sisters were thrown out and were either drowned directly or caught beneath the boat. A Canadian sergeant, who was in the same boat, managed to crawl on the keel. Nothing has been seen of the remaining five boats Whether they had been destroyed by shell fire the commander of the Lysander could not say. The submarine was observed charging wreckage, on which might have been survivors, and in the locality where it was likely some of the boats were drifting.

According to the official figures only 24 out of the 358 persons aboard are accounted for. The 234 missing include 14 women nurses.

SENATE PASSES ARMY BILL

Numerous Amendments Makes It Necessary For It to Go to Conference.

Washington — Carrying appropriations of more than $12,000,000,000 for the prosecution of the war and conferring authority on the president to raise as large an army as may be necessary to insure final victory, the senate June 29 passed the army appropriation bill. There was not an opposing vote. The bill had been before the senate almost continuously for five days.

Dozens of amendments, some of large importance, but most of them of a minor character, were sought to be added to the bill during the last day of its consideration and most of them were accepted without objections. Others were rejected by vote and some were thrown out on points of order. The numerous amendments to the bill as it came from the house makes it necessary for it to go to conference and Senator Chamberlain, chairman of the military affairs committee, who had the measure in charge, and Senators Warren and Hitchcock, were appointed the senate's conferees.

100,000 Petition for Beer in State

Lansing—Sufficient petitions to initiate the submission of the proposed amendment to the constitution providing for the sale of "beer and light wines," were filed with the secretary of state by C. W. Norton, of Detroit, representing the campaign committee of the Michigan State Hotel association. In order to initiate the submission of an amendment to the constitution, the petitions must contain the names of 65,152 qualified electors in Michigan.

Alma—Francis Zone, of Lansing, who enlisted here under the name of John T. Andrews, accused of deserting in Grand Rapids after robbing a companion of $40, has been arrested here.

Flint—Fire in a large barn of the Flint Spring Water Ice Co. destroyed many tons of hay and gave the firemen a hard fought battle. The loss is $1,000. The cause was not learned.

Manistee—A banquet of officials of the Consumers' Power Co. and local citizens celebrated the big power dam at Junction lake. The dam has been under construction for more than three years.

Ferndale—The Ferndale commission has adopted the report of the board of review fixing the assessed valuation at $3,500,140, which will mean a tax rate of $10 a thousand to meet the 1918 budget of $35,000.

Bay City—One thousand Bay City school children are enrolled at the municipal playgrounds which opened this week for the first time under the direction of O. A. Emmons, recreational director.

Muskegon—Figures submitted by the city accountant show that the municipal budget for 1918 will be $46,000 greater than in 1917. Over $20,000 of this boost is due to an increase in school expenses.

Grand Rapids—After an investigation started by W. S. Fitch, this city, August Rennikre has been arrested in Petoskey, charged with impersonating Lieut. Frederick A. Marsh, of the Royal Flying corps.

Kalamazoo—Tracy Pennock, Ross township farmer, charged with shooting Bert Sleeper, a Camp Custer soldier Pennock said he thought was a deserter, was released on $1,000 bond and his examination set for July 5.

Petoskey—With the haying season on, late planting not yet completed, the berry season just opening, there is a severe shortage of labor in northern Michigan. Many factories are unable to get full crews and farmers are hard hit.

Big Rapids—The Stanwood Commercial bank has been taken over by persons in and near Stanwood and by interests connected with the Big Rapids Savings bank. It formerly was a private bank but now is a state bank. R. W. Wigle, of this city, will manage the business.

Petoskey—Peter Skop, brakeman on the Cobbs and Mitchell railroad, slipped and fell beneath the wheels of his train while working out of Boyne Falls. One wheel passed over the middle of his body, but did not break his back or cut the flesh. He is in a serious condition, however, from internal injuries.

Lansing—Barbers are not included in the provost marshal-general's work or fight order, Adjt.-Gen. John S. Bersey says. The adjutant general is telling draft boards to warn registrants again that they must notify their boards of changes of employment after being given a deferred classification on industrial grounds. A year's imprisonment is the penalty for failure to do so.

Lansing—Petitions containing 900 names were filed with the secretary of state to place the name of Henry Ford on the Democratic ticket as a candidate for United States senator. The signatures were all those of Detroiters and the petitions were sent in by former Judge William F. Connolly. A large number of petitions for the renomination of Governor Sleeper on the Republican ticket were also filed.

Lansing—Interurban rate increases have aroused a storm of protests to the state railroad commission which has issued a statement that it is powerless to act. Alex. J. Groesbeck is now to rule on the matter. Kent county courts have granted an injunction temporarily blocking the increase of the Michigan railway. Grand Rapids officials are also protesting against the 75-cent increase in fares for soldiers from Camp Custer to that city. The Michigan Railway announced it would institute commuters' tickets at 1½c a mile plus 10 per cent.

Sandusky—Almost simultaneously fires destroyed 150 tons of hay in the barn of George McPherson, of Oarsonville, and 200 tons of hay in the barn of F. W. Burdwick, at Applegate. Arson is suspected.

Grand Rapids—Felix Wyhowski, Muskegon youth, was held for the federal grand jury here on the charge of giving a drug to a friend to impair his heart action to prevent his passing the national army examination.

Flint—Sheriff John S. Chesnut has appointed Willard L. Johnson, of Fenton township, as undersheriff to take the place of A. J. Huff, who resigned to take a place as chief special officer of the Chevrolet Motor company.

Port Huron—By purchasing 2,300 tons of coal, taken from the steamer Australia which was sunk by a collision in the St. Clair river recently, the city commission has obtained enough fuel to run the water works next winter. The price of the coal was $16,000.

NEW LIBERTY LOAN TO BE SIX BILLION

WILL BE OFFERED IN BLOCKS OF $750,000,000 EACH, EVERY TWO WEEKS STARTING JUNE 25.

ALL BANKS ASKED TO ASSIST

The Exact Amount of Loan Depends On Government Expenditures for Next Few Months.

Washington. — The government's financial program for the next four months was disclosed Sunday by Secretary McAdoo's announcement that in preparation for the fourth Liberty loan, to be floated probably in October, about $6,000,000,000 in certificates of indebtedness will be issued.

They will be offered in blocks of $750,000,000 each, every two weeks, beginning June 25.

Every national bank and trust company is asked to assist the government by subscribing five per cent of its gross resources monthly. The certificates will bear 4 1-2 per cent interest, like those preceding the third Liberty loan, and will have varying maturity periods, none exceeding four months.

In addition, an undetermined quantity—perhaps $2,000,000,000—of tax certificates will be issued during the summer for use in paying taxes a year from now.

Announcement of this program indicates that the fourth Liberty loan will be for at least $6,000,000,000, the exact amount depending on government expenditures the next few months. The treasury already has estimated these roughly at $12,000,000,000 between July 1 and next January 1.

The sole of certificates under the plan in effect during the past year amounts virtually to borrowing in advance from banks on projected popular war loans, or tax collections, and periodically refunding these short term obligations in long term Liberty bonds.

Depository banks make 2 1-2 per cent net, difference between the 4 1-2 per cent paid by the government and the 2 per cent collected for deposits.

The future financial program was announced at this time to enable banks to prepare for government demands. In a letter to the presidents of each of the 7,500 national banks and 20,000 state institutions, Secretary McAdoo said:

"Expenditures of the government, as nearly as can be estimated, will require sale of certificates of indebtedness up to the first of November, 1918, aggregating approximately $6,000,000,000.

"This would involve the issue every two weeks of about $750,000,000 of certificates, substantially similar in character to those issued prior to the third Liberty loan, except that they will have various maturities not exceeding four months."

For the months of July and August that program will be followed as nearly as possible.

The first issue of certificates will be dated June 25 and mature October 25, with interest at 4 1-2 per cent, and similar issues, it is expected, will be made Tuesday of every other week following June 25.

PRISON FOR SLACKERS—BAKER

Goes On Record Favoring of Such Men After War to Their Own Country.

Washington — Sentences ranging from 18 months to 20 years' imprisonment imposed by courts martial upon so-called conscientious objectors who refused military service at Camp Upton, N. Y., and Camp Gordon, Ga., were approved by Secretary Baker.

Most of the men objected to fighting against Germany or Austria because they have relatives there. In approving the findings of the courts, the first of the kind to reach the department Mr. Baker went on record as favoring the return of such men "to the countries of their preference" after the war.

East Lansing—The levying by the federal government of an income tax on farmers whose revenues exceed the exempted minimum has brought about a more careful keeping of farm accounts by agriculturists in many parts of the state, Michigan Agriculture college field men are reporting. More general adoption of this practice is being urged by the college. "Farm records serve as a guide to better management," declared O. H. Graves, farm management demonstrator. The college is assisting farmers in establishing a system for their business.

WEDNESDAY NIGHT'S ATTRACTION THE BEST OF THE SEASON

Good Crowd Here in the Evening

The program given here last Wednesday was the best we have had this season and a large crowd of people were in to enjoy it. Considering the fact that it was the night before the Fourth and that most of Lenawee county was making plans to attend the big celebration at Devil's Lake, our attendance was flattering. People are getting into the spirit of making these weekly trips to Tecumseh. As one lady was heard to remark here Wednesday evening, "I haven't missed coming to Tecumseh a single Wednesday since these entertainments commenced and I don't expect to miss a single one."

This seems to be the enthusiastic way in which people about Tecumseh are regarding our Wednesday entertainments and it is the desire of the committee in charge to make them attractive and to make Tecumseh an attractive place in which the people can trade.

The "doings" commenced at 8 o'clock. Harry Brossius, in his bicycle act, was the first number on the program. Brossius exceeded all expectations and gave the people an act equal to any seen on any vaudeville stage or in any circus. His work was enthusiastically received.

The second act was a musical number, accordian and singing by two people. These men were experts in their line and gave a short concert which delighted their hearers.

The last act, The Aarons, in their comedy acrobatic work, was the best of its kind yet seen on our street this season.

The Clinton band furnished the music between acts and gave a concert after the evening's program.

Next week will be given over to the Tecumseh Red Cross Concert Company who have arranged a special program for the evening. Everyone will want to hear them, so come early for a large crowd is expected.

A CORRECTION

John O'Neil informs us that he did not figure in the auto accident which we reported in our last issue. John says he was home where he ought to be at the late hour which this accident occurred. We thought we got the item on good authority, but when good proof to contrary is offered we will gladly acknowledge we were wrong. No offense, John, and our treat.

SOLDIERS REPEAT SCRIPTURE VERSES

Percy Slayton Writes Interestingly from "Over There"

Somewhere in France, June 11.

Dear Father and Mother:

Still in same place and not much to do. Yesterday it was windy and rained some. It is fine again today and quite warm in the sun.

I now have all my money changed into French money and that is done by the "Y." They surely do a lot for us.

I am feeling fine and enjoying the changes we meet with all the time.

Sunday evening I went to the church service and they called on the men for verses of Scripture. It was surprising the number of men who responded which showed where most of them stood. The sermon was by an army chaplain and before he preached we sang for half an hour.

Monday I was busy doing work at the office. Last evening I was at the "Y" and listened to some of the experiences of a "Y" secretary who had been near the front and on his way back to the States. He also put us wise to a few French expressions.

I am quite a distance from the line of action at present so do not worry about me.

This place where we are located is quite historical and wish I could tell you all I know about it. It is hard to write for you have to be so careful and not tell too much.

Had a fine visit with Mr Weld. I shook hands with him as I left the boat.

Tell Mrs Mills I am keeping my eyes open for Wilfred.

Lots of love,
Percy F. Slayton,

THE GERARD PICTURES AT THE BRADLEY OPERA HOUSE, SUNDAY AFTERNOON AND NIGHT

The film story of Ambassador Gerard's four years in Germany is not only a thrilling picture, but it is history.

Every vital incident in it is from Mr. Gerard's book and is thoroughly attested by him. Those who find difficulty in believing in the unspeakable depravity it reveals should remember that he has ample and conclusive evidence for every charge made in book or film. He has the written report of the American woman to whom the half-wit crown prince declared that if his father did not begin a great war he would, to show how superior he is to Napoleon. The kaiser's words "I will stand no nonsense from America after this war," were said to Gerard himself. The brutal treatment of prisoners of war shown vividly in the film was witnessed by Gerard and other agents of the American embassy. How Germany deliberately provoked the war and then won its people to its support by hypocritically asserting that Germany was attacked, was witnessed by Gerard himself. Attacked? By whom? By Serbia? By Belgium? Certainly not by Britian, France or Russia.

The film is history. It is education as well as entertainment. It will resolve any lingering doubts about why and how America became entangled in this war. It will show, too, that though the unprecedentedly brutal and vicious submarine warfare was the immediate occasion, America never could have held its head up in the world if, submarine or no submarine, it had failed to get into this war, upon the issue of which rests the whole future of civilization.

The Gerard pictures will be presented at the Bradley next Sunday, afternoon and evening, July 7th.

Washington, D. C., June—, 1918: The United States Civil Service Commission announces that through some miunderstanding an impression seems to prevail that the Government has raised the usual entrance salary for stenographers and typists in the departments at Washington, D. C., to $1,400 a year. The Commission states that there has been no change in initial salaries for positions of this kind the usual salaries at the begnning range from $1,000 to $1,200 a year appointments at $1,200 being in the makes all appointments to such positions at not less than $1,100 a year, and agrees to promote to $1,200 a year after three months' satisfactory service. Appointments at salaries higher than $1,200 a year are rare, and the appointees must possess exceptional qualifications.

There is still great need for stenographers and typists in the Government offices at Washington. Those who have had considerable office experience are most desired. The Civil Service Commission urges qualified persons to offer their services to the Government. Full information may be obtained from the representative of the Civil Service Commission at the post office in any city.

A JUNE WEDDING OF CHARMING APPOINTMENTS

Quantities of field daisies and stately palms formed an artistic setting for the marriage of Miss Beulah Annette Crossman and Forrest Reed Winchell which was solemnized at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Crossman, 223 West Wesley Street, at 8 o'clock Saturday evening, many attractive details predominating in the event although simplicity was the keynote of the wedding.

The fireplace in the living room was banked solidly with the daisies and palms while tall cathedral candles in crystal holders cast a soft glow over the scene and the chandelier was showered in white over which were arranged sprays of smilax, and before this effective temporary altar, the vows were plighted. Rev. C. H. Berry, pastor of the First Baptist church, officiated, using the impressive [illegible] service. The bride and groom were unattended, and Miss Crossman was given away by her father. As the bridal party assembled, Miss Mary Matthews played the Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin. The bride wore an exquisite gown of white satin combined with georgette crepe, fashioned on simple lines, while a tulle veil fell from a cap effect caught with a white bridal rosebud. Her bouquet was a lovely shower of bridal roses tied with long streamers of white ribbon.

Ophelia roses clustered in floor vases and groupings of June lillies were bestowed about the parlors while Killarney roses, large bowls filled with the fragrant blossoms, were used in the library, and the lights throughout were showered in smilax.

A dainty menu was served after the service, the white and green prevailing in the dining room where the bride's table was adorned with white roses and smilax laid upon the cloth. About seventy guests witnessed the ceremony. Many beautiful gifts were received by the bride.

Mr. and Mrs. Winchell left for a northern honeymoon journey and upon their return they will be at home after Sept. 1 at 223 West Wesley street. Mrs. Winchell traveled in a tailored suit of blue with a smart hat to match.

Among the guests from away were: Mrs. Annette Crossman of Tecumseh, grandmother of the bride; Mrs. C .E. Conley of Detroit; Mrs. Verner Snauble, Mrs. Paul Snauble and Miss Norman Edwards of Ann Arbor; Mr. and Mrs. Raynor Scudder, Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Kuder, and Mrs. Abbie Snauble of Clinton; Mrs. D. J. Winchell of Napoleon; and Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Kane of Onsted. Regrets were received from Omaha, Napoleon, Kalamazoo, Napa, Cal.; Medicine Hat, Aberta; Falmouth, Mass., Boston and Worcester, Mass.

Announcement

We are pleased to state that we have taken on the full line of JEWEL RANGES, HEATING STOVES and FURNACES.

We know this line to be exceptional—exceptional in material, in workmanship and in special patented features; therefore we recommend the line to you, believing you will find entire satisfaction in any range, stove or furnace you may select.

A STARTLING FACT

Over one million more Jewel stoves have been made than Ford Automobiles. Any fair-minded person must admit that only a satisfaction giving article can reach a record of over 4,000,000 sales.

STOVES & RANGES BUILT FOR SOFT COAL

It is now an established fact that we will have to burn soft coal almost entirely, possibly for years to come. Will your present heating plant burn soft coal with anything like the same cleanliness and economy as hard coal?

Last year a new line called the JEWEL COAL SAVER RANGE, was put on the market, for burning soft coal. It has a patented fireback, which produces 100 degrees more heat from the same fuel, which means that cooking and baking can be done more quickly, hence less fuel is required.

LARGE FEED DOOR EASY TO FEED FUEL
JEWEL
DRAW CENTER SHAKING GRATE NO TROUBLE TO REMOVE CLINKERS AND ASHES
AIR TIGHT ASH PIT DOOR
LARGE ASH PAN NO SHOVELING OF ASHES
AIR TIGHT SCREW DRAFT REGULATOR

Also they are building a new heating stove, to meet the present fuel situation. This heater burns any kind of fuel procurable, the cheaper grades of soft coal and even slack. It is claimed that by using this JEWEL HOT BLAST HEATER one-third the expense of home heating can be saved.

The cut shows the special features of this heater. Notice the great depth of firepot which, with its air-tight base construction, makes it possible to hold fire for many hours with one feeding of fuel.

One advantage of this heater is the large ash pit, with pan, eliminating the necessity of shoveling ashes, or causing dust in the room by their removal.

THE PIPELESS FURNACE

The most satisfactory heating plant for a reasonable expenditure is the Pipeless Furnace which, in compactly built homes of moderate size and not over ten rooms, will heat every room the same degree of heat. This furnace can be installed within a few hours with no trouble except the cutting of opening for one register.

If, after thorough investigation, you find your house is not adapted to a Pipeless Furnace, the next best move is to instal a JEWEL HOT AIR PIPE FURNACE.

In deciding what furnace to buy, you will have the benefit of the fifty years of experience of the DETROIT STOVE WORKS. They will not allow the wrong furnace to be installed in your home.

We shall be pleased to take your order for a range, stove or furnace at any time. Better have your order in early, as there will be a large demand and stoves are becoming more difficult to get.

ENORMOUS CROWD AT DEVILS LAKE FOR THE FOURTH

Crowd Exceeded Expectations

Tecumseh's Streets Were Almost Deserted

The Patriotic Picnic held at Devils Lake, Thursday, was attended by an enormous crowd, it being estimated that fully 30,000 people were on the grounds. Autos from every nook and corner of the county and hundreds from adjourning counties came streaming in all the morning until the grounds were literly black with people.

The prgram called for something doing all day and from reports there was no let up during the day. One of the big disappointments, however, was the aeroplane flight which was advertised for 1 o'clock. The aviators from Selfridge field failed to put in an appearance much to the regret of a large crowd of people who had gathered to see the flight.

The program opened at 9 o'clock in the morning with a Patriotic dance. A massed band furnished music during the day, at 11 o'clock singing by a big chorus led by J. J. Jordan and at 11 o'clock a speech was given by J. C. Ketchum on "Patriotism." At noon time was given for a basket dinner. In the afternoon speeches were made by E. A. Pipp, Mrs. W. H. Wait, J. H. Lynch and others. Time was given for supper at 6 o'clock. At 10 o'clock in the evening the big Liberty dance with its many features was commenced and dancing was enjoyed until the "wee small" hours of the morning.

During the day a public auction was held at which almost everything was offered for sale. The Community Store did a thriving business, selling out the goods that had been donated by Lenawee county merchants. All kinds of stands were on the grounds and people had no trouble in getting things to eat and drink. It is sated that Mr. Hoover was absent so no restrictions as to what the people were to eat was even tried to be imposed.

Taking it all in all, it was probably the biggest day of its kind ever held in Lenawee County. As all proceeds went to the Patriotic League of the county, it is safe to say a large amount was realized for the cause of "Old Glory."

It is reported that a number of auto accidents took place during the day which was perhaps expected considering the great numbers which were traveling on the roads.

Quite a little excitement was caused when the big dock at Manitou Beach gave way, letting its load of people into the water, but as the water was shallow at this point, no serious damage was done, those standing on the dock gettng an unexpected bath in the lake.

Tecumseh's streets were almost deserted as a large proportion of our people were taking in the celebration at the lake or taking the opportunity of spending the day at other places.

DESTROYS SLEEP

Many Tecumseh People Testify to This

You can't sleep at night
With aches and pains of a bad back
When you have to get up from urinary troubles.
If the kidneys are at fault
Here is Tecumseh proof of their merit.

J. B. Smith, E. Chicago St., says "I was caused a great deal of suffering by pains in the small of my back and when the attacks came on, it was all I could do to attend to my work. When stooping, I was dizzy and spots of fire seemed to flash before my eyes. I did not rest well and mornings when I got up, was tired and languid. I doctored and used remedies of various kinds, but got no benefit until I began taking Doan's Kidney Pills. They made me feel like a different person, completely ridding me of kidney trouble."

OVER FIVE YEARS LATER Mr. Smith said: "I gladly confirm my endorsement of Doan's Kidney Pills given before. I use them occasionally when I feel in need of a kidney medicine and they never fail to help me."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Smith had. Foster-Milburn Co. Mfgrs., Buffalo, N. Y. adv

FOOD WILL WIN THE WAR

Maida Hill.

It is now more than a century since an English army fought in Italy, and won the battle of Maida over the French. Napoleon had vowed to conquer Sicily, and for that purpose the French pushed on into Calabria, and began to make extensive preparations. But the English forces for the defense of Sicily prepared to deal a blow on the mainland. A force of 5,000 men landed in the bay of St. Emphemia, and the battalions of the French fell before the bayonets of the British. Napoleon's hopes were shattered at a stroke. But the "daily-breader" from Kilborn traveling into London, by way of the Edgward road, never suspects as he passes by Maida Hill and Maida Vale, the origin of the name.—Christian Science Monitor.

Grand Rapids—Lieutenant Sidney Eleveld, of Grand Rapids, a member of Company K of the One Hundred and Twenty-sixth infantry, now stationed on German soil with five other men from Grand Rapids, has received the French war cross for bravery in action, according to a letter from Lieutenant Carl A. Johnson, of the One Hundred and Twenty-sixth infantry.

Howell—Gladys Milton, aged 14, and Jennie Hanna, aged 13, alleged runaways from Lansing, are detained here. According to the story they told Howell officers, they walked to Waynesville Saturday, June 22, slept in the woods, continued their hike to Webbville Sunday, where they slept in a vacant house, and Monday walked to Fowlerville, where they since had slept in a lumber yard, coming to Howell Wednesday noon. The girls had a 12-calibre revolver.

U. S. Must Cut Use Of Wheat by One-Half

America Consumed 42,000,000 Bushels Monthly. From Now Until Harvest Must Use Only 21,000,000.

RATION PER PERSON IS 1½ POUNDS OF WHEAT PRODUCTS WEEKLY

Military Necessity Calls for Greater Sacrifice Here—Allied War Bread Must Be Maintained—Our Soldiers and Sailors to Have Full Allowance.

If we are to furnish the Allies with the necessary proportion of wheat to maintain their war bread from now until the next harvest, and this is a military necessity, we must reduce our monthly consumption to 21,000,000 bushels a month, as against our normal consumption of about 42,000,000 bushels, or 50 per cent. of our normal consumption. This is the situation as set forth by the U. S. Food Administration at Washington. Reserving a margin for distribution to the army and for special cases, leaves for general consumption approximately 1½ pounds of wheat products weekly per person. The Food Administration's statement continues: Many of our consumers are dependent upon bakers' bread. Such bread must be durable and therefore, requires a larger proportion of wheat products than cereal breads baked in the household. Our army and navy require a full allowance. The well-to-do in our population can make greater sacrifices in the consumption of wheat products than can the poor. In addition, our population in the agricultural districts, where the other cereals are abundant, are more skilled in the preparation of breads from these other cereals than the crowded city and industrial populations.

With improved transportation conditions we now have available a surplus of potatoes. We also have in the spring months a surplus of milk, and we have ample corn and oats for human consumption. The drain on rye and barley, as substitutes, has already greatly exhausted the supply of these grains.

To effect the needed saving of wheat we are wholly dependent upon the voluntary assistance of the American people and we ask that the following rules shall be observed:

1. Householders to use not to exceed a total of 1½ pounds per week of wheat products per person. This means not more than 1¾ pounds of Victory bread containing the required percentage of substitutes and one-half pound of cooking flour, macaroni, crackers, pastry, pies, cakes, wheat breakfast cereals, all combined.

2. Public eating places and clubs to observe two wheatless days per week, Monday and Wednesday, as at present. In addition thereto, not to serve to any one guest at any one meal an aggregate of breadstuffs, macaroni, crackers, pastry, pies, cakes, wheat breakfast cereals, containing a total of more than two ounces of wheat flour. No wheat products to be served unless specially ordered. Public eating establishments not to buy more than six pounds of wheat products for each ninety meals served, thus conforming with the limitations requested of the householders.

3. Retailers to sell not more than one-eighth of a barrel of flour to any town customer at any one time and not more than one-quarter of a barrel to any country customer at any one time, and in no case to sell wheat products without the sale of an equal weight of other cereals.

4. We ask the bakers and grocers to reduce the volume of Victory bread sold, by delivery of the three-quarter pound loaf where one pound was sold before, and corresponding proportions in other weights. We also ask bakers not to increase the amount of their wheat flour purchases beyond 70 per cent. of the average monthly amount purchased in the four months prior to March 1.

5. Manufacturers using wheat products for non-food purposes should cease such use entirely.

6. There is no limit upon the use of other cereals, flours, and meals, corn barley, buckwheat, potato flour, et cetera.

Many thousand families throughout the land are now using no wheat products whatever, except a very small amount for cooking purposes, and are doing so in perfect health and satisfaction. There is no reason why all of the American people who are able to cook in their own households cannot subsist perfectly well with the use of less wheat products than one and one-half pounds a week, and we specially ask the well-to-do households in the country to follow this additional programme in order that we may provide the necessary marginal supplies for those parts of the community less able to adapt themselves to so large a proportion of substitutes.

In order that we shall be able to make the wheat exports that are absolutely demanded of us to maintain the civil population and soldiers of the allies and our own army, we propose to supplement the voluntary co-operation of the public by a further limitation of distribution, and we shall place at once restrictions on distribution which will be adjusted from time to time to secure as nearly equitable distribution as possible. With the arrival of harvest we should be able to relax such restrictions. Until then we ask for the necessary patience, sacrifice and co-operation of the distributing trades.

Great Wheat Stocks Isolated.

It's the shortage in ships that is putting the Allies and the United States on wheat rations. Great stocks of wheat are isolated in India, and Australia. At great sacrifice in ship space and use the Allies are forced to secure some wheat from Argentina.

On January 1, Australia had stored 100,000,000 bushels of wheat that was ready for export—but there were no ships. Then came the new crop with an exportable surplus of 80,000,000 bushels. Now Australia has approximately 180,000,000 bushels waiting for ships.

India, at the same time, had 70,000,000 bushels of wheat stored for export. During April 50,000,000 bushels more out of the new crop will be added to the pile.

Argentina closed the last shipping season with 11,000,000 bushels of wheat left in the stock available for export. The new crop will add 135,000,000 to the left over.

It is not a problem that the wheat does not exist in the world—it is entirely a problem of shipping, which has thrown on America the obligation of dividing our stock with the Allies.

ALLIED FOOD SHIPMENTS REACH LARGE TOTAL

A general idea of the quantity of food sent to European allies by the United States from July 1, 1914, to January 1, 1918, is given by figures just announced by the U. S. Food Administration. In that period the United States has furnished complete yearly rations for 57,100,933 people. In addition there was enough extra protein to supply this portion of the diet for 22,194,570 additional men.

The total export of wheat and wheat flour to the three principal allies is equivalent to about 384,000,000 bushels. Pork exports for the 3½ years amounted to almost 2,000,000,000 pounds. Exports of fresh beef totaled 443,484,40 pounds. The amount of food exported to Russia is negligible compared with that sent to the western allies.

EVERYONE MUST HELP.

Wars cannot be fought without money, and upon the Treasury centers every financial demand upon the Nation.

The rich of this country cannot alone meet the needs of the Nation; the men of the country cannot do it alone; the women of the country cannot do it alone; but all of us, the people of the United States, disregarding partizanship, forgetting selfish interests, thinking only of the supremacy of right and determining to vindicate the majesty of American ideals and secure the safety of America and civilization, can do the great and splendid work which God has called upon us to do.

RUSS PROVINCE QUITS LENINE; JOINS ENTENTE

HUN ENVOY KILLED BY BOMB

Bolshevik Premier in Message to Berlin Regrets Assassination of German Ambassador at Moscow—Was Slain by Two Unknown Men.

Copenhagen, July 8.—The entire population of the Murman coast has broken with Russia and joined the entente, according to a dispatch from Vardoe, Norway, to the Christiania Tidens Tegn.

A supply of provisions from the United States has arrived at Murmansk, the dispatch adds.

Recent dispatches says the Bolsheviki there were offering no resistance to the Finnish-German efforts to cut the railroad to Archangel and Kola and seize the military stores at those places and the whole Murman coast as well.

Lenine Voices Regret to Kaiser.

Basel, July 8.—Nikolai Lenine, bolshevik premier, has sent the following message to M. Joffe, Russian minister at Berlin, regarding the assasination of Count von Mirbach, the German ambassador at Moscow:

"Two unknown men entered the German embassy at two o'clock this (Saturday) afternoon, having documents from a special committee. They threw a bomb in Count Mirbach's office, wounding him so severely that he died.

"Representatives of the government immediately visited the embassy and expressed indigation at the act, which they considered as a political maneuver to provoke trouble.

Protect German Citizens.

"The government is taking every measure to discover the murderers and bring them before a special revolutionary tribunal.

"Extra measures have been taken to protect the German embassy and citizens.

"The government requests you to express to the German government the Russian government's indignation and convey its sympathy to the family of the late count."

Assassins Not Known.

Paris, July 8.—As soon as the news of the assassination of Count von Mirbach, German ambassador at Moscow, came to N. Tchitchrin, the Russian foreign minister, M. Tchitcherin and his associate, M. Karakhan, called at the German embassy and expressed the regret and indignation of the government at the occurrence, says a Berlin dispatch, forwarded by the Havas correspondent at Basel.

The identity of the assassins has not been established nor have they been arrested, the message states.

It appears, according to these advices, that with Count von Mirbach when he was attacked were Herr Ritzler, the counsellor of the embassy, and a German officer. Neither was injured.

Good Thing, Says Kerensky.

Alexander F. Kerensky, former premier of Russia, when informed of the assassination of Count von Mirbach, declared that while he could not "feel elated at the death of a human being," he could not help saying "it is a good thing for Russia."

M. Kerensky seemed reluctant to believe the news, asking repeatedly "Are you sure?" When informed that the news originated in Berlin he said:

"This may be the beginning of the renaissance of Russia."

Sees Germans in Moscow.

"But now the Germans will surely go to Moscow," he added sadly.

A few days ago Kerensky expressed the opinion to the correspondent that the only reason German troops had not yet appeared in Moscow was because Von Mirbach had not required their presence there.

"Should circumstances demand the appearance of German troops," said the former premier on this occasion, "Von Mirbach, the real ruler of Russia, will surely call upon them.

"His ability to govern without the help of German bayonets has alone prevented the appearance of German spiked helmets in the ancient capital of the Muscovite empire."

Washington, July 8.—American troops actually on the fighting lines in Europe about July 1 numbered 251,000, according to information given by General March, chief of staff, and other members of the war council at their weekly conference with members of the senate military committee.

INQUIRY INTO BOAT DISASTER BEGUN BY U. S.

COLUMBIA NEVER CONDEMNED

Captain Mehl Denies Report Craft Was Unsafe—Storm Prevents Hunt for More Bodies in Hull of Wrecked Vessel.

Peoria, Ill., July 8.—With the arrival in Peoria of George Green, supervising federal inspector of steamships, government investigation of the Columbia tragedy got under way.

A preliminary inquiry was held at the federal building, to which Captain Herman Mehl and several members of his crew were summoned by Steamship Inspectors George Bowers and Reese Downs of St. Louis.

At the Niagara hotel there was an important conference between John Dougherty, United States district attorney in Peoria; Julius Rosen, chief investigator for the department of justice at Springfield, and Deputy Marshal Walter Williams of Peoria.

Deny Hull Was Rotten.

Captain Mehl and his crew, pale and shaking, talked in subdued tones while awaiting their interviews with the officials. These were held behind closed doors. One witness was admitted at a time. They are being guarded by secret service men.

They denied the hull of the ill-fated ship was rotten or that there was anything wrong with the keel. They explained the collapse of the frail boat by saying the stanchions under the ballroom deck must have given away.

"The hull was pierced by a stationary log," declared Tom Williams, veteran Mississippi river pilot, who was at the wheel when the Columbia went down. He continued:

"The turn in the river opposite Wesley City is a particularly dangerous one. It is a place of swift currents and whirlpools. I always feel a sense of relief when I get a boat past this death trap.

No Time to Beach Boat.

"The current had swung us over too close to the shore, and as I was trying to turn the boat back again into the channel the snag caught us. We did not ground on a sandbar.

"Why didn't I try to beach the boat? There was no time. It was a battle against the swift current. The boat was sinking too rapidly and listing. She became unmanageable in a moment and went down in 25 feet of water. I was surprised the water was so deep.

"The hull was built of 2½-inch planking re-enforced by three-quarter-inch steel plate, but the sharp log went through it as if it had been made of paper."

Was Never Condemned.

Captain Mehl said:

"The Columbia was purchased from Capt. Walter Blair of Davenport. She never was condemned. That report is untrue. She never went under any other name.

"As to the crew being drunk or as to there being any women in the pilot house with Tom Williams, these are lies, too."

Will Prosecute Guilty.

Neither Inspector Bowers nor Downs would give any intimation as to what action would be taken.

"The safety of a wooden boat," said Mr. Downs, "depends altogether on the skill with which it is handled. Williams and Sivley were experienced pilots—the best on the river. They knew every eddy and current of the stream. We considered the Columbia the safest boat on the river."

"The object of our investigation," said District Attorney Dougherty, "is to determine whether there were any violations of the federal law. I can only say now that if we discover any there will be enough prosecution to suit everybody. We are here to see that full justice is done and not to whitewash anyone. Mr. Rosen will have charge of this end of the investigation."

The Columbia was valued at $35,000 and was not insured. Nearly $20,000 was spent last fall for repairs at the Mound City ways.

Officers Seek Stewardess.

Pekin, Ill., July 8.—Mrs. Elizabeth Brew, the stewardess on the wrecked steamer Columbia, who is reported to have made significant statements to groups of survivors, is missing.

Seventy-eight bodies have thus far been recovered from the wreck and five more are lying where they can be taken out today.

A terrific storm complicated the rescue work to such an etxent that not a single body was taken out Sunday. The derrick ship strove vainly to lift the decks.

Occasionally the rescuers would get a glimpse of bodies, which would disappear as the collapsed ship turned beneath the fury of the storm. Bit by bit the ship is floating awya.

Plans for burial of the victims—an enormous task for a town the size of Pekin—were considered Sunday afternoon by the Red Cross local chapter. Twenty municipal grave diggers have been named by Mayor Schaefer.

ITALY LAUNCHES NEW SHIPS

65,000 Tons of Merchant Vessels Completed This Year, Says Rome Statement.

London, July 8.—Italy has launched 55,000 tons of merchant ships this year, it was officially announced. Twenty-three steamers totaling 160,000 tons are under construction, besides 71,000 tons of steel vessels and 16,838 tons of wooden steamers.

RED CROSS NEWS

Don't forget the big Red Cross concert to be given on the four corners at 8 o'clock tomorrow night. Everybody COME, every cent you give in the collection goes to the Red Cross there are no expenses.

The next concert of the company will be in Clayton. There are altogether nine concerts booked in different towns.

We are going to have a rubber week in which we will receive donations of all kinds of old rubber. From Friday, July 12th, to Saturday, July 20. Bring anything you have to Mr. Ovid Marsh's Auto Supply Store on Chicago street. He has donated his show window and we hope to see it well filled. We accept anything, auto tires and tubes, bicycle tires and tubes, rubber boots and shoes, rubber gloves, water bottles, toys, any scraps, or odds and ends of rubber. Look through your garage barn and attic and give us what is of no use to you.

Mrs. Harry Dunn is chairman of this committee and if you cannot leave the stuff at Mr. Marsh's store, please telephone No. 94 and Mrs. Dunn will send for it. All boys authorized to collect for the Red Cross will wear badges of white ribbon with the Red Cross.

As the Red Cross Concert Company has nine concerts ahead, we will need autos to carry the performers. Auto owners will be personally solicited, but we would rather they would not wait and would offer their cars to the transportation director, Mr. Rob. Moore, Tel. 232. Remember that if the company did not raise the money there would be more personal soliciation for the Red Cross. It is not the company's Red Cross, it is the Red Cross that is caring for the soldiers that are giving their lives for YOU.

A report has been going around that some of the officers of the Red Cross are paid, that Miss Louise Phelps has been paid for her services at the Headquarters. While this reprot is a compliment to Miss Phelps, indicating that her services have been exceedingly valuable and efficient, the report is a straight out lie; we use the short and ugly word, so that those who have started it may understand it. There are evidently people who do not understand that there are people who are patriotic enough to give their services freely and gladly for America.

There is not an officer of the Red Cross here in the county who is paid, there is not one who does not continually put his or her hand into his or her pocket for current expenses, and every one of them works far harder for the Red Cross than the public has any idea of.

We wish to notify anyone who repeats any of these slanders against the Red Cross, that we will report the speaker to the Committee of Public Information in Washington, and they can give their proofs.

Shame on any American who will do the Kaiser's vile work by repeating slanders against America.

Mrs. Thos. McCann, captain of the Red Cross collectors for Wednesday night, asks that all collectors be at the old postoffice at 7:30 Wednesday evening. Must be there without fail. Wear white Red Cross headdress.

Mrs. Geo. VanTyne furnished the yarn and knitted an afghao, then haded the same in to the Red Cross.

There is now work for the Junior Red Cross members who can stitch on the machine. Please call at the home of Miss Mildred Boyce, corner of Pearl and Shawnee streets for the work on Wednesday afternoon of this week.

Mr Herbert Temple regrets that these names were not published in their proper order, but as chairman of the Patriotic League, with War Sanings Samps and his Red Cross work he has been simply swamped, so much so that he has had to neglect his own business in order to work for America.

No one can possibly have any idea of the amount of government work that has fallen on the banks since the outbreak of the war, work for which they receive no remuneration of auy kind. It has also been hard for Mr. Guy Nemire to keep the accounts of the donation fund continually up to date. FROM OVER THERE

CAPT. MILBURN HAWKES IN THE TRENCHES

A. E. F., June 11, 1918

Dear Dad:

I am not sure whether or not I answered your letter of May 7th or not. I sure started one while in the trenches but so many things happened that I am not sure whether or not I finished it, anyway here goes for a reply and thanks for the birthday card.

We are now in rest billetts, but the only trouble with them is that we only rest at night as we are busy all day training for something else.

Fritz sure handed us a great reception. We went into a new sector supposed to be quiet and in fact it was until we got in. There were a few Co's. in ahead of mine and they warmed things up very nice and the next day after we got in "Fritz" opened up with everything he had except 220 and larger and for 4 days and nights he pounded hell out of us, also gave us a dose of gas, but we held on and nearly all of us came out O. K. thanks to our excellent training.

He also came over to have a visit or a party I don't know which, but from the reception he got I would say that he will wait for an invitation next time, or else bring his gang along. This is about all I dare to tell you about it except that the fellow that says he "ain't skeered when the big ones bust" has no sense or never was near one. It is great sport when your own artillery cuts loose on the "Boche" and you hear the shells whiz on their way, but when Fritz sends them back your way then it is time to duck for cover.

When our artillery opens up the boys all root (not loud of course) like they do at a base ball game. "Soak it to em" they repeat and when they burst "wasn't that a peach of a hit."

I was up in the V— mountains the other day and picked wild pansies on the highest peak with one foot in country (right foot) and one in another. Can you guess where it is?

Well dad it is now 10:00 p. m. or by French 22:00 o'clock so I will have to close for this time. I am feeling well except that I haven't caught up with my sleep yet after over a week in the line, where sleep is secured possible, especially by the officers. Give my best to all the relatives and friends. Love to you.

Sonny

A. E. F., June 12, 1918

Dear Dad:

Have just come out of the 2nd story down under on old historic Chateau from conference with Major Gansser and Captain of our battalion for work to be done. While we were in their we received new orders to go back into the front line, though our rest period had only just begun and when the men heard the news, they cheered and cheered to think that they were going to get another chance at the Huns.

After three weeks of strenuous service in the front line trenches battle day and night under artillery machine guns and rifle fire ad always in danger of being gassed. More than 3000 shells by actual count fell doing duty here. Only one man was killed and another maimed, 4 men suffered from gas shells, all of which shows and proves how quickly our men learn to protect themselves against all devices of the enemy.

We have had all kinds of combat excepting a stand up and knock down hand to hand fight with knives and bayonets. The gas shells do not explode audibly but just crush in like on egg shell and let the gas escape, then we put on our gas masks and hunt for the D— measley thing and squelch him quick. A single second lost in putting on our respirators means injury. Our boys are learning all the tricks of the war game just as I knew they would. They are keen witted and resourceful and daring.ing. They are well fed housed and clothed and well armed and well led. The Huns will find out that the Yanks are not to be fooled with.

Well dad we are all in the best of health no sickness, physical inspection twice a week shows that the men are clean and in all this Battalion of more than 1200 men not a single case of venereal disease is found. The boys are a happy lot, march and sing and out of this Division of 30,000 men the Detroit boys are known as the Happy Battalion or the Meadowlarks, they sing from early morning till evening.

Tell the folks at home what I write to you as I have not the time to write to all. I am glad to hear from them and they must take the word for the deed, with love and best wishes to all and to you dad, I remain as ever

SWIFT & COMPANY U.S.A.

Meat Must Be Sold

Fresh meat is perishable. It must be sold within about two weeks for whatever it will bring.

A certain amount of beef is frozen for foreign shipment, but domestic markets demand fresh, chilled, unfrozen beef.

Swift & Company cannot increase prices by withholding meat, because it will not keep fresh and salable for more than a few days after it reaches the market.

Swift & Company cannot tell at the time of purchasing cattle, what price fresh meat will bring when put on sale. If between purchase and sale, market conditions change, the price of meat must also change.

The Food Administration limits our profit to 9 per cent on capital invested in the meat departments. This is about 2 cents per dollar of sales. No profit is guaranteed, and the risk of loss is not eliminated.

As a matter of fact, meat is often sold at a loss because of the need of selling it before it spoils.

The taxpayers and members of Tecumseh School District No. 7 seemed to be strictly minus at the annual meeting which was held last night. It seems strange that when a meeting of so much importance to the district as this one called for last night should be held with an attendance of less than two dozen people. The reports given last nigth called for the O. K. of the district and the sum of money expended last year was the largest in the history of the district and still only a handful of people were present to take action on it and to provide a working fund for the coming year.

A larger amount is asked to run the district through the coming year, the total amount to be raised by taxation being about $30,000. Our school board has used every effort to keep the amount down to reasonable proportions and have only recommended increases where they were absolutely necessary. Now, if the people of this district are not satisfied and object to the increase when paying their tax, they have only themselves to blame for they cared so little for the business of the district that it was not worth while to attend the annual meeting.

Without doubt the majority of the people will be satisfied and will realize the necessity of an additional expense for the coming year. When the new school is completed, the one united plant, in place of the four schools as heretofore (for it has been decided to close the West Branch School) will work out with quite a saving to the district besides giving a school which will prove most efficient in every way. We will have a modern school capable in every way of taking care of our needs and providing amply for our school for years to come.

VOGEL'S MINSTRELS COMING FRIDAY

A performance of superior excellence may be looked for next Friday evening at the Bradley Opera House for John W. Vogel's All New All White Big Minstrels, with all the novelties and varying specialties which this popular manager has found it possible to crowd into a performance of this kind will be there. Vogel has long been recognized as the King of Minstrelsy, adding each succeedingyear considerablestrength and beauty to what has always in the past been accepted as a perfect presentation.

The great Morton heads the happiness this season, his inimitable monologue always proving amusing, especially to the ladies, his aim having always been to please instead of offending the fairer sex, this fact being reponsible for his great popularity. Billy Graham, Bobbie Gossans, The Lund Brothers, Harry L. Ford, Gene Howard and Harry Oakley are other bidders for approval in the fun-making festival, while Clyde Chain, Harry Prince, Geo. A. Porter, W. H. Weber, Joe LaFan, Al Tint, James Laden and the Liberty Quartette form what is heralded as the strongest vocal party ever heard in minsrels.

The olio is a long one and of the unusual kind. Marvelous "Laretto" Sensational Acrobatic Contortionist, R. F. Cullis, Musical Artist, The Lund Brothers, World renowned hard and soft shoe dancers, Joie Bobeck, comedy juggler and mystifying necromancer, Billy Graham, the dancing marvel, Geo. A. Porter, female impersonator, W. H. Weber, the double voice vocalis and the great Morton fill out the diversified bill which promisest to be the best of the kind ever seen here.

All special scenery is carried for the minstrel presentaton which enhances the beauty of the performance, the setting for the first part being especially elaborate.

A big street parade iis generally given at noon but owing to the late arrival of the company in Tecumseh, (not arriving until 5:35 p. m.) the parade will be given starting from their special car on arrival.

Mr. Vogel's is the only minstrel show playing Tecumseh this season. He has played here season after season and has established a reputation for himself of always giving a good, clean entertainment and always giving perfect satisfaction to his audience in every way and his appearance again this season will undoubtedly be greeted by a crowded house. The seat sale opens at Hay's ('Phone 99) Thursday morning.

Mrs Eugene Harris is slowly improving. They hoped to have her sit up a few moments today for the first time since the accident.

Have you heard that there is a merry-go-round in town? Every boy and girl is sure to find it out and to be on hand for a ride.

Mr. and Mrs. George Winslow and daughter Barbara, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Ward and son Lawrence of Jackson, and Mr. and Mrs Fred Wilcox and family of Leslie motored to the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Willett for the day of the 4th. These with Adrian friends enjoyed a pot luck dinner and pleasant day.

The picture was sent by Kenneth Easlick to his people in Onsted who passed it on to Mr. Satterthwaite. The picture is a fine one of Beth and she looks quite happy as if she was enjoying her work.

THOUGHTS

By G. H. VanVleet

I was sitting alone in my old arm chair
With not a worry and not a care,
And there thru the glow of the fires rays
My thoughts went back to my yesterdays.
With stillness around me and no one nigh,
I looked in the mirror of days gone by:
And I thought of my mother, the best friend I had,
And the days spent with her when I was a lad.
I thought of her hands which had toiled so long,
Both late at night and at early dawn,
In doing the work that came with ease,
By doing the things she knew would please.
I thought of her eyes which always could see
Any dangers approaching that could come to me,
And often I fancy, as the hours grow late,
I can see those eyes watching by the old garden gate.
I thought of her heart, as pure as gold,
I thought of the stories she so often told,
When I climbed on her lap at the end of my play
And had put all my toys away for the day.
I thought of her hair which was gray, once brown,
And upon her head I placed a crown;
Then I painted a halo around her chair
And I pictured her looks while sitting there.
The picture she made was superb and sublime
And in that halo she looked Heavenly divine;
And my thoughts, as they centered on her that way
Will always remain as they were that day

FUNERAL OF MRS. LYNN BUTRICK

The funeral of Mrs. Lynn Butrick held at the Presbyterian church Sunday afternoon was attended by a large concourse of sorrowing friends. Many came from Franklin and a number from other villages in this vicinity.

Rev. W. A. Rex preached from the text, "Be of Good Cheer," as typical of her cheery, optimistic spirit and it was his eulogy to this beautiful character. W. S. Dickinson, accompanied by Miss Mabel Ager, rendered a couple of appropriate hymns.

The bearers were Channing Beebe, Oley Hanna, Guy Nemire, Ira Ashley, Howard Bredow and Lloyd Whelan, laying the remains of our friend in Brookside.

Card of Thanks

We wish to thank our friends and neighbors, Rev. W. A. Rex and W. S. Dickinson, those who gave the floral offerings and all for their loving kindness.

STATE TO PUNISH SUGAR REPEATERS

Pittsford Man First to be Asked for Explanation

Lansing, Mich., July 6—Sugar repeaters who buy the limit from one grocer and then visit another within a few minutes or a few hours are to be dealt with harshly by the state food administration. It has been found that even the reduction in the limit of sugar from five pounds to two a few weeks ago has not caught the repeaters.

George Bundy, of Pittsford, is to be the first "repeater" haled before the administration court. Last Saturday he is alleged to have visited four stores in his home town and purchased five pounds of sugar in each place. Under the new rules a man living in the country is permitted five pounds, but the idea of the government is to stop him with one five-pound purchase at a time.

In Bundy's case, however, the four storekeepers got together and reported the matter to the administrator. Today Bundy was notified that he must return three of the four packages, or be prosecuted as a hoarder.

"Repeating purchases of sugar must stop," said Clarence J. Mears, head of the sugar enforcement division, in discussing Bundy's case.

"There is not a bit of use making regulations regarding the sale of sugar if repeating is kept up. As a matter of fact the more you reduce the maximum purchasable the more sugar is sold. The repeaters when they find they can only get two pounds, become satisfied that sugar will soon be shut off altogether. Then they make the rounds of all grocery stores they can find and make all the purchases they can. But we are going to stop them if we can and would appreciate any reports from dealers or from any persons which will lead us to the evidence upon which we can nail the repeater."

Power Farm Machinery State Fair Feature

In an effort to assist the farmer who has been unable to overcome the labor difficulty, G. W. Dickinson, Secretary-Manager of the Michigan State Fair, is offering special inducements for manufacturers of power farm machinery to exhibit at the 1918 fair, in Detroit, August 30 to September 8. Realizing that the agriculturist of today is being forced to employ mechanical labor, and believing that every farmer is particularly interested in a monster exhibit of this nature, Mr. Dickinson is offering space in the Machinery field, free of charge, to builders of appliances for tilling the soil and harvesting the crops.

ANNUAL SCHOOL DISTRICT MEETING

Held at Library Monday Evening

Trustees E. D. Brown and Charles Burridge Elected to Succeed Themselves

Meeting Poorly Attended

The annual school meeting for District Number Seven, was held at the Library, Monday evening, and was poorly attended, there being just twenty-one people present to O. K. the business done during the past year, which proved to be the biggest in the history of the district.

The meeting was called for 7:30, but in hopes that a larger crowd would show up, President J. H. Smith delayed calling the meeting to order until nearly 8 o'clock. Secretary C. F. Patterson was called upon to give his annual report. The report showed that it would be necessary to raise in the teachers salary fund for the coming year the sum of $14,750, which is an increase over the preceeding year of $2,075. It was pointed out that, while the Board had tried to be conservative, it was found necessary to make the increase in order to secure the better teachers, to keep in line with what other places of our size were paying and to maintain the standard of our schools.

In the building and site fund a total of $58,092.20 had been expended during the year and the report showed that there was left on hand in this fund a balance of $23,523.13 an amount practically sufficient to finish our new central building.

The report showed in the estimate for the coming year that it would be necessary to raise by tax the following amounts in the various funds:

Teachers' wages	$ 8,800
General fund	18,100
Building and site	3,300
Library	1,300
Total	31,500

The board recommended that the coming school year shall consist of 38 weeks as heretofore and that the tuition be raised to $20.00 in the first six grades and to $30.00 in the upper six grades.

The total number of scholars of school going age according to the census just completed is male, 292; female, 252; or a total of 544 children.

The progress reported on our new building was satisfactory and the Board expected that everything would be ready so that school could be opened in the new building in September.

The report was accepted as read. The treasurer's report was read which agreed with the secretary's report and was adopted.

The terms of Trustees E. D. Brown and Charles Burridge having expired, the election of two trustees to succeed them was then called for. This resulted in a unanimous vote for their return to office.

No other business coming before the meeting, an adjournment was voted.

The annual report will be printed in full in our next issue.

OPERA HOUSE FILLED TO SEE GERARD'S PICTURES

The great film story taken from Gerard's famous book, and in which he made public his four years' experiences in Germany, was seen at Bradley's Opera House Sunday afternoon and evening.

The principal narratives told in Mr. Gerard's story are shown in this wonderful picture and in producing them care was taken to confine them strictly to the events detailed in the story. Mr. Gerard has done more to inform the American people as to the intent and attitude of the Kaiser and the German people than has any other person. His intimate knowledge of German affairs and aims has made this story of great human interest to the American people for it has awakened the people to the real danger that confronts us and of the necessity of complete victory over the Prussian hordes.

The events told in these pictures are facts and, while it is difficult for many to believe the vicious, inhuman deeds protrayed, it must be remembered that he has conclusive evidence for every charge made in this film.

Many are enthusiastic over the pictures and are claiming they were well worth twice the price paid for admission.

Bands, Bands, Bands and More Bands to Saturate Air at Mich. State Fair

Bands, bands, bands and more bands with their blare of trumpets will overrun the fair grounds during the 1918 Michigan State Fair at Detroit, August 30 to September 8. G. W. Dickinson, Secretary-Manager of the fair association, believes there is nothing like martial music to stir up the patriotism of the people, and he declares that, if this is true, no visitor will leave the exposition without his patriotic spirit running riot.

The musical organizations will be headed by Cavallo and his renowned band of 60 pieces. This company of instrument players will render a patriotic concert of popular and classical music every afternoon and evening. Dunbar's White Hussars, dressed in their gorgeous white uniforms will furnish the music for the feature entertainments around the grounds. This organization can be divided, at a minute's notice, into two bands.

One of the astonishing exhibitions at the convention of the National Wholesale Grocer's Association at Cleveland last week was the uniformity with which everyone connected with the Food Administration lauded the work of Herbert Hoover. Report after report, address after address told of the greatness of his ideals and the unselfish self-sacrifice he is displaying in carrying on perhaps the most momentous responsibility in the world to-day. Every man seemed to really feel, as he spoke, that it was a source of pride that he was permitted to be a part of so great a work.—E. A. Stowe in The Michigan Tradesman.

JACKSON COUNTY 1918 FAIR

All indications point to a bigger and better fair this year than ever before.

Our annual improvements have been way beyond all expectations, but no year have our general prospects been as good as they are this year.

We have signed up more space for exhibits, sold and secured bigger and better shows concessions, have obtained more and better shows and our free acts will give a continuous afternoon and evening each day of thrilling and pleasurable entertainment.

We have added many new departments to this year's fair and are providing considerable new housing to accommodate the needs of everybody.

Our Fair has become of so much importance to the manufacturer, to the breeder, and to the producer and of such educational benefit to the public, that it is acknowledged Michigan's 2nd largest fair centre in commercial development and education.

Our fair has increased 250 per cent in 4 years in attendance, in exhibits and in payments of premiums. Can a producer afford to lose the great opportunities of our Fair from the Advertising and Sales Standpoint, or a Progressive Citizen lose the Educational advantages by not attending?

Ed Williamson was a passenger for Detroit this morning.

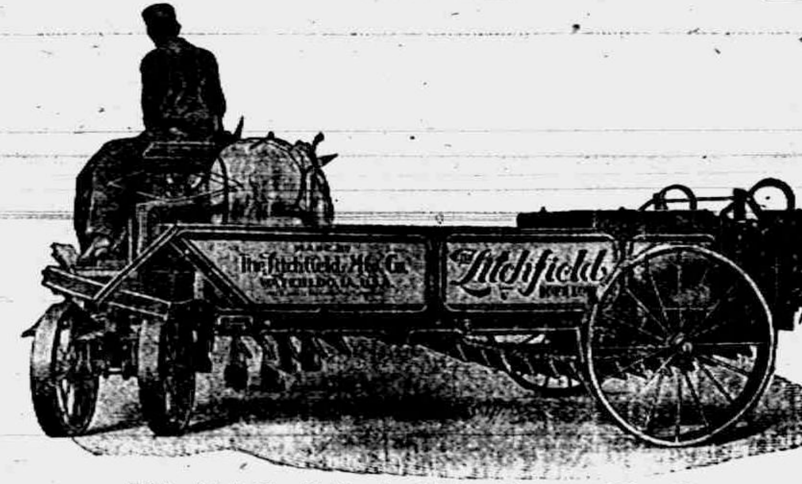
Much Durability, Little Draft, No Drag



Waist-high Top Rail—An Under-Clearance That Clears.

NOT BUILT IN A DAY

The Litchfield Company have manufactured Manure Spreaders longer than anyone now actively engaged in the Spreader business. They have solved the problem of producing a LOW TOP-RAIL with a HIGH UNDER-CLEARANCE. In snow or mud the Litchfield does not become a sled or mud-boat. It is high enough to clear obstructions. Ditches and dead furrows have no terrors for it.

THE "BULL DOG" BEATER WHEEL.

LITCHFIELD'S "BULL DOG" CYLINDER

The Bull Dog uses two lengths of teeth. The long teeth work 1¼ inches deeper in the load than the short teeth that follow. The long teeth represent the "advance guard," making it possible for the short teeth to follow and take care of WHAT IS LEFT. The principle is the same as the cross-cut saw with long and short teeth. The long tooth does the principal CUTTING and the short tooth that follows removes what is left, giving the next long tooth an opportunity to work WITHOUT BEING CLOGGED.

It is not generally recognized that the material that Stays in the Load is what MAKES THE HEAVY DRAFT. If it were not for the friction of the beater wheel against the material that DOES NOT GO OUT, the power required to revolve the beater wheel would be almost nothing. The reason the Litchfield Spreader is so light of draft is that the beater wheel clears itself as it goes and works EASY.

See it before you buy, and let us tell you about the FIVE-YEAR GUARANTEE that goes with it.

DESTROYS SLEEP

Many Tecumseh People Testify to This

You can't sleep at night

With aches and pains of a bad back

When you have to get up from urinary troubles.

If the kidneys are at fault

Here is Tecumseh proof of their merit.

J. B. Smith, E. Chicago St., says "I was caused a great deal of suffering by pains in the small of my back and when the attacks came on, it was all I could do to attend to my work. When stooping, I was dizzy and spots of fire seemed to flash before my eyes. I did not rest well and mornings when I got up, was tired and languid. I doctored and used remedies of various kinds, but got no benefit until I began taking Doan's Kidney Pills. They made me feel like a different person, completely ridding me of kidney trouble."

OVER FIVE YEARS LATER Mr. Smith said: "I gladly confirm my endorsement of Doan's Kidney Pills, given before. I use them occasionally when I feel in need of a kidney medicine and they never fail to help me."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Smith had. Foster-Milburn Co. Mfgrs., Buffalo, N. Y. adv

Mr. and Mrs. Alton Whelan and children

Just a few lines now as I haven't much time. How are things there? Guess you are kept pretty busy on your place. I know we are kept very busy here. I am beginning to look like a real soldier now, lots of walking drilling and have full equipment issued us now and am in a regular company.

Everything very nice here. This certainly is some Camp here and sand about 3 inches deep. We took a hike today through an old cotton field, first one I ever saw at close range. Not many farmers here that I can see only negroes.

Say, you tell Mr. —— if he thinks farming is hard work just try hiking all day long.

Well, guess I will close now as it is rather late. Hope you wil have a successful year at your business.

Lots of love for you and the family, tell Lyle and Donald hello for me. I remain your brother,

Harley Pope,

DR. BRECKENRIDGE BAYNE

© HARRIS & EWING

Doctor Breckenridge Bayne, popular in Washington society, is now a prisoner in Germany as a result of his refusal to leave wounded men on the battle line when the hospital staff to which he was attached retired before victorious enemy assaults. He was serving as a field physician with the British Red Cross. The first message which came to his relatives was sent by a prisoner whom Doctor Bayne had treated in Germany, and indications are that he is still treating allied prisoners who fall wounded into the hands of the enemy.

YANKS WIN IN VOSGES

U. S. Troops Make Raid and Take Prisoners.

British Enter Enemy's Lines on Amiens Front and Capture Number of Foes and Guns.

London, July 8.—American troops stationed in a sector of the Vosges region carried out a raid at night on the German lines in which prisoners were taken, the French war office statement shows.

With the exception of artillery actions in the region east of the Villers-Cotterets forest between the Aisne and the Marne, the night on the remainder of the front was quiet.

British troops raided the German lines on the Amiens front, taking several prisoners and machine guns in the region east of Hamel, which village was recently captured by the Australians, assisted by American troops. This action is reported in the official statement from the war office.

Berlin, July 8.—Attacks in strong force by Americans and French west of Chateau Thierry are reported in the official communication from headquarters.

These continued Saturday and during the night, and the German command declares they broke down with heavy losses.

U-BOAT OFF U. S. COAST

An Atlantic Port, July 8.—That German U-boats are still operating off the Virginia capes was the report brought here by passengers and crew of a British passenger steamer arriving from Bermuda.

Henry P. Short, a Bermuda editor, one of the passengers aboard, said:

"This is the first boat from Bermuda which has carried women passengers since the sinking of the Carolina.

"All hands were nervoush for the first part of the voyage, but as we neared our journey's end we all felt confident the submarines had been driven away.

"Saturday morning, just before breakfast, the lookout sighted what evidently was a periscope to starboard. The ship's stern gun fired one shot at the 'sub.'

"Before the gun could be reloaded the U-boat had submerged. Later the submarine appeared astern of us and followed us for some time."

MITCHEL FALLS FROM PLANE

Former Mayor of New York Killed When He Plunges 600 Feet From Machine in Louisiana.

Lake Charles, La., July 8.—Maj. John Purroy Mitchel, former mayor of New York and an officer in the aviation section of the signal corps, was killed instantly at Gerstner field when he fell from a single-seated scout plane at a height of about 600 feet.

The accident occurred at 7:30 a. m. after the aviator had been in the air about 30 minutes.

Major Mitchel became a flyer for the army after having been defeated last fall for re-election as mayor of New York. He had served one term as the chief executive of the country's biggest city, the youngest mayor ever elected to that office. On July 19 next he would have been thirty-nine years old.

SINKING OF U. S. ARMY TRANSPORT IS TOLD BY CHIEF

Official Report Replete With Instances of Bravery by 716 Men Aboard Lincoln.

LIVES SAVED BY DISCIPLINE

Signaled Orders Obeyed When Escaping Steam Drowned Voices of Officers—Americans Leap Into Sea and Swim to Boats.

Washington, July 8.—The complete and thrilling story of the sinking of the army transport President Lincoln on May 31 was made public by the navy department.

It is replete with heroic deeds of the 716 men on board. The big liner, once a German merchant vessel, was well out to sea—homeward bound from a French port—when she was struck by three torpedoes. A lookout spied its messengers of destruction 400 yards distant off port side and an attempt was made to turn the vessel, but it was then too late.

Two torpedoes struck at almost the same spot, about 120 feet from the bow, the third a similar distance from the stern.

In spite of the large number of men aboard the President Lincoln, the undersea craft accounted for only three officers—one taken captive—and 23 enlisted men.

Saved by Discipline.

All others were saved, chiefly because they acted quietly and promptly and obeyed signaled orders, as the sound of officers' voices was lost in the roar of escaping steam.

Included in the rescued were two paralyzed soldiers and a number of sick. Their comrades saw to it that they were cared for first.

As soon as the torpedoes struck, however, the call to battle stations was sounded immediately. Preparations were made to launch the lifeboats, and the guns were ordered manned.

The inspection showed seven lifeless bodies in the forward hold—men killed either by the explosion or in the inrush of water.

Little Time Given.

"Fifteen minutes after the ship was struck it appeared quite evident that she would sink," says Commander Percy W. Foote in his report to Cecretary Daniels, and at whose suggestion the report was made public. "The boats and rafts were placed in the water and the order was given all hands to abandon ship. This order did not include the gun's crew, however, who remained at their guns awaiting further orders."

Commander Foote says that the bow gun opened fire and kept peppering away in the direction where the submarine was thought to be. Meantime the vessel was slowly settling in the water.

Dramatic Feature of Scene.

Only five men and an officer had been assigned to lower the boats because of the fear that they might capsize if loaded and lowered quickly. One boat carried the paralyzed soldiers and sick.

When all boats and rafts were overboard, the old Atlantic saw a strange sight. More than 700 men made 700 splashes and an instant later 700 heads bobbed up and 700 bodies began clambering on rafts and into the lifeboats.

Commander Foote and the chief master at arms were among the last to leave the ship. The latter had reported all hands out of the vessel—then three-quarters under water, then two men jumped.

The gun crew after rattling off a few farewells to the hidden enemy, also jumped.

Collecting the Boats.

Then began the work of collecting the boats and rafts, the former carrying 500, the latter bearing 200. Meanwhile the big transport, within sight of all, and with what seemed a visible shudder, went to her last resting place.

"The submarine then came to the surface," says Commander Foote's account, "and took one of the sailors, Seaman Anderson, on board and then a little later took one of the officers, Lieutenant Isaacs, after which it returned to the boat. Anderson stated that the submarine commander treated him kindly and gave him coffee and cognac."

U-Boat Returns to Scene.

The report continues:

"The submarine remained in the vicinity of the boats for about an hour and a half."

Night came on and enshrouded the sea in darkness save for the sputtering lanterns hanging to the oars of the lifeboats.

Destroyers to Rescue.

At eleven o'clock, when it was quite dark, some one sighted a blinking white light far off.

A short time later an American destroyer hove through the blackness and a mighty shout of welcome was given by the survivors. An hour later another destroyer reached the scene and by two o'clock in the morning all the survivors were embarked.

Surgeon Wrey G. Farwell of Washington has been cited for valor in dispatches from France for the manner in which he rendered first aid to Col. A. W. He sought an assignment with the marines some eight months ago, and since that time has seen a good deal of active service at the front.

LETTER OF SUPT. W. L. REED READ AT ANNUAL SCHOOL MEETING

Before beginning this report the Superintendent wishes to thank the boys and girls of our schools for their co-operation under the trying conditions of the year just past. The success of the school has been largely due to their faithfulness and we wish to give credit to them and the teachers for work well done.

Although conditions have been so unsatisfactory the enrollment has been greater than at any time during the past five years. The total enrollment for the year ending June 1918 was [illegible], for the previous year it was [illegible], an increase of 7 per cent.

In the high school the enrollment for the present year has been 139 compared with 118 for the year previous. This is an increase of 17 per cent. when we expected a decrease because of unfavorable conditions.

In spite of increased enrollment the attendance has been unsatisfactory. Th[illegible]vere weather, contagious disease, and in several families to lack of proper clothing. The weather we cannot control but an examining physician would materially reduce the loss through disease. A local charity organization would be a blessing to the children in some of our homes and an efficient agency in giving Tecumseh an improved future citizenship.

So much for the past, we are all looking to the future with hope born of long waiting. Let us remember however that evolution though slower is better in school affairs than revolution. (Our new building is the exception which proves the rule.) Your Superintendent believes that all that is best in the present curriculum should be retained as long as the call for it is proportional to the cost, also that new departments should be introduced gradually as the call for them developes.

The present year will be one of transition from the present eight-four plan to the newer six-six plan in which the upper grades will be included in the high school. The course of study offered is for the one year only and omits subjects which will be taken up the following year.

The thought in putting the 7th and 8th grades in the high school is to break the monotony of the grade work which has been so similar for six years, also to give the pupils some degree of elective work. We are starting on the latter idea by offering the girls sewing in the 7th grade and cooking in the eighth. The boys may make a start in the commercial work if they wish.

The year hour plan of making credits will be followed in place of the present system. For example: a class reciting five times per week for a year earns 2 hrs. credit, [illegible]tions per week earns 2 hrs. credit. Book-keeping and all laboratory classes have double periods.

In the upper grades German has been omitted, as it will be in most schools of the nation; no explanation is necessary. Although many schools are offering nothing in its place, believing that one foreign language is enough in a small school, we are offering French in place of German.

During the last five years, from three to five students have taken third and fourth year Latin. This is too small a class for efficiency in teaching and for that reason will be discontinued until a greater call develops.

Algebra I, Ancient History, and Physics will be advanced a year, hence do not appear in next year's program. A course in Citizenship will be introduced in the 9th grade. This we might call applied government. In it we not only expect to teach the form and machinery of government but hope to show the future citizen his responsibility to his community and nation.

According to advance classification the business course is most popular of all. We have modified our course slightly to meet suggestions sent out by the U. S. Dept. of Education. It may be finished in four years by a regular high school student or in one year by one who has finished high school.

But there were homes long before offices appeared and business will cease when the home is no longer a national asset, therefore we call attention of mothers especially, to the Home Economics Course. This work is elective in all grades of the high school. The work in cooking and sewing will be as practical as possible. The writer deems this the most valuable work we offer to girls and hopes later to see it a required course.

The only change in the lower grades will be the introduction of a kindergarten department in place of the present preparatory grade. Children who will reach five years of age before January 1st, 1919, will be admitted in September.

There are many possibilities associated with the new building, activities which we hope to introduce during the coming year. But as these depend very largely upon your co-operation, and as you are already tired of listening to future prospects we will close with asking your aid in giving Tecumseh a worth while social center in her new school building.

W. L. Reed, Supt.

COMMUNICATION OF PRES. J. H. SMITH TO THE DISTRICT

RE: The report of the Board of Education as submitted by the Secretary which is now before you:

Before any action is taken on this report we desire that all may have a full understanding of the report and why the recommendations as read are made. Also some information concerning our New High school building which enters into the appropriations asked.

You have very likely noticed that the budget asked this year is somewhat larger than in former years. This is a natural consequence. There are three reasons for this;

FIRST: An advance in Teachers wages of $2075.

SECOND: Providing for a bond payment of $5000 due Jan. 1, 1918.

THIRD: Equipment for High School.

The matter of teachers wages is a large item in the maintainance of schools at the present time. Teachers salaries have been on the increase during the past three years, much greater than in former years. A decided advance has taken place the past year. The board of education have given this matter careful consideration. We have investigated the wages paid by other schools near our size. We have tried to be conservative, and yet we have been compelled to make the increase in wages in order to maintain the standard of our schools, and have lost some of our best teachers because we could not pay the wages offered by other schools.

In view of the higher cost of maintainance, and considering the advantages and greater opportunities which will be afforded in our New High School, we have raised the rate of tuition which has been $12 and $16 in the grades and $20 in the high school to $20 for the grades and $30 for the high school. These are about the average rates in schools of like size, Some are charging $25 and $35.

RE: Bond due in January, 1918.

At our annual meeting one year ago, no provision was made for the payment of the bond due January 1st. It should have been, but was not. Provision was made for the payment of all interest during the year, January and July. It was necessary to pay the bond January 1 and this was done from the general fund. In paying this bond we found ourselves short in the general fund to meet the annual expenses, which necessitated a loan.

RE: Equipment:

We have included in the appropriation asked, about $2800, for equipment for our new building. One year ago we estimated some surplus for equipment and advised the district to offer for sale the property known as the East Branch school and North Branch school, that the proceeds from the sale of these properties might be used in the purchase of equipment. This might have been accomplished had the new building been completed January 1st. But we have been compelled to use the branch buildings and could not offer them for sale, and as it is necessary that equipment be secured before the opening of school in September we have asked for this appropriation.

It is the opinion of the board that the appropriations now asked will be sufficient to pay all interest on bonds coming due before our next annual meeting, also we are providing for the payment of a bond coming due in January 1, 1919 of $5,000. In the amount asked for equipment we believe we have provided for an amount sufficient to secure such equipment as may be needed for the first one or two years at least. In the appropriation we have not provided for equipping the Gymnasium. We believe we can get along without a general equipment of the gymnasium. There can be a certain amount of inexpensive equipment at small cost that will answer the purpose for some time. In connection with this, we have been informed that the high school is inclined to assist in this matter. Entertainments can be held by the schools and funds raised in that way which we believe will meet the requirements for equipment as they come on.

The contractor, Mr. Gettins, has assured the board that the building will be completed and ready for occupancy for the opening of school in September.

All the necessary furniture, aside from what is to be taken from the branch buildings, has been ordered and the greater part now on hand.

It is generally expected in the erection of a building of the size of our new high school, costing nearly $100,000. there will be some things overlooked at the start that should be done. There has been some changes and additions, but not of any great amount. These have only been made by the board when in their best judgment the situation demanded them. They have been mostly where the change or addition could only be made during the construction of the building. Some surplus room in the building which in the opinion of the board would very soon be needed for the increase of attendance which we expect our new school will have, has been finished and so arranged that it will be ready when needed.

RE: The cost of the building:

It is well understood, the building cost from $15,000 to $20,000 more than it would had the proposition to build a year earlier carried. But we may congratulate ourselves on building as we have. Had we waited another year the cost would have been far more. The contracts were let on a basis of about 16c per cubic foot, the present rate paid for school buildings in the cities is about 28c per cubic foot.

It is the opinion of the board of education that when the building is competed, School District Number Seven will feel proud of its new high school.

The material used in its construction, the workmanship, the lighting system, ventilating system and general arrangements are of the best.

We have also been highly complimented on our building by State officials, Supt. of State School buildings and State Fire inspectors. They have told us that when completed according to our plans that it will equal any school building of its size in the State.

NOTICE TO SUBSCRIBERS

On and after August 1st the subscription price of the Tecumseh Herald will be increased to the following rates:

To subscribers anywhere within Lenawee County $1.50 per year in advance.

To subscribers living outside the county $1.75 per year in advance.

To subscribers living in Canada or at other points outside the United States where 1c postage per issue is required $2.00 per year in advance.

The above prices are made necessary because of the prevailing high prices of print paper and other materials entering into the publication of our paper and also to meet the increased postal rate which went into effect July 1st. The Herald would have been justified to have raised its subscription rates as other papers have done, some two years ago, but did not do so, and gave to our people the benefit of a semi-weekly paper for the extremely low price of $1.00 per year.

The success of the Red Cross concert given Wednesday night goes to show that this war will not be won by man power alone, for the women of our country are giving to their Government most valuable assistance in almost every activity. The success of this concert is largely due to the patriotic efforts of our Tecumseh women and we heartily congratulate them for the splendid success which was won through their efforts.

But while the amount taken for Red Cross is very big and of great help to the cause, the point which pleases us most is the loyal spirit shown by the people. Wednesday night's attraction was advertised to be a Red Cross concert and it was also advertised that a collection would be taken for Red Cross. The people knew thsi and they came to town in great numbers. It shows conclusively that the people of this community are loyal to the core and are ready and willing to support their Gvernment with their money. What kind of a show has the Kaiser to win with a spirit like this against him. Our boys need not be ashamed of the home folks for they are 100 per cent. loyal to the cause of Democracy.

CONVOY SYSTEM IMPROVING

Sir Leo Money Said 43,000,000 Tons Convoyed to European Ports.

London.—Speaking in the house of commons Tuesday, Sir Leo Money, parliamentary secretary to the ministry of shipping, said the percentage of ships lost while homeward bound to the United Kingdom since January 1, 1918, was rather more than 1 per cent. The losses of food ships for the same period was less than 1.4 per cent.

The result of the convoy system, Sir Leo said, continued to improve Since January, 1917, when the system was put into effect, 43,000,000 gross tons had been convoyed to British and French ports with a loss up to June 29, of 1.29 per cent. This included loss by the dispersal of convoys through bad weather.

U. S. Board Build 223 Ships.

Washington.—Completion of 23 ships of 122,771 dead weight tons in the first week of July made a total of 223 new vessels built under the direction of the shipping board. Their aggregate tonnage is 1,415,022.

Of the new fleet, 218 vessels already are in actual service.

BUMPER YEAR FOR SEASON'S CROPS

RECORD PRODUCTION OF CORN

Although June Weather Was Somewhat Unfavorable for Most Crop Bumper Yields Indicated.

Washington.—Government hopes for a 1,000,000,000 bushel wheat crop received a setback when the department of agriculture's July forecast showed a reduction of 40,000,000 bushels in the prospective crop.

Unfavorable weather conditions during June [illegible] to 891,000,000 bushels from the 931,000,000 bushels forecast in June. Production estimates on other crops also were slightly reduced.

A record production of corn, the most valuable of all the country's crops, is promised with an estimate of 3,160,000,000 bushels.

Although June weather was somewhat unfavorable for most crops, indications are that the season's harvest will make this a bumper year. In addition to a record crop of corn, barley, rye, sweet potatoes and rice are forecast to exceed all previous yearly production and the harvest of oats, white potatoes, tobacco and hay will be larger than the average of the five years.

PRUDDEN ISSUES COAL ORDERS

Six Tons Anthracite Coal Allowed for Base Burner Users.

Lansing.—New regulations covering the distribution of coal were issued recently by United States Fuel Administrator W. K. Prudden. As the result of the new regulations, a man having a large house in which he normally used 75 tons of hard coal will be limited to 50 tons.

"Until further notice, the following orders relative to coal for domestic use will be in force," said Mr. Prudden.

"Consumers having strictly hard coal base burners may have delivered their requirements not exceeding six tons. All nut and stove sizes to be reserved so far as possible for base burners use.

"Consumers having hot air furnaces, including hot air furnaces having hot water coils attached one-half of their requirements. For each ton of hard coal now on hand or hereafter delivered an additional ton of soft coal to be procured.

"Consumers having hot water or steam heating equipments must provide fuel other than anthracite coal for heating.

"The owner or occupant of a private residence having less than five in family, shall not have delivered to said residence to exceed 50 tons of anthracite coal, even though his prewar normal requirements has been in excess of that amount."

MAY TAX GASOLINE 10C A GAL.

Treasury Department Recommends Heavy Tax On "Luxuries."

Washington.—The treasury department sent to the ways and means committee a list of "luxuries" upon which it is recommended that heavy taxes be levied in the new revenue bill. Included in the list are automobiles, clothing, household servants, jewelry, hotel bills, gasoline, motion pictures, musical instruments, neckwear, canes and furs.

The taxes on most of the articles named in the list would be collected on retail sales. The tax on gasoline would be paid by the wholesale dealer. It is fixed at 10 cents a gallon, while the auto tax is graduated from $15 to $50, according to horsepower rating.

Members of the committee were astounded at some of the department's recommendations. It was stated frankly by several of the committee men that many of the suggestions as to taxable articles would not be considered seriously.

6 MONTHS FIRE BILL $3,738,913

January's Fire Loss for the State Totaled $1,412,112.

Lansing.—Appalling as they were for January, Michigan's fire losses for this year have greatly diminished and, according to a table given out recently by Insurance Commissioner Frank H. Ellsworth, who also is state fire marshal, they are now down to normal. This condition has been reached, too, in the face of widespread fires of unknown origin, which for a time were blamed on pro-German influence.

January's fire loss for the state was $1,412,112. February more than cut that figure in half, reaching only $571,211; March went a little higher, to $600,000, while April totalled $659,778. The drop came in May, however, when the total was $354,673, while in June the normal figure of $142,912 was reached. The six months total is $3,738,913, only $1,700,000 less than the total for the entire year of 1917, which was $5,459,947.

REPUBLICANS MEET SEPT. 26

No Mention of a Possible Candidate for Senator Was Made.

Grand Rapids.—Overtures by Michigan Democrats for the bi-partisan nomination of Henry Ford for United States senator were ignored by the Michigan Republican state central committee at its meeting at the Pantlind hotel here Tuesday, July 9.

No mention of the possible Republican choice for senator was made officially by the committee. Private what little sentiment was expressed on the subject indicated a desire to await developments in regard to the Democratic request for joining forces on the senatorship.

The committee meeting was short. Grand Rapids was chosen as the place for the Republican state convention, which will be held September 26, and the committee went on record in favor of equal suffrage when it directed that an indorsement of equal suffrage be referred to the convention committee on resolutions with the recommendation that it be adopted.

FIGHT FOR DRY NATION STARTED

SENATE BILL PROHIBITS SALE OF LIQUORS, WINE AND BEER JANUARY 1, 1919.

BEER AND WINE STOPPED NOV. 1

Prohibition Issue Came Up in the Senate With the $11,000,000 Emergency Agricultural Bill.

Washington.—Legislation providing for practically absolute prohibition during the war was reported to the Senate after the agricultural committee had agreed to drastic changes in the Norris amendment to the $11,000,000 emergency agricultural appropriation bill, by which [illegible] beer and wine, except for export, would be prohibited after next January 1, and manufacture of beer and wine would be stopped after November 1.

As originally proposed, the Norris amendment would have prohibited the sale of distilled liquors, and the manufacture of wine except for export, after next June 30, and the manufacture of beer three months after the agriculture bill became a law. The sale of wine, however, would not have been stopped.

Under the amendment, as reported Monday, removal of distilled spirits held in bond would be prohibited after January 1 except under regulations prescribed by the commissioner of internal revenue, with approval of the secretary of the treasury. The commissioner, also, would prescribe regulations of the sale and distribution of wine for sacramental, medical or other non-beverage purposes.

BINDER TWINE CHEAPER IN 1919

Estimated Saving to Grain Growers in U. S. Is $6,000,000.

Lansing, Mich.—Binder twine for the harvest of 1919 will cost American farmers about three cents per pound less than they have paid this year; the estimated total saving to grain growers of the United States is $6,000,000.

This announcement of the United States food administration follows an arrangement it has made with the Comision Reguladora, the Yucatan monopoly controlling sisal, whereby the Comision has contracted to sell 500,000 bales of sisal to twine mills of this country at a price three cents per pound less than a year ago.

To maintain an economical operation of twine mills in the United Sstates, sisal is contracted for about a year ahead and is manufactured into the finished twine throughout the year.

EXPLOSION KILLS 3, BURNS 2

Burst of Steam and Ashes So Great No One Able to Reach Men.

Frankfort.—Three men were killed and two seriously scalded in the explosion of a steam pipe in the firehold of Ann Arbor car ferry No. 5. Following a loud report was a burst of steam and ashes so great that no one was able to reach the place of the explosion until all the steam in the pipe had escaped.

When it cleared away sufficiently to allow an entrance, two seriously burned men, First Assistant Engineer Mason Frary and Arthur Galbraith were brought out. A short time afterward, the bodies of William Freeman and Raleigh Gilbert, both of Elberta, and Laeson Boyd, of Thompsonville, were recovered. They were hardly recognizable.

ACCOUNTING SYSTEM DEVISED

Will Establish a Uniform System of Accounts in Every Country in State.

Lansing.—A state budget and public accounting system has been devised by the special commission appointed to prepare such a measure for the next legislature.

The system will establish a uniform system of accounts in every county in Michigan and provide for a yearly audit of every state and county officers' books by the state examiners to be appointed by the auditor general and oftener if an examination of the records is deemed necessary.

The proposed system will show all sources of income of every office, and the disposition of all funds.

IRELAND'S VOTE BOOSTED 150%

Believed New Law Will Add Much Strength to Sinn Fein.

Dublin.—The number of persons entitled to vote in Ireland will be increased nearly 150 per cent under the new franchise law, giving everyone who has lived in Ireland six months the right to vote. The franchise is extended to women over 30 years old who are the wives of electors. The city of Dublin has had up to now about 40,000 voters. In future it will have 100,000.

The effect on Irish politics generally is expected to be to increase the voting strength of the Sinn Fein party, since the larger part of the additional voters will be young men, and the young men are mostly Sinn Feiners.

Lansing.—The food administration has frowned upon the old-fashioned threshing dinners. "While plenty of food must be provided for threshers because their work is hard, it must be well cooked, properly seasoned and palatable, and endless variety is inappropriate and unnecessary just at this time," says Food Administrator George A. Prescott.

Lansing.—Two more county war conferences, similar to the one held a couple of weeks ago at Escanaba, have been tentatively decided on. One is to be held at Bay City, July 30 and 31, for the county commitees in the southern part of the lower peninsula, while one for those in the upper half will be held at Traverse City one week later, August 6 and 7.

West Branch.—Grocerymen of Ogemaw county have organized an association to co-operate with Food Administrator R. C. McKay in conservation of food and securing uniformity of prices. A committee was appointed consisting of A. C. Neilson, West Branch; J. C. Weinberg, Prescott; Guy Starko, Rose City; R. O. Carscallen, Selkirk, A. S. Andrews, Edwards.

RUSSIA MAN-POWER MAY BE MOBILIZED AGAINST ENTENTE

BOLSHEVIKI GOVERNMENT AT MOSCOW THREATENS TO CONCLUDE ALLIANCE WITH GERMANY.

GERMANY DEMANDS CONTROL OF MOSCOW AND PETROGRAD

Japanese Ambassador Viscount Ishii Has Been Invited to An Interview With President Wilson On Russia Case.

Paris.—The Bolshevist government at Moscow, according to reliable dispatches, is threatening to conclude an alliance with Germany and mobilize Russia's manpower against the Entente.

As a result of the assassination of the German ambassador to Russia, Count von Mirbach, Germany, it is reported, will demand passage for her troops by way of Petrograd to the Murman coast, the inhabitants of which the Bolsheviki are denouncing as friendly to the Allies.

Germany, it is said, will further demand control of Petrograd and Moscow.

The Bolsheviki claim to have gained full supremacy over the Social revolutionary movement, which was unloosed in Moscow by the Mirbach murder. The revolutionaries are, however, still entrenched in the municipal theater.

Czechs Attack Bolsheviki.

Tokio.—Czech forces are rising against the Bolsheviki at many points along the trans-Siberian railroad, according to authoritative dispatches received here. Clashes between Reds and Revolutionists are reported at Irkutsk, Nichlist and Havarovsk.

Japanese Ambassador Meets Wilson.

Washington.—Viscount Ishii, Japanese ambassador, has been invited to an interview with President Wilson. Urgent representations have been made to this government in behalf of Czecho-Slovak troops in Russia, who are declared to be threatened with extermination.

It was surmised in diplomatic quarters President Wilson requested Ambassador Ishii to acquaint his government with the fact the United States favors the principle of military assistance to Russia, and to obtain the Japanese government's views of the immediate military action practicable by Japan, the number of troops which might be engaged in an expedition, the distance it might penetrate, extent of Chinese co-operation and what collaboration by the American government is desirable.

Allied Planes Bomb Constantinople.

London.—Five Allied aeroplanes bombed Constantinople Sunday, according to a Central News dispatch from Amsterdam. Considerable damage was caused in the Turkish capital by the raid.

While waiting for the German high command to show its hand in beginning a new assault, the Allied forces on the western front are giving the enemy little opportunity to perfect his arrangements for launching the attack.

From the Lys sector, on the north, to the Champagne front, in eastern France, there have been sudden thrusts at German lines, at least one of which has made considerable ground.

This particular blow was struck by the French west of the Oise and north of the Maiz river, on the battle field where the Germans were stopped short in their attempt to hew their way through to Compaigne early in June.

The French advanced along the Compeigne road northwest of Antheuil and occupied Loge and Porte farms, on each side of the highway. The ground they have taken is important from a defensive standpoint and cuts down the area in which the Germans must maneuver in this part of the battle area.

There seems to have been some spirited fighting on the British front, along La Bassee canal, northwest of Lens and north of the Somme, in the Picardy sector.

Germany To Send Troops to Alps.

Paris.—Germany will send three army corps to the aid of Austria, according to a Rome dispatch to the Temps. These will be put under directions of General Otto von Below, commander-in-chief on the Italian front, and will be assigned to the Alps sectors, it is stated. The Trentino railways have been put under German control and will be used exclusively for German troops.

U. S. Loans Italy $10,000,000.

Washington.—An additional credit of $10,000,000 was granted to Italy recently by the treasury department, making a total of $660,000,000 for Italy and of $6,491,590,000 loaned to the Allies to date.

Standish.—Adrian Walkin, 15 years old, son of a leading lumberman of Pinconning, died Saturday morning as the result of falling under a Standard Oil truck about two weeks ago.

Bay City.—Joseph M. Laskowski, reported seriously wounded in action overseas, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Laskowski, this city. He enlisted in the marines a year ago.

Millington.—When Deputy Sheriff O. K. Farnum went to serve a warrant of ejection on William Brown, the latter resisted with a scythe. Farnum's arm was cut. Brown was released.

Lansing.—Food Administrator George A. Prescott says that there is a surplus of beans, the needs of the government for 1917 having been filled, and that the public should eat more beans and less meat.

Petoskey.—Vice-president Thomas R. Marshall, Mrs Marshall and family arrived in Petoskey July 5 on a private car from Washington to spend the summer. The were met by a committee of citizens and the Petoskey war board. The city was decorated.

MICHIGAN BREVITIES

Kalamazoo—Teressa Fuller, an inmate of Kalamazoo state hospital, hung herself Saturday evening, using an improvised rope made from a sheet.

Pontiac—Roland Weir, 18 years old, son of Mr and Mrs. Charles T. Weir, Detroit, was drowned Sunday afternoon while swimming in Commerce lake in Commerce township.

Muskegon—This city will have its second eight-story building soon. The Occidental Hotel company directors determined Saturday to add four stories to the present structure.

Muskegon—Muskegon has contracted for 3,000 cords of hardwood for fuel purposes. This amount of fuel, it is believed, will take the place of an equal number of tons of coal.

Hillsdale.—A total of $203,000, representing 1,015 subscriptions, has been pledged here by war savings stamp purchasers. This per capita amount, nearly $200, is the largest so far recorded at state headquarters.

Lansing.—Prosecuting Attorney J. Clyde Watt, of Ionia county, Friday, reported to Secretary Richard M. Olin, of the state board of health, that Dr John C. Fleming, of Pewama, had pleaded guilty in justice court to failure to report a case of chicken pox and had paid a fine of $15.

Port Huron—Forty-three Serbians, a coach load in charge of Kansas City police, are detained here by draft officials pending orders from Washington. It is alleged that the men, many of whom have first citizenship papers, are being "railroaded" to Canada for military service. The party was headed for Sussex, New Brunswick.

Mt. Clemens—A plane at Selfridge field fell into Lake St. Clair at 9 o'clock Friday morning and its occupants, Lieut nant Oakes and a cadet observer, are in the field hospital. They were doing a nose dive when the plane fell, striking the lake in shallow water. Their injuries are not serious.

Standish—Natural gas has just been struck north of here in Alcona county. While drilling a well on the farm ranch of John Carroll of Bay City, on Pine river, there was a roar, followed by a rush of gas when the drill was down 10 feet. The first flame shot over the derrick 20 feet and then lowered and spread out.

Jackson—Harry Bushnell, Pontiac man who escaped from the north farm of the Michigan state prison here Friday, is being sought as the slayer of Mrs. Tillie Jenkin, and Valden Bordner, missing since Tuesday night, whose bodies were discovered Monday morning near the Root farm six miles north of this city, another prison farm.

Muskegon.—Local manufacturers, using 65 per cent of the electric power consumed in Muskegon, have again had their rates boosted, the increase being from 7 to 15 per cent. A protest before the state commission, is as yet undecided, although presented over a year ago.

Ann Arbor.—With a registration only slightly smaller than last year the twenty-fifth annual session of the U. of M. opened this week. Courses for the senior year in the medical college have begun that the graduates may be released more quickly for war service.

Grand Rapids.—A double funeral will be held for Jacob Nage, 29 years old, and his brother, Martin, 57 years old. Just before Jacob Nage died he predicted the death of his brother and requested a double funeral. Martin Nage died 12 hours later. Both died of tuberculosis.

Hubbardston—Rev. John M. Doyle, manager of the war savings stamp campaign, reports that North Plains township, Ionia county, has raised its quota of $23,000. The drive was made by the township organization composed of 20 men, aided by the ladies of the Red Cross auxiliary.

Standish.—Prescott & Son, who own several ranches and a big farm at Prescott, a few miles north of here, have just added 13 carloads of stock, making 1,800 cattle and 1,200 sheep on this farm alone. George A. Prescott, the senior member is present state food commissioner and ex-senator.

Muskegon.—Muskegon W. C. T. U. members have appealed to Mayor Smith to urge the merchants of Muskegon to pay higher wages for girl employes. A recent strike of girls employed in Muskegon drygoods and ready-to-wear stores revealed that in some cases girls were being paid but four dollars a week.

Muskegon—Frank Agur, 33 years old, charged with blowing a safe in Toledo and stealing $1,900, is held at the county jail awaiting the arrival of officers from the Ohio city. Agur was caught at Twin Lakes, where he purchased a farm. The accused man was formerly cashier of the Sullivan Packing company of Toledo.

Kalamazoo—Enlargement of the Kalamazoo Industries corporation to include factories in five other counties in southwestern Michigan is a possible outgrowth of the organization of the Kalamazoo zone of the Regional Industrial commission. The organization meeting was held in this city. A. C. Barley, president of the Barley Motor Company, was elected president; W. C. Hobey, Benton Harbor, vice-president, and Harry H. Freeman, of this city, secretary and treasurer.

Ann Arbor.—The state war board has appropriated $21,000 to be spent for the care of tubercular soldiers. The sum will be used to complete a building at Howell sanitarium which was being erected for use as a children's ward. Dr. Albert Warthin and Dr. W. D. Hinsdale presented the matter to the board at Lansing and obtained the appropriation. There will be 40 beds, and unless the next legislature makes provision for the care of tubercular patients the war board will give further help.

Lansing.—An almost complete collapse of the peach crop is the cheif feature of the June crop report issued by the secretary of state. According to his correspondents, there will be but 10 per cent of a crop. In the famous fruit belt on the west side of the state, the crops are estimated at five per cent; last year, one of the worst years on record, the fruit belt produced 12 per cent of a crop. Six of the 13 counties in the so-called fruit belt are classed as having an absolute zero crop. Other fruit below average.

I HAVE SPENT JUST ENOUGH OF MY LIFE

Among the Salesladies in the Stores of Smaller Cities

To know just how many there are who would be valuable to us here in Detroit and would be bettering themselves materially by coming here.

I also know that there are many women and young women in the smaller cities who have LITTLE OR NO EXPERIENCE in selling goods, but who, if given the opportunity which I can and will give them in this store, would make successful salespeople

We frequently have good openings in suits, waists, under-muslins, shoes, millinery, housefurnishings and china, in fact almost all the departments in this large busy store.

These positions are permanent and the salaries are good, corresponding of course to the experience you have and the service you can render

If you think you might be interested do not hesitate to inquire. Write me personally and I will take the matter up with you to the best of my ability I am out of the city at the present time but will return July 15th. J. H. Barrett, general superintendent, Crowley, Milner & Co., Detroit, Michigan. adv

DENY SELECTS SERVICE CHOICE

Crowder Orders Stop of Privilage of Draft Men to Join Anywhere.

Washington.—Instructions have been sent by Provost Marshal General Crowder to all local draft boards, ordering cessation of the privilege hitherto granted registered men of selecting the arm of the service, in which they desire to enlist when volunteering.

It was learned officially, however, that no action has been taken to stop the voluntary enlistment in the navy of men of class one.

Secretary Baker said that he had conferred with Major General Crowder regarding this loss of draft men to the army, but that no decision had been reached to withdraw permission for such enlistments.

ED FRENSDORF OF HUDSON FOR GOVERNOR

Announces His Willingness to be a Candidate on the Democratic Ticket

Edward Frensdorf of Hudson, now acting warden of the Michigan State Prison, has announced his willingness to be a candidate for the office of Governor on the Democratic ticket. Ed is a native of Lenawee county and for the past few years has been much in the public eye. He has made a fine record as a man, in the business world and as a public servant. His friends, realizing his sterling worth, have been urging him to consent to their using his name for the nomination of Governor on tht Democratic ticket.

In consenting Mr. Frensdorf states "My attitude is entirely patriotic." "In these times we find men with more than political qualifications serving the federal government without regard to salary." "However, everyone cannot serve the nation directly and it seems to me that Michigan needs a high type of sacrifice."

Mr. Frensdorf has given, already to the State, during the past few years the larger porton of his time without remuneration. When Warden Bisque entered the United States service, he volunteered to act as warden and has since done so without pay. Although his parents are of German extraction, his loyality to his Government has been proven without a shadow of a doubt and he has been active in patriotic work since our entry into the war.

Lenawee county is proud of Ed Frensdorf and his record and if nominated and elected he would do credit in every way to the office of Governor of the great State of Michigan.

MRS. IDA SHURTZ LANNING

Mrs. Ida Shurtz Lanning was born in the town of Adrian, Mich., Sept. 16, 1852 and died at her home in Detroit, Mich., July 5, 1918, being 65 years, 9 months old at the time of her death. For many years she was a resident of Tecumseh, but in 1908 she moved to Ypsilanti, and for the last six years has made her home in Detroit. She leaves a daughter, Mrs. J. A. Smith and a son, Glenn Lanning, both of Detroit, a daughter, Leota, having died in 1888 at the age of sixteen years. She is also survived by six brothers and sisters, Mrs. Oxro Morton of Evart, Mich.; Mrs. Joseph Howe, of Kalkaska, Mrs. Arthur Gove and Wallace W. Shurtz, of Tecumseh, Thos Shurtz and Henry Shurts of Manchester.

Her going leaves a sad void in the lives of those near to her, yet she has left to them the blessed memory of a devoted mother, a loving sister, and a faithful friend. The sufferings of her illness were borne with Christian fortitude, and she died rejoicing in the love of her Savior.

Mrs. Lanning was a member of the Methodist church of Tecumseh for many years. After going to Detroit she joined the Trinity church. The remains were brought to Tecumseh and the funeral services held from the Methodist church, Sunday afternoon, July 7, at 2 o'clock, Rev. Wm. J. Balmer officiating. The burial was at Brookside Cemetery.

Putting Cord Advantages Into Fabric Tires

Of course, the construction in the two tires is very different. Yet Firestone found the way to put some Cord advantages into Fabric Tires. The special bead reinforcement, deeper cushion layer, extra gum between fabric layers are all good points. And they all were developed first in the Firestone Cord. Come in and let us show you the Firestone Fabric cross section, cut from a stock tire.

THIS LETTER FROM WASHINGTON

Confirms the advice we have given regarding

COAL

This is an extract from a letter to a Detroit Coal firm:—

United State Fuel Administration,
Washington, D. C.,
June 10, 1918.

The————Coal Co.,
Detroit, Mich.,
Gentlemen:-

Replying to your letter of May 16th.

Because of transportation conditions, which are strongly in favor of the movement of anthracite coal to States in the Northeastern section of this country as — for domestic requirements, and because of the increased tonnage necessary to protect the actual domestic needs of this section, it has been found necessary to reduce materially the normal tonnage to your state.

The amount alloted which is about 70 per cent. of the 1916 tonnage, will be distributed on a pro rata basis among the communities based on their regular coal shipping companies to their regular dealers unless otherwise directed by the Federal Fuel Administrator for your state. It is suggested that you should arrange without delay to protect the balance of your domestic requirements with bituminous coal.

Yours very truly,
United States Fuel Administration,
By A. S. Learoyd,
Director Anthracite Distribution.

LATER ADVICES

From Mr. Prudden's statement of June 30th.

"The allotment of anthracite coal for Michigan as made by the U. S. Fuel Administration for the year commencing April 1918, and ending April 1st, 1919 is 1,201,000 tons. This amount of coal is much less than one-half the amount of coal needed for domestic use. A LARGE AMOUNT OF BITUMINOUS COAL AND WOOD MUST MAKE UP THE BALANCE REQUIRED."

In other words the northeastern states are nearer to the mines where hard coal is obtained and Michigan is nearer to the sources of soft coal. To save time in transportion Michigan will receive 70 tons of hard coal for every 100 tons she received in 1916. Which means that many people who have always burned hard coal will not be able to get it, and all who have used over six tons of hard coal will have to use some soft coal instead.

WHY ORDER NOW?

Because just at present it is possible to get soft coal. At any time transportation conditions, labor troubles, etc. may make it impossible to get even soft coal.

Because most of the soft coal shipped now is good quality, while later in the season or next winter we may be forced to accept run of mine coal as we were obliged to do last winter.

Because a bird in the hand is worth two in the bush.

If you do not want to repeat the unpleasant experiences of last year, get your coal in your bins without delay. It's a comfortable feeling to know that it's there.

ENORMOUS CROWD IN FOR RED CROSS CONCERT WEDNESDAY NIGHT

$407.00 Raised for Red Cross—Why Not Make it $500.00?

Streets Crowded With People

Wednesday night's entertainment given by Tecumseh's popular Red Cross Concert Company was the most successful yet given by this company of musicians. A brisk rain at noon and threatening clouds during the afternoon made it look discouraging for the concert but as the day drew to a close the sun came out and the evening was all that could be wished for the entertainment.

Early in the evening the crowd began to gather coming from every direction by auto and carriage. Every available space in the down town district was used for parking purposes and many of the side streets were full of autos. It was one of the biggest crowds assembled on our streets in a number of years.

The Tipton band was in attendance and gave a number of fine selections to open the program. The slack wire act by J. Lester Coller was the opening number on the program and Lester demonstrated that Tecumseh has no need to send out of town for performers along this line. He got a deserved applause from the audience.

The Ukalele Quartette gave two very fine selections and responded to an encore. Next came a cornet solo by Mr. Clare Camburn of Macon and he was called back for an encore.

The chorus presented "Yankee Doodle Up-to-Date" in a very enthusiastic manner, denouucing the Kaiser in no light manner. Several dancing stunts were introduced adding much to the pleasure of the entertainment. "The Sailor's Hornpipe" and the Flag dance under the leadership of Miss Agnes McIntyre was very nicely given. A solo dance by Miss Caroline Sheldon of Adrian was very clever as was the "Blue Bird Waltz" given by little Miss Carleton of Chicago, each charming the audience by their graceful movements.

Captain Perry Hayden and his Boy Scouts, 12 in number, gave a drill upon the platform. Capt. Hayden put the boys through the military movements with the skill of a professional. They also handled the guns like real soldiers which goes to show that Uncle Sam's army of tomorrow is in good hands. When the song, "Fill the Flag," was sung, a number of the Scouts stood guard while the flag was held by Miss Jeanetta Hall and Miss Hildreth Gasner.

The Temple Quartette, as usual, gave a fine selection. Mrs. Grace Heck Moore, with a large chorus, sang "Coumbia" in a most enthusiastic manner.

While the closing number, "The Star Spangled Banner," was being sung a large committee of ladies dressed in the uniform of the Red Cross, passed through the crowd to receive the collection. After the collectors had finished their task they climbed to the platform and emptied the money into the big flag held by the four captains, Mrs. G. A. Rathbun, Dr. Pauline Bredow, Mrs. J. D. Service and Mrs. D. J. Hodges, thus closing one of the finest programs ever given in Ttcumseh.

When the collection had been counted it was announced that the generous offering given by the people had netted the sum of $375.50 for Red Cross. Later the amount was increased to $400. by a generous citizen and further donations Thursday morning brought the grand total up to $407. Now if a few more patriotic people would come to the rescue the amount could be swelled to $500. Let the good work go on, its for the boys "over there."

A PAINFUL ACCIDENT

Mrs. John J. Orr met with quite a painful accident Wednesday evening, which will oblige her to go on crutches for awhile. In going down the steps at her back door, she caught her foot and fell to the ground injuring the foot across the instep and breaking some of the bones. The doctor was called and rendered what aid he could but the footwas so badly swollen that he could not tell the extent of the injury.

You can't sleep at night

When you have to get up from urinary troubles.

If the kidneys are at fault

Here is Tecumseh proof of their merit.

J. B. Smith, E. Chicago St., says "I was caused a great deal of suffering by pains in the small of my back and when the attacks came on, it was all I could do to attend to my work. When stooping, I was dizzy and spots of fire seemed to flash before my eyes. I did not rest well and mornings when I got up, was tired and languid. I doctored and used remedies of various kinds, but got no benefit until I began taking Doan's Kidney Pills. They made me feel like a different person, completely ridding me of kidney trouble."

OVER FIVE YEARS LATER Mr. Smith said: "I gladly confirm my endorsement of Doan's Kidney Pills given before. I use them occasionally when I feel in need of a kidney medicine and they never fail to help me."

Plain Facts About the Meat Business

The Federal Trade Commission in its recent report on war profits, stated that the five large meat packers have been profiteering and that they have a monopoly of the market.

These conclusions, if fair and just, are matters of serious concern not only to those engaged in the meat packing business but to every other citizen of our country.

The figures given on profits are misleading and the statement that the packers have a monopoly is unsupported by the facts.

The packers mentioned in the report stand ready to prove their profits reasonable and necessary

* * * * *

The meat business is one of the largest American industries. Any citizen who would familiarize himself with its details must be prepared for large totals.

The report states that the aggregate profits of four large packers were $140,000,000 for the three war years.

This sum is compared with $19,000,000 as the average annual profit for the three years before the war, making it appear that the war profit was $121,000,000 greater tuan the pre-war profit.

This compares a 3-year profit with a 1-year profit—a manifestly unfair method of comparison. It is not only misleading, but the Federal Trade Commission apparently has made amistake in the figures themselves.

* * * * *

The aggregate three-year profit of $140,000,000 was earned on sales of over four and a half billion dollars. It means about three cents on each dollar of sales—or a mere fraction of a cent per pound of product.

Packers' profits are a negligible factor in prices of live stock and meats. No other large business is conducted upon such small margins of profit.

* * * * *

Furthermore—and this is very important—only a small portion of this profit has been paid in dividends. The balance has been put back into the businesses. It had to be, as you realize when you consider the problems the packers have had to solve—and solve quickly—during these war years.

To conduct this business in war times, with higher costs and the necessity of paying two or three times the former prices for live stock, has required the use of two or three times the ordinary amount of working capital. The additional profit makes only a fair return on this, and as has been stated, the larger portion of the profits earned has been used to finance huge stocks of goods and to provide additions and improvements made necessary by the enormous demands of our army and navy and the Allies.

* * * * *

If you are a business man you will appreciate the significance of these facts. If you are unacquainted with business, talk this matter over with some business acquaintance—with your banker, say—and ask him to compare profits of the packing industry with those of any other large industry at the present time.

* * * * *

No evidence is offered by the Federal Trade Commission in support of the statement that the large packers have a monopoly. The Commission's own report shows the large number and importance of the other packers.

The packers mentioned in the statement stand ready to prove to any fair minded person that they are in keen competition with each other, and that they have no power to manipulate prices.

If this were not true they would not dare to make this positive statement.

Furthermore, government figures show that the five large packers mentioned in the report account for only about one-third of the meat business of the country.

They wish it were possible to interest you in the details of their business. Of how, for instance, they can sell dressed beef for less than the cost of the live animal, owing to utilization of by-products, and of the wonderful story of the methods of distribution throughout this broad land, as well as in other countries.

The five packers mentioned feel justified in co-operating with each other to the extent of together presenting this public statement.

They have been able to do a big job for your government in its time of need; they have met all war time demands promptly and completely and they are willing to trust their case to the fairmindedness of the American people with the facts before them.

U. S. TAKES OVER ALL WIRE LINES

Senate Adopts Measure Giving President Control of Telegraph and Telephone.

VOTE ON BILL, 46 TO 16

Att[illegible] Press Lines Defeated—Senate to Meet Mondays and Thursdays.

Washington, July 15.—By a vote of 46 to 16, the senate adopted the resolution, already passed by the house, empowering the president to take over the telegraph and telephone wires.

All attempts to limit the power of the president were defeated and the bill passed in the form demanded by Mr. Wilson and his cabinet.

Although the statements of the cabinet officers indicated that the powers might be used as soon as granted, there has been no announcement as to just what the president intends to do or when. During debate on the resolution it was said the government would take over only trunk lines and connecting systems, leaving to their own managements the thousands of local and rural independent telephone systems throughout the country.

Adopt Three-Day Notice Rule.

Under this construction it is possible that the president will seize the telephone systems in Chicago, New York and other large cities, although some cabinet officials indicated that the telephone lines will not be taken over for some time, if at all.

Immediately after this action the senate entered into a unanimous consent agreement to recess three days at a time until August 26 and during that time to transact nothing but routine morning business. In its frantic haste to ring the recess gong the senate narrowly escaped tying itself up in an unbreakable agreement by which all legislation, no matter how great the emergency, would have been suspended for two months.

Refuse to Exempt Phones.

The adoption of the wire resolution came after a week of stubborn debate and involved parliamentary maneuvering. Before final action was taken the senate voted down amendment after amendment in rapid order.

Senator Watson of Indiana proposed an amendment to exempt telephone wires from public control. The amendment was rejected by a vote of 41 to 29. Another amendment by Senator Watson to exempt press wires was voted down, 39 to 21. Senator Reed of Missouri offered an amendment to prevent any interference with press or private messages unless they contained disloyal language or the government business demanded precedence. This was also rejected by a vote of 33 to 28.

Form of the Grant.

The resolution follows:

"Resolved, That the president, during the continuance of the present war, is authorized and empowered, whenever he shall deem it necessary for the national security or defense, to supervise or to take possession and assume control of any telegraph, telephone, marine cable or radio system or systems, or any part thereof, and to operate the same in such manner as may be needful or desirable for the duration of the war, which supervision, possession, control, or operation shall not extend beyond the date of the proclamation by the president of the exchange of ratifications of the treaty of peace.

"Provided, That just compensation shall be made for such supervision, possession, control or operation, to be determined by the president; and if the amount thereof, so determined by the president, is unsatisfactory to the person entitled to receive the same, such person shall be paid 75 per cent of the amount so determined by the president and shall be entitled to sue the United States to recover such further sum as, added to said 75 per cent, will make up such amount as will be just compensation therefor, in the manner provided for by section twenty-four, paragraph twenty, and section one hundred and forty-five of the judicial code.

"Provided further, That nothing in this act shall be construed to amend, repeal, impair, or affect existing laws or powers of the states in relation to taxation or the lawful police regulation of the several states, except wherein such laws, powers or regulations may affect the transmission of government communications or the use of stocks and bonds by such system or systems."

British Casualties Drop.

London, July 15.—British casualties reported in the week ended Saturday totaled 14,911 officers and men, compared with the aggregate of 17,336 in the previous week. The casualties are divided as follows: Killed or died of wounds: Officers, 125; men, 1,934. Wounded or missing: Officers, 408; men, 12,444.

Berlin Tells of Victories.

Berlin, July 15.—An official statement dealing with aviation says:

"During June 468 hostile airplanes and 62 balloons were shot down. Two hundred and seventeen of the former are in our possession. We lost 151 airplanes and 51 balloons."

PLOT AGAINST THE SOVIETS

Three Grand Dukes Arrested in Moscow—Alexandrovitch Arrives at Ukrainian Capital.

Berne, July 15.—Russian advices show that a widespread propaganda against the soviets has begun. As a result of this agitation, according to a Moscow dispatch, three grand dukes—Nicholas, George and Dmitri—have been arrested. Grand Duke Michael Alexandrovitch is reported in a Berlin dispatch to have arrived at Kiev, the Ukrainian capital. Grand Duke Michael is a younger brother of former Emperor Nicholas and was named regent of Russia when the Romanoff dynasty was overthrown in March, 1917. The grand duke, however, declined the regency and was exiled.

PLAN BOYCOTT AGAINST HU[illegible]

Kaiser Must Change Policy or [illegible] Barred in Commerce After War.

STATEMENT BY LORD CEC[illegible]

[illegible] Wilson's Principles That Germany Must Release People From Slavery.

London, July 15.—An economic association of 24 nations comprising the entente allies already is in existence, declared Lord Robert Cecil, British undersecretary of state for foreign affairs and minister of blockade, in a comprehensive statement regarding the world's trade after the war which was issued here.

Whether Germany eventually shall be admitted to this economic association, said the British minister, will be determined by the test established by President Wilson when he said December 4 that if the German people should still after the war "continue to be obliged to live under ambitious and intriguing masters interested to disturb the peace of the world," it might be impossible to admit them to the partnership of the nations or to free economic intercourse.

Agree With Wilson.

Lord Robert described this statement as a definition of the qualifications for membership in the association of nations, and added: "To these declarations we give our warmest assent."

Germany is the one obstacle to this economic association of nations, said Lord Robert—the Germany described by President Wilson—a Germany living under ambitious and intriguing masters.

"Germany's economic policy toward all the groupings of peoples from the Arctic ocean to the Black sea," he continued, "is absolutely contrary to our principles.

"Economic independence and free choice are the last things which Germany will ever allow to the peoples within her reach.

"So long as this is the policy of Germany, how can we admit her to membership in the Free Association of Nations to which we already belong?" asked Lord Robert.

Must Change Policies.

"Before we can offer her any participation in our resources we must release her victims from the economic slavery that she is imposing upon them."

With regard to the economic principles of the association, Lord Robert said President Wilson had on January 8 "stated them in memorial words when he advocated the removal so far as possible of all economic barriers and the establishment of an equality of trade among the nations consenting to peace and associating themselves for its maintenance."

After giving "warmest assent" to these declarations of the president, Lord Robert added:

"But do these declarations necessarily mean that we—the Association of Nations—are to have no protective tariffs in international competition in trade after the war? No. Every one is agreed to that.

Plans Universal Conference.

"In the words of the program of the interallied labor conference, 'the right of each nation to the defense of its own economic interests and the conservation of a sufficiency of foodstuffs and materials cannot be denied.'"

He concluded with the expression of the hope that the time was not far off when the allies would meet at the council board to discuss in detail the economic association, which will combine the resources of the civilized world in the joint work of reconstruction and the restoration of prosperity.

AMERICAN FRONT IS SHELLED

Increased Artillery Bombardment Along Marne and in Flanders Sector—French Make Number of Raids.

Paris, July 15.—The French continue their advance in Albania, the war office announced.

They have captured the towns of Narta and Gramshi and have droven the enemy from Hill 500, an important height.

U. S. Front Is Shelled.

London, July 15.—There was increased artillery firing, and in particular long-range shelling on the American front along the Marne throughout the night. There was no infantry fighting.

Heavy firing by German guns in the Flanders sectors, northwest of Albert, west of Kemmel Hill and southeast of Ypres was reported by General Haig in his day bulletin.

British Guns Active.

He added that the British artillery had been active at a number of points and that a hostile raiding party had been driven off with losses east of Locre.

The regions of Senecat Wood and Cantigny, the village captured recently by Americans, also were the targets for heavy firing by enemy guns, says the French official statement.

In the Champagne, French patrols carried out a number of successful raiding operations.

French Statement.

The war office announcement says:

"There was intermittent artillery activity, especially in the region of Corcy, but no infantry action.

"Eastern theater, July 13.—West of Dolran British troops carried out a successful raid on the Bulgarian lines.

"In Albania the French troops continued their successful advance; they drove the enemy from Hill 500 and from the village of Narta, at the confluence of the Tormorica and Devoli rivers.

An earlier report said:

"North of Montdidier there were local artillery actions, notably in the region of Bois de Senecat and Cantigny and in the sector of Gournay-Sur-Aronde.

"In the Champagne French reconnaissance troops executed a number of raids on the enemy lines and returned with prisoners."

British Statement.

"The hostile artillery has been active at a number of points."

Italian Statement.

Rome, July 15.—The war office statement says:

"The usual artillery actions were more intense at intervals from the Valarsa to the eastern sector of the Asiago plateau. Our fire dispersed moving enemy troops north of Borcola Pass.

"At Cornone new attacks by enemy patrols and detachments were promptly repulsed.

"Three enemy airplanes were brought down in air fighting."

GEN. PERSHING PRAISES MEN

Have Borne Themselves With Fine Valor in All Drastic Tests of Modern Warfare.

With the American Armies in France, July 15.—American troops have borne themselves with fine valor in "all the drastic tests of modern warfare," General Pershing declared in a general order.

The order expresses "appreciation of the splendid courage, service, and sacrifice of the officers and men of the First and Second divisions in the recent operations in which the enemy was stopped.

"These divisions," the order adds, "submitting fully for the first time to all the drastic tests of modern warfare, bore themselves with fine valor that brought from their allied comrades many expressions of appreciation."

With the American Army in France, July 15.—On the fronts in the Marne district held by American troops, the night was the quietest of any since the Germans in their sweep southward were stopped at the north bank of the river. In some sections not a single German shell came over, while in others the artillery fire was far below normal.

It has rained every day for the last four days in this region, with the result that the fields and roads are sticky and wet and unfavorable for marching or fighting. This fact may have had something to do with holding back the expected German offensive.

It is considered possible that even with the bad conditions under foot the enemy may launch his attack at any moment.

LAUNCH SIX SHIPS IN DAY

World's Record for Number of Large Vessels Completed at One Time Established at Portland.

Portland, Ore., July 15.—A world's record for the number of large ships launched at any one time was established here when the G. M. Standifer Construction corporation, builders of steel and wooden vessels, sent six wooden hulls into the water.

WHEN THE TREATY OF PEACE IS MADE

WHEN the time comes to make a treaty of peace to end this war, we must have in the Senate, the place where treaties are ratified, men of the highest ability, the broadest experience, the best judgment and the most pronounced Americanism. Our future will be in the balance. Every man, woman and child will in some way be affected—each one of us will be directly or indirectly concerned by what is then done. There must be no peace without victory. The victory so dearly won by our boys on the field of battle must be defended and safeguarded at the Council Board of the Nations.

Let Michigan send a man to the United States Senate who not only has the ability, but whose training especially fits him to meet the demand of a task so vital to us all—a red-blooded American who will insist that there be no peace until we have won the war—who will see to it that we do not lose in council the slightest part of what we have with so much sacrifice won in the field. "During the year ending July 1 British airmen on the west front destroyed 2,150 hostile airplanes and drove down 1,083 out of control," the statement said.

"In the same period naval aviators, co-operating, shot down 623. The total of ours missing was 1,121.

"On the Italian front, during the last quarter, the British destroyed 165 enemy planes and drove down six out of control; on the Salonikі front, in the last half year, we destroyed 21 and drove down 13; in Egypt and Palestine, from March to June, we destroyed 26 and drove down 15."

FOR PEACE BY THE SWORD

British General Says, "There Can Be No Peace by Negotiations"—Maj. Gen. Biddle Replies to Toast.

London, July 15.—Maj. Gen. John Biddle, commanding the American forces in the United Kingdom, was among the guests at the annual Anglo-French dinner organized by the Alsace-Lorraine Patriotic league in London in connection with the French national fete. Baron Burnham presided.

Gen. Sir Francis Lloyd, replying to the toast, "Success to the allied forces," he said:

"There can be no peace by negotiations, and nothing but peace by the sword. Now that we have an indescribable asset which has come over to us across the western waves at a time we most need it we surely should carry through and attain the desired end."

General Biddle, replying to the toast, "Our guests," said:

"Great as have been the sympathy and friendship between the French and American nations, they never have reached a climax till now when, happily, both nations are fighting side by side."

Pittsburgh, Pa., July 15.—With pomp and ceremony as though it were at battleship of the line, the Concrete, the first motor-propelled concrete boat ever constructed, was launched in the Monongahela river Saturday afternoon before a cheering crowd.

It is capable of making 12 miles an hour and will start today on an 1,800 mile trip down the Ohio, up the Mississippi and Illinois to Chicago, where it will be inducted into the service of Uncle Sam as a naval recruiting aid. CELEBRATE IN FRANCE

Bastile Day Observed by U. S. Troops at Front.

With the American Forces in France, July 15.—On all the American fronts in France United States soldiers Sunday joined their French comrades in enthusiastically celebrating the French fete.

The Americans wore the French national emblem and decorated their billets and motorcars with the tricolor. The villages in the rear of the lines were profusely decorated with flags of all the allies.

Showers in the morning failed to keep the crowds indoors, and the churches were filled at the early services. Soldiers and civilians promenaded the main thoroughfares and exchanged holiday greetings.

In the afternoon, while there was no set program on the various fronts, the Americans entered into the spirit of the day in the same way they celebrate Independence day. Those who were able to obtain passes went to Paris.

Others remained at their posts, mingling with the French soldiers and civilians and renewing pledges that the two republics will fight until victory is attained.

Paris, July 15.—Heroes distinguished during the war in all the entente allied armies participated in a huge parade in celebration of the Fourteenth of July—Bastile day.

American troops from the First and Second divisions recently cited in army orders, represented the United States. One detachment took part in the capture of Cantigny, while others were in the Chateau Thierry fighting.

All the American units had been in France more than a year and wore two service stripes. The Americans were showered with flowers by French girls and were received all along the route with enthusiasm.

The parade was reviewed by President Poincare, who was accompanied by Gen. John J. Pershing. The Americans occupied second place in the column.

All branches of the French army service were represented. The Alpine chasseurs received an ovation while singing their Alsatian song along the line of march.

Historic French regiments with battle flags of the Napoleonic wars as well as the Marne, Verdun, the Somme the Aisne and Champagne were cheered with "Vive la Poilu," while girls threw flowers to them.

A battalion of Belgians followed the Americans. Then came British contingents, including the Grenadier guards, the Black Watch, Irish guards, Canadians and New Zealanders. Bagpipes accompanied Highlanders, who came out of the trenches yesterday.

Titled Lady as Shoemaker.

It is an interesting fact that, although the women of the United Kingdom have invaded most employments that formerly were followed chiefly by men, the shoemaking trade has not experienced much change in this respect. Yet, something over a hundred years ago, shoemaking was one of the "employments of high society" in London. Lady Sarah Spencer, in a letter to her brother, written about the year 1808, says: "In the evening we divide our time between music and shoemaking, which is now the staple trade of the family. I am today in a state of great vanity, for I have made a pair of shoes—there is news for you. So if all other trades fail I shall certainly establish myself, cross-legged, at the corner of an alley to earn a livelihood in the midst of leather, awls and hammers."

CELEBRATE BASTILE DAY

French Holiday Observed by Vast Crowd in Chicago—50,000 Witness Ceremony.

Chicago, July 15.—The fall of the Bastile echoed through Chicago yesterday. Its echoes rolled sonorously through sermons. They mingled with the thunder of salutes from warships. They hovered amid the drum beats of "La Marseillaise," as the tricolor crept aloft in Grant park before the eyes of 50,000. They resounded through the deafening drone of Lieut. Georges Flachaire's battle plane, as he swung audaciously above the throng.

Chicago celebrated Quatorze Juillet as it has never celebrated any other day in the calendar, save its own Fourth of July. It was a strange and thrilling moment there in the park, when in response to the stirring challenge of Carl Vrooman, assistant secretary of agriculture, thousands of unaccustomed tongues cried out in unison:

"Vive la France!"

Telegrams were read, bearing the greetings of President Wilson, Ambassador Jusserand, Earl Reading, Samuel Gompers, Colonel Roosevelt and Elihu Root.

Mr. Vrooman, representing the federal government, was the principal speaker.

On and after August 1st the subscription price of the Tecumseh Herald will be increased to the following rates:

To subscribers anywhere within Lenawee County $1.50 per year in advance.

To subscribers living outside the county $1.75 per year in advance.

To subscribers living in Canada or at other points outside the United States where 1c postage per issue is required, $2.00 per year in advance.

The above prices are made necessary because of the prevailing high prices of print paper and other materials entering into the publication of our paper and also to meet the increased postal rate which went into effect July 1st. The Herald would have been justified to have raised its subscription rates as other papers have done, some two years ago, but did not do so, and gave to our people the benefit of a semi-weekly paper for the extremely low price of $1.00 per year.

The home of one of our citizens has been disfigured with black paint, lettered with signs intended to show to the public the disloyalty of the owner of the property. There has been much discussion on the part of the pubilc and the general sentiment of the people is varied. Many approve of the action taken by those who did the job, in fact the larger portion of the people we have heard express themselves seem to apporve. There are some, however, who are opposed to such action and claim that it is a step too far, that damage to a man's property should never occur. To us it seems pretty hard medicine, but let us look for a moment at the cause or reason for this action.

Time and time again the people of this township have been warned that their Government expects them to do their full duty along war lines. They have been told that if they are able to give or invest in these war calls, that it is up to them to do so, and still there are many here, well able to subscribe liberally who think so much of the almighty dollar that they simply won't come across and do their share. Is it just and fair that those who feel and appreciate their patriotic duty should give liberally and many really more able than they should not, and still leave those who can and won't to get off with a mere pittance?

The people have been told that a record is kept of all of the subscriptions so far taken. All the committee has got to do to get the record of any citizen here is to turn to his card and the record of what he has done on any and all war calls is before him. The record of each is known.

elb abtniiiee::,:,fll.Acroshe,:eeharer.

Across the water today our boys are locked in a deadly battle, more terrific than any that an American soldier has yet been called upon to engage in. Yesterday the news came that one of our own boys, Horace Gray, has been critically injured. This boy may lose his life and for what?—that we back home may continue to enjoy liberty and the protection of good government. Would you, who have not done your full patriotic duty, exchange places with these boys across the water or with those who are going for a few paltry dollars? Do you think more of your dollars than you do of these boys who are in Uncle Sam's service?

It makes little difference what you think. Uncle Sam expects every citizen who claims to be an American to show his colors. Our dollars are drafted just as much as the lives of our boys are drafted and by the same right. Action such as has been taken in Tecumseh has been taken all this broad country of ours. It is the big stick used to make those who lag come up to the mark. We regret that it seemed necessary to use it here in Tecumseh, but let it be a warning to others to act quickly before they receive a similar treatment.

You may or you may not like the man or woman whose duty it is to call on you to subscribe but remember that there is no one who could be chosen who would suit eyerybody. We all have those who don't admire us, no one who tries to decide a question and to make a stand can please everybody. He can only convince himself that in his own mind he is right and then stand by his convictions. So don't let your likes and dislikes for any particular person engaged in this war work sidetrack you from being a 100 per cent. American. You are giving to your Government, not to any person or set of persons.

Let this painting be a warning to those who haven't done their duty to do so at once. Patriotism is running high and public sentiment won't stand for slackers. Don't be a tightwad or a slacker when it comes to supporting your Government. We must win this war and the people back home have got to fight and fight hard with their dollars to win.

CO-OPERATION IS PRIMARY MAXIM OF STATE FAIR

EXPOSITION IS ONE OF FIVE LARGEST IN THE UNITED STATES.

EXHIBITS BY GOVERNMENT

Man Must Come to Realize His Dependance Upon His Fellowman and Ally Himself With the Great Universal Army.

Each fall for 68 consecutive years the Michigan State Fair has been held. Starting as an exceedingly small and unconsequential exposition, it has grown year by year until now the Michigan State Fair is one of the five largest annual fairs conducted on the American continent.

Despite the fact that the State of Michigan has within its doors this great agricultural and industrial display, combined with the premier features of the amusement world, there are still many Wolverines unaware of its mission and who do not realize its importance.

While the State Fair has been of unlimited aid to the industrial and agricultural life of Michigan in former years, this year its scope has been greatly widened and it will become a gigantic war agency. The federal government has taken the fair under its consideration and is sending large exhibits manned by federal employes.

Co-operation Solution of War.

Solution of the present atrocious world's war lies in the co-operation of the American public and Cooperation has been the fundamental principle of the Michigan State Fair since 1849. This idea has been an underlying maxim through the history of the organization but it has been especially fundamental since the reins of office were taken over by G. W. Dickinson, Secretary-Manager, five years ago. This year the great slogan of Co-operation will be in prominence more than ever before.

When a man sits down to a meal does he ever consider who provide it? Does he even know, in most cases where the different components of that meal came from? Did the salt and the pepper drop as manna from heaven. Did the flax or the cotton which form the tablecloth grow upon the home place? Were the fibers spun into yarn by his housekeeper and was the cloth woven on the household loom? Did he rear the animal which supplied the meat?

Most Independent Are Dependent.

Who delved into the earth for the silver, the lead and the clay and who turned these raw products into knives forks and dishes?

No thoughtful man can consider these questions without being tremendously impressed with the utter dependance of even the most independent man upon the co-operation of hundreds of thousands of his fellow men, whom he has never met and never heard of. No matter what his vocation may be—rich man, poor man, beggar man thief, doctor, lawyer, merchant chief—man's very existence is contingent upon the co-operation of thousands of people and organizations.

The Michigan State Fair is the gathering ground where this co-operation may be established, and an agency for preventing men from becoming so thoroughly specialists that they forget the other fellow. It is there they learn the great benefits which are known to be the direct results of helpful co-operation. At the 1918 Fair, to be held in Detroit from August 30 to September 8, ever patriotic citizen may learn how he is able to do his share in co-operating against the Hun.

State Officers to Receive at Fair

Announcement has been made by G. W. Dickinson, Secretary-Manager of the Michigan State Fair, to be held in Detroit, August 30 to September 8, that Friday, September 6 will be observed as Michigan Day. Governor Sleeper and many state officials and members of the congress will hold receptions on the grounds during the day.

Grand Cavalcade at State Fair

Million Dollar Livestock Parade Will Be Held On Saturday, September 7.

The annual Grand Cavalcade and the Million Dollar Livestock parade of the Michigan State Fair will be held this year, at noon on Saturday, September 7. All of the grand and first prize winners among the horses and cattle, will pass in review before the grandstand. The fair will be held in Detroit from August 30 to September 8, and on account of the increased activity in livestock raising, through the necessity of war, G. W. Dickinson, Secretary-Manager of the fair association announces the cavalcade will be larger and more impressive than ever.

Weekly War Story.

From one of the training camps full of Ohio soldiers comes this absolutely veracious story:

The company cook went to the commanding officer and respectfully asked when the soldiers were to be supplied with gas masks. The officer answered that he did not know. A week later the cook again expressed his desire for a gas mask. This time, the officer happened to have a sample of the latest contrivance of this nature, which will probably be used by our soldiers in the trenches. He showed it to the cook who immediately asked to borrow it. Inquiry revealed that the cook's idea was to put the mask on before he tackled a big job of peeling onions.

Will Soon Have Sea Mastery.

E. G. Grace, president of the Bethlehem Steel corporation, told the 500 guests of the Allentown (Pa.) chamber of commerce at its banquet recently that the submarine destroyers which the Bethlehem corporation will build for the government are more than all of the destroyers now in the world. Mr. Grace said he regarded the rapid construction of destroyers as the solution of the submarine menace. Bethlehem plants now employ 20,000 men as compared with 9,000 two years ago. Charles M. Schwab, who also spoke, said that the pay roll of the Bethlehem plants is now $100,000,000 a year.—Iron Age

COMFORTS PROVIDED DURING STATE FAIR

Thousands of Dollars Spent for Convenience of Patrons.

Physical comfort and personal convenience of the visitors at the Michigan State Fair for 1918, are receiving more attention by the fair association than ever before during any single year in the history of the organization. Thousands of dollars are being expended at the grounds on improvements, which, while having no direct bearing on the exhibits or the fair itself, will add materially to the pleasure derived by the patrons.

Over 40,000 square feet of pavement is under construction; 80,000 square feet of new sidewalk will be in readiness when the exhibition opens on August 30 in Detroit; additional comfort stations and retiring closets are being provided in every section of the grounds and hundreds of settees and benches are being placed in the shady nooks.

A 22 foot pavement, adjoining to a 12 foot sidewalk is being constructed from the administration building to the grand stand. Patrons of the coming fair will have a solid sidewalk and pavement to travel from the time of leaving the car until seated in the grand stand.

A complete remodeling of the entire lighting system throughout the ground has recently been inaugurated and will become effectuate before the fair opens. The old, obsolete, platinum lamps have been discarded and the more modern nitrogen globes have been installed in all the old fixtures, as well as many additional clusters which have been placed on the grounds. This new lighting equipment will not only increase the light during the exposition, but will be a large financial saving to the management.

Through salvaging the platinum in the old lamps and, with the current which will be saved by the modern bulbs, G. W. Dickinson, Secretary-Manager of the fair, declares the reorganization will pay for itself within two years. Comfort and convenience of the visitors, Mr. Dickinson announces, is one of the primary motives of the fair management and during the ten days of the 1918 State Fair the equipment for this purpose will be greater than ever before.

UNIQUE FEATURE AT STATE FAIR

Gigantic Sixty-foot Column Constructed of Fruits and Vegetables to Be Erected.

Many new and unique features have been secured for the 1918 Michigan State Fair, at Detroit, August 30 to September 8, but one of the most beautiful and striking displays will be the Fruit and Vegetable column. Nothing similar has ever been attempted in Michigan. A gigantic column, standing 60 feet in heighth and 15 feet in circumference, will be constructed of every variety of fruit, vegetables and grains obtainable.

It will be a monumental tribute to Nature and a patriotic exhibit as well, for the products as they begin to overripen will be replaced and the mellow crops will be turned over to the canning clubs for preserving. The prepared produce will then be sold at auction and the proceeds turned into the Red Cross fund. The idea and designs for the monument were worked out by a leading eastern artist for G. W. Dickinson, Secretary-Manager of the fair association. Natural colors of the fruits will be so blended that artists declare the pillar will be as beautiful as the rainbow.

For the designs on the main portion of the column vegetables and flowers will be utilized while the filling will be composed of grain, apples, pears and green and red peppers. The shield at the base will be prepared with nuts and spices while the foundation of the structure will be made up of the larger vegetables such as melons, pumpkins and squashes. Topping the pillar sheaves of wheat and shocks of corn will sway before the breezes and Old Glory will float at the pinnacle proclaiming to the world her pride in the products of the United States. The construction of the various designs and the setting up of the exhibit will begin a month before the opening of the fair on August 30, and tons of decorations will be used.

CULTURE HERE BEFORE 1492

Did America's Pre-Columbian Civilization Come From Egypt? Is Now Question.

Prof. Elliot Smith developed in an extraordinarily interesting manner the thesis that the pre-Columbian civilizations of America—or at least many important features in those civilizations—were not truly aboriginal, but came in a cultural wave from Asia across the Pacific ocean, the original starting point of the most remarkable characteristic being Egypt.

Professor Smith believes, says Science Progress, that the extremely peculiar culture of Egypt was spread eastward by mariners, mainly Phoenicians, for several centuries after B. C. 800. To quote the author's own words, he thinks that "the essential elements of the ancient civilizations of India (the pre-Aryan civilizations), further India, the Malay archipelago, Oceania and America were brought in succession to each of these places by mariners, whose oriental migrations began as trading intercourse between the eastern Mediterranean and India some time after 800 B. C., and that the highly complex and artificial culture which they spread abroad was derived largely from Egypt (not earlier than the twenty-first dynasty), but also included many important accretions from other sources, and that after traversing Asia and Oceania and becoming modified on the way, the stream finally "continued for many centuries to play upon the Pacific littoral of America, where it was responsible for planting the germs of the remarkable pre-Columbian civilization."

FAST WABASH TRAIN WRECKED

Near Raisin Center Monday Afternoon

THREE KILLED AND MANY INJURED

Hundreds Visit the Scene of the Wreck

A fast train on the Wabash, due to leave Adrian for the east about 1 p. m., and running behind its schedule, left the track at the bridge crossing the Raisin about two miles east of Adrian Monday afternoon about 4 o'clock. The train was running at full speed when accident occurred and had just crossed the bridge when the last coach, a buffet and observation car, left the track, turned over and crashed down an embankment about 30 feet. The speed of the engine dragged the coach up the hill and nearly to the track again before it separated from the balance of the train.

The next car ahead, a sleeper, was pulled from the track and turned over on its side, and the third car ahead, another sleeper, left the track, but was not overturned. The track was torn up for a distance of about two blocks, the rear car, a wooden coach being a total wreck and its trucks completely torn away from it. The sleepers were steel cars and, while the rear one showed the effects of the smash-up and was laying on its side, still it was not demolished as was the wooden one in the rear. The other sleeper some two or three hundred feet down the track, showed very little signs of hard usage.

Three men were taken from the rear car, a conductor and two Negro porters. The men were fatally injured but still alive. A call was put in for help and ambulances were rushed from Adrian to the scene of the accident. The unfortunate men were taken to Adrian but died before reaching that place. The dead are Pullman Conductor Cook, J. D Carter, porter, residence unknown; Dan Hughes porter, St. Louis.

From 15 to 20 people who were riding in the sleepers were more or less injured. They were taken to the coaches ahead and later were taken to Detroit with what was left of the train.

One of the injured, Robt. Fairbolt, a Negro porter, St. Louis was reported dying late last evenng.

It is thought that the cause of the accident was the falling of a brake beam on the third car from the rear, the falling of which derailed the car and caused the two cars at the end to plunge down the embankment just east of the bridge.

News of the wreck spread quickly and soon people were coming from every direction to the scene of the accident, several hundred cars being parked in the farmer's wheat field at the place of the wreck. The wrecking train was sent for and arrived from the west about 8 o'clock and the work of clearing and repairing the track was soon under way. It is the worst wreck that has occurred in this section for several years.

COL. OMAR L. MACKLEM

War is grim, yet there are many humorous incidents that occur even amidst the dark and sinister workings of the business of war. Col. Omar L. Macklem, who speaks at the Bradley Opera House Sunday afternoon and evening, July 21, is a keen observer of human nature and life in general, according to his managers, and he was not slow in finding out the fun that exists even in the glowering surroundings of the European war front.

Col. Macklem went to Europe with the 10th Canadian battalion and saw service for one year and 265 days. He fought at Sanctuary Woods, the third battle of Ypre, Givinchy, St. Aloi and in other engagements. Col. Macklem is said to be a clever speaker. He relates an interesting anecdote anent one of his own experiences. The story involves a mission for some helmet liquid. The denouement is said to be a scream. However, Col. Macklem does not confine himself to the lighter vein of warfare for he tells the brutal truth concerning the havoc, the desolation, the sorrow that the world conflict is causing. War is war and it cannot be handled, in the telling, with gloves, Col. Macklem affirms. However, there are certain incidents of such a revolting nature, associated with the attrocities of the Huns, that Col. Macklem cannot relate to a mixed audience of men, women and children. In the afternoon, Sunday at 2:30 he will speak to men only. His evening talk will be open to the general public, men, women and children, and, his managers claim, it will be highly interesting and instructive.

Col. Macklem was in Tecumseh, enroute to Detroit, with his manager yesterday. His discharge from the Canadian army was granted him after receiving a severe wound in battle in which one of his eyes was entirely shot out and a portion of his nose gone. Col. Macklem can realy be said to be a man who has come "Back from Hell," back from the hell of the battle fronts of France and who can and will tell of the actual conditions the American boys are facing on the fields of honor.

HAVE SPENT JUST ENOUGH OF MY LIFE

Among the Salesladies in the Stores of Smaller Cities

To know just how many there are who would be valuable to us here in Detroit and would be bettering themselves materially by coming here.

I also know that there are many women and young women in the smaller cities who have LITTLE OR NO EXPERIENCE in selling goods, but who if given the opportunity which I can and will give them in this store, would make successful salespeople.

We frequently have good openings in suits, waists, under-muslins, shoes, millinery, house furnishings and china, in fact almost all the departments in this large busy store.

These positions are permanent and the salaries are good, corresponding of course to the experience you have and the service you can render

If you think you might be interested do not hesitate to inquire. Write me personally and I will take the matter up with you to the best of my ability I am out of the city at the present time but will return July 15th. J. H. Barrett, general superintendent, Crowley, Milner & Co., Detroit, Michigan.

THE MINSTREL SHOW

At the Bradley opera house Friday night John W. Vogel's Minstrels gave a good performance, all things considered. The manager was heard to say that in the last three months he had lost over thirty of his men by draft Most of the people, it was noticed were older than the usual run but good in their various stunts The crowd was a fair one and showed their appreciation by a continuous applause. One scene was that of a swamp with the fireflies sparkling, chipmonks chattering and frogs croaking In hopped a big frog which turned out to be an excellent contortionist and went through some difficult tricks. A young fellow posing as a baggage man did some splendid musical stunts.

There were two female impersonators who were above the average One had an unusually large range of voice singing from a deep bass to a high treble

BLACK PAINT USED IN TECUMSEH

HOME AND PROPERTY OF L. D. DEWEY COVERED WITH VARIOUS SIGNS

WOULD NOT SUBSCRIBE TO WAR FUNDS

Had Been Warned Only Saturday that Painting Would Be Done

Early Sunday morning the home and property of L. D. Dewey received a coat of black paint spread by a committee whose identity seems to be a mystery. The painters spared neither time nor paint but completely covered the home and buildings with phrases such as "I'm for the Kaiser," "I stole my money from America to save for the Kaiser," "The owner of this building is a Pro-German, name is Dewey," "A sample for other slackers," etc. The crew of workers seemed to want to make it a clean sweep for they not only painted the home, but the stores on Evans street, his barn located in the second block south of the four corners on Evans street and even the sidewalk and fences about his home. All day Sunday people flocked to the Dewey corners to view the work and it was quite a center of attracton.

Mr. Dewey is considered well-to-do. A few years ago he conducted a prosperous poultry business here in Tecumseh. Besides his home he is reputed to own three brick stores and other land in Tecumseh and property in other localities in the county It is also claimed that he has money out at interest. In money matters it is said that he has always been close and when solicited for patriotic calls by various committees he has failed to come across.

When seen Monday by the Herald he stated that he was a member of the Red Cross and had at various times made contributions to the fund and that he had offered to give $30. per year to the Patriotic League, which he considered was all he could give. He did say, however, that if he had better understood matters he could possibly have done better. In speaking of the painting he stated that it was a "——" dirty piece of business to take advantage of an old man past 80 years of age and that it was a disgrace to Tecumseh. He further stated that he recognized four of the men who were engaged in the painting job and in his opinion he could make them smart for it. He says that the property painted does not belong to him but is owned by his children and grandchild, that he is allowed the use of the income but was obliged to keep the property in good repair.

Mr. Dewey was visibly effected and was moved to tears while talking. He says that the disfiguration will stay as he would make no effort to remove it and he hopes the people of Tecumseh will be prowd of the job they have done.

According to reports Mr. Dewey had been warned several times that his home would be painted if he did'nt make good and was even warned as late as Saturday. He had promised to give $30. per year to the Patriotic League but on account of his past record and his ability to do better his pledge was not accepted, he being told that he should give at least $60. per year.

In June, 1858, she was married to George Kempf Sr. To this union were born ten children: John, Sophia, Charlie, Andrew Henry, Theodore, August J., Fred, Maggie and Lizzie.

July 2, ,1918, she was called to that great Heavenly Home where there is no suffering or pain, aged 86 years and 2 days.

Those who are left to mourn are George J., John H., Sophia and Henry H. of Tecumseh, Mrs. Maggie Homman of Ridgeway, Theodore of Stony Creek, August J. of Macon township and Fred of LosAngeles, Cal., also 24 grandchildren, 17 great-grandchildren.

A precious one from us has gone,
A voice we loved is stilled;
A place is vacant in our home
Which never can be filled.
God in His wisdom has recalled
The boon His love has given,
And though the body slumbers here
The soul is safe in Heaven.

The company will go to Greanert's Hall, Fairfield, on Tuesday, July 16th and on Tuesday, July 23rd, a concert will be given in the Odd Fellow's Hall Ottawa Lake. On Sunday, July 26th, at 2:30 p. m., if the weather is good a concert will be given in Mrs. Athol Brainard's yard, Springville; if it rains the concert will take place at the same hour in the Springville church.

Do not forget this is Rubber Week. Bring your old rubber to Ovid Marsh's Auto Supply Store. The Red Cross wants it. Anything that is rubber gratefully accepted.

One of our citizens has offered to give $10.00 if eight others will do likewise in order that the Red Cross collection taken last Wednesday night may be made an even $500.00. United State Fuel Administration,
Washington, D. C.,
June 10, 1918.

The———Coal Co.,
Detroit, Mich.,
Gentlemen:-

Replying to your letter of May 16th.

Because of transportation conditions, which are strongly in favor of the movement of anthracite coal to States in the Northeastern section of this country as fuel for domestic requirements, and because of the increased tonnage necessary to protect the actual domestic needs of this section, it has been found necessary to reduce materially the normal tonnage to your state.

The amount alloted which is about 70 per cent. of the 1916 tonnage, will be distributed on a pro rata basis among the communities based on their regular coal shipping companies to their regular dealers unless otherwise directed by the Federal Fuel Administrator for your state. It is suggested that you should arrange without delay to protect the balance of your domestic requirements with bituminous coal.

Yours very truly,
United States Fuel Administration,
By A. S. Learoyd,
Director Anthracite Distribution.

LATER ADVICES

From Mr. Prudden's statement of June 30th.

"The allotment of anthracite coal for Michigan as made by the U. S. Fuel Administration for the year commencing April 1918, and ending April 1st, 1919 is 1,201,000 tons. This amount of coal is much less than one-half the amount of coal needed for domestic use. A LARGE AMOUNT OF BITUMINOUS COAL AND WOOD MUST MAKE UP THE BALANCE REQUIRED."

In other words the northeastern states are nearer to the mines where hard coal is obtained and Michigan is nearer to the sources of soft coal. To save time in transportion Michigan will receive 70 tons of hard coal for every 100 tons she received in 1916. Which means that many people who have always burned hard coal will not be able to get it, and all who have used over six tons of hard coal will have to use some soft coal instead.

WHY ORDER NOW?

Because just at present it is possible to get soft coal. At any time transportation conditions, labor troubles, etc. may make it impossible to get even soft coal.

Because most of the soft coal shipped now is good quality, while later in the season or next winter we may be forced to accept run of mine coal as we were obliged to do last winter.

Because a bird in the hand is worth two in the bush.

If you do not want to repeat the unpleasant experiences of last year, get your coal in your bins without delay. It's a comfortable feeling to know that it's there.

HORACE GRAY WOUNDED

Horace Gray, One of Our Tecumseh Boys, Fighting for His Country and His Flag Over There

In the list of casualties in a late Free Press we find the name of Horace Gray, severely wounded, Tecumseh. His parents have received a cablegram saying that he was severely wounded. They received a card from him written June 14 from a hospital where he was being cared for, for a wound received and it is thought that this is the same as reported by cablegram, as they have had no notice that he was out of the hospital.

Horace Gray is one of the first of our Tecumseh boys to receive injury and everyone is anxious to hear of his safe recovery. He is a graduate of T. H. S. in the Class of 1911 and has many friends among his old schoolmates who will regret to hear of his condition. He enlisted in the Marine Crops June 2, 1917, and has been "over there" since November, having seen quite a bit of service, doing his bit for you and me. And the whole community will unite in wishing him a safe return to his country and his home.

FOUR GOOD ACTS WEDNESDAY

The program in full is given as follows:

LaMott and Blacon, contortionists.
Lord Chalore, juggler.
Heamac Trio, Saxaphones and vocalists.
Armenia, Accordion.

A FAIR WARNING

One That should Be Heeded by Tecumseh Residents

Frequently the first sign of kidney trouble is a slight ache or pain in the loins. Neglect of this warning makes the way easy for more serious troubles—dropsy, gravel, Bright's disease. 'Tis well to pay attention to the first sign. Weak Kidneys generally grow weaker and delay is often dangerous. Residents of this locality place reliance in Doan's Kidney Pills. This tested remedy has been used in kidney trouble over 50 years—is recommended all over the civilized world. Read the following:

Mrs. W. Service, Logan St., Tecumseh, says: "My kidneys were out of order and I had weakness and soreness across my back. I felt run down and tired out and could hardly keep going. I had frequent headaches, too and my kidneys acted irregularly. I used Doan's Kidney Pills, procured from Wright's & Son's Drug store and they helped me right away. They strengthened my back and put my kidneys in good order."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Service had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfgrs., Buffalo, N. Y. adv

And it is further ordered, That a copy of this order be published in the Tecumseh Herald, a newspaper printed and circulating in said County of Lenawee, for three successive weeks, previous to said day of hearing.

FEDERAL AND STATE EXHIBITS AT FAIR

Six Branches of U. S. Government Use State Fair As War Agency.

Co-operation of governmental and state departments with the Michigan State Fair for 1918 will be greater than at any of the former expositions. This intense interest being displayed by the federal and state authorities is in conformity with the nation-wide patriotic propaganda for increased production in prosecuting the struggle in Europe.

"America's natural resources are superior to those of any other country of the world. Michigan stands in the foreranks of the states for natural wealth and fertility of soil. The people of the United States are depending upon Michigan to do its "bit" and this means a great deal more than it does to some states, on account of the liberality with which nature has endowed this locality.

War First Consideration.

War is the first consideration of every person in the state and as a consequence it is a leading thought with the Michigan State Fair, the people's institution. Every man, woman and child is anxious to do their part and it is upon this accepted premise that the federal and state departments are exhibiting at the state exposition. It is not with the idea of arousing enthusiasm, for that is already predominant, but with the notion of explaining to the people how they can put this patriotism to the best use and be of the greatest assistance in elliminating the Hun. Six departments of Uncle Sam will be represented, in Detroit at the fair from August 30 to September 8, with exhibits covering more than 8,000 square feet of space.

The departments of War, Navy, Agricultural, Interior and Commerce and the Food Administration will make displays, all manned by federal employes. In the spring, G. W. Dickinson, Secretary-Manager of the Michigan State Fair, made a special trip to Washington to offer the services of the state fair to the government. A few weeks ago he received word that his offer had been accepted. A fair exhibit bureau has been established under the auspices of the Department of Agriculture to handle the displays of all the government branches. F. Lamson Scribner, experts on exhibits, is in active charge of the bureau.

State Co-operates.

The state departments are showing the same spirit of co-operation that the federal authorities have evidenced. The Game, Forestry and Fish departments will exhibit "The Wild Life of Michigan," one of the most comprehensive, educational and entertaining features of the fair will include either a living or mounted specimen of every beast that roamed the forests, every fish that swam in the streams and every bird that flew in the air since the inhabitation of Michigan. The Agricultural College will have a greater representation than ever before, as will the Dairy and Food Department and the Girls' Canning clubs. Intensive production is the keynote of success in the war and the Michigan State Fair will be one of the leading agents in pushing this campaign.

THRILLING MOMENT IN AUTO POLO CONTESTS AT MICH. STATE FAIR

Since the announcement of the dates for the 1918 Michigan State Fair as August 30 to September 8, G. W. Dickinson, Secretary-Manager, has received hundreds of communications requesting him to arrange for auto polo as one of the attractions. The fair executive has contracted with Hankinson's atheletes to appear during the 10 days of the exposition. Probably no amusement has become so popular with the sport loving public as the auto polo contests. Every minute contains a thrill and the audience is at high tension all the time. The little cars, especially contrycted for the game, are constantly colliding, turning summersaults and performing all sorts of antics, while the drivers and players continually are being thrown from their mounts.

SNOBBISH LITTLE HEN RAIDS STATE FAIR EXCHEQUER

THIRTY THOUSAND DOLLARS BEING EXPENDED FOR POULTRY BUILDING.

EXTRA PRIZES ARE ADDED

Chicken Raising Vital to the Food Policy of the Government and Industry Is to Be Pushed.

At last, the old-fashioned, barnyard hen has come into her own. No more is she the scorned peasant of poultrydom, an outcast consigned to a neglected, unsanitary chickencoop. She is now being petted and catered too in a manner that has placed her on the pedistal of aristocracy. For, to her has been allotted the solution of one of the greatest problems in the successful prosecution of the war.

Attention to this haughty little fowl means more eggs. More eggs mean more food and more food means greater success for the allies. But, the hen is an exacting little creature. She scorns the old, unsanitary chickenhouse, and if obliged to perform her duty, demands a "palace" in which to accomplish the work. Her importance has forced the Michigan State Fair, not only to consider her more seriously, but to open its coffers to the extent of $30,000 with which to construct a building to house her.

Under the direction of G. W. Dickinson, Secretary-Manager of the fair association, building operations have commenced upon a beautiful brick and stone chicken "palace," at the State Fair grounds. The structure will be 180x200 feet and two stories in height. According to the plans, the building, when completed, will be the acme of camouflage, for instead of resembling a chicken repository, it will remind the visitors at the fair, more of a Moorish palace. In a large open air court, around which the building will be constructed, a sunken garden will be laid out. The garden will contain an ample pond, equipped with a beautiful fountain and stocked with the rarest varieties of fish and water fowl. Shrubbery will be set out on the terrace surrounding the pond, under the direction of expert landscape gardeners.

A wide, concrete walk, with settees placed every few feet, will encompass the entire enclosure. The interior of the building is to be devoted exclusively to the comforts of the "lofty" hen.

"One of the greatest agencies for food conservation and production is the raising of chickens," Mr. Dickinson asserted. "The Michigan State Fair is making every effort to bring this before the people of the state, forcibly. We are endeavoring to assist in the movement to interest the boys and girls of the state, in raising chickens in the yards of their homes. It has been said that more mortgages have been scratched from the records by chickens than through any other agency.

Belgium Industry Shattered.

"Belgium was one of the greatest poultry raising countries of the world, but the war has shattered business. Some place this must be supplanted and it is up to the American people. There is a science in raising chickens as well as any other line of endeavor. It is little more trouble to adopt a scientific basis and the increasing results are astounding.

"The exhibit at the coming fair will be under the direction of Prof. C. H. Burgess, head of the department of Poultry Husbandry, at Michigan Agricultural College. He will lecture each day, on raising chickens for the greatest results, and will spend his entire time in assisting the chicken movement.

"Students of the food question have come to realize the important part the chicken plays in the food problem of today, and it is for this reason that the association has gone to the expense of fitting a special building for the display."

Mr. Dickinson is making arrangements to provide extra prizes for the boys and girls of the state, who exhibit their fowls at the Michigan State Fair, in Detroit, August 30 to September 8.

B. T. BABBITT CHANGES HANDS

Recent exchanges from New York show that the old firm of B. T. Babbitt has been purchased by one of the large chemical houses of the East. The owners up to date have been the survivors of the originator who began business in New York in 1836.

B. T. Babbitt was one of the pioneer advertising and merchandising manufacturers of this country. Back in Civil War times his Babbitt's Best Soap and 1776 Soap Powder as well as Babbitt's Pure Lye or Potash were known as household words all over the country.

Mr. Babbitt was the originator of the giving of premiums for the coupons cut from the wrappers of his soap and this idea was subsequently taken up by other soap and grocer product manufacturers as well as cigar stores until it is now an immense industry in itself.

Mr. Babbitt died in 1889 leaving an immense fortune. The business was conducted by his widow and subsequently by his daughters or their husbands or representatives. Within the last 25 years there has been more and more of a tendency on the part of soap manufacturers to confine their efforts to territory adjacent to their factories instead of competing in distant markets where the freight rate militates against the shipper. Thus it is found that in Chicago the leading seller is manufactured in that city and the same applies to Cincinnati, St. Louis, San Francisco, Detroit, Buffalo and a number of other cities. Laundry Soap is an article which may enjoy a very large sale in the vicinity of the factory where it is made and be absolutely unknown a few hundred miles away.

Babbitt's Best Soap is still largely used and extensively advertised in certain sections, notably the East. 1776 Soap Powder is also a leading seller in many sections and a large business on this item is still maintained in Scotland and the north of England. Over there they think that is the date when the factory was established.

Babbitt's Pure Lye enjoys a sale in almost every State in the Union and is the leading seller in a great many sections. It is used in the rural communities largely for making Soap at home and the Food Administration has urged housewives to save their waste greases and fats to make them into soap instead of throwing them away in the garbage pail. This has considerably increased the consumption of Babbitt's Lye and the factory has been continuously behind on its orders to the extent of thousands of cases during the past year or so. This Lye is also largely used for cleaning out sink pipes and general household cleansing.

It is expected that the new owners of the Babbitt business will not be satisfied with allowing it to retain its present volume, but will undoubtedly extend the sales thru extensive advertising methods. The Babbitt factory is located at Babbitt, N. J. and is one of the most modern and complete plants of its kind in the country. It was built a few years ago at a cost of over a million dollars and more than a million and a half dollars worth of raw material is constantly carried there now to be made up into the various products of the company.

Throughout the 82 years of the existence of the Babbitt firm, there have been times when the management reduced their advertising and sales efforts and in spite of this fact the goodwill of the business built by heavy advertising during the old gentleman's life managed to keep up the volume of the business until last year with an expenditure for advertising of ¼ of a million dollars the business was able to increase in total volume over 30%.

VEGETABLE HINTS

Try steaming green vegetables instead of boiling them.

Soak celery and cabbage for 15 or 20 minutes before using so that any insects or worms will come out.

The French like peas cooked in lettuce leaves in the top of a double boiler or laid in lettuce leaves in the top of a strainer. Sometimes, too, they add a parsley leaf or a mint leave to peas in the cooking to give them flavor, but the plain flavor of well cooked green peas is very pleasing without any additions.

Cook beets, carrots and parsnips before peeling. The skin comes off after cooking in a very economical and easy way.

Potatoes, too, may well be cooked in their jackets.

To remove the skins of tomatoes, dip them into a pan of boiling water, then chill. The skins can then be easily removed.

If you boil your vegetables, never throw away the water in which they were cooked. It contains valuable material. Use it as the basis of a soup.

Radishes red or white, when a little too old to be eaten raw, may be cooked like turnips and served.

WAYS OF KEEPING YOUTHFUL

Man Who Is Determined Not to Grow Old Really Has Only to "Make an Effort."

I see it in my changing hair,
I see it in my growing heir,
My growing thirst for early news,
It is a fact, I am growing old.

And so growing old is just a case of finding what one's looking for, observes the Minneapolis Journal. A man decides that the time has come for him to be old, and so instead of bracing up, ignoring the symptoms and finding some other explanation for the change in the color of his hair, he neglects his dress, walks with a stoop, uses a cane, stops taking exercise, eats too much, indulges in reminiscences, retires from business, and in general acquires the foolish habit of growing old.

He should remember that it is possible to keep a youthful spirit, an active mind, an interest in current events and a purpose to serve his fellows, and that he who does these things will always be young.

The fact that women generally decline to contract the old-age habit and that some men have also resisted the temptation to fall into it would seem to indicate that if those who do yield to it would only take the advice of Dombey to his wife, and "make an effort," they would learn how foolish and how unnecessary it is to grow old.

WHEN CITY WAS "HARD UP"

New York Once Sought Legislative Authority to Run Lottery to Secure Needed Funds.

A hitherto unpublished letter of De Witt Clinton, written in 1809 to John Pintard, clerk of the common council while Mr. Clinton was in the New York state senate, on legislative bills regarding city improvements, was recently discovered in an interesting way during the editing of the New York common council minutes from 1784 to 1831. The chief topic of interest in the letter is a reference to a bill introduced at the request of the common council asking that the legislature authorize a lottery for $100,000 for the purpose of raising sufficient funds for the completion of the present city hall.

Dr. A. Everett Peterson, editor of the common council minutes, found a reference to the letter in the minutes of the period and instituted a search for it. His hunt was rewarded by finding it among a mass of loose papers in the custody of the city clerk and it has been reproduced in facsimile with the minutes of 1800, published in the fifth volume of the printed minutes. The letter is dated from Albany, March 12, 1809. Mr. Clinton was mayor of New York city and also a state senator, the mayor then being appointed by the governor, and Mr. Clinton held the office several years. On the subject of the lottery for completing the city hall, Mr. Clinton said:

"There appears to be a determination in the legislature not to grant any more lotteries. The memorial of the common council praying for one has been committed in the assembly, and a bill has been introduced, but there is no hope of its passing."

PEANUT PUT TO MANY USES

Nutritious Oil and Palatable Butter Derived From the Humble "Goober," Beloved of Childhood.

The peanut isn't a nut at all, but a member of the pea, bean and clover family. It is a legume and gathers nitrogen from the air. Peanuts do not grow from roots, but on shoots which grow out from the plant above ground, bear a little sterile yellow blossom and then shoot directly into the ground, where they "peg," that is, where peanuts begin to grow on them. The peanuts are pulled from the vines or roots, and the roots are then plowed back into the ground to allow the nitrogen to feed the soil. The peanuts are then taken to peanut factories. In these buildings the peanuts are cleaned and sorted. The largest are saved and put through a rumbler, which polishes the shells. These are sold in the shells. Other first grades are shelled and sold for salting; and one big packing company buys only first grades for peanut butter.

If the peanuts are pulled roots and all, the peanuts are dried out by stacking on poles, then pulled off and sold. Broken peanuts are pressed and the oil extracted. Much of this oil is sold as "pure olive oil." In fact, it is quite as rich and nutritious as olive oil. The refuse is pressed into cakes and sold as oil cakes for feeding stock and especially dairy cows.—St. Nicholas.

Origin of Scottish Festival.

The origin of "hogmanay," which used to be so dear to the youth of Scotland, ay, and to the auld folks, too, has given rise to endless discussion. The following correspondence has appeared in the Scotsman as to the origin of the custom and the name:

"The derivation Hagia-mene, the holy moon, has been suggested, the period of which corresponded to our December. Some, with considerable plausibility, derive it from the Latin, Hoc in Anno, a persuasive to charity which reminded well-to-do patrons that the year had all but run its course, but that there was still time to relieve their needy supplicants. It is not improbable that the term is of Teutonic origin. It may be connected with Hoegtid, a name applied to Christmas and (or) other festivities. Hoeg-tide day would thus mean the laetissimus dies, or gladdest season of the year."

Lily's Rapid Growth.

The great water lily of the botanic gardens in London usually has a long season. In the spring it disappears beneath the water of its tank. How the lily vanishes and is reproduced is explained by Mr. North, the curator. The thick root stock gradually rots away and the fruits, which are about the size of a baseball, remain at the bottom of the tank. They are fished up in the spring and the seeds are extracted. A single seed, though no larger than a pea, will in four months produce a plant that will cover an area of 1,000 feet. In its native district, the Amazon, the Victoria Regia is largely used by the natives as food. It grows on the lagoons and is perennial.

Purpose in Her Song.

Betty was spending the summer at Aunt Kate's, where Mary, the eldest daughter, was her special favorite. When Mary announced one day that she was going away for a visit Betty was quite inconsolable, and as the time drew near for her departure she went about looking sad and doleful. However, just as the car drove up to the door to take Mary to the station Betty began to sing at the top of her voice. Mary turned laughingly to her and said, "I don't believe you feel so very bad, after all, that I am going away, if you can sing like that." Said Betty, in the most pathetic way, "I'se just singing to keep the tears away."

An Operation by Telegraph.

An operation carried out under directions given by a surgeon 1,800 miles away and sent by telegraph saved a life in Australia recently, according to the Scientific American. The subject fell from his horse at Hall's Creek in northern Australia and suffered serious injuries, including a rupture of the urethera. An operation was urgently necessary and there was no doctor within 1,000 miles. The condition of the patient was described by telegraph to a doctor in Perth and he sent back, by the same means, instructions under which the postmaster at Hall's Creek with such surgical instruments as he could get, the chief of which was a razor, carried out the operation successfully.

THUS FAR AND NO FARTH

Men of Science Baffled in Endea to Find the Real Root of All Languages.

The oldest languages known at the present time are the Sumerian, Babylonian (or Accadian) and the Egyptian. The earliest known inscriptions belong to about the fifth millennium B. C., but it is reasonable to assume that these were antedated by many different languages which had a great antiquity. The script of the Sumerian, Babylonian (or Accadian) and Assyrian was the cuneiform. Chaldean, the language used generally as the diplomatic language about the time of [illegible] is what we now know as the Aramaic language. Archeology has thrown no light on the subject of the confusion of tongues. Abraham very probably spoke the Aramaic, the language of Aram. In Canaan his descendants apparently used the language of the land, which was that of the Ammonites. This is what we now know as Hebrew. It would seem that the Israelites retained while in Egypt the language familiar to them, but archeology has thrown no light upon the subject. Nothing has been discovered which can be determined as antediluvian. Babylonian legends mention several cities as existing before the flood, and Arabic tradition says Haran was the first city that was rebuilt after the deluge, but archeology has offered no certain data as yet on the subject.

ONLY BIT OF RUINED WALL

All That Remains of Castle That Was the Birthplace of Scotland's Hero, Robert Bruce.

Turnberry castle, on the coast of Ayrshire, Scotland, now but a bit of ruined wall near the lighthouse, was the birthplace and early home of Robert Bruce, whose father and mother "combined in themselves the earldoms of Annandale and Carrick or royal lineage—the titles still being retained by the present royal family of the United Kingdom."

In ancient times this old castle was large and strong. In the early part of Bruce's career Turnberry was held by an English force. Bruce through a mistaken signal, came to take the old familiar place, though his men were many too few for the task. Disdaining to give it up, however, he kept up an irregular war, sometimes being driven to refuge in the mountains or even in the wilds of a distant loch.

At length he gathered together enough men to take Turnberry castle, which act was the beginning of his triumphant progress through Ayrshire and Stirlingshire, which finally ended with Bannockburn's tremendous victory.

It is hard to realize the oldtime importance of Turnberry, now that the visitor must search long before he can come across its few battered remains.

Food Quotas.

The man who works hard needs in a day 12 ounces of one or of a combination of the following: Meat, poultry, cheese, dried vegetables, fish or eggs. To vary the above he may count every glass of milk drunk equal to an ounce of any one of the others. The soldiers, either in home or military life, must have four pounds of fresh fruit and vegetables in order to keep the bony structure in good condition. He will need the three-quarters of a cupful of fat (this includes butter, oil, the fat of meat eaten or any other fat in the daily diet) to keep him warm, and to this group he must add one and one-fourth pounds of bread or cereal and finally, in order to complete the necessary amount of driving power, he must have two ounces of sugar or one-third of a cupful of sirup.

Know Them by Their Laughter.

The far-seeing man with a sense of humor laughs in his throat in spasmodic little bursts. He looks before he leaps. He takes a good survey of a question before committing himself. Neither laughter nor speech escapes easily. He lets them out judiciously.

Those who laugh inside, shake their shouldders and go red in the face are generally a good-tempered sort, generous and aboveboard. But look round the corner when you see the man coming who swallows his laugh as though it would defile his lips. If he is your master he will sweat you; if your parent, he will bully you; if your husband, he will make you miserable.

Insure Good Results.

If one is pressed for time a good showing can be made by keeping cool and quietly disposing of one task before beginning another. Hurry and excitement will hinder any cause. But the person who has mastered himself or herself—who remains calm under all circumstances—is the man or woman who does splendid work.

Learning to concentrate one's mind upon the duty at hand is, indeed, an effort worth while. Therefore, the girl or woman who would spare herself hours of needless worry or excitement should wisely keep her head—in other words, give her best attention to whatever task confronts her.

Small Request.

"Boss, would it hurt you much to separate yourself from a little coin?"

"Why, no. Here's a nickel. See? I give it to you cheerfully."

"Thanks, boss. De good book says it's more blessed to give than to receive. Judging from de way you look an' de way I feel I guess de good book is right."

America Now Leads in Toys.

"American manufacturers are making 90 per cent of the toys being sold in this country today, and they are never going to let this wonderful and profitable industry which has been developed since the war to slip out of their hands."

That statement was made by William G. Whittemore, manager of the stationery and novelty department of the American News Company, says the New York Journal of Commerce. Mr. Whittemore was in Germany when war was declared, buying toys for his concern. This was before the war, one of his duties, but it is doubtful if such a trip will ever be necessary after peace is declared because of the fact that the American toy manufacturer has taken hold of his problem with such aptitude and facility.

NO 'BRIGHT MONEY'

rs. Billtops Rises to Height of Self-Sacrifice.

e Had a "Good Thing" in Her Arrangement with the Partner of Her Joys and Sorrows, but Patriotism Came First.

"Something unexpected has hap ened," said Mr. Billtops. "Something uite unexpected.

[illegible], for years I [illegible] giving Mrs. Billtops all my bright money. Whenever I got a bright dime or quar r or half I simply turned it over to rs. Billtops.

"There might be weeks when I ould not get a single bright coin; ut there would be other weeks in hich I would receive in change a onsiderable number. Altogether these right coins provided for Mrs. B. a dy bit of revenue, and I am sure it as as great a pleasure for me to turn em over to Mrs. Billtops as it was r her to receive them, though once is bright money proposition did give a little scare.

"I dropped into a candy store one y to get some candy for Mrs. Bill ps and there in change for a $5 bill received two bright dimes and four bsolutely spick and span bright new 1 bills!

"Well, now, there was something to make you stop and think. Under our understanding I was to give Mrs. Billtops all 'bright money.' It is true that by that I understood bright coins, and I had no doubt that Mrs. Billtops did, too, but the promise from me was of all 'bright money' and on a strict interpretation, which I did not desire to evade, there was nothing for me to do but to turn over with the two bright dimes those four bright dollars. Which I did.

"But Mrs. Billtops declined to receive them.

"'No, Ezra,' she said, 'no. We both understood bright money to mean bright coins, and we will go not by the letter of the contract but by the spirit. Ezra, you keep the $4.'

"Which I did, and I was always glad she settled it that way, for the opposite interpretation of my obligation might sometimes have subjected me to considerable inconvenience.

"Suppose I should some day have gone into a candy store and laid down not a $5 bill but a $1,000 bill and received in change $999.20 all in bright money, which by the contract I should have been required to turn over to Mrs. Billtops. Why, I have seen the time when handing over that amount of money in that way would have cramped me quite some.

"But never have I failed to hand over all bright coins, year after year continuously, until yesterday, when that something unexpected happened when Mrs. Billtops said to me:

"'Ezra, no more bright money. I have always been glad to get it for the sentiment of it and for the use I could make of it, but you need the money more now and from now on you keep it and use it as you would any other money and I will deny myself that luxury. No more bright money, Ezra, from now until the end of the war.'

"Unexpected it certainly was, but still it was only what you would have expected her to do, if you knew Mrs. Billtops."

Food—After the War.

Whatever other blessings peace may bring it will not bring instant relief to the masses who are now distressed by food shortage and its natural consequence, high prices. There will be as many mouths to feed when the armies are demobilized as there are now. It is true that the fare of the soldiers in most European countries is more liberal than that of the civil population, but no statesman will take comfort in the prospect of masses of disbanded soldiers reduced to the level of civil undernourishment. And besides the civil populations that are now enduring semi-starvation uncomplainingly, recognizing that no relief can be expected while the energies of their government are engrossed by war, will be far less patient when peace returns. More food, not less, will be required in peace.—The New Republic.

Patch Skull With Patient's Own Ribs.

The replacing of destroyed portions of skull with layers of cartilage taken from the patient's own ribs is one of the latest methods of healing war injuries. H. Warren Woodroffe, surgeon of the Ulster Volunteer hospital in France, describes the method which has been successfully tried on a number of severely wounded men.

Cutting down to the ribs parallel to the breast bone, the surgeon slices off thin layers of the cartilage which attaches the bony ribs to the breast bone. These are held in the gap caused by the destruction of the skull after the scalp has been turned back. The scalp is then stitched back in place. Within a few weeks, instead of having no protection to the underlying brain, a hard layer of cartilage, firm though slightly elastic, is formed.

Those Rope-Filled Smokes.

Bill—Give some men rope enough and they'll hang themselves.

Gill—Oh, I don't think it's as bad as all that.

"What do you mean by bad as all that?"

"Why, you've given me a number of those cigars you smoke and they've made me feel bad, but not bad enough to hang myself."

Historic Totem Poles Vanishing.

The totem poles are going. These quaint monuments of a vanishing race that have made the coast of British Columbia and southern Alaska famous are fast wasting under the influence of wind and weather.

Once the designing and constructing of totem poles flourished among the Haidas and to a lesser extent among the Tsimpsean Indians. This was long before the white man invaded the Pacific Northwest. Real totem poles with the history of tribes and families carved into their odd structures are no longer made and each year sees some of the older ones disappear. Some are still standing in their original positions in the village of Kitwanga, on the Skeena river. Some of these are said to be two hundred years old.

HIS REALIZATION OF WAR

Deprived of Loved Tobacco, Man Begins to See Grim Struggle in All Its Horror.

The man with the tall silk hat and the pin-striped trousers and the fur-collared overcoat stepped out of his limousine Monday in front of the down-town drug store, where he usually dismounts each morning to buy his day's supplies of real Havanas. He waved an airy hand at his chauffeur and squared his shoulders beneath the fur of the overcoat to the Crocker Land air. Everything was all right.

Then the man with the tall silk hat and the pin-striped trousers and the fur-collared overcoat strode on in toward the cigar counter and flung a dollar bill on the showcase. He noticed there were no lights in the humidors of the cases. Then he saw no clerks were there. Behind the drug counters he finally spied a man he knew.

"Let me have a half-dozen smokes," he said.

"Sorry, but nothin' doin' this morning," said the man he knew.

"Why—what's wrong here?"

"Not selling today. Fuel administration, you know."

Slowly a great lump rose in the throat of the man with the tall hat and the pin-striped trousers. Hurriedly he felt in all his pockets. Then he rushed out to see whether the auto had left for home. Then he hurried to another drug store. Then, sadly, he went to the office.

As he entered the door, the young $20-a-week clerk took his usual stogie from his mouth and exhaled a cloud of the bitter smoke that had long made him hated by the stenographers. The man with the tall hat hurried over to him.

"For heaven's sake, Johnny, let me have a stogie, will you?"

"Sorry, boss, but this is all I got. I found this un in my pocket this morning—left over from Sunday."

The man with the tall hat went in and sat down. He called his most rapid stenographer and began to dictate to her.

His first letter—it should have been purely about stocks and bonds—began like this:

"The American people suddenly feel the iron hand of real war is closing in upon them."—Indianapolis News.

Britain Leans to Decimal System.

The movement in England looking oward the adoption of the decimal ystem for currency, which has the acking of the Associated Chambers of Commerce of the United Kingdom, is aining ground. The London Statist tates that the association has resolved o press the matter upon the attention f the government and to urge the introduction of a bill in parliament. It 's proposed to retain the sovereign as tandard value of a thousand mills, the alf sovereign 500 mills, the four shilling piece 200 mills, the two-shilling iece or florin 100 mills, the half lorin, commonly known as the shilling, 0 mills, and the sixpence 25 mills. Of ubsidiary coinage it is recommended o coin ten-mill pieces and five-mill ieces. Below these it is suggested hat a four-mill, three-mill and two-mill iece also be coined, and if found desirable a coin representing one mill. s the farthing is so little used it is ot regarded as likely that anything elow the value of a half penny will be oined.

The Kitchen in War Time.

The private kitchen has got to go. t is scarcely possible to doubt that ow. With gas and fuel at their present prices, and likely to mount steadily higher, the great majority, as winter dvances, will certainly be driven to iving in one room. The economy efected by that simple measure will be normous, and it entails no very serious hardship, given a satisfactory arangement of the cooking problem. That problem could be practically solved tomorrow by the voluntary surrender, even in a very limited degree, of the domestic isolation in which the British family lives. If every two households agree to dine together only, it would be more than half solved. It is a matter in which the merits of a voluntary system over any compulsory arrangement are more obvious even than usual. But if the public continues to set its face obstinately against it, the compulsion will certainly come.—London News.

Absorbent Cotton Twice Used.

Through the ingenuity of a French hemist who was struck by the fact hat in the military hospitals of Paris lone about 4,400 pounds of absorbent otton was used daily, a process has een developed which makes it possile to use soiled cotton a second time. he first step is the removal of all rease by boiling ten or twelve hours n a soda solution, or by treating it nder pressure for three hours in a ealed container filled with the same olution. After this the cotton is thoroughly washed in a machine and all he moisture removed by placing it in a high-speed centrifugal drier. Drying s followed by bleaching with hypochlorine of lime and a second washing and drying. Finally the purified product is carded, packed and again sterlized.—Popular Mechanics Magazine.

Well Rehearsed.

The Bavarians in a captured trench the moment our fellows appeared automatically put up their hands, yelled, "Mercy, kamerad," and formed up into single files for passing into the cages, relates an English soldier. A stolid Tommy, noticing the precision with which they carried out the latter movement, exclaimed, "What organizers these Fritzes are. They even practiced surrender drill."

Astronomer Sees Sun's Finish.

Our friends, the learned astronomers, says the Syracuse Journal, are intent upon adding to our load of worry burdens. They—some of them—believe the sun is going to explode. One of them, writing in Popular Astronomy points to the fact that our sun is of advanced age, and predicts its finish as the leading figure in our solar system. He finds that our sun has contracted 93,000,000 miles from each side, thus giving its hot center 186,000,000 miles less room. So you see the sun's center is rather crowded for space. Something like the three-room apartment couple when visiting relatives begin their summer vacation drives.

JUST A DUB, BUT--

He Had at Least One Good Deed to His Credit.

As standards are on this earth he had not amounted to much.

He had lived, laughed, loved, sinned and died in the common way of all. He had made a few friends, and a few enemies, but he had come and passed as one of the many. His had been common toil and he had done it in the ordinary way.

And so when his soul at last stood before the Great White Gate there was no stir among the saints to receive it.

"What have you to say for yourself?" said St. Peter, sternly, but not unkindly.

"Nothing," replied the soul, timidly.

"Nothing!" exclaimed St. Peter. "Did you never get your name in the papers?"

"Never. I was never considered very clever down there."

"Oh. Didn't make fine speeches then?"

"No. I couldn't talk on my feet."

"I see. Didn't go to church very often either, did you?"

"No. I was often very tired and on Sundays I slept late in the mornings and played with the kiddies the rest of the day."

"You died in your bed, while thousands of your fellowmen died on the battlefield, fighting for their country?"

"Yes. When the war came I was beyond the age of enlistment."

"Well, can't you think of one thing that you did that might recommend you for admission here?"

"I'm afraid not. All my life I was just a dub."

"Just a dub, eh?"

"Yes. Never did shine at anything. Just a plodder, trying hard all the time to get somewhere, but never actually arriving. And yet—"

"Yet what."

"If you will permit me to say it, during the great war down there I didn't force a committee to spend two or three hours trying to convince me that I ought to buy Liberty bonds. I couldn't fight; couldn't be a general or a captain; I didn't know enough to fill a government job, but I did know it was every man's duty to back his country to the limit, and I bought all the Liberty bonds I could, without an argument."

"Fine," said St. Peter enthusiastically, "come right on in. Did you notice a crowd of fine-looking, high-stepping souls going down as you came up?"

"Yes."

"Well that was a bunch of loud-talking rich spirits who delayed the end of the war a year because they wouldn't buy Liberty bonds until they were convinced that their purchases were absolutely necessary. They're going to get a taste of trench life under Old Satan in the financial slacker's department."

Tommies Surprise Italy.

Whole battalions of Thomas Atkinses, now that the long-expected snowfall has buried the Austro-Germans in deep Alpine drifts, have been paying visits to the Milan opera house and receiving immense ovations. By way of acknowledgment Tommy gave the laurel-crowned "Tipperary," and created a sensation, as well he might, in that sacred mecca of Italian opera. Flowers were showered upon him in most embarrassing fashion. The reason of this delicate attention may be the kilts, at which the people gaze in undisguised amazement. One veteran peasant exclaimed: "Fancy, women as well as men go to war in that country, and yet they look as though they would make mincemeat of the Germans." Little wonder that some of these kilted "ladies" received not only flowers, but equally embarrassing kisses.—Christian Science Monitor.

BARGAIN DAY

Another beautiful day dawned. Wednesday and Bargain Day proved a great success. The four acts on the program were very good indeed.

The contortionist act was a most excellent one.

The Heamac trio of saxaphone and vocalists were fine and were heartily encored and the juggler juggled to perfection.

The Accordeon player was an artist and gave several fine selections.

As usual the Tipton Band was at its best and gave an opening concert and a number of fine selections during the evening.

And people! Just a great mass from everywhere for miles around, met and visited and enjoyed the program.

Monday morning last, Wm. Bennett donated a nice Durroc-Jersey pig to be auctioned off for the Red Cross Wednesday evening. After the first performance tickets which had been previously purchased by the townspeople were raffled and Supervisor John Schreder won the pig. In the raffle $80.25 was netted Then Mr. Schreder turned back the pig to the Red Cross and Chas. M. Cooley of Clinton acted as auctioneer. He is full of pep and made his part of the affair short but filled with ginger John Hook bid in the porker for $25.50, thus increasing the fund to $105.75. One feature of the incident was that Mr. Schreder's farm is across the road from the Bennett farm and Mr. Hook's farm joins the latter so Mr. Pig was bound to not move far from home.

The Saxophone Trio which made such a hit on the program will return July 31st when they will bring another man and a lady. They will play the zillaphone, bag pipes, trumpets, banjos and sing as well as the work on the saxaphone.

ARRESTED BUT SOON SET FREE

Last Thursday Miss Harriett Whaley and Will Seitz were married in Jackson. The couple returned to Tecumseh on Friday and Mr. Seitz resumed his work with the Hicks Lightning Rod Co. The bride's mother Mrs. James Marsh, made out a complaint charging Seitz with perjury through the Jackson court as she affirmed he had given her daughters age too old. He was arrested by our Deputy Sheriff on Wednesday and placed in the village jail. On Thursday the Jackson officers came for him and he was accompanied to the neighboring city by his employer Chas. Bidwell and his attorney Geo A. Rathbun. That afternoon Mrs. Marsh withdrew her complaint and as the Jackson officials had no score to settle Mr. Seitz returns home today.

HORATIO KEYSER

The funeral of the late Horatio Keyser was held at the home of his nephew W. B. Keyser Saturday afternoon and was largely attended, his many friends paying their respects to their old friend. Rev. W. A. Rex most feelingly spoke of the life of the grand old man, paying tribute to his sterling worth.

Mesdames Hodges and Meade sang two appropriate hymns.

A FAREWELL FOR DR. TRASK

Honoring Dr. N. D. Trask, who has recently enlisted in the Navy, and is now awaiting a call to the colors, a number of friends from far and near came in a body and surprised him Monday evening.

When the Doctor returned, that evening from a professional call which Mrs. Trask had cleverly arranged in order to get him away from home, he found a house full of merry makers. The rooms were prettily decorated with flowers, the American flag having the place of honor, the decorations throughout being patriotic.

A delightful musical program was rendered together with story telling and other diversions which made the evening pass happily. Dainty refreshments were served in two courses. Tiny silk flags were the favors.

In behalf of the company Mr. Sherman Rogers presented the doctor with a beautiful Gillette safety kit with his name engraved in silver on the ouside.

During his four years of practice in Tecumseh, Dr. Trask has endeared himself to his many patients and he will be greatly missed both professionally and as a friend.

The Knights of Pythias who were having a meeting in their hall adjourned for a short time and marched to the Grange Hall in a body and paid their respects to the young man. RED CROSS NEWS

Dr. Bredow will meet all instructors in surgical dressings Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock to make the oakum pads for July quota.

The response to the appeal for workers on pajamas was most gratifying. Thirteen ladies came [redacted] headquarters Wednesday and quite a number on Thursday. Mrs. Bert Lowe came especially from Sand Lake to help finish our quota. We still need help however for next week in order to complete the work on hand.

Mr. I. K. Wallace gave $10.00, being 10 per cent of his Wednesday night's receipts for the merry-go-round to the Red Cross.

Do not forget to bring your old tires, tubes, rubber boots and water bottles, in fact any old rubber to Mr. Ovid Marsh's Auto Supply Store. We would like everything in by Saturday night. If you cannot bring it yourself, let Mrs. Harry Dunn, Tel. 94, know and she will send for it. All boys authorized to collect for the Red Cross will wear badges of white ribbon with a red cross.

The Red Cross badges were made by Mr. Will Coller who donated his work. He also made the posters advertising our rubber week.

Do not forget Mr. Billy Gibson's ice cream social on Friday, July 26, at 7:30 p. m. Ice cream and cake 20c, music and dancing at the barn. The farm is between Tecumseh and Macon.

Five donations of $10.00 each have been offered to make the Wednesday night Red Cross Concert collection amount to $500.00. We now only lack $40.00 to make the $500.00. Who will give $10.00? This will be the biggest amount ever raised here in one night.

The Red Cross Concert Company gave a concert in Fairfield Tuesday night. Mr. Fred B. Wood and Leon Williamson drove the company over. The collection amounted to $26.40.

On Thursday night the company went to Clayton and Tuesday, July 23, they will go to Ottawa Lake; on July 25th to Dixborough, on the 27th to Napoleon, on the 28th to Springville, on the 30th to Pittsford. The August engagements will be announced later.

On Sunday Mrs. Hardy will speak in the morning at the Evangelical church in Lima Centre, in the afternoon in the Freedom Lutheran church and in the evening at the Sharon Lutheran church. All talks will be in German on the Red Cross.

In the membership list Mrs. Geo. Kempf should have been Mrs. Henry Kempf.

Junior Members: Murval D. Mattis, Garthe Hall, Duane Hall, Zona Hall, Mark Albert Deming.

The Red Cross Concert Company is appealing for cars, to take the performers to their concerts. Please offer them to Mrs. Robt. Moore, Tel. 232.

LOSES AN EYE

Sad Fourth for Little James Hewitt

It is with deep regret that we hear of the great misfortune that has come to James Hewitt, the 11-year-old son of Rev. and Mrs. Frederick Hewitt, former residents of Tecumseh, but now of Dearborn.

While handling a gun July 4th it back-fired and a bullet passed into his eye. He was taken at once to Providence Hospital in Detroit where the bullet was removed, a powerful magnet being used. The sight of the injured eye is destroyed and great fears are entertained for the safety of the other.

While Rev. Hewitt was rector of St. Peter's church in Tecumseh, his little son won a host of friends. Our heartfelt sympathies are extended to his parents with the hope that the sight may be restored to him in the remaining eye.

PRIVATIONS OF WAR TIMES

Version of British Life as Seen by a Tecumseh Boy

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Brook have just received the following letter from their son Ralph who is in the Marine Service, and kindly allowed us to print it.

U. S. S. Plattsburg, N. Y.,
June 17, 1918.

Dear Mother:

Well we are on board today and haven't much to do, they are fixing over the ovens so they are buying all the bread, that makes it that much easier for us. We were going to sail Sunday night but the doctors wouldn't let them go until they had put in ventilators in the sleeping compartments so I guess now we will be here for 10 days or so. Although we are loading stores aboard now I don't know whether I will stay on here or not, they are going to transfer some of the crew so I don't know whether this hits us or not.

We were in Liverpool 9 days and I went ashore 6 times, it was quite a novelty at first but I soon got sick of it. There were 10,000 U. S. soldiers unloaded there the week we were in there and by the looks of things they had better get them over as soon as they can for you don't see any young guys there on the streets that are not in uniform and most all with an arm or leg shot off or an eye out. Women run the street cars or train cars they call them, they are like the street cars in Adrian, except they are double deck and it costs 2 cents or 1 penny in their money.

You can't buy any sugar, there is none served in coffee and no meat is sold in restaurants, nothing but eggs (only 2) and clam salad. You can see people, well-to-do, walking around eating potato chips wrapped in a piece of newspaper and money is scarce too. The American sailors and soldiers get about five times the pay the English do.

There is also a difference of 5½ hours [redacted] and theirs so when it is 5 o'clock back here it is 10:30 over there It gets dark about 11 p. m There is a great difference in climate here, and there you can go ashore with a sweater on and not feel too warm. The nights are cool.

They have better horses as a rule than we have and they drive them one ahead of the other, never in a team like we do.

Nobody is allowed to kill a chicken unless they get the permit from the food control and then most always take half of it So you can see that people over there they don't have like we do and besides if this war keeps up 2 more years they will be starving to death.

We had target practice coming back about 2 days, that made a little excitement Had movies a few times but couldn't through the war zone as all lights are out at 7:15 every night excepting the galley and bake shop Around in the ship they have blue lights. Some life steam boating around in the dark, well I guess

I have told all I know so will close, will write another letter in a day or so

Love,
Ralph Brooks.

Send it to Navy Y. M. C. A.

AMERICANS HAVE THEIR EYE ON "NO MAN'S LAND"

Note from Capt. Hawkes Show Their Courage

From a late letter received by Geo. Hawkes from his son, "Over There" we print the following.

A. E. F. June 18, 1918

Dear Dad:

Just a short note to let you know I am well and still O. K., expect to go back into the line soon. Everything is about the same around us here. The boche has not put anything over on this Division yet. They have caught him every time so far and I guess they always will.

The sun shines today after two days rain. The crops look very good. Beautiful flowers even out in "No Mans land."

The boys all say that there will be no more "No mans land" as they are going to own it so I guess there will be something doing. We have plenty to do and not a whole lot of rest.

The lady I am billetted with now has her husband in the enemy army and says perhaps he and I will point guns at each other some day. I said perhaps so but he will have to be some quick, she says "Yaw." She has a very pretty child who likes me very much because I give her some of my bread (white) and jelly and syrup occasionally.

Lots of love to you and all the relatives and friends. Sonny.

COL. O. L. MACKLEM.

What is your soldier boy doing tonight? Have you any more than a vague indistinct, faulty idea? You should know the truth of how the boys live at the front. Col Omar L. Macklem, who speakes at the Bradley Opera House Sunday afternoon and evening, brings a message to American mothers, his managers claim, that will gladden them. That war is a grim and terrible reality cannot be denied; that suffering and death follows in its wake is as certain as the rising of the morning sun, yet it is a gratifying thing to know that there are merciful organizations and persons who do much to reduce the suffering. The wonderful work of the Red Cross, the kindly ministerings of an army of clergymen the wonderful accomplishments of medical men, will be related by Col. Macklem.

COL. OMAR L. MACKLEM

Col. Macklem fought for nearly two years in Belgium and France as a member of the Tenth Canadian battalion.

Men who want to know the real truth concerning German atrocities should attend the meeting Sunday afternoon, when Col. Omar L. Macklem will tell of barbaric Hun acts which he witnessed with his own eye. His managers aver that Col Machlem is one of the few speakers on the war, here or abroad, who tell of atrocities that they personally witnessed There is no second-handed information in Col. Macklem's lecture, his managers state, but straight facts, the gleanings of nearly two years at the fighting front as a member of the Tenth Canadian Battalion, Canadian Expeditionary force. Col. Macklem will speak in the evening to men, women and children. While he will tell of German barbarism he will not relate certain revolting stories that he will tell at the afternoon meeting for men only, for, his managers state they are of a nature that the colonel would, under no circumstances, relate before women and children Col Macklem will expose German espionage and tell how an "innocent" farmer caused the death of many men at the part of the Belgium country known as "Suicide Corner" Col. Macklem will tell how the soldiers live in trenches, of the conflicts in "No Man's Land" and of the daring of the brave men who fight the Kaiser's hordes.

The managers of Col. Macklem's tour aver that no mother or father with boys at the front should miss the lectures

Afternoon lecture for gentlemen only at 2:30, doors open at 2:00. Evening lecture for every patriotic man woman or child in this vicinity at 8:15, doors open at 7:30.

"HEARTS OF THE WORLD."

Tecumseh Gets The Big Griffith Production Soon.

Tecumseh theatre-goers are very, very fortunate in being able to see D W. Griffith's supreme triumph, "Hearts of the World" almost as soon as Detroit and the other big cities. Mr Mark of the Bradley Opera House, succeeded yesterday afternoon in closing an immediate date over the phone with the state managers at Detroit The big production will come here directly from the weeks engagement at Adrian, coming here Sunday and Monday, July 28 and 29, with a special matinee Sunday afternoon at 2:30.

D W. Griffith, we all know, produced the greatest picture the world has ever known. 'The Birth of a Nation,' he also produced the colossal production "Intolerance," but in producing 'Hearts of the World' he is giving us the mightiest of them all Over 18 months were required in the making he went, with his company, to Europe and the very battlefields of France that the wonderful battle scenes would be authentic. Many of the scenes are taken on the very battlefields where our Michigan men are now fighting. The battle scenes were taken under the auspices of the British war office

"Hearts of the World' is the one mighty picture of the present world war that every citizen of Lenawee County should make one big effort to see.

"REBECCA OF SUNNYBROOK FARM."

At last we are able to announce a definite date on the big Mary Pickford production "Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm," we have been advertising this big feature for some time but the demand has been so great for this picture in larger cities that we have been obliged several times to change our dates but America's sweetheart, Mary Pickford, will positively be seen at the Bradley Opera House, next week Friday, July 26th, in this charming play by Kate Douglas Wiggin, "Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm."

Mary Pickford, with her effervescent youth, her genuine comedy and her wonderful knowledge of dramatic technique, is the ideal person to immortalize the little girl of the New England village.

Thousands have read this charming book and thousands will see this wonderful photoplay production of the story. It is one of the new Artcraft pictures and well worth any special effort you might have to make to see it. Remember, it will be at the Bradley for one night only.

Truman H. Newberry

Michigan's Gift to the Nation

"Tis true, Michigan never fell short in her duties to the country at large. A big state always coming through in a big way.

But now there comes still another opportunity. This year we elect senators—representatives of ours—to protect our rights and those of the country at large.

We must send to the senate men who are real Americans and who will uphold American ideals to the uttermost.

We have such a man in Truman H. Newberry who has in the past and is now serving his country in a big way. His past experience wonderfully fits him for the important position.

He's a fighter from the word go. A man of iron will, energetic and not to be bullied or coerced. Firm in his convictions and positive in his determination. His stand for the right has long been the topic of men who know. He is the people's man and Michigan's gift to the nation.

LOOKING OUT FOR THE BOYS

Truman H. Newberry Is Thoughtful of Them Now Just As He Was In Spanish-American War Days.

It was Emanuel Oliver, in charge of an elevator at the Michigan Soldiers' Home, who was speaking.

"I was with Newberry on the Yosemite in the Spanish-American war. He was lieutenant; I was mess steward and under his orders. The other boys on the Yosemite feel the same way about it, too. They have reason to do so. When any of the boys were sick, Lieutenant Newberry would see to it that they had delicacies from the officers' mess. When they were broke, he provided them with money. When they were in trouble, they felt free to go to him and tell him about it, and he helped them out. After it was all over and we came back to the good old United States, some of the boys did not have funds with which to get home. It was Newberry who sent them on their homeward journey. You bet, all the old Yosemite boys swear by Newberry."

It is no different now than it was in the Spanish-American War days. Truman H. Newberry is again in service as Lieutenant Commander in the Third Naval District. His two boys also are serving; one in the army, the other in the navy. Because he has two sons in uniform, his interest in the men on their homeward journey... "His interest in and sympathy for the men of the navy is one of the finest things about this institution," says Lieutenant Joseph F. Wright, of the Third Naval District Headquarters, at 280 Broadway, New York.

"There is almost constantly a line of young officers and blue-jackets to see the commander. The reasons for their calls show better than anything else could in what degree of esteem and admiration he is held by them. One lad calls to express his thanks for the opportunity, given him by Commander Newberry, of entering the officers' training school, and his determination to forge steadily ahead in the ranks of the fighting men. Another comes to get the commander's advice as to the best way to proceed to study that he may progress in his chosen profession. He is confident that no matter how busy he may be, he will always take time to lend a helping hand to any youngster anxious to get ahead. Then a third will drop in to report the progress he is making in his studies to fit himself for higher rank. Others are there to thank him for their orders and advancement. Many have a personal reason for feeling grateful, because the commander never fails to take an interest in what his men are doing.

"And the sight of Commander Newberry in action is an inspiring one. When one stops to consider that here is a man working with a bunch of orders from officers who looked to him for their orders and advancement when, as secretary of the navy, he was the commanding officer of the entire naval forces of the country, one marvels at the spirit that is actuating America in this war. Commander Newberry works long hours every day, Sundays, holidays and all. [illegible] there is in him to [illegible]

Wagon Shortage

Due to LACK OF MATERIAL
and Government Contracts to be Filled.

On March 20th, 1918, one wagon firm wrote us as follows:—

"The needs of the Government for wagons and vehicles with which to prosecute the war must be met. This necessitates the curtailment of our domestic wagon business. Therefore we have made our contracts subject to delay or cancellation on account of the acts of the Government."

By special efforts we have just obtained shipment of an order placed with this firm last fall for March 1st delivery. This shipment has just come in and we can offer you very reasonable prices on them.

On August 1st the different wagon manufacturers begin work on their Government contracts. Where they formerly allowed timber to stand two years or more, to season, they have now been obliged to build new kilns, which dry the timber in a short time. The wood from these kilns will be ready for use August 1st, and for four months nothing but army wagons will be made. For a very brief time after Dec. 1st they will be at liberty to work on their own contracts, then Government work will be taken up again.

It is easy to see why farm wagons will be increasingly scarce and consequently higher in price. We still have in stock wagons from all good wagons, at prices ranging from $80.00 up. There is no question that good farm wagons without boxes will be worth by spring about $150.00, if wagons can be bought at all. No time like the present to buy, and have the use of your wagon this fall.

STUDEBAKER
DEERE

L. D. DEWEY

Lorenzo D. Dewey passed away at his home Wednesday. July 17th. 1918, at 1:30 p. m. after an illness of two days from heart trouble.

He was born in Tecumseh at the old farm home west of town March 6, 1838, and has always been a resident of Lenawee county. For a number of years he resided in Raisin where he ran a poultry and produce business, coming to Tecumseh about 25 years ago where he continued the business until failing health caused him to retire to private life.

He was the son of Lorenzo D. and Miranda Dewey and was the last member of a family of six children: Alvener M. Dewey, Antoneker M. Stretch, Dr. DeGarmo Dewey, Alphonso Dewey and Elzabeth Marsden having preceded him in death.

In 1867 he was united in marriage to Miss Anna McCarbery. To this union were born three children, two of whom survive him, Mrs. Nellie Marvin of Royal Oak and Nelson Dewey of Birdsall, the eldest daughter Mrs. William Neeley having passed away.

A FAIR WARNING

One That should Be Heeded by Tecumseh Residents

Frequently the first sign of kidney trouble is a slight ache or pain in the loins. Neglect of this warning makes the way easy for more serious troubles—dropsy, gravel, Bright's disease. 'Tis well to pay attention to the first sign. Weak Kidneys generally grow weaker and delay is often dangerous. Residents of this locality place reliance in Doan's Kidney Pills. This tested remedy has been used in kidney trouble over 50 years—is recommended all over the civilized world. Read the following:

Mrs. W. Service, Logan St., Tecumseh, says: "My kidneys were out of order and I had weakness and soreness across my back. I felt run down and tired out and could hardly keep going. I had frequent headaches, too and my kidneys acted irregularly. I used Doan's Kidney Pills, procured from Wright's & Son's Drug store and they helped me right away. They strengthened my back and put my kidneys in good order."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Service had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfgrs., Buffalo, N. Y. adv

Icelanders Are Intellectual.

During the crisis which has been virtually continuous since 1874, the people of Iceland have acquired a stock of political acumen, which, augmented by high national intellectuality and literacy, fully qualifies them for a conflict with Denmark, says a writer. Iceland is among the first countries of the world in literacy. Few in the island can neither read nor write, and one author has declared that every other man on the street is a poet. Literature is not confined to any particular class—one of the most lucid descriptions of the land ever written is the work of a guide, while many fishermen write poetry of merit.

EGG OF PHOENIX IS FOUND

Product of the Historic Fung-Whang Ho-Ho Bird Procured in China by Naturalists.

Naturalists doing field work in China for American museums picked up an egg which the natives declared was the egg of the Phoenix—the Fung-Whang Ho-Ho bird. It has just been mounted and placed on public view in the Museum of Natural History in New York. Examination and comparison by the museum staff, says the Boston Transcript, have resulted in the decision that disregarding popular legend, the immense egg, 40 times the size of the egg of the domesticated hen, is that of a gigantic prehistoric ostrich. Two imperfect eggs of this fossil ostrich are in existence and are owned by museums in the United States, but this is the only perfect one known—"perfect," the museum announces, "with the exception of a small hole through which the original contents may have disappeared."

Its discoverer was a peasant in the Province of Honan, China, who one day found it sticking in the bank of the Yellow river and kept it as a curiosity, treasured it as the egg of that legendary Phoenix, which is still revered by designers of Chinese decorations. The fossil shell was filled with water when it arrived at the museum and was found to have a capacity of a trifle more than two quarts. Two quarts of albumen, yolk and protoplasmic material—say four pounds of foodstuffs—evidence that the high cost of living was one of the modern things ancient China did not invent.

No scientist has ever seen a bone of remnant of the biped which laid ovoids like this one from the mud of Yellow river. It may be imagined that the traveling naturalists had some difficulty in acquiring it for the Phoenix to which it was locally attributed stands in Chinese art and tradition as the symbol of immortality and resurrection. Farther west one of the legends of the bird has been that every 500 years it flew out of Arabia old and decrepit to Heliopoli, and there on an altar burned itself and rose from its ashes young and beautiful once more—no bad symbol for the China of the present hour.

Bololsm.

Charles F. Murphy of Tammany said in a discussion of Boloism:

"The spread of Boloism shouldn't surprise us, for money's corrupting power is immense.

"Let me tell you a story.

"A senator, while traveling in the South, attended a colored church one Sunday morning and put a $20 bill in the collection plate.

"The collector gave a start. He carried the plate, with its little heap of coppers and nickels and its crisp yellow bill, up to the pulpit. There he and the preacher and a couple of elders conversed excitedly in hissing whispers for several minutes.

"Finally the collector tiptoed down to the senator and muttered in his ear:

"'Boss, when yo' gwine to leave dis town?'

"'Tomorrow morning,' said the senator.

"'Wall, boss,' whispered the collector, 'we uns have decided to pass her if you'll promise to keep still. Dere ain't a man in town can tell her from a good one.'"

Meatless Mince Pie.

Meatless mince meat, another culinary triumph in the art of food conservation, has been brought to the housewives of the country by the national emergency garden commission as a worthy companion of pumpkinless pumpkin pie and gingerless gingerbread.

The new mince meat, officially described as a "camouflage," was tried on five hundred troops on a transport, who pronounced it perfect and called for more.

Half a package of seeded raisins, half a pound of prunes stewed with lemon juice and peel, one-quarter cupful sweet cider, four tablespoonfuls brown sugar; chop the raisins and prunes together and the result is said to be a meatless mince pie which will accord with the food administration's meatless Tuesday.

Sleeper Tax Hits Porters.

However patriotic may be the motive of the traveling salesmen and the general public who ride in sleeping cars, the negro porters assert they are bearing an unequal part of the new war tax, says the Kansas City Star.

Where the porter formerly received a tip of 25 cents for shining the shoes and brushing off his passenger, the negro says the tip now is only a dime.

"My tips have been reduced one-half," one porter said.

The government since the first of November has added 10 per cent to the sleeper fare as a war tax. As it now stands it is the porter and not the passenger who is paying the tax.

How Woman's Shrewdness Served to Save Her Life and Incidentally Enrich Literature.

No one knows who wrote "The Arabian Nights," but it is related that "The Thousand and One Nights" as they are often called, originated in this manner: Scharlar was sultan of Persia and having no faith in women, and having carte blanche to marry as many wives as he chose, he had each bride killed the day after he married her. The vizier who did the executive work on this program was filled with horror at the atrocities he was obliged to perform, the more so as he had a beautiful daughter of his own and was in constant terror lest she find favor in the eyes of the sultan. One day his fears were realized and the beautiful Scheherazade was a chosen victim. She did not share her father's apprehension, however, having a scheme of her own for thwarting the sultan's designs. The morning after her marriage she began telling her husband a story, and just as he was about to leave her for his affairs of state, she brought the tale to that fascinating point where we generally find that it is "to be continued." The sultan decided to have her saved till night that he might hear the end of the story. This proceeding was repeated for a thousand and one nights. By that time, Scheherazade had borne him children and the sultan had decided to abandon the cruel practice of killing his wives. "The Thousand and One Nights," translated into French in 1704 by Antoine Gallard, was compiled from these fascinating stories.

CHARACTER MUST BE BUILT

Man's Best Qualities Seemingly Can Only Be Brought Out by the Process of Hammering.

The word "character" is true to its derivation. It is a Greek word, which we pronounce harass, which they pronounce charass, but which had the same meaning then as now. They spoke then of a coin in the mint, which was hammered and tortured by the sharp edges of the die, as being stamped upon, indeed, as a poor charassed thing—as bearing a character. Its character came to it because it was beaten, pounded by this tremendous hammer. The more it was beaten the more distinct character it had. I believe all our words of similar import have a similar derivation. Thus, when we say that a man is of this "type" of manhood, or that "type" of manhood, the original meaning is that he has been beaten into that shape by the blows of experience that have passed over him.

Burns says "the rank is but the guinea stamp." This means, at bottom, that a "pound" is metal which has been pounded. And there are metals which improve in quality all the time you stamp and hammer them. Just the same is true of a man, if he have the true heart, the true life and makes himself master of the circumstances instead of the slave. . . . And the hammering is no unimportant part of the process.—Edward Everett Hale.

Facts About New Plant World.

A new plant world, though one of few forms, is opened up by Dr. Pierce See's botanical investigation of libraries. The spots appearing on the paper of old volumes, or those kept in damp places, are found to be due to various fungi and to represent a certain number of species in different stages of growth, colors and conditions. The microscope shows the ordinary spot to be made up of a dark central nucleus, which is the mycelium or vegetative portion of the plant, surrounded by a lighter zone colored by the secretions of the organism. Plants still living have been transplanted to gelatine, licorice, potatoes or other suitable soil, and from the growths so obtained in three to six weeks the various kinds have been identified. As reported to the Paris Academy of Sciences, about 20 different species have been so far isolated. The molds are not all introduced into the books or paper, but in some cases their germs appear to have been present in the paper materials, even in the raw fiber itself.

Petulance and Earnestness.

To look mad and growl is almost as bad as swearing. In fact, if one analyzes the two, he will not find any difference between them. Profanity is only an expression of the state of mind. Of course, there is some difference in the character and form of the expression; but they all mean the same thing. We speak of this because the world notes the mental attitude and regards it the same as profanity, and imputes this fault to the man who wears a growl, remarks Ohio State Journal. And so a religious man who looks mad and growls depreciates his relation as a member of a church and reflects upon the church, too. There is unhappily a good deal of this going on and it is all in violation of Scriptural teaching. We must learn the difference between earnestness and petulance and observe the difference in conduct or we injure the cause we are engaged in. There is no room for ill-temper in a noble enterprise even if that ill-temper does not break out in epithet and wicked language.

Turkish Government.

The Turkish government is a hereditary monarchy, of which the sultan is both temporal and spiritual head. The succession to the throne, or sultanship, goes in the senior male descendent of the house of Osman, of which the present sultan, Mohammed V, is the thirty-sixth sovereign in succession and twenty-ninth since the taking of Constantinople. Under the constitution of Turkey, the sultan does not marry, but all children born in the harem, whether of free or slave women, are counted legitimate and of equal lineage, the oldest male child always succeeding to the throne without regard to the status of the mother or the question of marriage, which really does not figure in the case at all.

Substitute for Coal.

Idaho State Fuel Commissioner Gooding is out with another warning relative to the scarcity of fuel in the state and asking the people of the state to use all care possible in conserving the supply.

Wherever it is possible to get wood it is requested that wood be burned instead of coal. Forest reserve officials have made it possible to draw on the supply of down and dead timber wherever it can be had.

Railroads are to sell old ties and bridge timbers at a nominal cost for fuel purposes.

WAYS OF KEEPING YOUTHFUL

Man Who Is Determined Not to Grow Old Really Has Only to "Make an Effort."

I see it in my changing hair,
I see it in my growing heir,
My growing thirst for early news,
It is a fact, I am growing old.

And so growing old is just a case of finding what one's looking for, observes the Minneapolis Journal. A man decides that the time has come for him to be old, and so instead of bracing up, ignoring the symptoms and finding some other explanation for the change in the color of his hair, he neglects his dress, walks with a stoop, uses a cane, stops taking exercise, eats too much, indulges in reminiscences, retires from business, and in general acquires the foolish habit of growing old.

He should remember that it is possible to keep a youthful spirit, an active mind, an interest in current events and a purpose to serve his fellows, and that he who does these things will always be young.

The fact that women generally decline to contract the old-age habit and that some men have also resisted the temptation to fall into it would seem to indicate that if those who do yield to it would only take the advice of Dombey to his wife, and "make an effort," they would learn how foolish and how unnecessary it is to grow old.

AMERICANS AND FRENCH ROUT THE GERMAN ARMY

Allies Break Through Foe Line and Advance Three and Quarter Miles.

CHATEAU THIERRY IS TAKEN

Foch's Forces Clear Enemy From East and South of Marne—Huns Did Not Burn Chateau Thierry Before Retreating.

Washington, July 22.—At ten o'clock Saturday morning the Americans had taken 17,000 prisoners actually counted, and 560 guns, General Pershing reported in his communique made public tonight. No Germans were on the south side of the Marne at 10:30 Saturday morning, the communique continues.

With the Americans at the Marne, July 22.—The Germans did not set fire to Chateau Thierry before leaving, fearing the flames would light up their retreat and draw our artillery fire. Two hundred civilians greeted the French and Americans as the latter entered the town. These civilians had been herded in a cathedral so they could not witness the German evacuation.

With the American Army on the Marne, July 22.—The French and Americans have broken through the German line northwest of Chateau Thierry.

The French and Americans driving the spearhead toward the northeast have already advanced five kilometers (3¼ miles) at various places.

The allied troops have taken many prisoners, including three officers, who said they were tired of the war.

American infantrymen captured two 77s.

Previous to the breaking of the German lines the allies battled with the desperate machine gunners, who were mowed down as the allied re-enforcements arrived. The German losses were terrible.

Retreat Turns Into Rout.

The German retreat across the Marne began on Friday under cover of a great smoke screen. At last accounts great hordes of Germans were continuing north. Organized resistance has been met with so far only at a few places.

The district south of the Marne and east of Chateau Thierry is entirely cleared of Germans. Two badly cut-up regiments were left south of the Marne in the German retreat.

Germans Throw In Reserves.

The Germans continue to fling reenforcements into the battle and are bringing up more guns of all calibers in their desperate efforts to stem the Franco-American advance.

We have already counted elements of eight divisions opposite us.

All Saturday night the allies hammered at the widening wedge between the Germans and Paris as the Germans withdrew north of the Marne. Americans continuing to take prisoners and guns.

Allied re-enforcements are [illegible] in to overcome any determined resistance the Germans may attempt.

Clear Line North of Marne.

The heavy artillery of the allies continues the clearing of districts north of the Marne.

An attack from Chateau Thierry to Reims began on Saturday. American forces captured Hill 193 north of Vaux and advanced more than two kilometers. At last accounts they were more than holding their own against German resistance.

French Enter Chateau Thierry.

Paris, July 22.—French and American troops entered Chateau Thierry Sunday morning, according to an official statement issued by the war office. The French also have taken the town of Brales, one mile east of Chateau Thierry, on the north bank of the Marne, according to word received here.

The French line includes the heights north of Brasles, which gives the French a good bridgehead on the north side of the Marne.

Violent combats continue north and south of the Ourcq and between the Marne and Reims. In spite of the violent resistance by the enemy, the French have continued to advance, the statement adds.

The Franco-American forces continue to make progress, repelling the enemy, who is defending himself obstinately, according to the official statement.

With every hour it becomes more evident that the Germans, hard-pressed on three sides, are facing the prospect of a retreat beyond the Aisne.

Their desperate resistance in the pivotal areas around Soissons and Reims shows how critical Ludendorff himself considers the situation.

Prisoners Total 25,000.

His forces are hemmed in a pocket the mouth of which is not more than 20 miles wide.

Prisoners are being brought in in steady streams. The total is unofficially reported to be near the 25,000 mark. Considerably more than 400 guns have been captured.

The Franco-American troops are pressing on relentlessly everywhere, not giving the enemy the slightest respite.

British Take Prisoners.

London, July 22.—Successful minor enterprises were reported by Field Marshal Haig in his day bulletin, as follows:

"A few prisoners and machine guns were captured by us during raids and patrol encounters southwest of La Bassee and in the Merville and Dickebusch (Flanders) sectors.

"Beyond artillery activity on both sides at different points there is nothing further to report from the British front."

AMERICAN CASUALTY REPORT

Two Hundred and Twenty-Five Killed or Wounded by the Huns.

Washington, July 22.—Two hundred and twenty-five casualties were shown in the list received here from General Pershing, commandant of the American expeditionary force in France. Of these 199 were in the army and 26 in the marine corps. The army casualties consisted of 43 killed in action, 23 died of wounds, 33 died of disease, nine died of accidents of which one was an airplane accident, 71 were wounded severely, and 30 are missing in action.

The marine corps casualties were 12 killed in action, two died of wounds, and 12 were severely wounded in action.

BRITISH AIRMEN DO DAMAGE

London, July 22.—"As the result of a photographic reconnaissance carried out on the 20th instant," says the report of the British air ministry, "extensive damage is revealed at the hostile aerdromes at Merhange, attacked by us on the nights of the 19th and 20th.

"One large shed and three hangers were destroyed. There is nothing further to report."

INDIAN SCOUTS CHASE HUN

Red Men Who Were With Pershing in Mexico Play Important Part.

With the American Army on the Marne, July 22.—The heavy artillery of the allies continues the clearing of districts north of the Marne. Indians who were with Pershing in Mexico played a prominent part in the scout work on the river.

ALL MUST WORK OR FIGHT

Every Able-Bodied Man in California Regardless of Age or Wealth Included.

San Francisco, July 22.—Every able-bodied man in California, regardless of age or wealth, must work during the war. An order to this effect was issued by the state council of defense.

QUENTIN DEAD, FOE REPORTS

Dramatic Confirmation of Young Roosevelt's Death Dropped in American Camp.

Paris, July 22.—German aviators have dropped a note into American aviation camps, confirming the death of Lieut. Quentin Roosevelt in an air battle.

ON HEELS OF THE HUNS

Allies Capture Last Germans in Leave Chateau Thierry.

Civilians Kiss the Soldiers and Cry "Vivent Les Americains" in Their Joy.

With the Americans at the Marne, July 22.—At 9:30 o'clock Sunday morning, an hour after the Germans had evacuated Chateau Thierry, we marched into the city following a squadron of French dragoons and mounted American troops.

The last four Germans had quit the town a few minutes previously, and a quarter of an hour later cavalry rounded up the quartette. They were telephonists and had been advising the retreating Germans by means of hidden wires regarding the Franco-American entry into town.

Out of a cellar, as we entered, came rushing an aged little woman, a widow she was, we learned later, eighty-seven years old, and loudly thanked God that the town had been delivered from the invaders, crying again and again, "Vivent les Americains!"

She rushed up to me and kissed me on both cheeks. Then a cobbler, ninety-five years old, duplicated this expression of joy, afterward asking pardon. Just then a French artillery general arrived in an armored automobile. The aged woman kissed his hand. He leaned over and kissed her cheeks.

Immediately a stream of armored machines came dashing into the city carrying three-inch guns and machine guns. Dragoons and lancers came drawing field guns, which were soon placed in position on the heights north of Chateau Thierry.

In the meantime Americans were already emplacing guns on Hill 204, and soon the retreating German columns were under heavy cross-fire, while French, British and American airplanes were sweeping low, sending streams of machine gun bullets into their ranks. The German infantry is falling back in an easterly direction.

GERMANS LEAD THE BOLSHEVIKI

Force Fhich Attacked Czecho-Slovaks Mainly Released Prisoners.

RUSS ARMY IS IMPOSSIBILITY

[illegible] Declares Mobilization Is Impracticable Under Chaotic Conditions—Allies Must Send Military Aid, It Said.

Washington, July 22.—Most of the [illegible] guards who opposed the Czecho-Slovaks when the latter took control of the government at Vladivostok were Germans and Magyars, said a message received by Professor Masaryk, president of the Czecho-Slovak national council. The message was made public here.

The dispatch said the bolshevikists had surrendered control of the government to the Germans and Magyars, and that the Czecho-Slovaks decided for that reason and because of attacks on Czecho-Slovak forces elsewhere in Siberia, to take charge of affairs at the seaport.

Bolsheviki Power Lost.

"In our fighting there most of our opponents have been Magyars and Germans, proof of this being furnished by prisoners and by dead bodies.

"The bolshevists have completely lost their popularity with the majority of the Russian people, and in places where they still retain power it is only with the help of enemy prisoners who hold control of everything by force.

"We have also kept in close touch with the representatives of the allies and all our measures are taken with their knowledge and concurrence.

Russ Army Impossible.

"In our opinion it is almost desirable and also possible to reconstitute a Russo-German front in the East, but we feel certain that a combined and [illegible]-minded military effort by the allied powers is essential to effect this. We also feel certain an army capable of fighting the Germans cannot be raised by Russia herself in the immediate future. The army must come from outside to begin with."

[illegible]-DRY MEASURE PUZZLES

[illegible] Loss of Billion Dollars and Taxation of Necessities If Passed.

[illegible], July 22.—A billion dollars [illegible] between congress and national prohibition for the period of [illegible]. It is the people's money to [illegible] by taxation to help pay the [illegible] of the war. The billion [illegible] be raised by taxes on [illegible] beer. Otherwise, members of congress who will vote for prohibition are frank enough to state that they dont know where this billion will come from unless consumption taxes are imposed upon some of the necessities of life.

Congress will face the question of a billion for booze when the regular sessions are resumed next month and the members of the ways and means committee, now framing the new war revenue bill, are ready to report. They must find a way to raise $8,000,000,000 by taxation this year.

Take away the billion dollars in prospect by the enactment of national prohibition, putting the whole country on a bone-dry basis, and members of the ways and means committee, who have been struggling with the matter for some weeks, say there is no way to find the money except under some scheme of general taxation that will fall upon all the people.

TO MAKE SHIPMENTS SAFE

Systematic Thief Hunt to Be Started by the Government—Loss Big Last Year.

New York, July 22.—Upward of $38,000,000 was lost last year through theft of freight in transit in the United States. Federal authorities determined to make freight matter as safe as the mails have perfected a plan whereby shippers of freight will be secure against larceny while their property is in the hands of government employees. A systematic thief hunt will be instituted by the government, which will employ thousands of men in the work in the vicinity of New York, St. Louis, Chicago, Memphis, Kansas City, Denver and San Francisco.

SWEDISH ENVOY STILL LOST

Former Minister and Party of Fourteen Missing in Siberia, Is Tokyo Report.

Tokyo, July 22.—The whereabouts of G. O. Wallenberg, recently Swedish minister to Japan, who left for home by way of Siberia two months ago with a party of fellow Swedes, is not known and friends here are mystified. Advices received from Sweden say that he has not arrived there.

McAdoo on Way Home.

HOLD SHIP AS U-BOAT AID

Havana, July 22.—The schooner Georgina Roop, which has on board 400,000 liters (130,000 gallons) of Cuban rum, apparently for Uruguay, is under detention here by Cuban treasury officials. The vessel was seized after it was learned that when about to sail it had suddenly changed its name and there seemed reason to suspect the rum might not be intended for Uruguay, as the ship's papers stated. For sometime there had been reports that German submarines had been supplied with Cuban rum and alcohol at points near the Spanish coast.

HUN SUBMARINE ATTACKS NEW ENGLAND COAST

Raider Sinks Four American Vessels Off the Coast of Cape Cod.

WARSHIPS COMB WATERS

Throngs on Shore Watch Seaplane Battle Diver as Crews of Victims Escape in Lifeboats—Women Among Them.

Washington, July 22.—American warships from the first naval district are combing the waters off Cape Cod for the enemy submarine operating there, the navy department announced.

Orleans, Mass., July 22.—An enemy submarine attacked a tow off the easternmost point of Cape Cod, sank three barges, set a fourth and their tug on fire and dropped four shells on the mainland.

The action lasted an hour and was unchallenged except for a hydroplane from the Chatham naval aviation station, which circled over the U-boat causing her to submerge for only a moment, to reappear and resume firing.

The enemy submarine attacked the tow four miles south of Orleans life saving station. The tug stood by the barges until she was shelled and herself on fire when she disappeared.

The crews of the barges, comprising 16 men, three women and five children reached shore in small boats.

One Man Is Injured.

Only one of them, a man, was injured by flying wood splinters in an arm. The submarine was plainly seen from shore.

Two barges were sunk by torpedoes but it required a hundred shells to sink the third barge.

In the midst of the shelling an eleven year-old boy on a barge seized a small American flag and waved it defiantly in the faces of the German gunners. He still clung to the flag when he was brought ashore.

A hydroplane from Chatham station attacked the submarine and appeared to have driven it off while the tug still was afloat.

The attack began at 11 a. m., and lasted an hour. Two shells struck the water 500 yards from the shore which was lined with a thousand persons attracted by the firing.

The sea was calm and there was no wind. The barges had only four small lifeboats intended to accommodate five persons each but all of the crews of the barges were safely landed at Nauset Harbor.

Crew of Tug Is Landed.

The crew of the tug, 17 men, were rescued and brought ashore by the crew of the Orleans life-saving station. Only two of them were injured, one seriously. The latter was an Austrian twenty-five years of age, whose right arm was blown off.

The tug was the Perth Amboy, bound for New York with empty coal barges. The captain was J. H. Tapley, who with his crew, is being cared for here. The men were without funds and unable to proceed to Boston.

The submarine was a large one, apparently 400 feet in length.

The tow was bound south for New York. Much shipping was passing at the time and, regardless of the danger to themselves, several vessels went to the aid of the barges, the lifeboats of which were towed ashore by these other vessels.

The women and the crews were terrified, and one who was making her first trip at sea fainted when brought ashore. Of the 41 persons on the tug and barges only three were injured.

The flashes of the submarine's guns were plainly seen from shore. The tug, with the three barges in line, was puffing along slowly when surprised. The first torpedo launched struck the leading barge, which heeled over and sank quickly.

The second torpedo similarly disposed of the third barge. The second barge, smallest of the tow, was left vulnerable, and, with the tug, was shelled for an hour before she sank. The tug was hit repeatedly and was in flames when the aviator appeared, circling over the submarine. The latter quickly submerged.

ASKS FOR GREAT GRAIN CROP

Department of Agriculture Requests Farmers to Sow 47,500,000 Acres in Wheat.

Washington, July 22.—The department of agriculture it was announced has asked farmers to sow 47,500,000 acres in winter wheat this fall. This would yield approximately 667,000,000 bushels—the greatest winter wheat crop in history. While the request specifically mentions 45,000,000 acres as the area to be sown, it asks farmers if they cannot raise the total to 47,500,000 acres. The latter acreage would be a 12 per cent increase over last year, and would provide abundantly for the needs of the allied nations.

SWIFT & COMPANY U.S.A.

Fresh Beef Travels on a Rapid Schedule

Fresh beef for domestic markets goes from stockyards to retail stores within a period of about two weeks. Although chilled, this meat is not frozen; hence it cannot be stored for a rise in price.

A steer is dressed usually within twenty-four hours after purchase by the packer. The beef is held in a cooler at the packing house, at a temperature a little above freezing, for about three days.

It is then loaded into a refrigerator car where a similar temperature is maintained, and is in transit to market on an average of about six days.

Upon arrival at the branch distributing house, it is unloaded into a "cooler", and placed on sale.

Swift & Company requires all beef to be sold during the week of arrival, and the average of sales is within five days.

Any delay along the above journey means deterioration in the meat and loss to the packer.

PRESS ADMITS DEFEAT

German Neewspaprs Says Plans Betrayed by Prisoners.

One Paper Says Disaster in Marne-Champagne Offensive Cannot Be Concealed.

Paris, July 22.—The German press is realizing that the Marne-Champagne offensive has ended in disaster. One paper says:

"We are unable to conceal any longer the fact that German prisoners betrayed our offensive plans. We must recognized that the German offensive has been a failure. The German people are patiently awaiting the issue."

General Foch managed to form a formidable attacking army, says the Frankfurter Zeitung, and is now trying by a powerful counter-offensive to snatch the initiative from the German army.

But the paper questions whether the tremendous expenditure of fighting strength the counter-offensive involves may not prove a bad mistake for the French army, and believes that General Foch's attack is not merely a reply to the German attack on either side of Reims, but aims at thwarting the German plans, and that by attacking with reserves he is seeking to snatch the trumps from the German army command.

TNT Poison Through Skin.

Trinitrotoluene poisoning is a new disease in America, but one that has attracted much attention since our factories began making munitions in large quantities. There is some dispute how the TNT poisons, but the Medical Record says the weight of evidence is in favor of its absorption through the skin, though inhaling the fumes may be responsible to some extent.

BIG GAME PROBLEM

Meat Shortage Points to Need of Conservation.

Plan Proposed to Establish Sanctuaries for Wild Life in the National Reserved Forests.

Mr. Hoover predicts a meat famine which will last for years. As an offset to this, [illegible] writes in Collier's, it is proposed to establish game sanctuaries in the national reserved forests, where all kinds of big game may breed unmolested, and bills legalizing such sanctuaries are pending in congress.

The general movement for a great increase of killable big game in America has come to be termed throughout the country "the Hornaday plan." It gets its name from Dr. William T. Hornaday, director of the zoological park in New York. Doctor Hornaday is foremost among the naturalists of the country, vice president of the United States Army league and trustee of the American Defense society. For more than twenty years this champion of big game has been sounding a warning to the American people that wild life was becoming extinct and that some day our desolated forests would be looked to in vain for relief from a scarcity of home-raised meats.

Had congress and the legislatures of several states awakened to a realizing sense of the importance of protecting wild life ten years ago there might still be a food problem before the American public today, but it would be less of a calamity than it now is. Doctor Hornaday, a conservative, accurate man, estimates that several million head of big game would be available for the market annually if proper precautions had been taken a decade ago. He gives it as his opinion that even at this late day, if well protected breeding places for deer and elk were provided throughout the vast area of the wild timber and forest lands of the United States, at least a million bucks might be slaughtered annually, leaving the does to go on multiplying the denizens of wild life in our forests.

This story of literally living on the fat of the land is no fable; this idea of going "back to the tall timber" to get our daily meat is no daydream. Where did the thousands upon thousands of Indians get theirs? It is a widely known fact in the Southern states that many tenants of the cotton lands live three months of the year on rabbits, squirrels and birds without buying a pound of Western raised meat. It is an equally widely known fact that in the extreme northern and western states land owners who are fortunate enough to own a wide range of our decreasing areas of big game live by their rifles much of the time. There is nothing [illegible] in the Hornaday plan for [illegible].

Lansing—Government and state food authorities are beginning to worry about the draft and [illegible] officials have taken up with the [illegible] draft officials the question of holding threshermen of draft age. Most of the men who operate threshing machines in Michigan are in the draft. In many cases they were given deferred classification so that crops could be properly attended to, but now the congressional law on 21ers is bringing all the thresher men into the front line so that an August draft may take them.

WAR DARE DEVILS

First of the American Heroes to Storm No Man's Land.

News of United States' Declaration of War on Germany Signal for Bound Over the Top.

It was night in the trenches of France, and the Canadian contingent lay watchful for the foe, on duty at the listening posts, and night patrols crept stealthily about in No Man's Land. Their bayonets were rubbed with lamp black so that the sudden bursting of a star bomb would not betray their presence.

In this particular Canadian section, writes Henry James Buxton, were one hundred or more stalwarts from the United States—men who went over the international boundary into Canada so they could enlist. These Americans were together in one section of the trench.

One of these was Private "Scotty" Anderson, former telegraph operator, who had tapped the key from Boston to 'Frisco.

Scotty was long, lean and lank, with arms like bean poles. But his muscles were steel, and his courage without a blemish. Said Scotty to his pal, Jack Murdock:

"This is too slow for me; why can't we go over the top once in a while, and take a slam at the Boches?"

"Time apparently ain't ripe," replied Murdock.

"Ripe," snorted Scotty disgustedly; "we'd soon make the Boches ripe if we got at em with our bayonets."

"Boy's," he cried excitedly, "the United States has declared war with Germany."

Scotty was on his feet with a whoop. He grabbed the sergeant and said: "Say that again." The sergeant repeated the message.

Scotty grabbed an American flag with one hand and seized his gun with the other.

"Come on, Yanks," he yelled, "over the top for us; we've got to celebrate this!"

With a whoop 100 Americans followed Scotty over the top. The sergeant yelled something about orders, but he was brushed aside.

Yelling, the Americans rushed over No Man's Land, and leaped into the German first line trench. The onslaught was so sudden that the Germans were taken by surprise. A score or more were shot down before they were aware what had happened, and nearly a score more surrendered. The Americans returned to their own trench with their prisoners and they were greeted as heroes by their Canadian comrades.

"We had to do something to celebrate the entrance of Uncle Sam on the job," Scotty explained to a superior.

Logging in the Northwest.

In some of the high altitudes in the lumbering districts of the Northwest, logging trains are employed to bring big loads of cut timber from the forests to the mill. The snow, in a way, helps this situation, for it permits the use of an ingenious caterpillar tractor steam engine of great power. It is, practically speaking, a locomotive of the cog-wheel type and the front trucks are sleigh runners, which are steered by a man sitting in front, his hands on the steering wheel. The "engineer" concerns himself with the same duties as though he were running on a track, while the fireman has to keep steam up. Specially devised sleighs, as wide as the locomotive itself, are used to carry the logs, and the trackless engine is of such power that it can drag eight and more truckloads of this character at a time.

Why He Quit.

A new confectionery store opened its doors in the north part of the city recently, states the Indianapolis News. The proprietor hired a skilled candy maker. His troubles started early.

The candy maker went on a big spree, and in a few days the stock in the store ran low. The proprietor went out on a hunt for the candy maker and finally found him and straightened him up so he could work again.

But when he was ready for work the sugar famine was on with all of its terrors, and no sugar was obtainable.

This condition continued for several days, and when he finally got a sugar supply the candy maker was absent again.

The proprietor closed the doors, sold the remaining stock and store fixtures at auction and retired from the candy business.

Several other Owosso men were severely wounded in the same engagement. Olenberg enlisted here a year ago and his name was recognized in the casualty list by Sergeant Sackett Wright, who enlisted him, but who is now out of the service. Several Hamtramck men wounded at the same time are believed to be members of the Owosso company.

FIRST HALL MARKS

Hieroglyphics Stamped on Gold and Silver in 1300.

Guild Formed in Early Days to Protect the Buyer in the Matter of Purity of Metal.

What are the strange hieroglyphics stamped on the back of silver articles in England, and what do these marks signify? This is a question which has often puzzled the inquisitive. A tedious and technical subject, you say. On the contrary, a most absorbing and appealing one. Read here what an expert in the matter of these markings has to say, and be convinced.

"The first hall mark was used in Paris in 1300. It was employed for both gold and silver, principally the former. Some goldsmiths had been [illegible] others had, and as there was no difference in labor or perfection of detail, it was obvious that much inferior metal was being used. So a guild was founded to protect the buyer in the matter of purity of metal. The guild specified the 'Paris touch,' which meant that a certain standard of metal was to be maintained.

"About 1327 a stir took place in England for a slightly different reason. Privateering off the coast was frequent, the result being that silver vessels were brought back and made either into coins or other vessels. As the product was of a lower grade than the English standard, a goldsmiths' guild was established there also, with the rather awe-inspiring title of 'Origin and Mystery of the Fellowship of Goldsmiths.' The guild specified that standard metal must contain 925 parts of silver and 75 parts of copper. Its members had authority to travel through the provinces of the United Kingdom assaying silver vessels, and if any specimen was not up to standard it was confiscated or a fine of double its value was imposed on the maker.

"When a piece was made it was the custom to send it to the guildhall. There it was assayed and if found to be of the proper proportion it was stamped with the English hall mark, or as it was then called, the 'guildhall mark,' commonly referred to as 'the king's touch.'

"A leopard's head was the first mark employed in England and the maker also was privileged to place his own stamp upon it, which generally consisted of the first two letters of his surname. As so few people were able to read, most of the tradesmen had signs which they placed on their productions, hence the modern trade mark. In 1458 the guildhall added a letter marking the year that a piece was made, but as the full alphabet was not used, the date is very difficult to determine. Later the leopard's head was changed to a lion passant, which in turn gave way to a lion's head erased with a figure of Brittania.

"The collector of old silver must look out for the method of 'glorifying' used by unscrupulous dealers who cut the hall marks out of old spoons or forks and fit them into a big piece to mislead the unwary. It is extraordinary that so much good old English silver has survived, considering the vicissitudes through which it has passed. In the Wars of the Roses, for instance, much plate was confiscated and melted into coins for carrying on the strife."

Stones in Form of Cross.

Staurolite is a curious mineral, or stone, found only in Virginia and North Carolina, not very valuable but interesting on account of a legend that attaches to it. The name is from the Greek stauros, a cross. The stone is found in the form of a cross, or sometimes a double cross. Another name for the stone is the "fairy stone," and this also relates to the lenged that the fairies living in the caves of the mountains, on hearing the sad tidings of the death of Christ fashioned these crosses as mementos of him. There has always been some commercial demand for the stones as curious and they are worn as watch charms or on chains with lockets.

Wouldn't Be Slighted.

The principal of a school once had occasion to lick a very refractory pupil. It was very meager punishment but the child complained to his father when he went home that day. The next day the father paid the principal a visit.

"I understand," said the irate parent, "that you licked my boy yesterday."

"I did," was the reply, "but not severely."

"Well," said the father, "I want you to know that I am one of the largest taxpayers in this place and my boy is entitled to as good a licking as any other boy gets. If you slight him again, you'll hear from me in no uncertain terms."

Rope Making.

The rope industry is largely dependent upon Russian, Italian, American and Manila hemp, the latter being far more used than any other. With the exception of Manila, all these hemps are of the best fiber—that is, they are obtained from the bark of the plant. The hemp is cut, dried, and then stacked in bundles. Later, it is again spread out and exposed to dew, frost and sun, a process that rots the gums binding the filaments. The dry inner woody part of the stem then falls off and leaves the fibrous strips in condition to be cleaned and baled for transportation.

ALLIES DEMAND MORE CEREALS

American Meat Restrictions Relaxed to Effect Greater Wheat Savings.

ARGENTINE ARRIVALS SHORT

Meat Supply Here Considerably Enlarged — Food Administration, However, Warns Against Waste.

The allies have made further and increased demands for breadstuffs, these enlarged demands being caused to some degree by shortage in arrivals from the Argentine. It is, therefore necessary for the U. S. Food Administration to urge a still further reduction in the consumption of bread and breadstuffs generally if we are to meet our export necessities. The Food Administration has issued a statement explaining the situation in detail, particularly the reasons which lead it, for the purpose of centering effort for the time being upon the cereal situation to relax temporarily the restrictions on meat consumption.

Experience shows, this statement says, that the consumption of breadstuffs is intimately associated with the consumption of meat. For various reasons our supplies of meat for the next two or three months are considerably enlarged, and we can supply the allies with all of the meat products which transportation facilities render possible and at the same time somewhat increase our own consumption. In these circumstances the Food Administration considers it wise to relax the voluntary restrictions on meat consumption to some extent with a view to further decreasing bread consumption.

Conservation of food must be adjusted to meet necessities from time to time, for neither production, nor allied demands are constant factors, nor can any of these factors be anticipated for long periods in advance in the disturbed conditions in which we at present live. While the world situation is not one that warrants any relaxation in the efforts to eliminate waste or to relax economy in food, the Administration desires to secure better adjustment in food balances.

So long as the present conditions continue the only special restrictions we ask are the beefless and porkless Tuesday.

The meatless meal and the porkless Saturday are no longer asked.

The farmers of the United States are responding to the national call to increase hog production. Their increase, to all appearances, is being attained more rapidly. Of more immediate importance, however, are several complex factors which have effected an immediate increase in meat supplies.

The transportation shortage before the government took over the railroads, the bad weather in January and early in February, the large percentage of immature corn in the last harvest and the necessity of feeding this corn as rapidly as possible to save it from decay, have not only resulted in backing up the animals—particularly hogs—on the farms for a longer period of feeding, but have resulted in a great increase in their average weight and will result, with improved transportation conditions, which already appear, in larger than normal arrivals at market for the next two or three months. The weight of hogs coming to the market for the past two weeks indicates an increase in weight of from an average of 203 pounds last year to the almost unprecedented average of 232 pounds, or a net increase in their meat value of over 15 per cent. This is a distinct addition to the nation's meat supply. It therefore now seems certain that we have such enlarged supplies for at least some months to come, that we can not only increase our exports to the allies to the full extent of their transportation facilities, but at the same time can properly increase our domestic consumption.

The response of the public to our requests for reduced consumption of meat during the past few months has been most gratifying, and this service alone has enabled the government during this period to provide such supplies as transportation to the allies permitted.

The Administration also suggests that in those parts of the country where the old fashioned home preservation of pork is still the custom, this practice should be extended at the present time, as it will relieve the burden upon transportation to and from the packing houses and is economically sound as saving the cost of packing operations and at the same time will provide home supplies of pork to last over the months of decreased supplies.

The Food Administration desires to repeat that it does not want to give the impression that these are times when simplicity and moderation of living are not critically necessary, but that its sole desire is to secure an adjustment between our different food supplies and meet changing conditions from time to time and to keep the public fully and frankly advised of its position with the full confidence and reliance that whenever it becomes necessary renewed appeals for saving will met the same loyal response as in the past.

CAN'T TRUST ONE'S IMPULSE

Cases Known Where Men Who Have Forsworn Whisky and Tobacco Have Changed Their Minds.

I was much interested in Chauncey Depew's story of the way he broke away from tobacco at the ripe age of sixty years, "G. M. F." writes in the Seattle Post-Intelligencer.

"I bought a Partaga and walked up the hill to the capitol. I was feeling very bad. At the State street corner I looked at my cigar and said: 'Old friend, you have sacrificed yourself for me, and I've pretty nearly sacrificed mysef for you. Here's where you and I part company.' I tossed the cigar away, it hit the side of a passing horse car and landed in the street. The car conductor jumped off, picked it up and went on, smoking happily."

If the car conductor had not grabbed the cigar, Chauncey might have changed his mind and reclaimed it. Grandma used to say that one should never act upon impulse. I remember quitting the use of tobacco once, while fishing, and I afterward changed my mind and walked back a quarter of a mile to retrieve my snipe. The fellow who forswears booze and breaks his bottle impulsively generally manages to get another pint somewhere. Renunciation is not likely to possess a durable quality if it is handcuffed. I like to imagine a man giving up smoking, with a vest pocket full of cigars, or whisky, with a barrel of it in the cellar. I say I like to imagine it, but do they ever do that? Most smokers never quit until their draft is shut off.

MOTH'S MISSION ON EARTH

Would Seem Somewhat Hard to Explain, Unless It Be to Cause Housewife Much Worry.

Here is a life history of that frail, yellow quarter-inch moth. Those that we see fluttering about the house are probably looking for a good place to start a colony. Each female moth lays about 50 eggs. She glues each one carefully to the fiber of cloth or fur, and she is especially pleased with fuzzy fabrics, fringes, and frayed edges where she can bury her eggs deep in the ambush of tangled threads. After she has fastened all her eggs her lifework is over and she dies.

It takes the eggs just a week to hatch. Out of each one comes a wee translucently white caterpillar which starts immediately to do damage. As it eats, it builds a gallery to live in from a sort of silk of its own making, mingled with fibres torn from the fabric on which it lives. The caterpillar gnaws at your coat or your dress or your blankets for about ten weeks. Then it enlarges its feeding case to make a cocoon. Two weeks it sleeps in this cocoon, then the case bursts, the caterpillar comes out a pale, dusty yellow moth, mates, and starts another destructive cycle of life.

Fortunes in Bibles.

Eccentric people often conceal sums of money in the family Bible, where it is discovered, sometimes by chance, after their death.

Such an incident occurred in Paris. A French Poilu returned home from the front to find that his father had just died. He had left him nothing in his will, only the family Bible. Closer inspection revealed between its pages securities to the value of $65,000!

A few years ago a young nobleman who was in financial difficulties had occasion to refer to the family Bible for a date there recorded. In so doing he came across a number of Bank of England notes, amounting collectively to a considerable sum, which more than met his liabilities. Then he recalled his mother's dying words that "Help might be found in the Bible when all other sources failed." But he had paid small heed to the injunction, and certainly never dreamed of so practical a fulfillment of her words.

Qualities of Leadership.

The real fulcrum of life problems is within the man himself. It's what folks call ability. It's not glibness, superficial slickness or any power of pull. It's just a definite consciousness of ability and that ability put to work. With some folks habit plays an important part. They learn to do things by rote. As long as requirements follow the routine they make a good showing. But when the unexpected turns up they are at sea. They represent a certain type of ability, but not the best. Men seeking help of the highest grade want men of brains, initiative and resources. They want men that are unabashed before calamities. They want men that do not have to wait for orders, but who know what to do in emergency and are not afraid to assume the responsibility for their action. Such men are conscious of being leaders and ask only for opportunity to show what they can do.

Very Little Escaped Taxation.

The names of more than 150 different taxes imposed on the Egyptians of the Roman period have been learned from papyri. Besides the poll tax, they include taxes on exports and imports, on animals, on business transactions, such as sales and mortgages, imposts for the benefit of the government and its officials, from the emperor downward, who took his bakshish in the form of a national offering, at his accession. When one further considers the other burdens to which property was liable, the imposition of public duties and the discharge of costly municipal functions, the wonder is that there was anything left to tax.

CHILD ARTIST IN "HEARTS OF THE WORLD"

Children of the stage and the motion picture are ever a constant wonder to growups. The latest juvenile wonder to be seen on the screen is Master Ben Alexander, six-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Alexander of Pasadena, California, who appears as The Littlest Brother in D. W. Griffith's "Hearts of the World," at Bradley Opera House next Sunday and Monday, July 28-29, with a spec- 2:30.

This little fellow, so small that he appears almost a babe in arms, truly is a wonderful child actor. While "Hearts of the World" has been a tremendous triumph for Mr. Griffith, for the beautiful Lillian and Dorothy Gish, and for its managers, Messrs. Elliott, Comstock and Gest, surely when the final score is counted, all who have seen this remarkable production will give credit to little Ben as being wholly worthy of the Order of Merit and the War Cross for bravery.

This little chap accompanied Mr. Griffith and his company to France and to the battlefields, where, within actual range of the giant guns, he proved himself as brave as any of his older associates, acting his beautiful scenes often during bombardments by the Germans. In one scene especialy this tiny yougster risked his precious life to help in securing a very vital situation in the story. In this scene, by a fortunate circumstance, little Ben was unharmed when buried under an avalanche of plaster and laths. When audiences look upon this scene and see the tiny actor buried under the wreckage, there is a catch at the heart strings, for to many it appears as though he were caught in the awful holocaust. When the dirt is dug away and his little form moves the audience sighs with relief on seeing him blink through the dust and filth. And when he looks up and smiles, showing that he is unhurt, there is a general feeling of gratification.

All this and more is brought out so remarkably by little Ben that it is difficult to believe he is of such tender years. His emotional acting is equally unusual, and he never fails to bring tears to the eyes of his audience when, with his own little cheeks wet with the tears of sorrow, he bids farewell to his big brother who is going forth to fight for France and for liberty.

Little Ben will merit watching.

"Hearts of the World" will be presented here with the same big orchestra just as it is playing in Adrian all this week. The seat sale opens at Hay's Friday morning at 8:00 a. m.

RED CROSS NEWS

Miss Louise Phelps desires to notify all those who have unfinished convalescent or pajama suits that they are requested to bring them to headquarters between 12 and 2 p. m. on Thursday, July 25th, so that they can be finished and sent to Adrian on Friday.

There will be no work on Wednesday afternoon, but on Thursday the ladies will be there in order to finish what work there is to be done.

To the appeal for contributions of $10.00 in order to make up the sum that was lacking to make the Bargain Day collection $500.00, there have been five responses besides the original $10.00 offered, a total of $60.00. We now only lack $30.00. If there are no more $10.00 contributions, are there six people in town who will give $5.00 each to make this the biggest collection received anywhere in this section. Please give it to Mr. Frank Turner at the Herald or to Mrs. Hardy.

The Red Cross Concert Company gave a very successful concert at Clayton Thursday. In spite of the fact that it was a postponed concert the hall was more than crowded and people had to be turned away. The collection amounted to $43.40 which was very good for a small place like Clayton. Mrs Bovee was the capable local chairman. Mr. Fred Rector and Mr. Fred B Wood drove the company over in their cars and Mr. Al VanDoren drove Mrs. Robert Moore's car.

There are four concerts this week: Tuesday, 8 p. m., in Odd Fellows Hall, Ottawa Lake; Thursdey, the 25th, the M E church in Dixborough; Saturday, the 27th in the Town Hall, Napoleon; and Sunday, the 30th, at 2:30 p. m. at the Wolf Lake park. This is the concert that was to have taken place at Springville and which has been changed. The company has now raised $1706.00.

Two concerts have been arranged for in German communities early in August.

As we have not been successful in collecting much rubber, we still continue to do so for another week. Please bring all old rubber to Mr. Ovid Marsh's Auto Supply Store on Chicago street. If you cannot bring it, telephone 94, Mrs. Harry Dunn, who will send for it.

All having Junior Red Cross yarn will please bring the squares and yarn remnants at once to Miss Martha Caldwell or Miss Mildred Boyce. There will be no yarn until further notice is made in this column.

The bridegroom is the oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Newton Satterthwaite and has won a high place among his friends. LECTURE BY COL. MACKLEM

Very Interesting and Gave People new ideas as to the cause of the war

The lectures given by Col. Omar Macklem, Sunday were exceedingly interesting. In the afternoon a good sized crowd of men attended and report his talk full of awful things which he could not tell in a mixed audience. The colonel was in the Canadian army nearly two years and knows what he is talking about and some of the awfulness he saw at first hand.

In the evening as well as the afternoon he was pleasantly introduced by Dr. L. G. North and the evening lecture treated the terrible trouble from the political side. This he was able to do as he lived for many months in the home of a member of the privy council and heard the affairs of the nation discussed frequently at gatherings of the leaders.

He tells of a visit which the Kaiser made to Edward VII when he wanted England to sign up as the 3rd party with Germany and Austria. How it led to an altrecation proper and the Kaiser's face was slapped and he started for home after being there but nine hours.

Later Germany promised to make no more war boats and within three months four dreadnaughts were already for service.

Then in our Japanese trouble in California four years ago, the Japanese minister asked Balfour, the English statesman, "With whom would England side if Japan should declare war against America?"

Balfour replied, "Our Anglo-Saxon brothers."

It has been proven time and again that England now sees where we were right in our Declaration of 1776 and that has given England their constitution by which they have their present liberty.

Again after this great war had started Germany promised Belgium to Great Britian if she would stand neutral. We know her decision.

Then part of our trouble comes from disloyal or incompetent officers. Some have been shot and just the other day 178 officers were sent back to Leavenworth. Now no officer gets a commision in the U. S. army except on merit.

Col. Macklem's stories of his life in the trenches were very interesting and certainly got "under the skin" He says that on account of inefficiency and disloyalty the rate of death in the Canadian army in the first battles was 55 per cent, now it is 4½ per cent.

In England there are no autocrats. English ladies are working in the hardest lines alongside their sisters of the peasantry.

He says the American people will occupy the largest seat in that coming peace conference and we are to see to it that the Kaiser agrees to our terms of peace.

In closing he said "This war has bound together the English speaking nations of the world, the mother country, the rebellious boy (Uncle Sammie) and his sisaer (Miss Canada).

A FAIR WARNING

One That should Be Heeded by Tecumseh Residents

Frequently the first sign of kidney trouble is a slight ache or pain in the loins. Neglect of this warning makes the way easy for more serious troubles—dropsy, gravel, Bright's disease. 'Tis well to pay attention to the first sign. Weak Kidneys generally grow weaker and delay is often dangerous. Residents of this locality place reliance in Doan's Kidney Pills. This tested remedy has been used in kidney trouble over 50 years—is recommended all over the civilized world. Read the following:

British National Anthem.

The authorship of the British National anthem furnishes one of those evergreen subjects of dispute which delight the soul of individuals whose joy it is to write letters to the press, observes a British exchange. Probably there will also be conflicting evidences on the question, but the common opinion now is that Henry Carey, who died in October, 1743, was the author. At any rate, Carey sang the song as his own composition at a dinner-party in Cornhill, while shortly afterwards he approached a publisher with the manuscript. It was not at once accepted, and seems to have been first sung in public in 1745—two years after Carey's death.

Oil From Melon Seeds.

A genuine American invention originated at Rocky Ford, where a melon-grower named Burrill, with the faculty of inductive reasoning, found out that a clear, rich oil can be expressed from the seeds of cantaloupes, notes the Chicago Tribune. He submitted samples to government chemists at Washington, who notified him that their tests indicated a new table oil of the same texture and color as olive oil, one which needed no refining process. There is wide significance in this discovery, which indicates melons, squash and pumpkin seeds, as perhaps those of citrus fruit as well, as a prolific source of oil supply.

20 PER CENT TAX POSSIBLE

Congress Committee Adjourns After Discussing Drastic Plans to Raise War Revenue.

Washington, July 22.—Proposals by the ways and means committee to increase the income taxes took a wide range. Some members of the committee suggested that the normal tax be raised as high as 20 per cent and the supertax to 80 per cent. The committee adjourned until Monday without reaching any conclusions upon any of the proposed rates.

Are Aviators Born?

"There was a time when it was held that a man must be especially born for aeronautic duties," writes Henry Woodhouse, vice president of the Aerial League of America, in Everybody's.

"Experience had brought out the fact that the average young man can make an excellent aviator. Captain Guynemer, Major Bishop, Captain William Thaw, Captain Ball of the Lafayette escadrille, and practically all the famous aviators were not men who impressed anybody with being different from other young men.

"Of the thousands of allied aviators there are probably not 500 men who had seen more than a few months of military service before joining the air service. Most of them had never seen any military service.

"In planning an organization for the selection and training of aviators, the aircraft board and signal corps of the United States have had to prepare to deal entirely with men who had never seen military service, as other countries have done."

Safest Place.

We were calling at a home in East Cleveland, not more than a hundred yards from where the Nickel Plate tracks cross Superior. As we rang the bell we noticed something that gave us a shudder of apprehension, and when our hostess answered the door we gave vent to our feelings at once.

"Mrs. Emdash," we said, "do you know where your children are playing?"

"No," she gasped, paling a little with alarm. "Where are they?"

"Up there on the railroad tracks!" we told her.

She looked relieved.

"Oh," she said, "I was afraid they were playing in the street. I am so afraid of the automobiles. Won't you come in—I'll call Mr. Emdash."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

The Ex-Czarina.

I rub my eyes when I read that the czarina is a deeply scheming, intriguante who had ambiguous relations with Rasputin and aimed at the success of Germany over the country she had adopted by marriage as her own. It is only necessary to cast my memory back to the time when I was just entering womanhood and Princess Alexandra Alix was a girl some ten years my junior. Certainly I knew the shy, reserved simple child well enough to realize that she had not the mental development for any form of intrigue. Residence at Buckingham palace under the keen critical eye of an august grandmother, an eye that nothing could possibly escape, did not make for striking individuality, nor did the quiet simplicity of the German home, and the princess grew up beneath the double burden of surveillance and etiquette sharing the quiet intellectual life of an adored mother. Yet she had a certain measure of high spirits, loved tennis and dancing, and having tuned her life to play its small part in the great household orchestra, seemed happy enough.—The Bookman.

Japanese Tiger Hunters.

Tadasaburo Yamamoto, one of Japan's most wealthy men, who has immense shipping interests, returned recently from a tiger hunt in the Korean mountains. Mr. Yamamoto had with him 200 friends and professional sportsmen who are experts with the rifle. They left Tokyo on November 15 and established headquarters at Gensang, a small port on the northern coast of the Sea of Japan. The experienced sportsmen were distributed among the amateurs in the party, so that everybody was given an opportunity to bag what game was encountered.

Mr. Yamamoto and his party returned recently from the hunt after several successful weeks in the Korean mountains and has been feasting his friends on tiger steaks and other dishes from the game brought home.—New York Herald.

Value of a Good Look-Out.

Speaking of the value of a careful lookout as a protection against the submarine, the first lord of the admiralty, Sir Eric Geddes, said that if a submarine is sighted by the lookout on a vessel—whether the vessel is armed or not makes no difference—it is seven to three on the ship in favor of its getting away. Out of every ten attacks, when the submarine is sighted by the ship, seven of them fail, but of every ten attacks when the submarine is not sighted eight ships go down. In this connection we note that Sir Alfred Yarrow offered, some months ago, a monetary reward to the first seaman on any merchant vessel to detect the presence of a submarine. In the case of the American destroyer recently sunk, it will be noted that the presence of a submarine was not known until the ship was torpedoed. Will some American offer a similar bonus for the seamen on our ships?—Scientific American.

War Beer in Germany.

Reports from Berlin recently received in London show that the kaiser's subjects are facing a further reduction in the supply of beer, says the New York Times. The amount of malt available for brewing has just been fixed, and, whereas the amount for the last year was 25 per cent of the peace quota, the amount for the next year is to be only 10 per cent in North Germany, and 15 per cent in Bavaria.

When the requirements of the army and of the munitions factories—which in Germany get precedence—have been met, there will be enough malt to provide the civil population with about one-third of its consumption in peace time, but the beer is only the thin "war beer." The barley harvest in the rest of Germany has been bad, and there is now a great increase in the proportion of barley that is used for food.

After the War.

"I shall want some money today, dear," said George Pipwhistle to his wife before the latter set out for business one morning in 1927. And Mrs. Pipwhistle, grumbling the while, handed out the chips and waved her hand from the garden gate as she made a dash for the eight-nineteen.

Three hours after Mrs. P. had returned from the city, George Pipwhistle came in. He had a mountain of parcels in his arms and the light of triumph in his eyes.

"Yes," he panted, as he untied the parcels and disclosed four corkscrews, a stuffed owl, an assortment of paint brushes, a remnant of a cloth-bound "Uncle Tom's Cabin," six walking sticks, a toasting fork, a brace of tin openers, and a roasting jack. "Such a scramble! It's just about the best bargain sale that ever was!"

HENRY FOURTH OF GERMANY

King's Troubles in Helping to Rule the World Included Much Suffering and Humiliation.

Of all the wrangling monarchs who had a part in running the world during the infancy of government none was more picturesque than Henry IV of Germany. And he suffered perhaps the greatest humiliation that ever was visited upon a king, writes a historian. Gregory VII became pope in the seventh decade of the eleventh century. The election did not please Henry in the least. Under the pilfered title of Roman king he claimed a share in papal affairs and did not propose to be treated lightly. But Gregory persuaded him to confirm his elevation. Then dissension broke out between the two, and Henry's partisans unseated the pope, who retired to Canossa, in the Apennines.

Gregory retaliated on Henry by wielding that most powerful weapon of the church—excommunication. This casting out of the faith was the most feared of all fates in ancient days, and even Henry's close advisers fell away from him. The king faced the storm bravely enough, but things went against him and he decided to propitiate Gregory. So, in the midst of winter he crossed the Alps, a truly prodigious undertaking in those times, and presented himself before the castle where Gregory was staying, asking audience. At first Gregory refused, but then consented on condition that Henry dismiss all his attendants and enter alone. The German complied and quitted his suite to go inside the walls.

Further on he came to a second gate, where he was told that the pope had ordered him divested of all his regal ornaments and clothing before proceeding. Henry reluctantly consented, and received in exchange a coarse woolen tunic. Wearing this, he passed through the gate, thinking his troubles over. But there remained a last gate and a final trial. For three days and nights he was kept standing outside the gate in severe weather, fasting from morning until night. At the end of that time Gregory finally had the king ushered before him and agreed to lift the ban if Henry would consent to a truce between them, made distinctly on the pope's terms. To this Henry agreed and was restored to the church.

He left soon after, nursing his hatred for Gregory and determined to square accounts. This led to the pope nominating another prince for Henry's throne and to endless warfare. The king was excommunicated a second time and continued under the ban most of his troublous life. There have been few instances of a monarch undergoing any such humiliation as that he experienced, standing outside the pope's door for three days in freezing weather.

Now a K. P.

A young aviator at one of the aviation fields, wrote his mother a letter recently, and among other things he said that he had "got to be a K. P." On receipt of the letter the good mother, with love in her heart for her boy, hastened to a jewelry store and informed the jeweler that she wished to buy a K. of P. ring for her son, saying that she had received a letter from him stating that he had become a K. P. A ring was selected, paid for and prepared for mailing. In due time the "K. P. aviator" received the package containing the ring and a letter from his mother, in which she commended him on the step he had taken and that she was sending him this ring to show her appreciation.

The young man at once saw that his mother was laboring under a mistake, as he was not a member of the Knights of Pythias, as she supposed, but instead he was kitchen police at the aviation grounds. He at once wrote his mother, explaining the meaning of his letter, and kept the matter a secret for some time, but it was too good, and he told the story to a party of people who were visiting at the field.

WHEN MASEFIELD FIRST SANG

Author of Many Songs as a Youngster Often Lulled His Boss' Baby to Sleep.

In the hidden recesses of Paradise alley you may see a service flag with one star. But how are you to see Paradise alley? It is in Greenwich village. The entrance is through a hole in the wall in Sixth avenue, between Jefferson Market jail and Eleventh street, recalls a writer in the New York Mail.

In Paradise alley there is a row of quaint dwellings that seem to slant in outrageous fashion. In fact, everything in Paradise alley is strange to the point of queerness. But once within the alley you forget the world and its bustle. You are in a land far away.

Around the corner from Paradise alley is Patchin place. If memory does not serve ill it was in this queer back water spot that John Masefield ate and slept and rocked the cradle of a man child in the days when he "tended bar" in New York town. A queer lad was John Mansefield. A thousand songs struggled for birth in his brain. The world knows many of these songs today, for he ranks in the second flight of living poets.

But when John Masefield "tended bar" in Greenwich village and ate and slept at the boss' home in Patchin place, the only part of the public that got the benefit of his poems was the boss' baby, for Masefield, while he waited for the boss' wife to cook a meal or "set" the table, had to rock the cradle and sing to keep the child from raising the roof with his wails.

The babe never cried when John Masefield sang. It is the testimony of that good wife of the boss that she never could make head or tail out of the songs the queer youth sang—they neither had rhyme, nor reason, nor things that songs should have. They were like chants, she says.

But the baby seemed to make them out, even if his mother could not. Never a wail came from him while John Masefield sang.

Popularity for the Sunflower.

The sunflower is probably destined to play and important part in the economic affairs of the United States as a substitute for linseed, states the Christian Science Monitor. A member of the National Paint, Oil and Varnish association recently read a report which declared that the cultivation of the sunflower for this purpose can be made to yield a gross return to the farmer of from $30 to $36 an acre. Everything in these days seems to be working out to the profit of Kansas. Cannot something be done with the jimson weed, so as to please Missouri?

Casting Finest Statuary.

The world's finest bronze statuary is cast in sand found in France that contains about 80 per cent silica and 20 per cent alumina.

BARN'S PART IN SOCIAL LIFE

Small Boy Whose Father Possessed One Used to Be a Good Deal of an Autocrat.

In simpler times, and in parts of the United States where simple customs prevailed, the popular small boy of the neighborhood was not necessarily the son of the richest or most prominent family, but, more likely, the boy in whose yard there was a good rain barrel, a smooth cellar door, or a barn. The boy who would now and then, from pure favor, or in return for marbles, or some other valuable consideration, permit other boys to "holler" down his rain barrel, or slide down his cellar door, or, greatest privilege of all, play in his father's barn, was the boy whose friendship was best worth cultivating.

Some boy, in the small community of a generation ago, was sure to have a father who possessed a barn, and, generally speaking, he intuitively felt his power, and exercised it over the other boys on his street or in his part of the town. Wherever he went, the barn stood back of him and gave him support and influence. He could say and do things to the other boys that they would not dare say or do to one another, simply because the boy he said or did things to could see the barn door behind him, open or closed, as the case might be.

To be one of those entitled to admission to the barn was to be in the right set; to be denied the privilege of playing in the barn was to suffer social ostracism.

AMONG WORST OF BAD HABITS

Procrastination, When One Has Work That Must Be Done, Bound to Result in Failure.

He was an excellent workman. Few things were in his specialty which he could not do better than his mates. But he was not a success. Others who had worked at their calling much less time passed him in the upward climb of progress. His fault, his crime, lay in one thing—he had the "tomorrow" habit.

When he had three days in which to do a piece of work, he squandered the first two in idle speculation as to the amount of time absolutely necessary to complete his task. If he decided that, by hurrying, he could perform that task in six hours, he temporized until the beginning of the six-hour period. He was eternally loafing and hurrying, eternally wasting time and making time do double service. His work became more and more slovenly. Other workmen surpassed him. Before long he was superannuated.

If you find yourself figuring on the amount of time you can loaf and still get your work done, watch out. If you do not, the tomorrow habit will get you.—Milwaukee Journal.

New Kind of Honeymoon.

A domestic long in the service of a well-known Alabama family recently gave "notice" of two weeks, explaining that she desired to get married. The mistress managed to secure a successor, but was dismayed to discover that the new servant could not report for duty until a week subsequent to the time fixed for the wedding of her predecessor. So the present incumbent was asked whether she would not agree to postpone the happy event for a week. This the domestic declined to do. However, she said that she didn't in the least mind getting married and continuing the household duties till her successor could put in an appearance. The husband-elect offering no objections, this arrangement was agreed upon, and an hour or so after the marriage ceremony the domestic was performing her duties just as before.

"I presume your husband has returned to his work, as you have done," the mistress chanced casually to remark.

"No'm," responded the girl, in a matter-of-fact tone; "Joe, he done gone on his honeymoon."

AMUSING PIECE OF "NERVE"

How Cool Impudence of Young British Naval Officers Relieved Tension of Situation.

In "Facing the Hindenburg Line," by Burris A. Jenkins, may be found a number of incidents in which naval men prove their coolness and heroism. Nobody knows all the stories of coolness and heroism among the naval men, says the author. We shall not learn them till the war is over, but here is one that perhaps the censors will allow to go by. It was told by a medical officer who was aboard the Franconia when she was sunk acting as a transport.

"We had five or six naval officers aboard. They were sitting in the smoking room—remember the smoking lounge in the old Franconia? It was very long, as long as this dining room and twice as broad. They had just ordered whisky sodas. Suddenly there was an explosion and the steel floor of the smoking room just buckled up and burst apart in the middle of the ship. One of those officers called the steward and said:

"'I ask you to witness, steward, that we have paid for these whisky sodas and have not had time to drink them.'

"Then the rascals went below, got on their lifebelts, came back again, asked the steward for a big sheet of foolscap, wrote out a long, 'we, the undersigned,' setting forth that they had ordered six whisky sodas, for which they had paid nine shillings, with a sixpence tip, and had not been allowed to drink them. Thereupon they entered a claim against the British government for the nine shillings and sixpence, with accrued interest from date. Then they walked in a body up to the bridge and handed it to the skipper. The old man told me afterward he never was so grateful to anybody as to these cool young devils for the steadying and bucking up influence of their impudence."

Easy Solution of Difficulty.

A pompous old gentleman upon reaching his home one evening found the street blockaded and a heap of earth piled against his doorstep. Observing a workman wielding his shovel in a nearby ditch, he accosted a passing policeman and complained that the laborer was trespassing upon private property.

"What do yez mean by throwin' dirt on th' gintleman's steps?" demanded the officer.

"There's no other place t' throw it!" replied the workman indifferently.

"Well, thin, in that case, yez had better dig another hole an' throw it in there!"

GERMANS ARE CONTINUING THEIR RETREAT FAR BEHIND THEIR LINES

French and American Guns, Are Doubtless Hampering Movements of Their Enormous War Supplies—Americans Capture Village of Jaulgonne.

GERMANS STRIKE BACK AT ALLIES NORTHWEST OF CHATEAU THIERRY

Enemy Pushed Back On Both Sides of the Ourcq River—Allied Forces Have Reached the Railroad Line Between Armentieres and Coincy.

With the American Army on the Aisne-Marne Front — Information reaching the intelligence department of the American army July 23 indicated the Germans are continuing their retreat. Far behind their lines they are being subjected to heavy fire by French and American guns, which doubtless is hampering movements of their enormous supplies.

Fighting continued all day north and northeast of Chateau Thierry. Germans by no means were slack in accepting Allied challenges and struck back with great vigor. Fighting immediately north of Chateau Thierry was so fierce as almost to rob it of suggestion it was a rearguard action. Nevertheless, it was known that while the intense struggle was progressing the work of moving stores was under way.

At least at one point the fighting was more nearly in open order than has been as usual. With a minimum artillery fire by both sides, Americans advanced their skirmish line over yellow wheat fields, dotted with poppies and through clumps of wood. It was Indian fighting modernized by machine gun work.

Germans left on the field a great number of machine gunners in nests. Many of these guns were captured and the entire personnel of a machine gun company is swelling the already big list of prisoners taken by Americans.

Americans and French, fighting south of Soissons, have captured four German tanks, which were operating against them in conjunction with German infantry. The Allied artillery immediately spotted the tanks as they came into action and quickly put four of them out of commission. Four others retreated.

Northwest of Chateau Thierry artillery played an important part. Here Americans encountered stiffest resistance, a village in this sector being reduced by American guns, as its occupation by Germans was imminent. The enemy was thus forced into the open, where heavy punishment was inflicted.

Enemy Pushed Back.

South of Soissons the drive of the Franco-American forces toward Fere-en-Tardenois has pushed further back Germans on both sides of the Ourcq river. South of the river, notwitstanding fierce resistance, Allied forces reached the railroad line between Armentieres and Coincy running southward to Chateau Thierry, and pressed on beyond it.

This advance brings French and American troops relatively to within seven miles of Fere-en-Tardenois and also gives them a dominating position for big-gun play over the eastern section of the railway line running from Armentieres to Fere-en Tardenois.

On the northern bank of the Marne, east of Chateau Thierry, the town of Jaulgonne, from which Americans retreated during the German offensive, has been recaptured and left in the near by advancing troops. East of Jaulgonne the French likewise have vanced their line on the north bank of the Marne and slung to their newly won positions notwithstanding violence of German counter moves and the statement of the German war office that they were driven out.

U-Boat Sinks Another Boat.

Washington—German submarines have struck again off the New England coast. This time an undersea raider sank with a bomb, the Gloucester fleshing schooner Robert and Richard, near Cashe bank, 65 miles east by southeast of Cape Porpoise, on the southeastern coast of Maine at 10:30 o'clock Monday morning.

This was approximately 100 miles north of the spot where a U-boat sank four coal barges off Orleans, Cape Cod, Sunday morning and the time was almost 24 hours later to the minute than the opening of the Cape Cod sinking. The crew of 22 escaped in dories.

Foe Counter Attacking Desperately.

The drive of American and French forces into the Soissons-Rheims salient between Soissons and the region of the Marne continues. The Germans at some points are counter-attacking desperately, but their efforts thus far have proved futile in more than impeding the advance.

Further ground has been gained by Allied forces south of Soissons, in the center of the line along the Ourcq river and north and east of Chateau Thierry. Additional large numbers of Germans have been made prison*ers and numerous quantities of guns* and war materials have been captured.

In the Marne region American troops on the northern bank of the stream are well on the heels of the feeling enemy east of Chateau Thierry, between Shartves and Gland.

Grand Rapids—The cost of education has advanced $4.65 a pupil a year. The budget increase is $226,145.52 to a total of $1,518,447.63.

Gaylord—Burglars obtained $500 worth of goods from the Czapran department store and escaped in the automobile of William McCoy.

Flint—John Long, who failed to leave with a Custer increment last August, was arrested when visiting his mother and will be sent to camp.

Pontiac—Arthur Bailey, tool-maker, drowned Saturday afternoon in Crystal Lake. The body was recovered. Widow and four-year-old son survive.

Ionia—An immigration officer from Detroit served notices on 12 alien inmates of the Michigan Reformatory, who at the expiration of their sentences will be deported.

GERMANS ADMIT FAILURE

General Foch Great Army of Reserves Worry Teuton Leaders.

Washington—An official dispatch from Switzerland says German newspapers not only admit that the German offensive has failed, but express fear that General Foch has built up an army of reserves that will enable him to wrest the offensive from the German high command.

The Frankfurter Zeitung asserts that the entire strategical plan of Hindenburg is compromised by the attack on the Aisne-Marne front.

"Somethink new appears in the strategical situation," says the paper. "General Foch has been able to form an important army of reserves. Foch's attack aims to deal a blow in the back of Boehm's army and should it be successful it might compel this army to retreat under most unfavorable condi*tions.*

"Foch's attack threatens the whole of Hindenburg's plans."

The Strassburger Post says the public had in general attached too great hopes to the German offensive at Rheims, and asks:

"From where do these troops come that the American transports have really brought more quickly than they were expected?"

The Munchener Neuste Nachrichten says France is still very strong; that America has more than 500,000 soldiers in France, and that the English army has been reconstructed and put into a perfect state. It adds that it will take weeks perhaps to wrest the initiative from General Foch.

The Koenische Volks Zeitung says the fact must no longer be hidden that German deserters have made use of their knowledge of the plans of oper*ations to betray their country.*

85TH DIV. BOUND FOR FRANCE

First Leg of Journey Covered Without A Hitch—70 Trains Needed

Battle Creek, Mich.—Between 2,000 and 3,000 men of the July draft, introduced to Camp Custer July 22, found the biggest wilderness of empty buildings they had ever seen. Here most of them learned for the first time that the Eighty-fifth division is now far beyond the boundries of Michigan, on the first stage of its journey overseas. Simultaneously the strain under which the newspaper correspondents have been working of late was relieved, with permission from the intelligence office to announce that the division has departed.

On Thursday, July 11, the first of 70 trains carrying the Eighty-fifth division left Camp Custer. It was followed by the remaining 69 with clocklike precision. In every instance the soldiers were aboard and the train ready to move before its appointed hour. Battle Creek, watching the trains move through the Michigan Central yards, cheered, waved flags and exchanged words with the soldiers, and then "forgot" as each train moved on regularly.

Each hour found hundreds of civilians crowded on the depot platform and for two blocks in either direction. Women cried a few fainted, and it was considered an excellent move that farewells had to be expressed by the waving handkerchiefs, the throwing of a kiss, or the hastily shouted "good-bye and good luck."

The morale of the troops was excellent. They yelled as much as they dared yell, under the circumstances, and their attitude in no way suggested the serious aspect of the journey.

Major-General Chase W. Kennedy and his staff left Friday evening, July 12, on one of the finest appointed troop trains that ever moved in the United States. Automatically the camp reverted to the command of Brigadier-General Guy H. Preston, and finally to Colonel Charles Paine, of the One Hundred and Sixtieth depot brigade, who is now commandant.

In all some 30,000 men were moved, trains leaving seven or eight daily for a week. H. E. Newton, representing the troop movement section of the American Railway association, was in charge and he worked night and day to keep the schedule moving. Trains for each day were in the Camp Custer yards the night before they were to depart and all that remained for the day itself was for the men to walk aboard. Space between the tracks had to be filled in, at a real expense, with cinders and dirt, so that the embarkation was easily accomplished.

Battle Creek—Calhoun County has not had a soaking rain for three weeks. Crops are suffering.

Bay City—E. J. Mason has been commissioned a lieutenant at Carlstrom Field, Fla., as a pursuit pilot.

Lawrence—Seymur Lawrence lit a match while filling his gas tank. He was killed and the car was destroyed.

U.S. WIRE CONTROL EFFECTIVE AUG. 1

DURING PERIOD OF WAR BURLESON WILL HAVE COMPLETE CONTROL OF SYSTEMS.

COMPENSATION IS PROVIDED

Postmaster-General Burleson Pledges Efficient Service for Least Cost, Will Handle Lines Personally.

Washington—Acting under authority recently conferred by congress, President Wilson Tuesday issued a proclamation taking all telephone and telegraph lines under government operation and control at midnight Wednesday, July 31.

Although congress empowered him to do so, the president did not include wireless systems, because the navy already is in control of them; and he also did not include ocean cables presumably because contracts of the cable companies with foreign governments, on whose shores they land, contain clauses respecting government operation which raised involved questions. The navy already is also in practical control of the cables through its censorship.

The president's proclamation placed administration of the systems with Postmaster General Burleson and provided that until otherwise decided the present managements and employes will continue. Present financial arrangements also will continue subject to approval of the postmaster-general.

In a statement accompanying the president's proclamation Postmaster General Burleson announced to the country that his policy would be one of least possible interference with wire communication systems consistent with the interests and needs of the government.

Press wire service, Mr. Burleson said, would be interfered with only to improve its facilities, and farmers' telephones would be interfered with only to facilitate their connection with the larger lines. No general policy has been decided upon, the postmaster-general announced, and public notice will be given of any plans to change present arrangements.

Postmaster-General Burleson will personally take charge of administration of wire communications and will be assisted by a committee of three composed of John L. Koons, first assistant postmaster-general, in matters of organization and administration; David J. Lewis, former congressman from Maryland, now a member of the tariff commission, on matters of operation, and William H. Lamar, solicitor for the postoffice department, on matters of finance.

17 ARRESTED IN RUBBER GRAFT

Hundreds of Thousands of Dollars of Contracts Tainted With Fraud.

New York.—Extensive conspiracies, involving bribery and graft, in connection with army contracts for rubber raincoats, sent to soldiers in France, were disclosed recently by department of justice officials, simultaneously with the arrest of 17 officers and employes of 15 manufacturing companies in New York and Brooklyn, on charges of bribery, fraud, or conspiracy.

Hundreds of thousands of dollars' worth of raincoat contracts are tainted with fraud, already uncovered by department of justice agents, and other disclosures affecting army orders for clothing, soldiers' equipment, machinery and supplies, and involving arrests on criminal charges may be made soon, it was learned.

WILLIAM POWELL GETS 20 YEARS

Detroit—William Powell, of Lansing, was sentenced to 20 years at the Federal penitentiary at Leavenworth, Kan., and fined $10,000 by Judge Tuttle Tuesday afternoon for violation of the espionage act.

The maximum penalty for Powell's outspoken sympathy for Germany was given by Judge Tuttle as an example to others of a similar frame of mind. The jury brought in a verdict of guilty, with a recommendation for leniency because of his loyal wife and small children, but the judge sent the jury back, saying he would take no such recommendation. Within a few minutes the jurors returned with a verdict of guilty.

BAKER MAY CHANGE DRAFT AGE

Will Ask Congress for a Larger Military Mobilization.

Washington—Secretary Baker announced Tuesday that on the reconvening of congress he will be present with his request for new appropriations, plans for modification of the draft ages and a "somewhat larger military mobilization."

The plan concerns mobilization of a huge American army probably upward of 5,000,000 men.

No announcement was made as to whether the draft ages are to be lowered or raised, but it is known that the prevailing judgment of the secretary's advisors is to lower them.

Albion—L. J. Wolcott, who served three terms as representative from the Eastern Calhoun district, will again be a Republican candidate. Rep. Carl Robinson is now a lieutenant in France and may not run.

Lansing—State draft officials can not understand the slowness with which Michigan selects volunteer for special mechanical training in universities. Another 700 men are wanted for the U. of M. work next month. They must apply to local boards.

Grand Rapids—Headquarters for Sen. Smith's campaign claim 4,000 signatures to petitions, with the necessary 4,000 others on the way. Newberry workers had this section well organized weeks ago and Ford boosters in both parties have been active.

$50,000,000,000 FOR WAR VOTED

CHAIRMAN SHERLY, HOUSE COMMITTEE ON APPROPRIATIONS JUST MADE FIGURES PUBLIC.

BIG FIRMS PAY $10,000,000,000

Washington—Appropriations made by the two sessions of the war congress have almost reached the $50,000,000,000 mark.

The amount appropriated by the first session following declaration of war, was $18,879,177,014.96. The total amount thus far appropriated by the present session, including authorizations for contracts which will have to be met by appropriations at a later time, is $29,791,241,773.67.

This does not include two bills, passed by the house but not acted upon by the senate, appropriating $21,712,283. Grand total of these appropriations is $48,692,131,071.65.

Chairman Sherly, house committee on appropriations, made these figures public, in sending to the house the totals of this year's allowances. He pointed out that the expenditures in the next fiscal year will not reach anything like the sum total of approximately $30,000,000,000, which congress has authorized. As matter of fact, he says, the probability is that such expenditures will be at least five or six billions of dollars less than that amount.

The statement shows that of the total of more than $18,000,000,000 appropriated for the fiscal year 1918, there is an unexpended balance of $5,310,315,030.44, and the end of the fiscal year 1919 is expected to show a still larger unexpended balance.

Inclusion in the new war revenue bill designed to raise $8,000,000,000 by taxation, of a 10 per cent normal tax on all incomes of individuals after deduction of $1,000 exemption for unmarried persons and $2,000 exemption for married persons has been tentatively agreed on by the house ways and means committee. This was understood after the second session of the committee which is framing the bill for presentation in the house when congress reconvenes the last of August.

Chairman Kitchin after the session stated that data before the committee shows that during the calendar year 1918 net income reported by corporations will reach $10,000,000,000 and by individuals $7,000,000,000.

1918 THEFT COST $38,000,000

Systematic Thief Hunt Will Be Instituted By the Government.

New York.—More than $38,000,000 was lost last year through theft of freight in transit in the United States, it was announced July 21. Federal authorities, determined to make freight as safe as mail, have perfected a plan whereby shippers of freight will be secure against larceny while their property is in the hands of government employes.

Beginning July 22, a systematic thief hunt will be instituted by the government which will employ thousands of men in the work, in New York, St. Louis, Chicago, Memphis, Kansas City, Denver and San Francisco.

The railroad administration determined on this action on receipt of a report of the magnitude of the freight thefts, in one alone of which merchandise valued at $110,000 was stolen from a single car near Kansas City.

AUSTRIAN CABINET LET OUT

Emperor Charles, Accepted Resignations of the Ministers.

London.—The entire Austrian cabinet has resigned, says an Exchanged Telegraph dispatch from Copenhagen. Emperor Charles, it is added, has accepted the resignations of the ministers.

Very serious revolts and mutinies have taken place in Bohemia and Hungary. At Manaros-Zjet 150 officers and 500 Czecho-Slovaks, who mutinied, were shot, and a further 3,000 arrested.

From reliable source, news has come to hand that serious mutinies have taken place in Dalmatia and Bohemia. Jugo-Slav soldiers have deserted by the wholesale, and escaped to the mountains, after killing their officers and officials. Armed bands, completely organized, are said to be operating in some districts.

ROOSEVELT DECLINES TO RUN

Issues Statement In Which He Refuses to Run For Governor.

Oyster Bay, N. Y.—Colonel Theodore Roosevelt issued a statement Monday night in which he declared that under no circumstances would he accept the Republican nomination for governor of New York.

The former president made his announcement when he sent a telegram to Attorney General Merton E. Lewis in Albany in reply to a message which Mr. Lewis sent several days ago offering to withdraw from the race if the colonel would become a candidate.

Benton Harbor—Walter Terril, 45 years old, who admitted attacking a St. Joseph girl, has been sentenced by Circuit Judge Charles White to 70 years in Marquette prison. Threats of mobbing the prisoner were heard. The girl still is in a critical condition. The attack was the most brutal in Berrien County criminal history.

East Lansing—A dearth of high class sires is one of the difficulties Michigan sheepmen must prepare for this season, in the opinion of animal husbandry men of Michigan Agricultural College. Western flockmasters according to reports coming to the college, have been buying up Michigan rams with such zeal that the supply of animals available for Michigan flocks is expected to be much below normal.

Truman H. Newberry

Michigan's Gift to the Nation

'Tis true, Michigan never fell short in her duties to the country at large. A big state always coming through in a big way.

But now there comes still another opportunity. This year we elect senators—representatives of ours—to protect our rights and those of the country at large.

We must send to the senate men who are real Americans and who will uphold American ideals to the uttermost.

We have such a man in Truman H. Newberry who has in the past and is now serving his country in a big way. His past experience wonderfully fits him for this important position.

He's a fighter from the word go. A man of iron will, energetic and not to be bullied or coerced. Firm in his convictions and positive in his determination. His stand for the right has long been the topic of men who know. He is the people's man and Michigan's gift to the nation.

LOOKING OUT FOR THE BOYS

Truman H. Newberry Is Thoughtful of Them Now Just As He Was In Spanish-American War Days.

It was Emanuel Oliver, in charge of an elevator at the Michigan Soldiers' Home, who was speaking.

"I was with Newberry on the Yosemite in the Spanish-American war. He was lieutenant; I was mess steward and under his orders. The other boys in the Yosemite feel the same way about it, too. They have reason to do so. When any of the boys were sick, Lieutenant Newberry would see to it that they had delicacies from the officers' mess. When they were broke, he provided them with money. When they were in trouble, they felt free to go to him and tell him about it, and he helped them out. After it was all over and we came back to the good old United States, some of the boys did not have funds with which to get home. It was Newberry who sent them on their homeward journey. You bet, all the old Yosemite boys swear by Newberry."

It is no different now than it was in the Spanish-American War days. Truman H. Newberry is again in service as a commander in the Third Naval District. His two boys also enlisted and are serving; one in the army, the other in the navy. Once again he is looking after the boys, and with his own sons in uniform, his interest in the men is keener than ever, if that were possible.

"His interest in and sympathy for the men of the navy is one of the finest things about this institution," says Lieutenant Joseph F. Wright, of the commissary department of Third Naval District Headquarters, at 280 Broadway, New York.

"There is almost constantly a line of young officers and blue-jackets to see the commander. The reasons for their calls show better than anything else could in what degree of esteem and admiration he is held by those under him. One lad calls to express his thanks for the opportunity, given him by Commander Newberry, of entering the officers' training school, and his determination to forge steadily ahead in the ranks of the fighting men. Another asks for advice on the books to study that he may progress in his chosen profession. He is confident that, though the commander is a busy man, he will always take time to lend a helping hand to any youngster anxious to get on. Perhaps a third will drop in to report the progress he is making in his studies to fit himself for higher rank. They all have some personal reason for feeling grateful, because the commander never fails to take an interest in what his men are doing.

"And the sight of Commander Newberry in action is an inspiring one. When one stops to consider that here is a man working with and taking orders from officers who looked to him for their orders and advancement when, as secretary of the navy, he was the commanding officer of the entire naval fighting force, one marvels at the spirit that is actuating America in this war. Commander Newberry works long hours every day, Sundays, holidays and all. He's giving the best there is in him to his country."

We can please you--sure.

We handle only that kind—hence our conclusion is natural enough, isn't it?

Get some of our Coffee.

And some of that Tea that we are all the time talking about.

Don't forget about the Breakfast Bacon

Include some of our Canned Vegetables—They are extra quality—

And all the great number of every day needs we take pains to have JUST RIGHT.

To subscribers anywhere within Lenawee County $1.50 per year in advance

To subscribers living outside the county $1.75 per year in advance.

To subscribers living in Canada or at other points outside the United States where 1c postage per issue is required, $2.00 per year in advance.

NOT INVENTOR OF CAMERA

Honor That Has Been Given by Many to Distinguished Italian Seems to Be Undeserved.

Because in the year 1589 Giambattista de la Porta, in his book on "natural magic," gives a description of the camera obscura the invention of that instrument is ascribed generally to him. It is claimed for him that he not only used a lens but an inclined mirror as well, thus anticipating by hundreds of years cameras of a reflex order. It is not, however, to be imagined that his instrument was of the portable kind. Rather was it a dark chamber in which an image of the outdoor-scene was thrown upon a whitened wall, through the medium of a small hole on the opposite side.

It is not at all unlikely that Porta was simply the recorder of a phenomenon known to others than himself, but not by them reduced to writing. There was one distinguished individual, at all events, who had observed the same optical effect, thus anticipating Porta by some years. It was about the beginning of the sixteenth century that Leonardo da Vinci said, "If you will place yourself in an hermetically closed room facing a building, a landscape, or any other object directly lighted by the sun, and then cut a hole in the shutter, an image of the object outside will be thrown upon any surface facing the hole, and it will be reversed (inverted)."

Dowagiac—Mark Murray, Bell telephone lineman, touched a 1,100 volt wire here, and dropped 30 feet from a pole to his death. While working over the man with a respirator some one lifted a cover from the machine, and sprayed caustic soda over half a dozen workers. City Engineer William Reynolds received the full force of the blast in his face and is in a serious condition.

Ann Arbor—The regents of the University of Michigan Friday granted an 18-month leave of absence to Professors H. B. Merrick and G. O. Carey and Instructor Hugh Brodie, of the surveying section of the engineering college that they might become members of an engineering staff to survey the north end of the Grand canal in China. It is expected they will sail August 15.

Owosso—Mrs. Carles McNamara, Jr., 20 years old, and Miss Ellen McNamara, 8-year-old daughter of Chas. McNamara, Sr., both of Shiawassee township, near Corunna, were drowned recently in the Shiawassee river while bathing. Mrs. McNamara tried to swim across the river with the child on her back and was evidently overcome. The bodies of both victims were recovered.

Battle Creek—Damage totaling $8,000 resulted from an explosion and fire at the Consumers Power company's Emmett street plant. Employe recharging a lighting arrester at 40,000 voltage [illegible] and the oil contents ignited, [illegible] the whole battery [illegible]. It was necessary to have [illegible] power shut off at Albion [illegible] before the firemen could work.

Flint—Flint soldiers of [illegible] formerly in the Michigan National Guard now on German soil, have come to grips with the enemy and acquitted themselves well, according to letters from Captain Thomas [illegible], company One Hundred and Twenty-fifth, [illegible] with [illegible] and three others [illegible] commended by General [illegible] for bravery.

Lansing—The state board of agriculture has [illegible] Agricultural [illegible] and of Miss Mary E. Edmonds as dean of home economics. These two positions [illegible] title of dean of women. Mrs. [illegible] and Miss Edmonds will take up their duties, [illegible] to Georgia L. White who goes to Cornell.

Detroit—While working on a scaffold 40 feet above ground M. Procco and Daniel H. Brown, employes at the Solvay Process company's plant, River Rouge, were hurled from the platform by escaping steam and killed. The platform had been erected to make repairs to the pipe and the men were unaware that steam was to be turned into it, believing the fact they were at work was known to their superiors, it is stated.

CITY OF FILTH AND MISERY

Bagdad Has Fallen Far From Proud Position She Is Said to Have Occupied in the Past.

Bagdad is glorious only by reflection from the past. The houses of the present town are crude constructions of brick, mostly from ancient ruins and adobe; living is primitive; sanitation is nonexistent; the streets or rather lanes, so narrow at times that one beast of burden fills the whole space from blank wall to blank wall, are sewers and rubbish heaps, and the reservoir for water supply is the Tigris river, which divides the city into two parts, just where all the filth of the city's lanes pours into it. In the business sections, the bazaars, the streets are roofed over with rude screens of palm logs covered with mats and reeds as a protection against the burning heat of the summer sun.

The houses are provided with serdabs, a sort of cellar, for the place of resort during daytime in the long summer months, and when there is no serdab, with mats of thorns, shields to bring before the windows and keep drenched with water. At night the whole town sleeps upon the flat roof, and this most amiable feature of the house, is practically unused. The heat of summer is intense, and everything is constructed to alleviate its discomfort, consequently one suffers miserably during the brief rainy period from the cold and damp at home and abroad. The death rate is enormous.—Dr. John P. Peters in American Review of Reviews.

ALEUT YOUNGSTERS AT PLAY

Manage to Have Periods of "Fun," Much as Do the Children of More Favored Nations.

The Aleut boys and girls are very like boys and girls in the States, when you get under the furs and dirt and brown skins. They like fun as well as our children. One of them writes: "I was at Atka all last winter. I trapped two blue fox, which I am sending down to have sold for me. I also learned how to use a gun. Yesterday we went out with one of the teachers and I killed an eagle. The marshal gave me 70 cents for killing it because, he said, I was a girl."

Picking melinas (large raspberries) is a favorite occupation. The bushes grow on the side of the mountain, and to pick the berries one must either sit down and dig his heels into the bank or lie down and hang on with one hand. In spite of care the picker often takes an involuntary coast down the hill. Bogholes, pitfalls and mountain creeks add to the difficulties of the quest.

Clam digging is another change from home life that is welcomed by the children. They do this when, as one of the small boys said, "the tide is getting downer and downer." Salmon catching and curing is another help to the family larder.—Alice M. Guernsey in World Outlook.

Many-Sided Missionary.

A missionary in India gives some idea of the multiplicity of a missionary's duties. He tells us that he is: a minister of the Gospel, preaching whenever possible. A medical man with a large practice. A schoolmaster with 30 to 40 small schools under his supervision. A magistrate for the settlement of local disputes, the nearest government official being 30 miles away. A road contractor, being responsible for the upkeep and repair of 50 miles of public roads. A tree planter. (This and the last office are means of providing employment for the unemployed.) A builder, attending to the erection of his own churches and hospitals. A meteorologist, reaching and reporting the rainfall at the request of the government. A money-lender and the supervisor of a local agricultural bank. A literary man, translator and reviser. A colporteur. A seller of soap and tea, to raise money for missionary purposes.

Saul of Tarsus.

Saul of Tarsus, known as Paul after his conversion, referring to himself (II Cor. 10:11), says "his bodily presence is weak and his speech contemptible." Ernest Renan, the French writer, after consulting Jewish and Roman writings, says of him: "Paul was small in size, and his personal appearance did not correspond with the greatness of his soul. He was ugly, short, stout and stooping, and his broad shoulders awkwardly sustained a little bald head. His sallow countenance was half hidden in a thick beard; his nose was aquiline, his eyes piercing, and his eyebrows heavy and joined across his forehead. . . . His constitution was not healthy, though at the same time its endurance was proved by the way in which he supported an existence full of fatigues and sufferings."

Roger Bacon's Speculum.

The camera obscura, prototype of the photographic camera of today, is said to have been known to Roger Bacon—who lived in the thirteenth century. By some authorities he is even being credited with its invention, says James Thomson in Photo-Era.

The "speculum" of Roger Bacon, however, may have been simply of the order of the "busy-bodies" commonly employed in some continental European countries, and not unknown in Philadelphia, where in old parts of the city they may be seen in use almost any day.

The "busy-body" is a mirror fastened outside of a window at such an angle as to reflect the view up the street.

Grand Rapids—Grand Rapids sweltered Sunday in the highest temperature recorded this season. The mercury climbed to 103 on the street during midafternoon, and had fallen but six degrees at 6 o'clock Sunday night. Many minor automobile accidents resulted from congestion of traffic along the country roads.

Port Huron—Admission of a state ment that he did not want any soldiers standing in his houses may get Charles Schiel in trouble. He brought eviction proceedings against the family of George Greaux, now at Great Lakes Naval Training Station. Schiel has given the Red Cross $1.00 and bought one $50 Liberty Bond.

Grand Rapids—Grand Rapids is facing a fire hazard as the result of an edict by the local fuel administrator C. B. Kelsey, allowing the city only 50 per cent of its usual supply of hard coal. Since all of the engines of the fire department burn hard coal continuously the supply is gone. Soft coal and substitutes have failed and the engines must be outfitted with soft coal burners. The commission has not taken action. Alterations will cost $6,000.

MEN WALK OUT

Having a grudge against one of their fellow workmen who was reported as a wife beater, beating his wife Sunday and knocking a six months old babe out of her arms, the men at the Heesen Bros. factory walked out Monday night when Robt. Quackenbush, the foreman, refused to discharge the man. Mr. Heesen was away at the time and on his return he made an investigation of the facts. The workmen called on Mr. Heesen Thursday afternoon and after a short conference, decided to return to work this (Friday) morning, and the offending workman was retained on the job, Mr. Heesen finding no cause for action.

D. W. GRIFFITH'S "HEARTS OF THE WORLD"

"Hearts of the World" was 18 months in the making. The production is not in any sense a war play, but a love story of the great war, with the conflict serving as the grim background.

The battle scenes were taken on the battlefields of France by permission and with the assisance of the British and French goverrments.

Mr. Griffith and many of his principal players, including Lillian and Dorothy Gish, Robert Barron and George A. Stegmann, were under actual bombardment three times, on one occasion for a period covering four hours.

Mr. Griffith had to wear a steel helmet to protect him from shrapnel and a gas mask to protect his lungs during the taking of many of the stirring scenes. Many of the most striking scenes in the film owe their effects to the remarkable courage of Mr. Griffith and his intrepid cameraman, "Billy" Bitzer, who was with him under fire hundreds of times. Neither Mr. Griffith or any of his company received injuries other than a slight wound in Mr. Griffith's arm from flying shrapnel.

David Lloyd George, prime minister of England, received Mr. Griffith in private audience in the British cabinet room in Downing street, London. Upon Mr. Griffith's departure, Lloyd George said, "God speed you in your great work and grant that you may accomplish your desires." In the prologue of the story of "Hearts of the World" Lloyd George is seen shaking hands with Mr. Griffith prior to the latter's departure for the French lines.

More than 120,000 feet of film were taken, although only 12,000 feet were used in the production.

There is no papier mache scenery, nor any artificial scenery of any kind used in the production; no studio "props," no supernumeraries, no "fakes" or artificialities whatsoever throughout the entire film.

Mr. Griffith decribes "Hearts of the World" as "A story of the great war," with the actual conflict itself serving only as the grim background for the unfolding tale of life in a small French village.

"Hearts of the World" will be at the Bradley Opera House next Sunday and Monday, July 28-29, with a special matinee Sunday at 2:30.

The same big orchestra which is playing the production all week at Adrian will furnish the music for each performance here. The seat sale opened at Hay's (Phone 99) this morning.

Sergt. Elwood Comfort arrived home this week from San Antonio, Texas, for a visit with his parents.

After an absence from home for 30 years Charles E. Wilson of Salmo, British Columbia, is visiting his mother and his broher Richard Wilson and family. The mother is 90 years old and had despaired of ever seeing her son again.

The home of Mrs B. J. Pulver was the scene of a very pleasant event Wednesday afternoon when about thirty of the friends of Miss Josephine Hayden gave her a miscellaneous shower A large parasol decorated with flags and hearts was suspended between the two rooms and the presents were taken from this and presented to the bride elect with some appropriate verse. The presents were many and beautiful showing the love felt by all for Miss Josephine

A two course supper was served and the afternoon was spent in social chat. As the twilight shadows fell the guests departed for their homes each one having spent a happy hour with their friend and pronouncing Mrs. Pulver a royal entertainer.

The out of town guests were Mrs. Crane and two daughters of Pittsfield, Ill., Mrs. Dwight Clarkson, Fremont, O., Mrs. Hague, Toledo.

BARGAIN DAY

Nature has proved wondrous kind and we had another bright bargain day Wednesday. An immense crowd gathered in the evening and our streets were packed with autos and other rigs.

The Clinton band gave a very pleasing concert during the evening which was enjoyed by everyone.

The first on the program was an athletic and slack wire performance by two Japs which showed a great amount of skill and was one of the best ever given in town.

The Xylophone musical act was certainly fine and received well deserved applause

The Contortions of the human frog were great but left one with an uncanny feeling. The performance taken as a whole was especially good and the people far and near were well repaid for coming to town.

A CLOSE CALL

Just after the entertainment Wednesday evening fire was discovered in an old shed back of the Produce building, the alarm was given at once and the fire department were soon on hand but the fire was nearly out by the use of chemicals

A shed used by D. L. Whitenack & Co. had been fired in some unknown way and the high board fence back of it was burning Had it not been extinguished so soon several barns and sheds would have been in flames and no end of damage done

With the immense crowd of people that were on the streets it is a marvel there was not a panic.

TECUMSEH WOMAN PASSES AWAY

Lois Loana Stacy, Last of an Old and Prominent Tecumseh Family, Dies at Her Home Early Thursday Morning

WAS A SISTER OF FORMER EDITORS OF THIS PAPER

Lois Loana Stacy passed peacefully away at her home on West Chicago street at 6 o'clock Thursday morning after a long illness covering a period of four years, death coming at last as a relief to the tired body.

She was born in Tecumseh May 20th, 1845, in the home now occupied by Col. and Mrs. A. S. Cummings and was the last of an old and prominent family. Her father, Judge Consider A. Stacy, came to Michigan from New York State in 1836, settling in Tecumseh where he spent the remainder of his long and useful lifetime. He married Mary Maria Walker of Broome County, N. Y., in August 1838.

Loana was the second of a family of seven children, five living to attain maturity and two dying in infancy. She was educated in the Tecumseh schools and finished her education at St. Mary's Academy, South Bend, Ind. An accomplished musician, she devoted many years to teaching music and had pupils all through this section of the country.

She was a life-long member of the Universalist church and was for a number of years the clerk of the parish. After the death of her father in November, 1888, she received the appointment of postmistress of the Tecumseh office, serving for two years and finishing out her father's term. She was an active member of the Monday Club, serving as its secretary and treasurer and a member of the Order of Eastern Star.

The Stacy family have always been prominently associated with the life and activities of Tecumseh and gave much of their talent to its growth and welfare. Her father, Judge Stacy, was one of Michigan's most able lawyers. He was a vigorous reasoner, able debater, quick in perception and versatile in natural talents. In social life he weilded a large influence.

For 39 years this paper was owned and edited by some member of the Stacy family. In 1874 it was purchased by Scovel C. and George N. Stacy. After a short time George retired and S. C. continued as editor and owner until the time of his death in 1895. With the death of Scovel his brother George N. came from Elgin, Ill., to assume the management of the paper and to care for his mother and sister. George continued until his death in December, 1907, when his wife, Gertrude, took up the work laid down by her husband. Her death occurring in May, 1913, removed the last of the Stacys from the management of the Herald.

Loana's long life was mostly spent in the old home which she loved and which held so many happy associations and memories. Her's was a life of devotion and service to a large family, this service she gave cheerfully. With the passing of Loana the life of the Stacy family is removed but the influence of this fine family will live on and be cherished long by this community.

"Sunset and evening star,
And one clear call for me!
And may there be no moaning of the bar
When I put out to sea."

The funeral services will be held from the house Saturday afternoon at 3:30. Rev. E. H. Conklin of Charlotte will officiate. Burial on the family lot at Brookside.

MRS. JAMES BOYD

Mrs Mary Boyd passed away at her home Wednesday, July 24, 1918, after a lingering illness of a cancerous nature, at the age of 49 years A husband and nine children survive her, three having preceded her in death.

Funeral services were held at the home this (Friday) afternoon with Rev. W. A. Rex officiating. Burial in Brookside cemetery

WITH THE 85TH

Through the kindness of Mrs. George Church we are alowed to print the following letter from her son Corp. Ernest Church:

85th Division, Camp Mills N. Y.
July 17, 1918

My Dear Mother;

We arrived here last night about 9 o'clock after nearly 54 hours on the road. It was surely a grand old trip, a pleasure I never dreamed of. We didn't get much sleep on the road because we were busy looking out the windows and I guess nothing escaped our eyes, I know at least nothing got by me.

We left Camp Custer 3 p. m. Saturday afternoon and our first stop was Detroit where an electric locomotive was hooked on to pull us through the tunnel. We stopped in the Detroit depot about 30 minutes, where we were fed by the Red Cross and I know none of us will ever forget Detroit, because this is what they gave us, 2 oranges, 2 glasses of milk, 2 chocolate bars, 1 cup cake, 2 sandwiches and 2 pkgs of cigarettes. We had just got through with our supper before we pulled into Detroit, and so the two together, you can just imagine how full we all were.

Our next stop was Windsor where another steam engine was hooked on and while there the committee of welcome gave us post cards all stamped, but the stamps did us no good because we were not allowed to mail anything along the line and of course at Camp Mills Canadian stamps were no good.

We whirled through Canada good and fast, because I have never seen a country so level for such a long stretch as there. The crops were more advanced in Canada than anywhere on our trip, corn was more than waist high.

Our next stop was St. Thomas, where engines were changed again, we got in about 10:30 p. m. The railroad runs right along a street and everybody along that street was out It must be a large city because we were a log time going through there. It had mammoth large residences on both sides of the streets and its depot was a beautiful building.

Our next stop was Niagara, as it was 1 a. m., when we were there, we couldn't set much of intertst. As we passed over the big suspension bridge we could see the rapids below and the gorge railway along each side, but as far as the falls is concerned we could only hear it.

The next place of interest along our route was Seneca Lake, 42 miles long, but the width of it on the average is hardly more than a half mile, it resembles a river more than a lake. The scenery along this lake is certainly grand. Houses are scattered at different elevations on this slope, from close to the lake to the top of the high bank.

Our first stop where we were allowed to leave the train was Sayre, Penn., where we marched through the streets for a while, for a little exercise. Across from its depot was a beautiful park, where we rested for about 1 hour. The little city was certainly filled with soldiers because a troop train was there when we pulled in and another one came in before we we left. Troop trains were leaving Custer every hour, so you can realize the troops passing over this route Each train was composed of from 12 to 15 coaches. It was said it would take 70 trains to move the 85th Division and our train was the 23rd train and was composed of 3 coaches, we had good luck all the way except when in the mountains of Penn. we would get stuck once in awhile on some of those steep grades.

Sayre is a beautiful city and is surrounded by mountains, its streets are shaded by some of the prettiest maple trees. Its residenes are mostly new and very large, with screened in porches, which took my eye.

After we left Sayre, our course was through the mountains all the way, except the last few miles coming into Jersey City. Most of the way followed some river valley, which kept the train winding in and out like a snake. We passed through several tunnels after we left the river valley in crossing the mountains. We were several hours going 100 miles, because the grades were steep. We saw several towns in the mountains and every one we went through the people would rush toward the train to wave at us as the train went by. Well in fact very town along our whole trip the people would come running toward the train with their arms waving or with flags to give us a good send off.

We stopped at a little town in the mountains called Mountain Top and I guess it was rightly named, because we were up some elevation and had noticed from there it was mostly down grade. Another beautiful little city was Mauch Chunck, where we stopped a few minutes. It had one of the best depots along the line, and it seemed to be a busy place.

We passed by the Bethlehem Steel Works, which is a mammoth concern, which it runs night and day, it was a sight to see its mighty furnaces and huge smokestacks.

We got into Jersey City about 11 p. m. Sunday night, the first thing we saw was the Statue of Liberty. We spent the rest of the night in the yards and the next morning after breakfast we marched around Jersey City for a while. Then we boarded the ferry for a Long Island city. We passed under mammoth bridges, which were a great sight and the tall buildings of New York I never will forget.

We spent several hours at Long Island City before we took the train for Camp Mills, but we were glad to get into camp because we were nearly tired out. This camp is all tents, nothing like Custer, its only a camp for embarkation before going across. Our quarantine of measles is off now and I wish our car was here, because Long Island has some of the grandest drives. We are near an aviation camp also. Its nothing to see 12 to 15 aeroplanes in air at one time. We were watching them all the time at first, but now they are an old story.

I am Corporal of a different squad now, I have Fred Chase in my squad and a fine bunch of fellows, we are trying to make our squad the best in the whole company.

I didn't get your last letter until I got here, I got Fathers letter here today and was glad to hear from both of you.

Well I must close for this time, I think I have written enough for this time. We are going to get a 24 hour pass to New York City before we go Won't that be fine?

With love to all from your son,
Ernest.

RED CROSS NEWS

Do not forget the ice-cream social on Billy Gibson's farm, Friday evening, at 7:30. Lovely home made ice cream and cake, music and dancing, and the money you give for it goes to beat the Kaiser.

Miss Phelps expects to send the full quota of convalescent suits (35) to Adrian Friday or Saturday, also 8 suits of pajamas, 45 pairs of grey socks, and 35 pairs of white knitted socks on our quota.

The Headquarters are waiting for supplies in order to take up work on all lines again, they are expected almost any time.

Work on childrens clothes will proceed as usual next week, the Headquarters will be glad of workers on all work days next week.

The Red Cross Concert Company gave a concert at Ottawa Lake on Tuesday, and collected $33.50. Mr. Fred B. Wood, Mr. Tommy Elliot, Mr. Lester Rogers and Mr. Duaine Service drove the company over.

Thursday night the company went to Dixborough.

All but $8.00 has been subscribed towards making the Wednesday night collections amount to $500.00. Will anyone make up this amount or will two people give $4.00 each, or four people $2.00 each? We nearly have it, the biggest collection taken in the county, let us finish it up.

Mrs. Hardy would be grateful if those who have not yet paid their subscriptions would let her have the amount, so that the deal can be closed up, and the amounts acknowledged as soon as possible in this column.

The company has 18 concerts spoken for during July, August and September.

Please offer your cars to Mrs. R. S. Moore, transportation manager, we must have the help of the car owners, if we are to fulfill our engagements.

We have been told by people that it makes them tired to drive at night, that it makes their back ache. Remember this that Canada lost tens of thousands of men in the first months, because she had not enough Red Cross help. The backs of our boys in the trenches are aching for days and weeks, a man has a piece of his skull shot away, he lives in agony in the shell hole, screaming for a drink of water, and there is no Red Cross worker to give it to him, because some one's back at home, ached. A man is shot through the lungs, every breath is like a bayonet thrust through his back, yet he may have to wait hours and perhaps days before he is picked up. Another is shot through the knee and gangrene develops because the Red Cross can not furnish enough orderlies to pick the wounded up quick enough. Another man is infected because the other man had to lie with a open wound in the slime and mud, and tetanus, an agony he would hardly even wish the Kaiser, develops, and he dies after the most excruciating torture known to mankind.

That we have cars at all to loan the Red Cross we owe to the men who are fighting at the front. If it was no for them, the Prussian officers would be riding in our cars and we would be working in the fields under the lash of the Kaiser's henchmen. Our backs ache, and our boys are undergoing the tortures of the damned in the prisons of Germany. We must raise the money for the Red Cross, it is an honour to be permitted to take part in the work of defending America; when you work for the Red Cross, you are working for your own back, from the lash of the Hun.

Publicity Director.

"OVER THE TOP"

WITH THAT NEW BUILDING

The logical time to go "over the top" is when everything is in your favor. Therefore, it's time to BUILD NOW—and of course you'll BUILD OF WOOD. You've never had such an opportunity as you have now to buy Lumber at "rock bottom" prices—you may never again have the chance to make your crops buy TWICE as much lumber as they did before.

The same amount of grain that built a modest cottage in 1914 will buy a cozy bungalow this year. The same number of hogs that built a small inadequate barn in 1914 will give you a really practical building now. The same number of cattle you sold in 1914 to buy that implement shed will now bring you an implement shed, a poultry house and a garage! Why?

Because Lumber has not advanced in price in anywhere near the same proportion as other commodities—other than wood building materials included.

Get "over the top" with your buildings when everything is in your favor.

A FAIR WARNING

One That should Be Heeded by Tecumseh Residents

Frequently the first sign of kidney trouble is a slight ache or pain in the loins. Neglect of this warning makes the way easy for more serious troubles—dropsy, gravel, Bright's disease. 'Tis well to pay attention to the first sign. Weak Kidneys generally grow weaker and delay is often dangerous. Residents of this locality place reliance in Doan's Kidney Pills. This tested remedy has been used in kidney trouble over 50 years—is recommended all over the civilized world. Read the following:

Mrs. W. Service, Logan St., Tecumseh, says: "My kidneys were out of order and I had weakness and soreness across my back. I felt run down and tired out and could hardly keep going. I had frequent headaches too and my kidneys acted irregularly. I used Doan's Kidney Pills, procured from Wright's & Son's Drug store and they helped me right away. They strengthened my back and put my kidneys in good order."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Service had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfgrs., Buffalo, N. Y. adv

PROUD OF OLD CLOCK TOWER

Citizens of Halifax Cherish Building Which Was Erected by the Father of Queen Victoria.

Halifax, N. S., the chief British military and naval station in America, is one of the most strongly fortified in the world. The citadel, its chief fortress, pronounced by engineers the most formidable in America, occupies a commanding eminence overlooking the city and harbor. The citadel was begun about 1798, under the supervision of the duke of Kent, father of Queen Victoria, and was completed in 1814. At the time the fortification was begun the duke was governor of Nova Scotia and commander in chief of the British forces in America. The citadel was named by him in honor of his father, George III, king of Great Britain.

The duke of Kent left other reminders of his residence in Halifax, among them the quaint old clock tower and clock at the foot of Garrison hill and opposite to the main entrance of Fort George. The clock in the tower, which was brought from England, and is still keeping excellent time, was the gift of George III.

Though quaint and somewhat crude in appearance, and suffering by contrast with the more modern structures in its vicinity, the old tower and clock are still cherished with pride by the citizens of Halifax as a reminder of the residence among them of one who would himself have been king of England had he lived long enough.

Blind Persons Show Skill.

Blind persons, who have been born blind, are, as is well known, exceedingly clever with their fingers, but it is not often one hears of a watchmaker who was born blind, and yet there have been instances of the kind. One famous watchmaker's name was Rippin and, although completely blind, he could take to pieces and put together again watches of the most delicate construction with the greatest ease and in quicker time than most watchmakers who have the advantage of good eyesight. On one occasion some of the tiny wheels and screws used in his trade were stolen from him, but the thief was captured with the property on his person, and Rippin identified it by his delicate sense of touch. Another watch and clockmaker brought up his blind son to his trade, and he proved so skillful that on more than one occasion he detected faults in timepieces which other tradesmen had failed to discover.

The Cost of Life.

"To live is always to be hurt in some way," said a young voice recently. It was the half-resentful, half wondering voice of one still new to the experiences of existence, and questioning their justice.

The statement is true, and the more fully alive one is, the more keenly are the hurts felt. Every joy brings with it its possible price of suffering. Every love opens a door to sorrow, every gift brings its weight of responsibility; wider knowledge brings the larger drain upon sympathy. The higher one rises in the scale of being, the greater becomes not only the capacity for joy, but also the twin capacity for suffering, but who would choose to be a clod to avoid feeling, a block of marble to escape the pain of a living soul?

Demand for Canned Milk of Goats.

California has a large ranch stocked with Swiss and Nubian goats, the milk from which is condensed and canned. Goats' milk is said to be very rich, and is in demand as nourishing food for invalids. A well-bred milch goat will produce 12 times its weight in milk. A cow produces yearly three times her weight if she is a good milker, but the goat cannot be depended upon for a steady supply of milk at all times through the year. Therefore it is said that canning is the best method of making a goat dairy profitable. An 11-ounce can of condensed goat milk retails at 20 cents in the West, and the sale has thus far been confined chiefly to drug stores.—Pacific Daily Review.

Alma—Although the call for the July quota from Gratiot county for the national army is 190 men, the Gratiot draft board will not send that many to Camp Custer after all available men in class 1 are selected. The board has just 64 men that it can send to camp. The men go July 25.

Flint—De Hull N. Travis, who recently gave up his law practice here to take up war work as associate director of Liberty theaters under the war department commission on training camp activities, has been made director of the new department of public information for the commission.

Flint—So as to help his neighbors with the harvest, Joseph Steinhoff, of New Lothrop, north of here, stowed his hay before it was thoroughly dry. Spontaneous combustion caused a blaze which destroyed the barn and contents, with a loss of $6,000, while Steinhoff and his help were working on another farm.

LAKE YIELDS TONS OF SALT

Natural Phenomenon in South Australia Constant Source of Revenue to Its Owner.

On Yorks peninsula, in South Australia, says a writer in the Wide World, is a wonderful lake of pure salt. It is a huge depression in the earth which fills up in the winter months. In the hot summer sun the water quickly evaporates, leaving a thick deposit of almost pure salt. Seen from a distance the surface of the lake has all the appearance of being covered with a sheet of ice. That salt crust is so thick and strong that men and even carts and plows can traverse it with perfect safety. Yet below the crust there is a considerable body of sluggish water.

After the rays of the summer sun have played their part, the salt is gathered. It is just raked into heaps, and these pyramids of salt are a striking feature of the landscape. The salt is now shoveled into carts and conveyed to various works on the seaboard, to undergo the process of refining. Gathering the salt is trying work on account of the great heat and the dazzling reflection. Often it is necessary for the men to wear colored glasses to protect the eyes. After the loose salt has been collected from the surface, a special kind of plow is run over it, when another harvest of the valuable material can be reaped. The yield of salt from this strange lake amounts to several thousand tons a year, and it is among the finest obtainable. The lake is several square miles in area and is naturally a very valuable property.

WILL SPLIT BIGGEST ROCKS

Seemingly Nothing in Nature Is Able to Withstand Expansive Force of Tree's Roots.

This might very well be considered a nature puzzle. Why should any sensible tree apparently select a dry rock for a home when there is plenty of good soil all about in which to grow? As a matter of fact there is so little rainfall where one tree grows, in New Mexico, that it is something of a wonder to an eastern traveler how any tree, even with its roots spreading through the soil in every direction, can stand the long drought of months' duration. When a cedar tree, however, is seen to be growing out of a crack in a rock in an almost desert region the matter becomes a veritable mystery. Even under such adverse conditions, trees will split the hardest of rock. No rock can withstand the expansive force of a growing tree. Sometimes the rock is cracked off in pieces gradually, but oftentimes a big rock is split fairly in two, the tree roots relentlessly forcing their way downward. Time is no consideration to the tree and every spring it returns to the attack, as the new sap invigorates its roots and trunk, never giving a fraction of an inch of what it has once gained. The fight is a slow but entirely one-sided affair.

Give Your Child His Own Room.

In Farm and Fireside, a woman writing about children says:

"The craving for companionship is a powerful factor in the life of every boy or girl, but a certain amount of privacy and wholesome quiet is just as necessary to the child's development and happiness. I have known families where life was made miserable for everyone because of the constant bickering and quarreling among the children. When the house was enlarged so that each one could have his own room, they suddenly lost their fretful ways, and improved rapidly in disposition.

"It means a great deal to a boy or girl to know that his small possessions are sacred from the unsympathetic eyes and hands of the grown folks. I have always trained my children to respect each other's rights. Even if he hasn't a room to himself, each child has certain shelves, drawers and nooks sacred to his own use."

Sensible Table Discourse.

Speaking of autobiographic recipes for domestic use, there's nothing better than Benjamin Franklin's description of how the table was managed by his father when he was a boy. "At this table he took care to have some sensible friend to converse with and he always started a useful topic of discourse which might improve the minds of his children. By this means he turned our attention to the proper conduct of life and no critical notice was ever taken of the victuals on the table—whether they were cooked well or ill, whether they were in season or out of season. Thus I was brought up to be quite indifferent as to the kind of food that was set before me and to this day if I am asked after dinner to tell what I have dined upon I am scarce able to tell."

Spaniards Gave Name to Cigar.

However strange it may appear, it is a well-established fact that the word cigar is derived, though in a roundabout way, from the cicade—that is, from the Spanish "cigarral," the place where the cicade (in Spanish "cigara") sings—the garden. The name cigarral is generally applied to a kind of pleasure garden and summer house (as in the cigarrales de Toledo), and in Cuba in particular to a tobacco garden or nursery. After the discovery of the new world the Spaniards who planted tobacco in their gardens when offering the plant to their friends were wont to say: "Es un cigarro de mi cigarral," as we would say "a flower from our garden." The name remained.

Adrian—More than $2,100 worth of whisky and beer was seized here Saturday night by Col. Vandercook and Capt. Cook of the Michigan state constabulary.

Lansing—The state tax payable in December this year amounts to $9,108,000, according to the auditor general, O. B. Fuller. This is a decrease of $160,000 over the state tax for 1917.

Muskegon—Registration given deferred classification because of dependents must support their families or be placed in Class 1, according to an announcement of the local draft board.

Muskegon—Edward A. Holbrook, a veteran railroad agent, is dead at Hackley hospital of paralysis, aged 71 years. He was born at Hastings, Mich., and for many years practiced law there, having been a graduate of the University of Michigan.

Detroit—The Michigan Division of the Woman's Defense Committee will participate in a nation-wide drive from July 29 to August 11 to obtain a student nurse reserve of 25,000 women. Michigan's quota is 1,500, and women from 19 to 35 years old will be recruited.

AMERICANS ADVANCE THROUGH DEADLY BARRAGE FIRE AS IF ON PARADE

Their Forward Movement Is Regarded As a Brilliant Operation in View of the Determined Countering of Germans—French Praise Yanks.

AMERICANS PROVE THEMSELVES MASTERS IN FIERCE HAND TO HAND STREET FIGHTING

Prussian Guards and Bavarians Fought in Accordance With Training, Discipline and Traditions, But Were Outwitted and Outfought.

With the American Army on the Aisne-Marne Front—Through a barrage, as deadly as any the Germans have laid down on any sector for months, American soldiers, comprising men from the middle west and eastern states, pushed their line forward a little more Tuesday. It forms the apex of the long Allied front. Their progress was considerable, though less than two miles, but it is regarded a brilliant operation in view of the determined countering by Germans.

On either side the French also moved forward, while steady pressure was maintained against the east and west flanks.

Information early Tuesday indicated withdrawal of the Fourth Guards, but it developed that that renowned organization and Bavarians were still on the front, and strong opposition they offered justified their reputation.

But their sacrifice was in vain. The Americans withstood two heavy attacks during Monday night and at daylight began their operations which left them Tuesday night well to the north of Sergy, on the slopes approaching the heavy woods beyond Nesles, a little town directly east of Seringes-et-Nesles, whose retention Germans bitterly opposed.

The east end of the line swings northeasterly opposite this point and then drops off sharply in the direction of Sierges and Roncheres. The Ourcq river has been left far behind, the line being pushed forward across the zone to the northwest. Germans are holding positions in Nesles forest, from which their guns are shelling ineffectively.

It was late in the day before the whole of Seringes was wholly cleared. Germans clung to the northern part of the town tenaciously and used machine guns murderously. Neither side used artillery in this particular battle. There was hand to hand fighting in the streets, in which Americans proved the masters, driving the enemy before them.

The story of the fight for the possession of Meurcy farm, lying directly south of Seringes, will long be remembered in the history of the division. The Germans, on their withdrawal, left behind a strong force of machine gunners and infantry. Americans moved forward through the yellow wheat fields, which were sprayed with bullets. But they advanced as though on drill grounds.

Americans laid down a heavy artillery fire. Notwithstanding this, many Germans remained when it came to hand-to-hand fighting. In a group of farm buildings, the enemy had set up a strong defense. Here Germans stuck to their guns and Americans rushed them and killed the gunners at their posts.

It was a little battle without mercy, and typical of similar engagements occurring along the whole line. Prussian guards and Bavarians everywhere fought in accordance with training discipline and traditions, but were outwitted and outfought.

To the north of the farm, up the long slopes leading to the woods, Americans encountered the fiercest exhibition of Germany's war science. Germans laid down a barrage, which, it is said, was a heavy as had ever been employed. American guns replied heavily.

The order for the advance came and the line moved forward across the grain fields directly through the barrage. On a nearby hillside the chief staff officers watched th operation. They saw shells fall, in some cases leaving long gaps in the line, but the Americans never faltered.

Through the barrage Americans went into German positions, attacking fiercely the machine gun and infantrymen. The barrage died away, Germans leaving the work of resisting to the men they had failed to protect with their havy guns.

Germans were "mopped up" and Americans held their new line just east of the forest. Not many prisoners were taken, but here and there a few were rounded up and brought in. Sergeant Louis Loetz, Sioux City, contributed 14 He attacked 18 Germans who had become separated from their command killing four of them and capturing the others.

Yanks Must Leave Gold in U. S.

Washington.—Volunteers, enlisted men and civilians attached to the army, are prohibited in a war department order from taking gold with them when leaving for foreign service. Attention was called to the fact that the act is a violation of the embargo against gold exports and the suggestion was made that the men obtain "service checks" or travelers checks and letters of credit before leaving the United States.

Cadillac—Only one contest has developed for county offices in Wexford at the primary. That is between C. C. Daugherty of Cadillac and A. C. Fessenden of Boon for the Republican nomination as county treasurer.

Grand Rapids—George Valleau, postmaster at Lake Ann, Benzie County, has been arrested by United States Marshal Herman O'Connor on a warrant charging the embezzlement of $3,365 of postal funds during the two and one-half years he has been in office He was arraigned in Cadillac before Commissioner Breen and upon waiving examination was held to the grand jury. He was then brought to Grand Rapids. Valleau runs a store in connection with the Lake Ann postoffice. George Valleau is 51 years old.

DEFECTION OF TURKEY, IF TRUE, RELEASES BIG ARMY

Turkey Entered the War By a Declaration Against Russia, October 29, 1914.

London.—Relations between Germany and Turkey have been severed, according to direct information from Constantinople. This announcement is made by the Copenhagen correspondent of the Exchange Telegraph company.

Washington.—The defection of Turkey, if true, is the beginning of the end of Germany's "Mittel-Europa" (Middle Europe) project of world domination. It means elimination of the Sultan as a belligerent and removal of the threat at Egypt and India. Turkey entered the war by a declaration against Russia, October 29, 1914.

Its chief campaigns were:

Gallipoli peninsula and defense of the Dardanelles against French and British fleets and armies.

The Caucasus front against Russians.

The Mesopotamia front against the British.

Mesopotamia and Palestine campaigns and defense of the Suez canal have tied up 1,000,000 British soldiers. A peace between the Allies and Turkey, which seems the only logical deduction from the report the Sublime Porte has broken with Berlin, would release these great forces for service on the western front or for reinforcing Allied armies in Albania and Macedonia.

Defeat of Austrian and Bulgarian armies in Albania, Serbia and Macedonia would open the entire southeastern flank of the dual monarchy and the march on Vienna could be begun. With internal conditions seething and Czecho-Slovaks and Jugo-Slavs ready for revolt, the Hapsburg monarchy could not withstand this new threat.

Along the Piave and mountain fronts of the Tyrol and northern Italy, King Charles is having all he can do to stem the tide. It is doubtful whether Germany could spare forces to bolster up the eastern front, now America has entered the war in force and the Kaiser is facing defeat in the west.

Fliers Battle Seven Maneating Sharks.

New York—A United States naval aviator and his mechanic in a wrecked hydro-aeroplane were rescued in the nick of time after an hour's battle with seven man-eating sharks 17 miles off Ocean City, N. J.

A Cuban fruit steamship picked up the fliers when they were at the point of exhaustion. They had been searching for German submarines when engine trouble forced them to land on the water.

Seven huge sharks attacked the plane. The aviators fired on the sharks, but the shots took no effect.

—An Atlantic Port—A naval observation balloon was destroyed off this port when it was struck by lightning. The balloon was being towed to a naval station and two observers had just descended to the deck of the tug when the bolt struck.

Michigan Flier Meets Death.

Aberdeen, Miss. — Announcement was made Tuesday night of the death late yesterday at Payne aviation field, near here, of Second Lieutenant Roland L. Rose, Evart, Mich. At a hight of 700 feet the machine went into a tail spin and crashed to the ground. The lieutenant's flying companion was uninjured.

Army Supply Handling Cost Heavy.

Washington.—Estimated costs of erection of warehouses, wharves, piers and other facilities for handling of supplies in this country will amount to $218,000,000, the war department announced and will cover 33,800,000 feet of floor space.

New Loans to Allies $112,000,000.

Washington.—Loans to the Allies, totaling $112,000,000, were announced by the treasury department. France received $100,000,000, Belgium $9,000,000. This brought the total of loans to the Allies to $6,492,040,000.

England's War Cost $34,920,000 Daily.

London, via Ottawa.—The war is costing the people of Great Britain $34,920,000 per day, or $1,455,000 every hour, or nearly $25,000 a minute, according to a statement prepared by the imperial authorities.

Eaton Rapids—Practically all growing crops in this section are being hit hard by the hot, dry weather A few more days of the drought will make the results serious, particularly for corn, late potatoes and garden truck.

Hillsdale—Roy Housinger and William Simpson of Jackson are held here on the charge of bringing liquor into a dry state. The men with two others were in a wreck near Hargets Corners Sunday night, their auto going into a ditch when one wheel came off.

Ann Arbor—Mrs. John R. Rood, wife of Prof. Rood of the University of Michigan, and Prof. Thomas Vogle were injured Monday evening when the automobile in which they were riding turned turtle. Prof. Rood, who was driving the car, and Mrs. Vogle were unhurt.

OLD TECUMSEH BOY WRITES

We are in receipt of a letter from our old friend Lavern Wheeler which will be of interest to many who knew him when a resident of Tecumseh:

1417 Anandale, Ave. LosAngeles,
California, July 22, 1918

Editor Tecumseh Herald:

It has been years since I saw a copy of the Herald till on a recent visit to Mrs. Abbie Fisher, American Avenue and Broadway, Long Beach, Cal. Perusing the columns of the venerable sheet I saw the names of a few of the old timers, who like myself, cling to this war ridden earth and like others I have met, treasure memories of the old town. I never see the name Tecumseh, without having a feeling of homesickness surge over me till it seems I must hasten to the old town for one more short visit with those I knew in the long ago—that is, those who remain there.

Last year Bert Waring gave me in one of his interesting letters a list of my old acquaintances who have shuffled off this mortal coil and I have wondered if there could be many left Then when at long intervals a copy of the Herald falls into my hands and I discover the names of a few who have decided to resist the dread reaper awhile longer, as I say, it makes me desirous of making at least one more visit to my native town ere I must lay down my burdens of life for good.

Speaking of Mrs. Abbie Fisher, that dear old lady is spending the last few years of her long and useful life amid delightful surroundings, in one of the most popular beach cities of Southern California. Mrs. Carrie Wright, well know to many Tecumseh and Battle Creek people, is Mrs. Fisher's constant companion and room mate, and the two are certainly a jolly pair.

I have met Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Shuttler several times in their grand home on Wilshire Bouldvard. Mrs. Shuttler used to be known as Miss Sarah Thorp in old Tecumseh. Her oldtime friends will be glad to know that she is now surrounded by the luxuries that wealth can bestow, and that Mr. Shuttler is one of nature's noblemen, very devoted to his good wife.

I have met Edgar Ide once in his business office, but have been so unfortunate as to find his chair vacant on other calls. Edgar is evidently one of the successes that have gone out from the old home town. I believe he deserves all the good that has come to him.

Miss Agnes Woodward has become one of the best known and popular young business women in this stirring city. She has built up a clientele among the best people of this city, and it only needs to have the name, Agnes Woodward, at the head of a program as manageress to fill any place of entertainment to overflowing, and anything she takes the management of issure to be a perfect success. Miss Woodward owns a "shack" up in the mountains where on Saturdays she and her mother and aunt, Miss MacGlashan take a well earned week-end rest till Tuesday morning when she hikes back to her duties as instructress to ambitious young ladies who learn from her to really whistle musically. It was an astonishment to me to learn that a chorus of thirty or forty whistling girls could really make one sit up and take notice, bringing in all of the parts correctly at the wave of their leader's baton.

I have had a 'phone conversation with Mrs. George L. Morgan, but have not been so fortunate as to see her personally. Mrs. Morgan was well known to Tecumseh people of years ago as Miss Lillie Brown, sister to Millard Brown, the photographer

I have yet to meet Bert Garlinghouse, Manie Monaghan, George Monaghan, Sam James and several others of the Tecumseh crowd who reside in Los Angeles.

The war interest is most intense in this city and the late successes of the Yankee boys have filled the people with enthusiasm. We believe we begin to see the end of Kaiserism and German "kultur." I was much pleased to read the letter from Beth Satterhwaite in one of the copies of the Herald Mrs. Fisher saved for me. Beth is all right and I hope there are many as good, true and noble girls as she helping the boys in France.

Hurrah for the Red Cross girls of America! The world has never seen a nobler race of women! Unselfish, devoted to the welfare of humanity, they deserve all the aid and honors we can bestow upon them.

I have had a very unpleasant experience with a LosAngeles reputed millionaire since coming here. He was in Seattle last winter and saw a couple of my paintings in a public place and was very much pleased with them so inquired where I might be found. Learning that I was in this city he sent a messenger to me and invited me to his palatial home to see about my painting some pictures for him. The result was that I recieved a commission to paint seven pictures to fill that many spaces waiting for them. I did the work, found that the man is pro-German, a hater of everything American and all that is despicable. He accepted my work and hung it, then attempted ot beat me down in price to what would amount to about 50c per day for the time devoted to the labor. Of course I did not submit to the injustice and the result may be that I will lose my pay and the Hun may pass a few years in confinement as a traitor to our government.

"Sich is life."

Of course you know that LosAngeles is the Mecca for actors and actorines who are in or long to be in the movies. The celebrities whose names are before us daily, in advertisements or on the dead walls, are as common as flies, and attract about as much attention on the crowded thoroughfare. When we see a young female with face chalked and rouged, eyebrows manicured to a certain black arch and lips a rich carmine, we think, "movie contortionist," and forget it.

The man who attracts the most attention in public and who is the most popular with the masses is Charlie Chaplin. Ambitious youngsters imitate him on every occasion when they can gain the rambling eye.

I expect to see other Tecumsehites and if I do may write again.

I would like to tell Lucy Train, John Orr, Mrs. Shull, Frank Snedecor and other friends that "I hain't fergot 'um yit ner don't intend to."

With yearnings for the old home town, LaVerne F. Wheeler, Sr.

U.S. BANKERS FLOAT BIG LOAN FOR CHINA

CHINA'S AMBITION TO TAKE MORE ACTIVE PART IN WAR ABOUT TO BE REALIZED.

ALLIES LIKELY TO PARTICIPATE

Further Negotiations, Now in Progress Makes it Possible For Other Allies to Join in the Loan.

Washington.—China's ambition to take a more active part in the European war is about to be realized through the flotation of a large loan by American bankers to the Chinese government.

Negotiations for the loan have been conducted by the state department, which just announced the terms upon which the advance sufficient to enable China to be of more specific assistance in the war against the Central Powers, is to be made.

Further negotiations, now in progress, may make it possible for the governments of Great Britain, France and Japan and their respective bankers to participate in the loan.

The principal step in the negotiations was taken when a group of American bankers were called to Washington and asked to become interested in the matter.

Those bankers were representative of institutions which had been interested in the past in making loans in China and which had experience in the Orient and its affairs. An agreement was reached between the bankers and the state department in which the following rules for the loan were agreed to:

1—The formation of a group of American bankers to make a loan or loans and to consist of representatives from different parts of the country.

2—An assurance on the part of the bankers that they will co-operate with the government and follow the policies outlined by the department of state.

3—Submission of the names of the banks who will compose the group for approval of the department of state.

4—Submission of the terms and conditions of any loan or loans for approval by the department of state.

5—Assurances that if the terms and conditions of the loan are accomplished by the government and by the government to which the loan is made, in order to encourage and facilitate the free intercourse between American citizens and foreign states which is mutually advantageous, the government will be willing in every way possible to make prompt and vigorous representations, and to take every possible step to insure the execution of equitable contracts made in good faith by its citizens in foreign lands.

The state department announcement concludes.

"Beside the warlike conditions that confront China on her northern and western borders, there is a further incentive to co-operate with all the governments because the war has created a community of interest between them and their citizens and those of other governments and has broken down barriers which once have existed and has made easy intercourse between them. It is hoped that if they project succeeds it will serve as an agency through which this community of interest and the concurrent expansion of our mutual interests abroad may be adequately and properly expressed."

STRINGENT OIL SAVING URGED

Russian Oil Fields Are Now in Enemy Hands Hence Allies Look to America For Their Supply.

Washington.—Complete governmental supervision and control of the oil industry from the well to the consumer is fore-shadowed by Mark L. Requa, head of the oil division of the Fuel administration in a statement issued July 28.

American production is estimated by C. W. Robinson, head of the conservation division, at 325,000,000 barrels of crude oil. The Allies' requirements are between 65,000,000 and 70,000,000 barrels of gasoline, but increasing each day with increased shipments to the front of battle planes, scout boats and motor trucks, whose motive power is gasoline, and launching of additional war and carrier ships burning heavy crude oil.

The Allies look to America for their oil and gas.

There is plenty of gas now, but the increased demand is so great that any day may see the surplus reduced to a deficit. When that happens a sharp cut in fuel for non-essential industries and pleasure purposes will come on order from the fuel administration.

Grand Rapids—Residents of Grand Rapids in the vicinity of Houseman avenue, who have been deprived of water except from midnight until early each morning because of the low pressure of the Hydraulic company which formerly supplied them, will get relief under an agreement entered into Friday whereby the city takes over the Hydraulic company mains and operates them.

Candidate for Nomination for Representative in Congress, Second District

Has lived in Lenawee County thirty-one years. Forty-one years of age. Lawyer by occupation. Served eight years as Assistant and Prosecuting Attorney,—four wet years as Assistant and four dry years as Prosecutor in the County.

He is not a candidate of any faction, organization or machine. If nominated and elected he will at all times energetically represent the masses of the people.

He stands for a new deal. Believes that a Congressman should be elected by the people,—that he should not buy his votes with money, or secure his election by pre-election promises. Neither does he believe that one or two men in each County should have the right to dictate which candidate will receive the votes in that County for office. He stands for clean politics and a square deal. He has never been a candidate for Congress and has no enemies to punish and no political friends to reward.

He is for AMERICA FIRST, LAST, AND ALL THE TIME.

Picturesque Island of Zanzibar Has a Charm Possessed by Few Other Places in Africa.

The little island of Zanzibar is one of the most picturesque places in Africa—one of the few places of the dark continent that is picturesque at all. That is because it is an old, historic island, with traces of vanished peoples, accretions of old customs, memorials of forgotten events. The greater part of Africa is primitive, nature in a state of nature, and nature is magnificent, beautiful awe-inspiring, terrifying, but rarely picturesque. The latter is a characterization of the works of man, which comes to them with time. The frame is what makes the picture, and it is only man who builds frames.

The narrow streets of Zanzibar, the massive carven doorways, the stern old houses, the time-worn markets, the crooked, mysterious alleyways, the riot of color and the babel of tongues, the still heat that throws over it all an illusion of vagueness like a play seen on the stage, make a picture that will remain fresh in the memory for years. The island is set like a fluted emerald in a green sea, with a still blue sky burning changeless overhead. In the past Zanzibar was the home of all the wonder and cruelty of the East, settled and harried by the Arab and Moslem traders from Egypt and Turkey. Today it is a British protectorate, with a figurehead sultan, who spends much of his time and money in European travel.

FIRST NAVAL TRAINING POST

Was Established at Boston, Largely Through Efforts of Commodore William Bainbridge.

The first naval school in the United States was established at the old Boston navy yard more than a century ago, the founder being Commodore Bainbridge, who is known as the "Father of American Naval Construction," and who was born in Princeton, N. J. Bainbridge was captured by the French in 1798, during the naval conflicts between that country and the United States, and in 1802 he was held a prisoner for nine months by the Tripolitan pirates.

He fought gallantly in the last war between America and England, and after its conclusion induced the Washington authorities to open a training school for officers at Boston. In 1840, some years after the death of the founder of American naval education, a naval school was opened in the old naval asylum in Philadelphia, and here for a few years the midshipmen of the republic were instructed in the arts of warfare on the sea. The plan was so successful that it was decided to open a permanent naval academy. Annapolis, Md., was chosen as the site of the school and there the present United States Naval academy was formally opened.

Slow Growth of Languages.

So long as government was conducted exclusively by a throne and aristocracy, the ruling class was constrained to speak one language, that of the court and of polite society. All cultivated people in the land were educated in the same literary tongue, which was naturally used in official transactions.

The uneducated classes talked their own dialects and cared little what their rulers spoke. They have not always objected even when these men affected a foreign culture. Frederick the Great thought himself a French litterateur and spelled his name like a Frenchman. But when popular elections were introduced, and still more when primary schools became universal, the question of language assumed a far greater importance, A. Lawrence Towell writes in the Independent, New York. Then the matter of race was brought to the forefront.

Sand Dunes in Gascony.

One of the most interesting and remarkable of the many regions for the observation of sand dunes lies between Bordeaux and Bayonne, in Gascony. The sea here throws every year upon the beach, along a line of 100 miles in length, some 5,000,000 cubic yards of sand. The prevailing westerly winds continue picking up the surface particles from the westward slope, where they are again deposited, and the entire ridge by this means alone moves gradually inward. In the course of years there has thus been formed a complex system of dunes, all approximately parallel with the coast and with one another and of all altitudes up to 250 feet. These are marching steadily inward at a rate of from three to six feet a year, whole villages having sometimes been torn down to prevent burial and rebuilt at a distance.

The Call to Action.

The test of life is action. The reason why some fail where and when others succeed is because some go forward to new and untried experiments in the art of living, while others—those who do not succeed—stay inside their customary limits.

In these prophetic days there have been some startling revelations. Men and women who have never done anything, and did not suppose they could do anything that was not habitual and commonplace, have been startled into activity and surprised into successful enterprise. When all the world was in motion they were compelled to move, and when their one talent was demanded they threw it into the common treasury, and lo! it became two.

WEDNESDAY ENTERTAINMENT DRAWS ANOTHER BIG CROWD

Calf Donated by Co-Operative Assn. Nets Red Cross $189

The crowd on our streets Wednesday evening was unusually large and was given one of the best entertainments of the season.

Th Adonac Trio with trumpets, bag pipes and other musical instruments won the applause of the multitude and when the company sang in chorus the effect was cerainly fine.

Wolgast and Gertie in their gymnastic performance were wonderful, everyone holding their breath for the moment in some of the most daring acts. However they came to the front with smiles in answer to the cheering that greeted them.

At the close of the programm a Guernsey heifer calf, weighing 215 lbs., which was donated by the Tecumseh Co-Operative Association, was sold by raffle. The lucky number G65 held by Frank Pawson of Tipton won the calf. The committee having charge of the drawing were Guy Nemire, Wade Jones and Leon Temple, the 20th ticket drawn was the winner. The amount raised by raffle was $157.76. Mr. Pawson then turned the calf back to the Red Cross and it was put up at auction, being knocked down to the highest bidder, Wm. Murphy, for $34.00, making a total of $191.76. After paying some light expense incurred, a total of $189 was netted by the Red Cross.

Mrs. Jennie Hall of Canton, Ill., is visiting friends in town.

Detroit—Characterizing it as one of the most flagrant cases of law violation and of "profiteering" that has come to the attention of the Wayne county food administration, David E. Heineman Friday fined Joseph Palermo, a baker at 268 Fort street, $100. Palermo was found guilty of selling white flour at $10.50 for 98 pounds (a half barrel) or at the rate of $21 a barrel, while the current retail price of that particular brand is $11.50 a barrel.

CULBERTSON SCHOOL REUNION WELL ATTENDED

Big Dinner Served at Noon on School Grounds

The Culbertson school reunion held Thursday on the school grounds northeast of Tecumseh, was well attended by former schoolmates and teachers, many coming from distant places to greet their old friends and schoolmates. NEW ROYAL THEATRE

Are you a rich man? Are you a poor man? What ever is your station in life you will enjoy seeing George Walsh in his latest William Fox picture "The Pride of New York," which will be shown at the Royal theatre on Monday August at 7:15 p. m.

If you are a rich man and have a son you may profit by seeing this photo drama. It may bring you a realization that perhaps you have not looked after that son and guided him as you should have. Perhaps he lacks industry. Perhaps his aim in life is merely to spend your money.

If you are a poor man and have a son who is industrious who is working hard to better himself, you will like this picture because it shows that he has a chance especially in Uncle Sams's army which in a measure is a leveler a human beings.

George Walsh shows what an energetic American youth can do in the ranks of the new army, and he shows also how hard an industrious young fellow can work and enjoy it. George does some hair-raising stunts that will thril even an ironworker who does dangerous stunts himself.

The picture was directed by R. A. Walsh, George's brother who made such big pictures as "The Honor System," "The Conqueror," and "Betrayed." His battle scenes in "The Pride of New York" are certainly thrillers.

RED CROSS NEWS

The calf donated to the Red Cross was certainly a valuable animal. On Wednesday last it was raffled and every ticket was eagerly taken up by the big crowd that attended Bargain Day. Under Mrs. Mary Deery's able management enough tickets were sold to make $155.61. Mr. Frank Pawson of Tipton was the lucky winner and he gave the animal immediately back to be auctioned ok for the Red Cross. This time it was bid in by Mr. W. T. Murphy for $34.00, making a total of $189.61.

The total receipts for the Red Cross concert on the four corners, Tecumseh, are $510.12. The collection was $375.50. The following amounts were subsequently donated:

Mr. Wm. Powell	$ 4.50
Mr. A. W. Mills	25.00
Mrs. Jenny C. Law Hardy	10.00
Mrs. Thos. McCann	10.00
Mrs. Chas. Burridge	10.00

Mr. Thos. Elliott	2.00
Mrs. Ella Hodges	2.00
Miss Mary Anderson	2.00

Collection taken by Rev. Rex	4.50

A few minor amounts were handed in bringing the total to $510.00, the biggest collection taken in this county.

The Tecumseh Red Cross Concert company gave a concert on Tuesday at Pittsford. Mr. Will Coller and Mr. John McIntyre drove the company over. The collection brought in $45.08. This brings the amount raised to date to $1972.14.

ARTHUR POCKLINGTON FOUND IN AN UNCONSCIOUS CONDITION

Friends Find Him Laying on the Floor of His Store, Thursday Morning

Arthur Pocklington was found in an unconscious condition lying on the floor of the Smoke House Thursday morning, about 9:30, by officer John Smith and John Mahaney. The suspicion of his friends that all was not well with him was aroused when the store was not opened at the usual hour, but knowing that Art was not feeling well, nothing was thought of it until the hour arrived to take care of his morning papers.

John Smith's attention was called to the fact that his place of business was closed and he and friends commenced to make inquiries as to Pocklington's whereabouts. On learning that he had not been home during the night and thinking he might be in the store, word was sent to John Mahaney for a key. The store was soon opened and Mr. Pocklington was found lying on the floor in an unconscious condition in front of the cellar door. His hands were covered with blood and he had a bad cut over one eye.

He was picked up and placed on a bench and Dr. H. R. Conklin was called. The doctor soon made him as comfortable as possible and found it necessary to take several stitches to close the wound over the eye. He later revived enough so that he was able to walk with assistance to the back of the store where an auto was waiting to take him to his home.

Word comes from his home this morning that Mr. Pocklington's condition is somewhat improved.

The really intelligent war workers do not work blindly, they take time to inform themselves concerning the issues at stake and the activities of workers elsewhere. For such purposes the newspaper is scarcely sufficient. Don't forget that your Public Library offers you the reading of such absolutely dependable magazines as The World's Work, The Outlook, The Independent, Literary Digest, Review of Reviews, Century and others.

We would also like to remind people not to forget to pay their Library fines. The amount may be small, but there are many owing and the total would buy some of those books the readers are impatient to have. The library is yours, so don't think of fines as some thing to avoid. The Library is open until 9 o'clock six nights a week so even the busiest can attend to the returning of books.

The Library is in receipt of a copy of "Geography of the World's Agriculture" written and illustrated with maps drawn by Verner Finch, and bearing the following inscription: This publication is presented to the Tecumseh Public Library by one whom that Library has furnished much of inspiration and information. The purpose of this work is to show the geographic origin of the world's supply of food and of other important agricultural products and to indicate briefly the climatic soil, the economic conditions that account for the distribution of the crops and live stock of the world.

In an agricultural community such as ours an up to date work of this sort will, of course, be most helpful and interesting. It will be kept as a reference work, thereby given all an equal chance to refer to it. Mr. Finch was formerly of this place, but is now assistant professor of Geology in the University of Wisconsin. We appreciate Mr. Finch's thoughtfulness in remembering our library.

"Keep to the Right as the Law Directs, For that is the Rule of the Road"

When will people learn to "Keep to the right, for in that lies safety." Everyone should know that the rule of the road, the walk, or wherever you meet a vehicle or person is to take the right hand side and then there is no danger of collision.

Wednesday what might have been a fatal accident was narrowly averted when a young lad on his bicycle went wrong and collided with an automobile. The driver was going very slowly else the boy might have been killed. As it was he was thrown from his wheel which later was just under the car between the wheels. Except for some bruises to the boy no damage was done, but it was a narrow escape.

Boys, whatever you may be doing, keep to the right.

"WE ALL KNEW HIS MAJESTY'S WEAKNESS FOR SOFT WHITE HANDS —AND WE SHUDDERED" (SCENE FROM THE KAISER, THE BEAST OF BERLIN)

AT THE BRADLEY NEXT SUNDAY AFTERNOON AND EVENING

HE SMASHED THE KAISER ON THE JAW

And all New York stood up and cheered like mad, so will you when you see Rupert Julian's sensational expose of the Kaiser's intimate life "The Kaiser, the Beast of Berlin" which will be presented at the Bradley Opera House next Sunday, August 4th (matinee at 2:30 evening at 8:15).

"The Kaiser. The Beast of Berlin" is not a picture of battlefields but a tremendous drama that strips naked the soul of histories maddest murder king. A gripping, startling, tremendous production presenting the truths of what lies behind the German lines, the intrigues and underhanded methods of the Mad Dog of Europe.

"The Kaiser the Beast of Berlin" is the picture that stopped traffic on Broadway when presented at the Broadway theatre, New York. So great were the crowds that clammored for admission that for some time traffic was at a Complete standstill on this famous New York street.

You can't put up a good fight unless your blood boils but will say that after you have seen this wonderful, intense and exciting drama that your patriotism will be raised to the boiling point and you will be more anxious to do everything in your power that the rule of this Mad Dog may be wiped from the earth forever.

THE HALCYON PLAYERS

Mr. Sewell promises an attraction of unusual strength this season. There will be the usual solo band and orchestra. Hear the big band concert Monday night at 7:30; then see the opening play which has been selected from the big successes of the last season. The Halcyon Players will be headed by Mrs. Sewell, whose versatility and congeniality have won for her popularity not exceeded by many of our touted great. She will be ably supported by a capable cast selected from the best talent of former seasons. Mr. Sewell informs us that as an extra feature he is this season presenting a wonderful array of vaudeville talent, including, the Barbeah Duo in singing, talking, dancing and novelty sensations, with a whirlwind finish on roller skates.

You Will Be Astonished At The Remarkably Low Operating Cost of This Pipeless Furnace.

Home owners in all sections of the country are replacing heating stoves with the Jewel Pipeless Furnace, not alone because it is so reasonably priced and so easily installed. but because it actually saves fuel. The has positively proven to produce 40% more heat than the largest heating stove, requires less attention, is easier to operate and creates better ventilation. Add to this the doing away with the lugging of fuel and ashes through living rooms, the taking down and putting up of stoves, the cool basement for storing fruit, vegetables, etc. and it is easy to understand why Jewels are being placed in thousands of old and new homes.

But these claims we want you to investigate. See us and get all the facts. Then decide if the Jewel isn't the furnace you ought to have in your home.

First Use of Chimney.

During the Middle Ages the principal advance made in heating was made through the introduction of chimneys into private dwellings. They were first introduced into France in the eighth century, but were rare and did not come into common use until several hundred years later. In Poland during the early part of the modern period houses were heated in winter by means of a kiln built into the room, but which was fired from the outside. In order to keep warm the family slept not only around the sides of the kiln but also on top of it.

Lansing—Willard N. Sweeney has tendered his resignation as secretary of the state railroad commission to take effect August 1, when he will accept a position with a Lansing concern. Sweeney has been secretary of the railroad commission since January 1, 1911. He was formerly county clerk of Bay county.

Lansing—Enough signatures are attached to the petitions filed with the department of state to assure that Chase S. Osborn's name will go on the primary ballots on the Republican ticket for United States senator Count of all the petitions for Henry Ford's name to be placed on the Democratic ballot shows there were enough

Grand Rapids—Charles H. Locke, 63, proprietor of a paint shop on Division avenue, South Grand Rapids, shot and killed himself Sunday at his home, the result of brooding over his physical condition. He had been ill three weeks. Locke came here eight years ago from Ionia, where for 19 years he had been a deputy sheriff and for two years chief of police.

Detroit—Frank Young, was instantly killed when he lost his balance and fell 110 feet from the frame of a gas holder being erected for the Detroit City Gas company by the Rider Conley company at Tireman street and the Pere Marquette railroad. Young was a riveter. In an effort to extricate a fouled rivet he lost balance and fell backwards, landing inside the gas tank far below.

Hillsdale—Beekeepers of Ohio, Michigan and Indiana met recently at the home of Fay Adams near Montgomery and considered plans for a tri-state organization. Frank Kindig of the Michigan Agricultural college, Edwin Ewell of Ypsilanti, County Agent Nash of Branch county and three extension workers were the speakers. The aim of the meeting was to induce more farmers to keep bees to relieve the sugar shortage.

East Lansing—It is not so much Michigan's drainage systems that need correction as it is Michigan's drainage laws, in the opinion of O. E. Robey, extension specialist in drainage, who has been making a survey of conditions for the Michigan Agricultural college. "One of the most lamentable facts in our drainage situation," he declares, "is that many farmers adjacent to our high-priced county and township drains do not realize as much as they might from this tax investment because of the manner in which they are compelled to pay this tax."

INSECT VICTIMS OF "BOOZE"

Scientists Familiar With Many Varieties That Indulge in a Sort of Bacchanalian Festival.

There would seem to be no particular reason from the human standpoint why the ivy should be called the plant of Bacchus, since no wine is made from its berries. Entomologists, however, have found that the ivy flowers provide a veritable bacchanalian festival for a number of insects. Men of science are wont to sally forth at night with lanterns to capture the intoxicated moths that crowd around the greenish blossoms. When the willow is in bloom they find a similar scene of dissipation around its yellow catkins.

The tippling insect may be used to point a moral by the prohibitionist, since rum not infrequently leads to its ruin. There is a fly so addicted to wine that Linnaeus named it the "cellar fly," which appellation Kirby changed to the more appropriate one of the "cellar wine drinker." Kirby states that the larvae of this little fly, whose diet he could attest, from his own observations, disdains to feed on anything but wine or beer, which, like Boniface in the play, it may be said both to eat and drink.

There are bees and flowers whose random meetings result in the same curious phenomenon. On the single dahlias and gaillardias of the garden bees are often to be seen in the same maudlin state, and these bees are more frequently of the black and yellow banded kind. If you take such a bee off the gaillardia the insect will remain in your hand, indulging in quaint antics or simply trembling in every member. Presently, however, it will recover and fly off straight to another gaillardia flower and in a very short time is again in its former state of imbecility. One may pick it up again and have a repetition of the performance.

LENT INSPIRATION TO ARTIST

How Glint in Eye of Model Led Painter to Alter the Spirit of His Masterpiece.

"The Spirit of Seventy-six"—the famous drum and fife trio—came from the brush and genius of Archibald M. Willard.

The artist emerged from overalls and a Wellington, O., wagon shop. A picture called "Pluck, No. 1," displayed in a Cleveland art dealer's window, attracted the attention of the discriminating and paved the way to a kind of partnership with James H. Ryder through whose suggestion the "Seventy-six" picture was begun.

In its early stages this painting was called "Yankee Doodle" and it was first planned along serio-comic lines. "But one day," declares Mr. Willard, "I caught a glint in the eye of the old man who posed for the center figure, and in a flash it revealed itself to me what all this stood for, and I could go no further. The real picture pushed everything else aside and went ahead and painted itself."

The old man whose flashing eyes inspired this change of conception was the artist's father, Rev. Daniel Willard, a man of revolutionary stock.

Thus curiously it was only by the merest switch of an inherited sentiment that this symbol was prevented from becoming a fanciful burlesque to live only for the brief day of its creation.—Everybody's Magazine.

Crow at Home on the Earth.

"I have seen no bird walk the ground with just the same air the crow does," writes John Burroughs in "An Idyl of the Honey Bee." "It is not exactly pride; there is no strut or swagger in it, though perhaps just a little condescension; it is the contented and self-possessed gait of a lord over his domains. 'All these acres are mine,' he says, 'and all these crops; men plow and sow for me, and I stay here or go there and find life sweet and good wherever I am.'

"The hawk looks awkward and out of place on the ground; the game birds hurry and skulk, but the crow is at home and treads the earth as if there were none to molest or make him afraid."

Opprobrious Epithets.

A correspondent informs us that a woman defendant in a Brittany police court has been fined 50 francs for calling another woman "an old tank." The offense presumaby lay in the unusual, as in the case of the fishwife whom O'Connell silenced by calling a "parallelopiped." Psychology has never yet solved the problem why a comparatively innocuous phrase may cause more offense than the vilest abuse. For instance, "mort aux vaches" does not strike the Englishman as so very terrible, yet, to tell a French gendarme of your desire for an increase in the mortality rate among cows is a surer way of asking for trouble than to slander the Pope in a Home Rule stronghold.—London Globe.

Wrens Valuable in the Garden.

The examination of 88 stomachs of house wrens showed that 98 per cent of their contents was composed of insects or their allies, and only 2 per cent of vegetable matter, made up of bits of grass and other vegetation evidently taken in catching the insects.

As the wren often raises in a season 12 to 16 young, all of which become mature enough to forage for themselves very soon after they are able to leave the nest, it is evident that a pair of these lively little birds are very desirable tenants in garden or orchard.—People's Home Journal.

Lansing—Michigan spent last year a total of $23,492,800.32 while the receipts from all sources amounted to $25,231,788.52, according to the annual report of Samuel Odell, state treasurer. Care of the insane cost $2,261,101.87. The state's contribution to the support of the University of Michigan was $1,294,250. The Michigan Agricultural College cost $610,006, the Industrial Home for Boys, $163,258; the Industrial Home for Girls, cost $10,066; and the State Game, Fish and Forestry Department, having cost $315,493.81.

East Lansing—A disease known as the barley "leaf stripe" is reported by plant pathologists of Michigan Agriculture college to be causing appreciable loss to Michigan farmers. It has, in most instances, been traceable to seed imported from Wisconsin. The effect of the disease is to produce stunted, blasted heads "and not a blasted grain", while the leaves are striped so that they look like ribbon grass. The most effective method for checking the trouble is to secure clean seed and avoid immediately replanting barley on the field from which the diseased crop has been removed.

NEW AUTO TAX HITS PRODUCER

TAX COLLECTED ON GROSS SALES OF MANUFACTURER, PRODUCER OR IMPORTER.

AUTOS TO YIELD $70,000,000

Player-Pianos, Phonographs, and Sporting Goods On Tax List—Deadly Weapons Also Hit.

Washington.—A tax of 10 per cent on sale of all automobiles was written in the new revenue bill by the ways and means committee Tuesday. Motor trucks, on account of their great usefulness in war work, are to be taxed only 5 per cent. The tax is to be collected on gross sales of the manufacturer, producer or importer.

Included also in the 10 per cent schedule will be player pianos, graphophones, phonographs, talking machines, sporting goods, including baseball bats, golf clubs, fishing rods and reels; pool and billiard tables, perfumes, cosmetics, tonics, proprietary medicines and cameras. All of these except cosmetics and proprietary medicines are now taxed 3 per cent.

The automobile tax, according to estimates submitted by the treasury department, will produce about $70,000,000. The 3 per cent tax now in force is calculated to yield about $32,000,000 during the current fiscal year.

In addition to the 10 per cent tax agreed upon Chairman Kitchin authorized announcement that the committee will impose another tax which will be collected from the user of the automobile.

This tax which has been only tentatively discussed, will be in the nature of a federal license, collectable from the user of the car in the same manner as state licenses are now issued.

Mr. Kitchin declined to make any prediction as to how high these rates might run, although the treasury department has recommended a scale of from $20 to $50, according to cost price of the car.

It was announced that the 10 per cent tax was agreed on without any opposition.

The question of a tax on gasoline has not been considered by the committee. Other taxes agreed on by the committee were a doubling of the admission tax to theaters, operas, motion picture shows and similar places of amusement. The present tax is 10 per cent; under the revised schedule it would be 20 per cent.

This tax applies to all admissions of 10 cents or more. To get at the smaller priced houses, the committee tentatively decided to impose a tax of one cent on all admissions where the maximum charge does not exceed seven cents.

Under the existing law all moving picture shows, theaters and other amusements whose maximum charge does not exceed five cents are exempt from the tax. The new tax would exact one cent from very admission up to and including seven cents.

In deciding upon this tax, the committee took into consideration that the seven-cent or five-cent show is essentially a "poor man's show." But it was felt that those who could not afford to pay a greater admission than seven cents would not be contributing anything to the government as income tax or excess profits tax anyway.

It was the consensus of opinion that patrons of these cheaper shows could well afford to contribute one cent to the government's needs.

The committee decided to place a heavy tax on all kinds of firearms, including a prohibitive tax of 100 per cent on dirks, stilettos, sheath knives and similar deadly weapons.

The tax on shotguns and rifles was fixed at 10 per cent, and that on revolvers and pocket pistols at 25 per cent. The committee decided on this high rate on pistols with the idea of discouraging their use as far as possible.

GAIN 100,000 TONS OVER U-BOATS

London—Sir Eric Geddes, first lord of the British admiralty, gave the house of commons recently a review of the naval situation, and particularly defended the policy of starting national shipbuilding yards in discussing the shipbuilding program in connection with navy estimates.

The first lord compared the situation regarding tonnage, with that of a year ago. Then the net loss in tonnage, he said, was 550,000 gross tons monthly. Submarines then were not being destroyed as fast as the Germans were building them, while merchant ship yards were short of men and materials. Four hundred thousand tons net loss monthly was the British deficit. Every yard that could take naval work had been put on naval building.

Gradually during the last year, Sir Eric continued, the position had changed in many directions. Instead of losing tonnage, the world's net result, in the last quarter, had been a gain roughly of 100,000 tons a month. The Allied and neutral world was as well off June 30 as January 1, 1918. This result, he declared, had been obtained by reduced sinkings and increased buildings.

Rochester—George Boger, 28 years old, married, with a three-year-old child, shot himself through the head at 4 o'clock Sunday, following a quarrel with his wife, dying instantly.

Detroit—Michigan engineers are to be mobilized and registered with the United States employment service, Chicago branch, according to resolutions adopted at a meeting of Detroit Engineering society in Board of Commerce. Secretaries of all city and state societies will act as a committee to take a census of engineers and classify them according to their talents, thus enabling the war department to call for special men as needed

Grand Rapids—Owing to light travel to the Northern Michigan resorts, material curtailment of service is under consideration by both the Grand Rapids & Indiana and Pere Marquette railroads. The light travel is attributed largely to war conditions. The many demands on the pocketbook for the thrift stamps, Liberty bonds and the war charities makes a difference in the travel also and the increased railroad fares has an influence.

FROM OUR BOYS IN SERVICE

The following letter was received by Mrs. A. B. McLachlin from hes son Lon who is in the transport service plying between the United States and France:

Hoboken, N. J., Aug 1.

My Dear Mother:

Your lovely letters which were greatly enjoyed, were received yesterday upon our arrival in port safe and sound. It sure was a "red letter" day for me for hadn't had any mail since I sailed three weeks ago and it seemed like about six months to me.

I am writing in a "Y" in Hoboken which is very nice. Have just had a bath which was the first since we sailed July 15, so you can imagine how good it feels again. We saw no "subs" nor any signs of any and wasn't at all sea sick altho we had some rough weather We had 4500 troops on board and a crew of 426 besides our cargo of areoplanes, army trucks, etc.

We pulled out of New York Monday, July 15, at 4 a. m. I stood in the chains helping to take soundings all the way out of the harbor, That means taking the depth of the water to make sure the boat won't go aground. We were just seven days going across and everything was lovely.

For battle formation I am stationed at the powder magazine hoist right close to the forward 6 inch guns and get full benefit of their firing. Of course we have to have cotton in our ears. For abandoning the ship I help lower one of the life boats. We have these drills several times a day so as to be thoroughly prepared in case we are hit.

After entering the War Zone which is about two days out from our port in Franse, we never go to bed, but lie on the deck fully dressed with a life preserver and bottle of water on besides. You can imagine how much sleep we get.

We have six inch guns, some one pounders and rapid fire guns beside for protection. We are well convoyed by torpedo boats so we are safe as can be, and there is no cause for you to worry about me at all. We never saw a sign of a "sub" either way.

I am seeing lots of sights and hope to go ashore in France this trip and get some things for you which I'm sure you will be interested in.

I am glad you saw that Jackie from the Leviathan for I know you didn't worry so much after that.

Hope we will take some of the Michigan boys back with us on this trip, but I am afraid they have gone. We met a lot of ships just pulling out as we came in yesterday, loaded with troops.

We leave again Saturday so when you get this I shall be at sea again. You had better believe that if I should ever get such a thing as a five day pass I shall be in Tecumseh in double quick time.

I think we will go to the west coast after this trip for the Great Northern is built for the Pacific Ocean and not the Atlantic. She is large, light and very fast. Wish I could get a picture of her to send you

They want to close up this writing room now so I must close. Don't worry about me for I am O. K.

Your loving son, Leon.

Through the courtesy of Mrs. J. D. Shull, we print the following letter from Herbert Gove who is with from France:

Someplace in N. Y.
July 15, 1918

My Dear Mrs. Shull:

I thought I would drop you a line. We have been on the road since Saturday 3 p. m. and now it is 7 a. m. Monday. We went by the way of Detroit. The Detroit Red Cross gave us a feed, cake, sandwiches, milk, candy, and cigarettes. We went through Windsor Ontario. They gave us postcards, but we had an order not to drop any out of the window to mail so have to wait.

We went through Canada to Niagara Falls, we went across the International bridge, but it was after dark, so we could not see much of that.

We went through the mountains of Pennsylvania on Sunday. We traveled nearly all day through the mountains. These were some sight for me, beautiful scenery. There were many mining towns through the Lehigh Valley. The people came out to greet us waving their hands and hollering like a lot of kids. We saw the great Bethlehem Steel works. We went through lots of tunnels and we are in the R. R. yards somewhere in N. J. We are about ten companies, all 85th Division from Custer. Some of the boys have seen the Statue of Liberty, my brother did. I happened to be asleep, but it is very little sleep one can get on this train. We stopped off in Pennsylvaina to take a little hike. they had a big flag out. We got right we sang and had a good time. The captain was marching us up some street, there was an old couple sat on their porch clapping their hands they had a big flag out. We got night in front of the house and the Captain gave our squad "Right." We came up in company front and presented arms. The captain saluted the flag and went on. You ought to have head them cheer us.

Well, I'll write more next time. Am writing on the train and cannot give any address.

Most truly,
Herbert A. Gove.

Gen. Pershing Says Foe Is Driven in Confusion Beyond Vesle River.

YANKS TAKE 133 CANNON

Germans Retreat on Ten-Mile Front Between Mondidier and Moreuil—Villages of Hamel and Dernancourt Captured by Allies—British Patrols Reach Ancre River.

Washington, Aug. 5.—General Pershing's communique for Saturday says:

"Section A—The full fruits of victory in the counter-offensive begun so gloriously by Franco-American troops on July 18 were reaped Saturday when the enemy, who met his second defeat on the Marne, was driven in confusion beyond the line of the Vesle.

"The enemy, in spite of suffering the severest losses, has proved incapable of stemming the onslaught of our troops fighting for liberty side by side with French, British and Italian veterans. In the course of the operations 8,400 prisoners and 133 guns have been captured by our men alone.

"Section B—There is nothing to report in this section."

Foe Retreats on Ten-Mile Front.

London, Aug. 5.—On the British front the Germans have withdrawn between Montdidier and Moreuil, a distance of ten miles.

The French hold the slopes down to the western side of the Avre river.

Two Towns Captured.

The situation around Albert is somewhat obscure, but the British have been closely following the enemy and it is probable that the Germans have by now evacuated the eastern bank of the Avre.

The villages of Hamel and Dernancourt are in the possession of the allies.

Stand at Chemin Des Dames.

The situation is generally considered highly satisfactory and the indications seem plainer that the Germans do not intend, farther south, to make a permanent stand on the banks of the Aisne, but that they will retreat to the Chemin des Dames ridge, which is one of the strongest positions in France, and for the moment will try to hold the French while getting away with their great accumulation of stores of munitions.

The allies captured the Chemin des Dames once and may do so again.

U. S. Men on Front.

The retirement of the Germans between Montdidier and Moreuil is over a front of approximately ten miles. On the southern half of this front American contingents have been stationed for some time.

Along the northern half of the line the French, on two occasions, have driven into the German lines so that their front before the present German withdrawal began ran along the hills dominating the Avre river from Castel to Aubvillers.

This withdrawal, taken in conjunction with the German retirement across the Ancre, from Dernancourt to Hamel, about fourteen miles to the north, may mark the beginning of a German "strategic retreat" which may have been planned to forestall a British attack which dispatches had indicated was imminent in this sector.

British Statement.

The text of the official statement issued by the war office reads:

"Our patrols have reached the Ancre river between Dernancourt and Hamel and are in contact with the enemy on this line.

"The hostile artillery showed some activity during the night in the sector north of Bethune and south of Ypres."

On Saturday it was announced from London that the Germans had carried out a local retirement to the east bank of the Ancre in the region of Albert over a front of three or four miles. The British official statement indicates that the German withdrawal was over a wider front than was shown in the London dispatch of Saturday.

U. S.-JAPAN TO HELP SAVE RUSS

Washington and Tokyo Announce Plan in Official Statements.

OTHER NATIONS O. K. PLAN

Small Forces Will Help Allies Guard Ports—Japan [illegible] Withdraw Troops When Mission Is Accomplished.

Washington, Aug. 5.—Official statements by the American and Japanese governments made here announce that plans for extending military aid to Russia in Siberia will be undertaken by the United States and Japan alone, with the other allied co-belligerents assenting in principle.

Statement From Government.

The statement in full as to the Washington government's purposes and aims in extending military and economic aid to Russia, issued in the form of a "statement to the press on the American-Japanese action in Siberia," from the acting secretary of state, is as follows:

"In the judgment of the government of the United States—a judgment arrived at after repeated and very searching considerations of the whole situation—military intervention in Russia would be more likely to add to the present sad confusion there than to cure it, and would injure Russia rather than help her out of her distresses.

"Such military intervention as has been most frequently proposed, even supposing it to be efficacious in its immediate object of delivering an attack upon Germany from the east, would, in its judgment, be more likely to turn out to be merely a method of making use of Russia than to be a method of serving her.

Must Save Russian People.

"Her people, if they profited by it at all, could not profit by it in time to deliver them from their present desperate difficulties, and their substance would meantime be used to maintain foreign armies, not to reconstitute their own or to feed their own men, women and children.

"We are bending all our energies now to the purpose, the resolute and confident purpose, of winning on the western front, and it would, in the judgment of the government of the United States, be most unwise to divide or dissipate our forces.

"As the government of the United States sees the present cirmustances, therefore, military action is admissible in Russia now only to render such protection and help as is possible to the Czecho-Slovaks against the armed Austrian and German prisoners who are attacking them and to steady any efforts at self-government or self-defense in which the Russians themselves may be willing to accept assistance."

Helping Our Allies.

"With such objects in view the government of the United States is now co-operating with the governments of France and Great Britain in the neighborhood of Murmansk and Archangel. The United States and Japan are the only powers which are just now in a position to act in Siberia in sufficient force to accomplish even such modest objects as those that have been outlined.

"The government of the United States has threfore proposed to the government of Japan that each of the two governments send a force of a few thousand men to Vladivostok, with the purpose of co-operating as a single force in the occupation of Vladivostok and in safeguarding, so far as it may, the country to the rear of the westward moving Czecho-Slovaks, and the Japanese government has consented.

"In taking this action the government of the United States wishes to announce to the people of Russia in the most public and solemn manner that it contemplates no interference with the political sovereignty of Russia, no intervention in her internal affairs, not even in the local affairs of the limited areas which her military force may be obliged to occupy, and no impairment of her territorial integrity either now or hereafter, but that what we are about to do has as its single and only object the rendering of such aid as shall be acceptable to the Russian people themselves in their endeavors to regain control of their own affairs, their own territory, and their own destiny. The Japanese government, it is understood, will issue a similar assurance.

Look for Early Mission.

"It is also the hope and purpose of the government of the United States to take advantage of the earliest opportunity to send to Siberia a commission of merchants, agricultural experts, labor advisers, Red Cross representatives, and agents of the Young Men's Christian association accustomed to organizing the best methods of spreading useful information and rendering educational help of a modest kind, in order in some systematic way to relieve the immediate economic necessities of the people there in every way for which an opportunity may open. The execution of this plan will follow and will not be permitted to embarrass the military assistance rendered to the Czecho-Slovaks.

Albion—County Agent E. B. More and the county farm bureau will hold a Calhoun county picnic at the fair grounds in Marshall, August 7. Dr. Eben Mumford, of the Michigan Agricultural college, will be the chief speaker.

Grand Rapids—Members of the city commission stated Friday that within the next few weeks the Reeds Lake boulevard would be taken over by the city. The boulevard will be extended and improved; about $40,000 is to be expended.

Eaton Rapids—Thursday, August 8, will be Citizens' day in connection with the annual encampment of the Eaton County battalion, G. A. R., here. One feature of the program will be a pole raising and dedication of a community [illegible]

FRENCH CROSS VESLE RIVER; HUNS RETREAT

Germans Retire to North Bank of Stream—Enemy's Flanks Turned.

GREATEST BAG FOR ALLIES

Number of Prisoners Captured by Entente in Last Two Days Will Thrill World When Announced—Aisne Crossed at Several Points—Teutons Flee on a Five-Mile Front.

Paris, Aug. 5.—The number of prisoners captured by the allies during the last two days will thrill the allied world when announced. The Vesle river, which was flooded owing to the recent rains, has hampered the German rear guards, which were unable to ford the stream and had to fight for their lives. The most of these Germans were killed and the rest were made prisoners. Official announcement of the number of captives is anxiously awaited.

Paris, Aug. 5.—The town of Fismes, Germany's great storehouse on the Aisne-Marne battle front, has been taken by the French and American troops, according to the French official communication issued here. The French also have crossed the Vesle at several points.

French Cross Vesle River.

London, Aug. 5.—The Germans have retired to the north bank of the Vesle and the French have effected four crossings of the river, according to information received here. The Germans are resisting stubbornly and fighting strong rearguard actions.

Foe Retreats on Avre.

With the French Army in France, Aug. 5.—The Germans are retreating to the left bank of the Avre river between Bourges and Braches, northwest of Montdidier, on a front of five miles in extent.

Allied patrols are keeping in contact with the enemy.

Both Flanks Turned.

Paris, Aug. 5.—Both flanks of the German forces between Reims and Soissons appear to have been turned. The French have forced a crossing of the Vesle west of Reims.

Fismes is completely surrounded by American troops. The Germans are retaining a foothold in the extreme northern part of the town, where there is house-to-house fighting.

Crack Prussian guards are offering the most desperate resistance to the Americans.

Germans Rush Reserves.

German re-enforcements are reported arriving in the Soissons sector from the north. The allies continue their advance, according to latest reports, although it is held within prudent limits.

The allied left wing has moved faster than the right and further progress in the Soissons region might expose it to a counter-attack from the enemy.

Allied forces in pursuit of the Germans have passed through veritable charnel houses, strewn with the debris of war. Bodies of men and horses are mingled with broken-down vehicles alongside of monster ammunition dumps, some partially exploded and others intact.

Allies Cross the Aisne.

Bodies of Germans found in clusters beyond the range of the allied artillery indicate that severe punishment was inflicted on the fleeing columns by the French, American and British aviators.

Allied troops have crossed the Aisne at several points between Soissons and Venizel. The German resistance is faltering on the left wing of the allied advance, while it is growing stubborn and desperate on the right wing, where the Germans still retain a foothold on the southern bank of the Vesle between Champigny and Jonchery, northwest of Reims.

HUN CHIEFS ADMIT FAILURE

Field Marshal Von Hindenburg and General Ludendorff Say Strategic Plans Failed.

Copenhagen, Aug. 5.—Field Marshal von Hindenburg and General Ludendorff received the German correspondents, according to advices reaching here, and openly admitted that this time their strategic plans had failed.

They asserted, however, that the Germans were still masters of the situation and that the territories given to the enemy were thus disposed of according to plans. If the battles were on German territory, they explained, it would be painful to give up villages, but the progress of the enemy, they declared, was without importance and would not affect the result of the world war.

Von Hindenburg said that the German soldiers would become just as easily accustomed to the Americans as they did to the black soldiers.

France Prays for Victory.

Paris, Aug. 5.—Public prayer for victory for the allies was said Sunday throughout France on the occasion of the fourth anniversary of the declaration of war.

Kalamazoo—Mrs. Nellie Kruser, asserting herself ordered by the Holy Father to rid the earth of buildings housing meat markets, is under arrest here charged with having placed kerosene on the market of L. W. Simons and setting fire to the structure. An order will be asked for commitment to Kalamazoo state hospital.

Manistique—Victor Mitchell was drowned in Manistique river while bathing. He dived into shallow water, evidently injuring himself, and fought off a companion who tried to rescue him. The body has not been found.

Flint—Floyd E. Badger, secretary of Armstrong Steel Spring works, has been commissioned first lieutenant in the National army and assigned to the mechanical shop unit of quartermaster corps at Camp Holabird, Md.

ALL HE WANTED TO KNOW

Interview With One Dealer Satisfied Shovel Maker That He Had No Need to Worry.

Many delightful villagers appear in Miss Rosaline Richards' "A Northern Countryside;" there are people amusing and lovable, eccentric and pathetic. Old Eliphalet Marston, hero of one brief anecdote, stands out among them all as the best exemplification of the principles on which real business success is founded.

Eliphalet, who built and owned the shovel factory, made it his study to produce the best-wearing and the soundest shovel that could be made. In later life his son tried to induce him to go about through the country, look up his customers, and do what he could to increase trade. The son was very emphatic about it. It was what every one did, the only way to keep up-to-date and advertise the business, and Eliphalet must not become mossgrown. The old man shook his head, but after much discussion consented to start off, although he was not really persuaded of the wisdom of the suggestion.

He went to a big wholesale dealer in Chicago, but did not mention his name—merely said he was there to talk shovels.

"Don't mention shovels to me," said the dealer. "There's just one shovel that's worth having, just one that's honest, and that's the one that I'm handling. There it is," he said, producing it. "Look at it! That's the only shovel that's made in this country; made by a man named Marston, at Marston Plains, state of ——"

Eliphalet chuckled and went home. —Youth's Companion.

CUSTOM FOR CUSTOM'S SAKE

English Church Authorities Continue to Distribute Coins, Though Reason for Doing So Is Forgotten.

In accordance with ancient custom, six-penny pieces were distributed on Good Friday in the churchyard of St. Bartholomew-the-Great, West Smithfield, to 21 widows resident in the parish of St. Bartholomew. The coins were dropped upon one of the flat tombstones by Corporal W. H. Irons, R. E. (under church warden), and the widows, whose ages ranged from eighty-five to sixty, were required to pick them up. Concerning the origin of the custom, nothing is definitely known. Until Mr. Butterworth, some thirty years ago, invested a sum of money sufficient to assure what was needed to continue the custom on Good Fridays, the distribution was in danger of being discontinued, inasmuch as there was no fund from which the money was supplied. Until then the expense was borne by the church wardens. The nave of the church once stood upon the spot where the money is now distributed, but was destroyed at the time of the dissolution of the monasteries. Mr. Deputy Turner, who died last year, had conducted the ceremony for 30 years.—London Morning Post.

New Chapter in Anthropology.

It is an extraordinary chapter in anthropology that Prof. Wood-Jones, of the University of London, reads in the Talgai skull and associated remains discovered in New South Wales in 1889. The antiquity suggested is far greater than that of the European ancient skulls, and, instead of being descendants of the anthropoid apes, the human race is shown to have been so highly developed as to have boats and domesticated dogs before the apes appeared. This skull, distinctly human and highly mineralized, was in a stratum with extinct pouched animals. Bones of dingo dogs were found in a similar stratum, and with them bones of extinct pouched animals that had been gnawed by the dogs. Only pouched animals were known in Australia at the time of Captain Cook. Australia has been an island since pouched animals were evolved, and it is argued that the Talgai man must have come in a boat with his family and dogs.

Something to "Greet" About.

Persons casting about for something to worry about may take pleasure in recalling from "The Little Minister" the manner in which self-styled simple folk in Scotland regard the northern lights—"the devil's rainbow," Waster Lunny called it. "I saw it sax times in July month," he said, "and it made me shut my een. You was out admiring it, dominie, but I can never forget that it was seen in the year '12 just afore the great storm. I was only a laddie then, but I mind how that awful wind stripped a' the standing corn in the glen in less time than we've been here at the water's edge. It was called the deil's bosom. My father's hinmost words to me was, 'It's time eneuch to greet, laddie, when you see the aurora borealis.'" Waster Lunny was "greeting" o'er the drought then, but twelve hours later the Quharity was out of its banks, washing out the corn and with a year's store of wool on its crest was dashing out to sea.

How to Use the Telephone.

Telephone experts declare that if a person speaking over a phone holds the transmitter four inches from his mouth it is equivalent to adding about 220 miles to the line over which he is conversing. Carelessness in using a telephone is one of the common causes for indistinct transmission. The best results are obtained by allowing about half an inch to intervene between the mouth and the transmitter, according to Popular Mechanics Magazine.

DIFFERING IDEAS OF GENIUS

World Has Never Thoroughly Recognized Any One Definition of Highly Prized Quality.

Carlyle was much laughed at for saying that genius was an infinite capacity for taking pains. That does not sound like genius; one imagines genius as raveling its hair, whatever raveling may be, and producing the immortal Word to the accompaniment of epileptic fits; absinthe also goes with genius very well. But in reality genius, I suspect, is a tamer affair and arises easily enough in men like Rembrandt, who painted pictures because he liked doing it and because the sitters paid him for their portraits. Much more satisfactorily to Carlyle it arises in men like Flaubert, who revealed much of his attitude in one phrase of his correspondence. "Today I have worked sixteen hours and have at last finished my page." Therein lies the difference between Flaubert and De Maupassant; it may be, too, that Boileau was right in advising the poet a hundred times to replace his work upon the bench, endlessly polish it and polish it again; but many instances of almost spontaneous creation confront us. It is enough to quote that in six years, between 1602 and 1608, Shakespeare appears to have written eleven plays, among them "Julius Caesar," "Hamlet," "Othello," "Macbeth" and "King Lear."

What shall we say, then, of the vague thing, genius, which is to mankind what the thing we call soul is to man? For my part, I believe it to be volcanic rather than sedimentary. It is as if the spirit of the race accumulated in a creature, the spirit of life claiming to be born. Genius will out, but it is most frequent in certain periods of human history, such as the Elizabethan or Medicean, in certain places, such as France, Italy and the low countries, under certain influences, such as oppression, war, revolution or social decay.

That is an interesting catalogue, and, if history repeats itself, the future for genius, as evidenced particularly in art, would be black, for there have been few periods where comfort, ease and security bred genius. It is as if the plant needed something to push against. Everyday life becomes more secure, justice more certain, property more assured; humanity grows fat, and the grease of its comfort collects round its heart. It is difficult to imagine genius flourishing in a world perfectly administered by city councils.—Harper's Magazine.

Literary Towns.

Ontario has had the good sense to call one of its towns or cities Shakespeare, and the suggestion has more than once been made that the new federal capital of the Commonwealth of Australia should receive the same fine and illustrious name.

Bacon figures twice in town nomenclature in America, but whether it was in compliment to the great Elizabethan, or to the product of Chicago there is nothing to show. In the same great country which called its capital after its greatest man, Washington, there are a large number of Miltons, and almost as many Byrons, and at least a dozen Burnses, probably the last being the abode of canny Scots or their descendants.

There are only two Tennysons, however, and the same number of Shelleys and Keatses and Ruskins and Balzacs. Thackeray has one town named after him, whereas his rival and contemporary, Dickens, scores three times.—London Tit-Bits.

Looks for World Famine.

Mr. Egan, United States minister to Denmark, says if the war lasts two years longer the whole world will be on the verge of starvation. That is possible. With 10,000,000 men in arms, consuming and not producing, the time is coming and is not far off when there will be no food left. A foodless world will be a strange experience. There have been famines, but for the people to have nothing to eat anywhere is a situation that has never been anticipated heretofore. There is some gratification in thinking that the Hun will be getting hungrier than we are and will be turning to us to borrow a little flour and bacon, which we will be sure to lend him on condition that he promises to behave himself and let up on his kultur.—Ohio State Journal.

Keep Bees and Need No Sugar.

The United States department of agriculture has started a campaign to stimulate bee-keeping, this as a real war economy measure, for honey can take the place of sugar, and there are absolutely unlimited supplies of honey in the flowers that grow wild all over the land.

Bee-keeping is very easy, and any man who goes about it carefully and with such elementary instructions as he can get from the department of agriculture can have a good crop of honey the first year and be able to laugh at the scarcity of sugar, besides making a profit by the sale of the product of his bees.

Had Been Through Hell.

Louis Raemaekers, the famous Dutch cartoonist, now in this country, whom the London Times has called "the only great genius brought out by the war," was unheard of before the war began. On August 1, 1914, he was living quietly with his family, contentedly painting the tulip fields, waterways, cattle and windmills of his native Holland. Four days later he drew the first cartoon, "Christendom After Twenty Centuries," of a series that was to reveal him as a champion of civilization and make his name a household word in every country. Raemaekers personally investigated the Belgian horror, and though a hundred of his early cartoons bear witness to the burning impression made upon his mind, he has only once brought himself to speak publicly of this experience. It was at a dinner given the artist at the Savage club, London, and, pointing to the portraits of Peary, Shott, Nansen and Shackleton Raemaekers said: "I, too, have been an explorer, gentlemen. I have explored a hell, and it was terror unspeakable." Raemaekers is in his forty-eighth year.

Trade Marks in the Orient.

You can acquire a trade mark right in Japan by registration only, and not by priority of use, and if you omit to register anyone else may forestall you with your own mark. There are no national laws in China covering the registration of trade marks. It is usual for exporters to register their marks at their own consulates, and it is regarded as a good precaution to have them registered in Japan as well.

KEPT THEM MOVING

English Major Has Machine Gun Crew on the Jump.

About as Little Uncertainty in His Orders as There Are Polite Phrases in the Language He Employed in Issuing Them.

I make my way through the thick brush at Camp Upton to a machine gun range, guided by the intermittent staccato chatter of a Colt and hoping that I'm not by any chance wandering on to the private reserve of any busy bullets, William Slavens McNutt writes in Collier's.

I come out of the woods on the rear of the gun position. Near a big camp-fire a dozen or more American officers are grouped around two machine guns listening to the instructions of an English major. The English officer is a short, spare, peppery veteran with a raspy voice that he can use for the same purpose that a mule skinner uses a blacksnake.

"Burr-wuff!" he shouts. That's as near as I can get to it phonetically. Two captains [illegible] their places by the machine g[illegible] one who sights and operates the [illegible] throws himself flat on his back with head cradled on the knees of the man feeding. There is some slight delay and the English major breaks into song.

"Come, come! Carry on! What are we waiting for? You should have killed a hundred by now. What is it? What is it? My word! Not so slow. We're not having dinner, you know; we're killing Boches. What the blinkety-blank's wrong now? Come, come! Carry on! Carry on!"

The gun speaks jarringly. One side of the barrel spits a stream of yellow cartridge cases over the breast of the operator holding the trigger. Three hundred yards distant the blade of bullets slices the ground before the target and throws up a little line of dust.

The major orders a fifty yard advance. The American officers dismount the piece, go forward at the double-quick and set it up once more. The operator pulls the trigger. Nothing happens. He fusses and tugs. Still no result. The English major calms himself and heaves a deep sigh. He looks at the gun crew like a man with no insurance viewing a total loss. "Oh, my eye!" he groans sadly. "How dead you'd have been by now! All right, leave off, leave off! Never mind."

He points to the man who carried the ammunition and who is standing behind the gun curiously watching the efforts of the crew to make it shoot.

"Next time don't stand up behind the gun. You stick up there like a dummy in a shop window. A body would think you were an advertisement for something. You're not trying to sell the gun to the Boches, you know. Standing there giving away the gun position! Next time find cover twenty paces to the right or left and try to act like a bit of mud. Yes!"

CREED WORTH LIVING UP TO

Man Who Wrote It Had Proper Appreciation of the Advantages of Life in the Country.

If any country boy ever becomes discontented with his lot and thinks there might be more opportunities elsewhere, or a better place to live than in a white farmhouse, let him read the creed composed by Edwin Osgood Grover. The lines might be pinned up on his bureau, where he can see them the first thing in the morning and the last thing at night.

"I believe that the country, which God made, is more beautiful than the city, which man made; that life out of doors and in touch with the earth is the natural life of a man.

"I believe that work is work wherever we find it, but that work with nature is more inspiring than work with the most intricate machinery.

"I believe that the dignity of labor depends not on what you do, but on how you do it; that opportunity comes to a boy [illegible] he farm as often as to a boy in the [illegible]ty; that life is larger and freer and [illegible]pier on the farm than in the town; [illegible] my success depends not upon my [illegible]ation, but upon myself; not upon [illegible]eams, but upon what I actually [illegible] not upon luck, but upon pluck.

"I believe [illegible] working when you work and in pl[illegible]g when you play, and in giving and [illegible]manding a square deal in every act [illegible] life."

ADDS T[illegible] HARDNESS OF BRICK

Scientist [illegible]plains Why Straw Is a Neces[illegible]y Ingredient in the Pro[illegible] of Manufacture.

Everyone is familiar with the story of how Pharaoh commanded his taskmakers to increase the burdens laid on the Israelites by withholding from them the straw wherewith to make bricks, says the Popular Science Monthly, and doubtless many have wondered wherein the hardship lay. By most people, probably, the view has been held that the straw was added as a binding material, much as hair is used in the mortar; but such an explanation is scarcely satisfying when it is remembered that the straw fiber is a very weak one. Alexander Findlay says in his "Chemistry in the Service of Man":

"About fourteen years ago it was found by Dr. E. G. Acheson, to whom we owe the discovery of carborundum and the process of making artificial graphite, that when clay is mixed with a dilute solution of tannin it becomes much more plastic, and the strength of the dried brick is, moreover, greatly increased. Although straw does not contain tannin it was found that when straw is treated with water, the extract obtained has the same action on clay as tannin has, the plasticity of the clay and the hardness of the brick being greatly increased.

Where Man Is Not Supreme.

Physiologists tell us that the human nose is a degenerate organ; clumsy in comparison with the noses of dogs and other lower animals! If a man has run across a meadow it would be folly for you or me to try to find his tracks by smelling the grass even half a minute after he had passed. But days afterward, when perhaps the tracks of that man have been crossed by those of many other men, a bloodhound's nose will pick them up and follow them infallibly. The noses of the lower animals are far keener than those of men. But those of men are keener than their fingers, their tongues, their ears or their eyes.

DR. GUERNSEY P. WARING

Alhambra, Cal, Physician Is Suddenly Called

Alhambra, July 27.—Dr. G. P. Waring, a practicing physician in Alhambra for the past ten years and a prominent figure in the civic life of the community died very suddenly of heart hisease at his home in DosRobles place today

He attended a church service last night and apparently was in his usual health when he arose this morning. Half an hour later he complained of a severe pain in the region of his heart. He was assisted to a couch by members of the family and a doctor summoned, but death followed almost instantly.

He was 66 years of age, a native of Michigan and was in practice in Chicago for a number of years before coming to Alhambra ten years ago. He was vice-president of the Michigan Society of Southern California, secretary and treasurer of the local Michigan Society and was for some years secretary of the Alhambra Chamber of Commerce. He was active in the affairs of the Prohibition party and had been a delegate to state and national conventions. Some years ago he was president of the International Homeopathic Society.

He is survived by his wife, a daughter Miss Ruth Waring, who is employed in the Los Angeles public library, and a son Richard Waring, who is in the naval serviceand stationed at San Pedro.

The above was taken from the Los Angeles Times of July 29 Mr Waring was well known in Tecumseh graduating from our school with the class of 1873 and has many relatives and friends who will regret to hear of his death. A letter from George Monavon tells of his funeral and cremation his ashes are to be sent to Michigan for burial.

EXAMINE YOUR INNER SELF

Possibly There May Be Machinery There That Can Be Utilized to Good Purpose.

Strange forces give men purpose and jar them into action. Love, pride, sorrow, fear—all sorts of hidden feelings are responsible for the shaking of men out of ruts and into fields of undreamed of achievement. More than one big success finds its real origin in the personal disappointment of some man—perhaps over a college education he couldn't get, or a toy he couldn't afford, or a trip he was not able to make. Of course some men are downed by such emotions, but others are made by them.

Most men have perfectly good boilers in them, and fine equipment. But so many never get up steam and go anywhere! They don't want to go anywhere. They just stand still—waiting for a call from within to "get a move on." The call is likely to come any time. If your call is late in coming, why not ring up your inner self and ask him if he can't think of some place he would like to go? It's a shame to have all that expensive machinery and not use it.—American Magazine.

EMERSON FELT WAR'S PINCH

Letter Written by Him Tells of Bad Conditions in New York in the Year 1862.

It is interesting to go back to the early days of the Civil war in this city, when Emerson wrote to a friend of the financial crisis:

"The 1st of January (1862) has found me in quite as poor a plight as the rest of the Americans. Not a penny from my books since last June, which usually yield five or six hundred a year; no dividends from the banks or from Lidian's Plymouth property. Then almost all income from lectures has quite ceased, so that your letter found me in a study how to pay three or four hundred dollars with fifty. Meanwhile we are trying to be as unconsuming as candles under an extinguisher, and 'tis frightful to think how many rivals we have in distress and in economy. But far better that this grinding should go on bad and worse than we be driven by any impatience into a hasty peace, or any peace restoring the old rottenness."—New York World.

To Paraffin Floors.

Make your own materials for keeping your floors polished. Start with an old broom. Cut the straw off just below the wires which hold it to the handle. Cover this with an old stocking and sew onto this covering the legs of other old stockings cut about 12 inches long and slit into one-inch strips up to two inches of one end. Sew these around and around the surface in rows about one inch apart until the mop is of the desired thickness.

Then dip the mop into a solution of one-half cup of melted paraffin and one cup of kerosene, and allow the liquid to dry on the strips.

The mop may be kept moist by rolling it tightly when not in use and covering it with a paper bag.

Saws for Cutting Metal.

Not so very long ago the discovery was made in Germany that metals could be sawed easier and quicker with rapidly revolving smooth disks of steel, than with toothed circular saws. It was found that the cutting was done by the heat generated by the friction of the edge of the disk against the metal. The metal is melted at the point of contact, while the steel of the disk, being cooled by the air, does not reach the melting point. The disks need no sharpening and do not wear out so quickly as the toothed saws heretofore used for cutting metal. The faster the disk revolves, the greater the amount of heat generated, and the quicker the job.—Popular Science Monthly.

MILITARY WEDDING

Two of Tecumseh's Favorites United in Mariage Saturday Evening, August 3d, 1918

SATTERTHWAITE—HAYDEN

One of the most beuatiful weddings ever celebrated in Tecumseh was that of last Saturday evening when Miss Josephine Marie Hayden, oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Hayden, was united in marriage to Lieut. Perry Comfort Satterthwaite, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Newton Satterthwaite, at St Peter's Episcopal church.

The church was decorated with American flags and huge boquets of golden glow and was a scene of beauty.

A large vested choir of twenty voices, under the leadership of Mrs. R. S. Moore, sang several selections appropriate for the occasion. After the organ prelude by Burton Garlinghouse, the choir sang "The Voice that Breathed O'er Eden," by Barnard, and the Bridal Chorus from "The Rose Maiden," Harold Lowry sang the wedding hymn, "Oh, Perfect Love." Lohengrin's chorus, "Faithful and True," was sung as the procession slowly marched to the altar. During the ceremony soft music was played on the organ and Mendelssohn's "Wedding March" was played as the bridal party left the church.

Promptly at the hour of 7:30 the bride, leaning on the arm of her father, was met at the altar by the bridegroom who was accompanied by John Keeney as best man. Miss Camilla Hayden was maid of honor and the Misses Geneva Satterthwaite and Mary Clark were bride's maids.

The little Misses Catherine Patterson and Eleanor Reed were the ring bearers, carrying baskets of white flowers.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Kemp of Bad Axe, a former rector, assisted by Rev. Widdifield, the present rector of St. Peters' church.

The bride was beautiful in a gown of crepe meteor satin with a vest of net, carrying a shower boquet of bride's roses. The gown was trimmed with lace which was sent from abroad a good many years ago and used on her mother's wedding dress.

The maid of honor was gowned in yellow satin and carried a tri-colored boquet. The bride's maids were very attractive in blue organdie with large boquets of golden glow. The ring bearers were very sweet in their white gowns. Lieut. Satterthwait was in army uniform.

B. J. Pulver, Perry Hayden, Dwight Dickey and Corp. Elwood Comfort of SanAntonio, Tex., acted as ushers.

Directly following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride with about 75 guests present. Standing in a bower of flags and flowers, the young couple received the congratulations and best wishes of the company, after which a wedding supper was served.

Later in the evening Lieut. and Mrs. Satterthwaite accompanied by a number of friends left by auto for Toledo where they took the train for Camp Benjamin Harrison.

Among the guests from out of town were Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Perry, Miss Emma Keeney and Frank Keeney of Chicago; Miss Florence Staley of Birmingham, Mich.; Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Clarkson, Fremont, O.; Miss Ruby Hall, Dexter; Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Phelps and daughter Eleanor, Mrs. Alice Dickey, Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Dickey, Marshall; Mrs. Bertha Hayden and daughter Miss Frances, Grand Rapids; Mrs. Arthur Barnes and three children, Bristol, Conn.; Corp. Elwood Comfort, San-Antonio, Texas; William Comfort, Camp Custer; Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Harris, Dr. and Mrs. Verner C. Crane and Burton Garlinghouse, Ann Arbor; Mr and Mrs. P. W. A. Fitzsimmons and daughter Nerissa, Misses Margerita, Alice and Winnifred Wallin of Detroit; Miss Mildred Armstrong, Adrian; Miss Mary Clark Miss Catherine Clark, Miss Doris Kennedy of Clinton; Mrs. Charles Ruthruff and Mrs. Martha Comfort of Jackson.

The bride and groom are both members of highly respected families of Tecumseh, both graduated from our high school with the Class of 1910 and also are graduates of the U of M. Since her graduation the bride has been for several years a very successful teacher in the Birmingham schools. The groom is a first lieutenant of the Engineering Reserve Corps, U. S. A., stationed at Camp Benj. Harrison, Ind., and both bride and groom are much loved and esteemed by their many friends.

LIBERTY BONDS OF THE FIRST AND SECOND ISSUES MAY BE CONVERTED INTO 4¼ BONDS

Transfer Must Be Made Before November 9, 1918

Bonds of the First and Second Liberty Loans may now and until November 9, 1918, be converted into 4¼ per cent bonds. Bonds delivered upon conversion will have the same maturity as the bonds surrendered. In all other respects they will be identical with the bonds of the Third Liberty Loan. Thisconversion maybe effected through the subscriber's bank.

Holders of the 4 per cent bonds of the First Liberty Loan Converted, presenting them for conversion on or before November 9, 1918, will receive in exchange without on adjustment of interest, 4¼ per cent Gold Bonds of 1932-47, bearing interest at the increased rate from June 15, 1918.

Holders of 4 per cent bonds of the Second Liberty Loan, presenting them for conversion on or before November 9, 1918 will receive in exchange, without an adjustment of interest, 4¼ per cent Gold Bonds of 1927-42, bearing interest at the increased rate from May 15, 1918.

Holders of Coupon bonds may receive at their option either Coupon bonds or Registered bonds; but Registered bonds only will be delivered upon conversion of Registered bonds and such bonds will be registered only in the same name as the bonds surrendered for conversion. When Registered bonds are presented for conversion, they should be assigned to "The Secretary of the Treasury for Conversion," on the form appearing on the backs of registered bonds. Such assignments, however, need not be witnessed.

All unmatured coupons must be attached to the bonds presented for conversion, and all matured coupons must be detached.

Holders of the 3½ per cent bonds of the First Liberty Loan, presenting them for conversion on or before November 9, 1918, will receive in exchange 4¼ per cent Gold Bonds of 1923-47, bearing interest at the increased rate from June 15, 1918, but such holders must pay the United States Government accrued interest at the rate of ¾ per cent of 1 per cent per annum from June 15, 1918 to the date of conversion.

The conversion privilege on 4 per cent bonds of both the First and Second Liberty Loans expires on November 9, 1918, and they cannot be converted into subsequent issues of United States bonds which might come out at a higher rate. Therefore, holders of 4 per cent Liberty Loan bonds should in every case present them for conversion. By converting these bonds they will not only receive ¼ per cent on 1 per cent additional interest, but after the conversion period has expired (November 9, 1918) there will undoubtedly be several points difference in the market price of the 4 per cent and 4¼ bonds.

50TH ANNIVERSARY

Ridgeway M. E. Church Celebrates

Over 300 Sign Names to Register

The past week has been observed as the 50th anniversary of the Ridgeway M. E. church and Sunday July 28th, was observed as Missionary Day. The Foreign Missionary Society took up the work in the morning and the Home Society in the evening, each service having a speaker. A musical program was interspersed during the services.

The following Thursday evening was a prayer and praise service and a former pastor, Rev. A. T. Camburn of Pinckney, gave a fine address. This was a very enthusiastic meeting with a large attendance.

Saturday was the great day of greetings and fellowship at which time a community dinner was served nearly 200 partaking of the feast of good things. Following this a meeting was called in the auditorium of the church, Rev. Somers having charge.

During this service Rev. Somers called all the members who were present 50 years ago to come to the front. Eight responded: Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Patttison, Mrs. Jane A. Underwood, Mrs. Eliza Sanford, Mrs. Agnes Loree, Mrs. Sylvia Davidson, Mrs. Schreder, Mrs. Mary A. Foote.

On asking how many were present when the church was dedicated, whether members or not, twelve responded. At this time letters of regret were read from Rev. and F. O. Jones, Rev. and Mrs. J. A. Lowery, Rev. and Mrs. T. M. Mott, Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Pocklington and Mrs. J. O. Shepherd, also from two soldier boys, W. A. Beach and David Underwood. Talks were given by various members of the early days of the church, of the dedication and other interesting events

Sunday morning, August 3d, the pulpit was filled by the Rev. King D. Beach of Preston Ave. M. E. church of Detroit. A male quartet consisting of W. E. Wilson, Ray Gilmore, Pearl Ash and Rev. Somers, gave several beautiful selections, with an anthem by a full choir.

During this service Rev. D. H. Yokum, wife and son Fred arrived from Detroit. Rev. Yokum was called to the platform and made the closing prayer and Benediction.

Sunday-school followed with many visitors.

At 7 o'clock the Epworth League was opened with several musical selections. with Arlene Underwood as leader, Chas. Underwood was called to the front and in a very able manner presented the League service flag with eight stars. Miss Lelah Hathaway responded in a very charming manner and Miss Lillian Dibble followed with a piano solo, "The Star Spangled Banner," and this program followed:

Duet—Dorothy Martin and Lelah McCarbery

Reading—Paul Allison

Solo—Chas. Allen.

Rev. Leonard gave a fine address to the League, the program closing with the singing of "The Star Spangled Banner,"

The evening service was opened with an anthem by the choir.

Remarks by Rev. Lyons of Clinton

Selections by the Ladies Quartet, Mrs. Moon, Mrs. R. J. Avery, Mrs. E. M. Palmer and Miss Tillie Somers

The sermon was given by Rev. Leonard, superintendent of Bay City District.

The church was decorated with groups of flags of all nations and an abundance of flowers. A large collection of photos of many of the old members and friends and a picture of the original church were on display in the hall. In the most conspicuous place in the lower hall, a life sized painting of Simeon Davidson, one of the founders of the church, was placed. At the main entrance on a table was a church record book where over 300 of the visitors signed their names.

RED CROSS NEWS

Some of the old German propaganda talk about Red Cross officials being paid has again cropped up. The following are the facts. Mr. Henry P. Davison who heads the American Red Cross War Council, left his desk as a partner in J. P. Morgan & Co., one of the most lucrative positions in the world, to work for nothing for the Red Cross. Judge Robert S. Lovett, chairman of the board of directors of the Union Pacific Railroad is giving his services to the Red Cross entirely without salary. Mr. Taft's salary is nothing, Miss Boardman's salary is nothing, Miss Delano's salary is nothing. Even a great many of the clerks at Headquarters are volunteers, working without pay.

If anyone tells you that the Red Cross officials are paid, or slurs the American Red Cross, he is either a German propagandist, or a poor fool who is doing as much harm to his country as if he were actually in the Kaisers pay. In either case, give their names to the chairman of the Patriotic League or send them in to the Committee on Public Information Washington D. C., and they will be taken care of.

A year ago $50.00 was offered anyone who could prove that one article had been sold to a soldier by the Red Cross, no one has yet claimed the money although the slanders had been circulating all over the county, yet there are people who will believe any new slander as soon as it raises its head.

As in a whole year, no one has claimed the $50.00 this offer will now be withdrawn.

By order of Mr. Howard Fenton, Manager Central Division of the American Red Cross, all solicitations for money for the Red Cross are to be suspended for the present.

This means that any kind of entertainment to raise money for the Red Cross had to be cancelled until further orders.

As a result of this order, which applies to the whole country the Red Cross Concert Company has cancelled all engagements. The company has been working for the Red Cross for nearly 15 months, and has raised $2060.85 in that time, or an average of $144.00 per month.

The original members of the company were Mrs. Fred Wood, Mrs. Robert Moore, Mrs. Ella Hodges, Mrs. Hardy, W. S. Dickinson Fred Dickinson, Floyd Juckett and Harold Lowry. Mr. Duaine Service soon joined and Roger Waring took Mr. Lowry's place. Mrs. Edna Gaston Heilman performed at a number of the concerts, and others who took part in the program were Clare Camburn, Mrs. Eugene Rosacrans, Will Coller Misses Edna Taylor, Camilla Hayden, Dorothy Balmer, Marjoire Rosacrans, Gladys Bowen and Lillian Kennedy, Burton Garlinghouse, John Pennington, Ernest Church and Lester Coller. Mrs. Thos. McCann was the chairman of collectors at the Wednesday night collection, which netted a total of $510.12. The company has four starson its service flag for John Pennington, Ernest Church, Roger Waring and Harold Lowry.

Thirty four concerts in all were given and the company wishes to thank the auto owners who so generously donated their cars, and made it possible for it to pour this large sum into the Red Cross treasury.

The company may take up work again, when orders are issued to that effect from Red Cross Headquarters in Chicago.

The company gave a concert in Onsted on Friday to a crowded house. Fred Rector, Mr. Campbell and Geo. Hines drove the company up. Fred B. Wood and Will Coller came in their own cars. $50.83 was collected and in response to a further appeal by Mr. Hines, a former resident of Onsted, the collection was increased to $65.64.

The company gave a concert at the Sand Creek church on Sunday evening, Ira Ashley and Will Coller drove the company over, Mr. Wood drove over from the lake. In spite of the intolerable heat there was a fair attendance, and $22.85 was collected.

The materials have not yet been received at Headquarters, as soon as they come the workers will be notified.

Membership renewals—Mrs. J. C. Mahaney, Miss Doris Anderson, Robert Quackenbush.

New Members—Mrs. Nellie Lucas, Miss Sarah McNeil, Mrs. Bert Bartholemew, A. L. Brazee, Msr. A. L. Brazee.

Little Elizabeth Snow, and Ellsworth Broiller gave on entertainment in John Snows yard last week, at which they were the performers. An Indian show, a Red Cross show, and a soldiers parade was staged, the admission was one cent and 36 cents was turned over to the Red Cross.

IMPROVEMENTS ABOUT TOWN

Since the steeple of the Presbyterian church has been made good as new with a new top and a fresh coat of paint, other improvements are in order and cement steps are being built, to replace the old wooden ones.

At the Methodist church the Steeple Jack has done a fine job, painting the steeples, a great improvement. Next in line comes the standpipe, which he is to paint this week. Let the good work go on and let Tecumseh keep in line with other towns.

HOLD THE LINES

As sung by a French Regiment, Air, "Hold the Fort"

Ho! there Johnny, here's Old Glory,
  Waving at the rear,
Uncle's troops are here to aid us,
  Cheer them, Johnny, cheer.

Chorus.

Hold the lines for we are coming,
  U. S. Soldiers call,
Rush the Huns and give them quickly
  Loads of shell and ball.

Hordes of Germans have been fighting,
  Wilhelm forcing on,
Hosts of Allies have been dying,
  Courage almost gone. cho.

After many years of plenty,
  Bread we seem to lack,
Lafayette did sew it broadcast,
  Uncle brings it back. cho.

Uncle Sam did kindly offer,
  Help in time of need,
And his boys are busy sowing,
  Patriotic seed. cho

And the stars and stripes are waving,
  By our colors still,
With the Yankees' aid we'll triumph,
  That we'll prove to Bill, cho.

Kaiser Wilhelm, lower your colors,
  For your end is [illegible]
God and Uncle so ordain it
  Cheer the Sammies, cheer. cho.

Soon the Germans will be calling,
  When the fight we gain,
Sing for us "Star Spangled Banner."
  Key's immortal strain. cho.

Soon our brothers will be sailing,
  Home without a fear,
Some of them will tarry with us,
  For them, drop a tear. cho

But it was a glorious battle,
  With their help we won,
Wives and mothers keep on chanting,
  "The Lord's will be done." cho.

Words by Mrs. John S. Temple,
Tecumseh, Michigan.

THE TEN COMMANDMENTS IN SUGAR CONSERVATION

1. Do not leave sugar in the bottom of tea, coffee or cocoa cup.

2. Sweeten breakfast cereals with honey, syrup, maple sugar, raisins or dates.

3. Substitute molasses, maple syrup, or syrups made from sorghum and corn, for part of sugar used in cooking.

4. Make your cakes without frosting. Or if you do use frosting, use the one that contains little or no sugar.

5. Use fresh, dried, or preserved fruit for dessert in the place of "made dishes" that require sugar.

6. Cut down the use of candies and sweet drinks. They are luxuries not necessities. Use fruits, nuts or popcorn if you must eat between meals. If you must have candies, choose only those made from no sugar.

7. Preserve as much of your fruit as you can by drying it in large quantities.

8. Can fruits and fruit juices without sugar. This may be successfully done by the cold pack method. which you may read in your Public Library, or obtain by applying to the United States Department of Agriculture, at Washington, D. C.) They may be made into jellies or syrups as needed.

9. Limit the amount of jelly or preserves used. These should be limited to the needs of invalids and children. They may be made as needed from unsweetened canned fruits and juices. Use the least possible amount of sugar or syrup in making them.

10. Use no more than one and a half to two ounces of sugar per person per day (3 or 4 tablespoonfuls). This includes all sugar used in cooking as well as that used at the table.

1 cube of sugar weighs one-fourth ounce.

One and one-half level teaspoons of sugar weighs one-fourth ounce (equal to 1 cube.)

If you think this allotment of sugar small, compare it with the allotment of other countries.

We have two pounds of sugar per person per month. (August regulation.)

The English have two pounds of sugar per person per month.

The French have one pound of sugar per person per month.

The Italians have onepound of sugar per person per month.

(When they can get it.)

REV. JAMES G. WIDDIFIELD HOLDS SERVICES AT ST. PETER'S CHURCH

After an Absence of Nearly a Year Spent in France

Gives Message to His People from the Boys "Over There."

After an absence of nearly a year spent in Y. M. C. A. work in France, Rev. James G. Widdifield arrived in Tecumseh last Thursday and took charge of the regular services in Tecumseh and Clinton Sunday. Tecumseh people were glad to welcome our soldier preacher back and he was kept busy meeting his parishioners and friends all of whom were anxious for a haud shake and chat with him. He left for Toronto Monday where he will spend the next two or three weeks before coming back to his parish. His family will return with him in about 3 weeks.

Holy Communion was celebrated at St. Peters Sunday at 11 o'clock and Rev. Widdifield's message to his people was a word of encouragement from the battlefields of France and he stated that he hardly knew what to say as there was so much to be told and only a short time to speak. However, he wanted to bring to his people a word of encouragement from "Over There" and to say that things were going well for the cause Democracy.

"Has Christianity broken down?" This question has been asked time and time again within the past three or four years. The ravishes of the Hun, the trampling underfoot of Belgium, his campaign in France, his wanton destruction upon the seas, his trickery in Russia and elsewhere all would seem to indicate that Christianity had indeed failed, but the cause of justice and right is going on and the Hun is being driven back by the faithful armies of France, Britton, Belgium, Italy and America. The cause of Christianity is marching on and will be triumphant in the end. "I come home" he stated "with a new confidence, a new faith in Christianity."

He said that he was slow to believe the stories of German barbarities which are so commonly told here but his experience in France had taught him that they are all too true.

He told of an evacuation hospital which he had visited and in which he was told that there were 1100 patients who had had their arms and legs cut off by German, soldiers. Many of these sufferers he saw with his own eyes and another hospital which he also visited contained 1400 French girls and women all of whom had been victims of German lust. These are only a very few of the awful cases of Hunism which had come to his notice while in France.

Britton is suffering much, is being deprived of her sons and has lost some 500,000 of her young manhood, is suffering from the lack of necessities, etc., but is bending every effort with true British determination to fight to a successful finish. They say France has been bled white, it is true she has bled much, but she has not been bled white. The will of France is unbroken and her soldiers are fighting with a determination to win, for everything depends upon their winning. He told of many instances of the wonderful sacrifices that French people are making and of the courage of the French women even after they have lost their loved ones.

He paid a high tribute to our boys in France. They are anxious to get back home again, but are determined to fight this thing through and make it impossible for Germany to ever again fasten her fangs upon a peace loving world.

"How is our boy meeting temptation? Just as his mother taught him," he said. Our boys in France, he thinks, are religious, but do not care for any religious formality, they want the every day practical kind.

He put in a plea for the home and hoped the American people would make it a fit place for our boys to come back to.

"What is going to be the future of America? Just what we make it. It depends on what the boys find when they get home."

In closing he admonished the people to "Keep the Home Fires Burning."

Mr. and Mrs. Alvah Peck announce the marriage of their daughter Edna Claire to Mr. Richard Lamont on Saturday the 20th of July, 1918, Seattle, Wash. At home after August 15th, 829 High street, Bellingham Wash. Miss Peck will be remembered as a former teacher in our schools.

PRIMITIVE WAYS IN ARABIA

Mode of Life Differs Little From What It Was in the Time of Abraham.

It appears that in certain parts of the Arabian desert life is as primitive as in Abraham's time. Sheep are still slain to seal a vow. The salt or bread covenant is observed and when a man dies his tent is torn down and destroyed.

Old names like Joseph, Moses, Alexander, etc., are still in common use among Arabs, although pronounced "Yusuf," "Musa" and "Skandar." To divorce his wife a man may repeat the formula "Ent telek" three times; usually uttering it once makes the woman behave and the repetition is not necessary. The evil eye superstition is common, and the first injunction given a foreigner by experienced Arabian travelers is that he must not point at animals or persons in Arab settlements.

Arabs say that a man possessed of this malign power can look at a bird flying in the air and it will drop dead; that if he chooses to cast his wicked spell on a camel it may go lame, or a child may be struck blind. None of the lower class can read or write, but the Arab is noted for his ready wit and his habit of speaking in allegory.

"Swat the Rat!"

Since the introduction of the house rat in the United States they have become extremely abundant and widely distributed throughout the country, where they destroy annually many millions of dollars' worth of food products and crops. These losses occur alike in cities, villages and farmsteads. Their inroads upon food products occur in freight departments of railroads and steamboat lines, storage places of grain and food dealers, commission houses, wholesale drug houses, candy shops, bakeries, flour mills, cold-storage houses, city and country dwellings, granaries, fields and poultry yards. The loss of food and other products in the United States from this source amounts to not less than $200,000,000 annually, which amount does not include indirect losses occasioned by human disease disseminated by rats and the necessary expenditures in combating them.

HAVE NOT YET REACHED LIMIT

More Powerful Explosive Than Any in Present Use Is Dire Possibility of the Future.

Nitroglycerin, although considered one of the most violent explosives in present use, develops only 1,580 calories per kilogram, since the nitric acid which it comprises does not take part in the reaction and the hydrogen and the carbon therein give only 48 per cent of the energy of combustion which they would disengage if they were alone. Explosives of liquid air, or oxyliquite, give as high as 2,200 calories because the liquid oxygen combines directly with the carbon and the hydrogen. The combination of hydrocarbides with ozone, ozonide of ethylene and benzine triozonide, though liberating no more heat of explosion, have a higher "breaking value" because of the greater speed of decomposition.

Theoretically, still more powerful explosives are conceivable; a trichlorate of glycerin should develop 3,000 calories, twice the force of nitroglycerin; and finally, a mixture of liquid hydrogen and liquid ozone, if it were practical, would give about 4,500 calories and would be the most terrible substance possible to obtain.

DADDY OF ALL FISH STORIES

Here Is One That Will Make Any Disciple of Izaak Walton Look to His Laurels.

A reader has asked us to retell the story of the sixty-five pound catfish, which appeared original in the column some six or seven years ago. We have always considered it the best fish story we know. We trust the community will permit us to repeat it.

As we used to tell it, the story ran something like this: We were fishing for bass under the old mill dam in the river, south of Grigsby City. Something took the bait and lunged away with it despite our efforts to hold it. We surmised, correctly, that it was a good-sized catfish or drum, and began working it backward and forward across the stream in the deep water under the dam. Eventually we headed the leviathan down stream and finally stranded it in the shallow "ripple" below. It could get neither forward nor back, and with the help of half a dozen other fishermen, who were watching the contest, we landed it. It proved to be a monster cat of the yellow or Mississippi variety, and weighed sixty-five pounds on the scales uptown.—New York Tribune.

These hospitals are being organized by the medical department of the army and will be equipped with every facility necessary to bring the operating room to the wounded men. Each unit is planned to be equivalent to an evacuation hospital and the nurses, each given the field kit of an officer, will be prepared to camp where night finds them or dine from trailer kitchens as they go along the road.

TO OBEY U. S. ORDER

International Harvester Company Agrees to Dissolve.

"Osborne," "Champion" and "Milwaukee" Lines of Machinery Will Be Disposed of at Once.

Washington, Aug. 5.—Under an agreement between the government and the International Harvester company, United States court decrees declaring the corporation an unlawful combination and ordering its dissolution, will be obeyed at once.

The company's appeal pending in the Supreme court since 1915 will be dismissed. Certain machinery lines controlled by the company together with plants in Springfield, O., and Auburn, N. Y., will be sold.

The terms of the agreement were made public by the department of justice.

The Harvester suit, instituted in Minnesota in 1912, was the first in the prosecution of alleged combinations in restraint of trade in which the United States asked for dissolution on the grounds mainly of size and inherent power.

The case is the first of the more important anti-trust proceedings pending in the Supreme court to be disposed of in this manner since this country entered the war.

Under the terms of the agreement the company will dispose of its harvesting machinery lines known under the trade names of "Osborne," "Champion" and "Milwaukee," together with all machinery and other equipment and its plants in Springfield, O., and Auburn, N. Y., where the first two lines are manufactured.

Because of the country's financial condition, due to the war, the government is inclined to be more lenient with the company and will give it until one year after peace has been declared to carry out the terms of the agreement. Should this not be done by that time, however, the property will be sold at auction.

Another term in the agreement provides that after December 31, 1919, the company will not be permitted to have more than one representative in each city or town.

In the event the terms of this agreement fail to meet the situation and restore competitive conditions in the harvesting and agricultural machinery trade, the government reserves the right at the expiration of 18 months after the war to "such further relief in the present case as may be necessary to that end."

History of the Sword.

The sword came from ancient Egypt and was used through Palestine, Syria and Asia Minor, India and throughout the western world. It was in Egypt that the three shapes of the sword blade originated, these being the straight, the curved and the half curved. The Roman sword was larger than that of the Greeks and in the days of the empire many of the sheaths were so covered with precious stones as to be veritable art treasures. Among the Moslems the highest title given to a warrior of renown is "the sword of Allah." The Chinese made swords of iron as early as 1870 B. C.

TRAIN HITS CARS; 5 KILLED

Fifteen Others Injured in Argo, Ill., When Trolley Coach Is Caught on Crossing.

Chicago, Aug. 5.—Five persons were killed and more than fifteen hurt when a Belt Line freight train struck and demolished an Argo trolley car which was trying to "beat the crossing" near Sixty-third street and Archer avenue in Argo.

The dead: Baby Graan, daughter of Mrs. Carl J. Graan of South Chicago; a mother and daughter, unidentified, in O'Brien's morgue; an unidentified man; an unidentified women.

The motorman and conductor of the street car and the engineer of the freight train were taken into custody by the Argo police. Both the motorman and conductor are alleged to have seen the approaching freight and to have proceeded in attempting to make the crossing. When the street car was halfway over the crossing it was stalled. The carmen jumped and were not hurt.

The freight engine struck the car full in the side. The car was thrown 20 feet from the track and turned turtle, finally being deposited on its side. Many of the passengers in the street car were pinned under the wreckage and could not be extricated for some time.

GREAT HONORS TO PERSHING

American Commander Awarded Grand Cross of the Legion of Honor by French Government.

Paris, Aug. 5.—Gen. John J. Pershing, commander in chief of the American expeditionary forces in France, was awarded the grand cross of the Legion of Honor by the French government.

Premier Clemenceau sent the following telegram to General Pershing:

"I take great pleasure in informing you, my dear general, that the government of the French republic has decided to confer upon you the dignity of the grand cross of the Legion of Honor.

"France shall never forget that it was at a moment when the struggle was most bitter that your splendid troops came to add their efforts to ours."

SAINT SURELY WOMAN HATER

Colomba, It Must Be Admitted, Carried His Aversion to the Feminine Sex to an Extreme.

Women have been forbidden on several islands ruled by the Catholic clergy. One of the most famous of these is Iona of Icolmkill, called also I or Hy, a small island of the inner Hebrides, nine miles southeast of Staffa, and separated from the island of Mull by a channel one and a quarter of a mile wide, called the sound of Ioe of Icolmkill; it is in Argyleshire, and has a population of about three hundred, whose only occupations are fishing and raising black cattle on the bleak moors. From earliest times the island has been accounted holy and it is still known to the Highlanders as Eilean nah Druinech—the Sacred Isle of the Druids, for whose rites it was the chief seat.

In 563 Conal Christian, king of the Northern Scots, granted it to St. Colomba. Brude, king of Picts, confirmed the gift upon being converted. Colomba built a chapel and a hospice of wicker and mud thatched with heather among the 300 gray Druidical monoliths, on which rude crosses were sculptured by early converts. Colomba's aversion to everything feminine was such that he forbade even the keeping of cows on the island, for, he said, "where there is a cow there must be a female, and where there is a female there must be mischief." Any married tradesman of Iona must keep his wife on the neighboring "Woman's Isle." While the lords of the isle were brought to Iona for burial, their wives were buried on the Isle of Finlagah.

GRANTS 8-HOUR DAY

Labor Board Gives Steel Workers Right to Organize.

Decision Announced at Washington Affects Approximately 28,000 Employees at Bethlehem, Pa.

Washington, Aug. 5.—The national war labor board, in the most important and far-reaching decision of its career announced its finding in the case of the Bethlehem Steel company of Bethlehem, Pa., affecting approximately 28,000 workers. Summarized, the decision of the board is as follows:

Grants workers the right to organize and to resort to collective bargaining in dealing with employers.

Orders the revision or complete elimination of the bonus system now in operation at Bethlehem to reward the more skilled workmen.

Decrees the revision of piece work rates and establishment of a minimum hourly wage rate for 5,000 machine shop workers in conformity with one of the scales now being applied by the war and navy departments.

Applies the basic eight-hour day with payment of time and a half for overtime and double time on Sundays and holidays, with additional provision for just overtime payment to piece workers.

Calls upon the Bethlehem company to pay men and women alike when performing the same work and to allot to women no work disproportionate to their strength.

In addition to the foregoing findings, which labor leaders believe will be used as a basis for decisions in other disputes coming before the board, the decision directs that piece work rates shall be revised by the plant management co-operating with committees of the workers and representatives of the ordnance department, inasmuch as the government is chiefly concerned just now in the product of the plant; and futher that a permanent local board of mediation and conciliation, consisting of six members, three chosen by the company and three by the workers, be established to effect agreements on future disputed points and on disputed matters not covered in the award just made. This board is to be presided over by a chairman to be designated by and to represent the secretary of war.

In addition an examiner of the war labor board is to be assigned to interpret and enforce the award.

The decision also grants specific wage increases to 440 electrical workers, who made an issue of their wage rates. The electricians demanded increases to 67½ cents an hour for electricians, and at least 40 cents an hour for helpers. The board awards the demand, 67½ cents for first-class electricians, 62½ cents for second-class electricians and 40 cents for helpers.

Wages for other workers are left to be fixed through the system of bargaining and co-operation between the company and the men which the award specifies shall be permitted.

KAISER CALLS OUT WORKERS

Cripples From Army and Foreigners to Make Up Shortage of Men Withdrawn From Factories.

British Front in France, Aug. 5.—The "comb-out" for man power in Germany is most drastic. It indicates the high command is striving to offset the ever-increasing strength of the Americans.

An official document shows the comb-out was to extend through June, July and August.

In August the war ministry proposed to make a complete reclassification. Firms which would not release for military service the full number required would be proceeded against.

The document closes with the statement that surprise visits will be paid all factories and that both day and night shifts would be inspected.

Cripples discharged from the army and foreigners were to make good the shortage of men withdrawn from factories.

W. H. Lee of Missouri State Council of Defense Denies He Authorized Statement Made by Secretary.

St. Louis, Aug. 5.—W. H. Lee, treasurer of the Missouri state council of national defense, in a statement denied that the council was responsible for the recent statement of its secretary, W. F. Saunder of Jefferson City, in which former Gov. Joseph W. Folk, Democratic candidate for the nomination of United States senator, was denounced for the alleged impugning of Missouri's loyalty in a charge. Lee, in the statement, declared that no vouchers for expenses of the council would be paid until all candidates for the senatorial seat issued statements absolving the council from the blame of the charge.

Index Finger as Nut Cracker.

Nut crackers, which are based on leverage, make us suppose that it takes great strength to open a nut; and, in fact, everyone knows from experience that without such a little machine it is hardly possible to overcome the hardness of a nut. And yet one can open hundreds of nuts in a very short time without any implement and without any effort whatever merely with the aid of the index finger.

Place the nut upon a stone or a block of wood, but so that the joint stands perpendicular. In this position hold it fast with the index finger of your left hand, strike with the right fist hard upon the index, and the nut will at once break asunder. Light blows will not accomplish the feat. One must strike hard. It may happen that the nut will fly away, but this only proves that the joint was not held in a perfectly perpendicular position, which is indispensable to success. The point of the nut should also be turned toward the chest.

FROM OUR BOYS IN SERVICE

ADDRESS OF THE ALSATIAN PEOPLE TO THE AMERICAN SOLDIERS ON THE OCCASION OF THE CELEBRATION OF THE 4th OF JULY IN ALSACE

Soldiers of the United States:

Always friends and now brothers of France. You have brought us the strongest proof that the cause for which we are fighting is a just one. Otherwise you would not have crossed the ocean to our aid.

We thank you and we pledge you that the alliance you have already sealed by your blood on French soil shall be forever regarded as one of the noblest achievements of our history.

To day all France celebrates with you the anniversary of your bravely achieved independence—the glorious fourth of July, 1776—and is pound of your nations progress in all the noblest works of civilization, including peace, which your government defended as long as possible with honor and safety for the other nations, now your allies, who had been treacherously attacked by the Foe of Peace, the Aggressor against Civilization.

For forty years France suffered the sorrow and humilation of the loss of Alsace-Lorraine—multiplying her sacrifices in an effort to save Europe from such horror and bloodshed as had come upon us in 1870, when these beautiful provinces were torn from her and annexed to Germany against the will of their inhabitants, who from that time on, were forbidden to speak their own language or possess their own flag. Any effort ta strengthen the fortifications of our frontier or increase the strength of our standing army brought forth from Germany threats of immediate attack, and added violence against the peoples of Alsace-Lorraine who, always loyal to France, suffered persecution and martyrdom to escape being forced to serve in the German army. Young men of these Provinces fled from their homes by night, unable thereafter to return even to the bedside of dying parents lest they be shot down as traitors to Germany or spies for France. Today two generations of our men are scattered over the whole of the globe except Germany—Many of them are citizens of America.

Since Germany re-organized and re-inforced her own armies, not a year has passed without some injury being offered to our interests or insult to our flag, to force France to an armed protest. But France, together with her allies, England and Russia, only increased her effort to preserve peace. Germany, with malice afore thought interpreted all these sacrifices as signs of weakness—or made accusations that we were planning a war of revenge. Proof to the contrary was given in the first terrible months of the war when our army, composed of civilians called from the grain fields and factories fought almost without uniforms or equipment. The commercial resources of America enabled us and our Allies to withstand although sorely pressed, until the growing indignation of your people against the atrocities and calumnies heaped upon you by Germany wore out the patience of your government, whose efforts to restore peace had not failed in friendliness to all belligerents.

These past fourteen months have seen the landing in France of an American army. Today the whole world rings with the story of deeds of courage and military skill great as any the war has shown.

Defenders of Liberty—you are now pledged to aid the restoration of France to Alsace-Lorraine and to force the retreat from allied soil—Belgium, Poland, Russia, Serbia—of the brutal enemy whose foreword is military conquest, while yours and ours is Liberty, Equality, Fraternity among all peoples. E. Pluribus Unum united we stand, divided we fall.

Sergt. B. M. Hastings, who is with the Co. B. in France sends the above address in a letter to Kenneth Hay. The address is very interesting and shows the loving spirit of the Alsatian people to the American soldiers.

Another letter from our friend, Capt. Milburn Hawkes to his father, full of interesting matter and will be enjoyed by our many readers:

A. E. F., July 1, 1918

Dear Dad:

I have your letter of 28 and 29th May which took a long while to get here. Was glad to hear that you were so well. I am also well.

I am in a house two miles from the front with a family that lived in N. Y. for 22 years. They have two daughters and of course all speak English but they do not seem to like us Americans.

I am glad to hear of the big showing Tecumseh made in the big drive. Don't know what we would do without the Red Cross. May God bless every one of the faithful workers is the sentiment of all our boys.

The men are prone to forget them but the officers who have the men to look after can more appreciate what they are doing. They send us a roll of daily papers (N. Y. Herald) published in Paris. We get it in the front lines every day and without cost. We also get tobacco and cigarettes from them without cost, while the Y. M. C. A. charge enough for everything and then they are not any too accommodating.

Have been very busy the past week training a group of picked men for a big raid which came off last night. It was a little early for the 4th but we couldn't wait. It sure made Fritz sore for he came back with his hell today.

I expected to take the party over but the last day the Major said no, so I had to stay back and watch the show. This is about all I can say about it.

The people (men, women, girls and boys) all work in the fields with their gas masks handy and don't mind the shells at all. They are making hay now. Mow it all with a scythe and shake it out and rake it up all by hand. Have seen only two mowers and one rake since we are here. No reapers at all. It will be soon time to harvest rye and barley which looks very heavy. All the crops are excellent but such small fields. It seems that it is a law or custom that when ever the parents die the land is divided among the children and of course everytime this land is divided into 10 or 15 parts it sure grows smaller so here and there is a strip of grass then rye then barley or something else which looks very odd to us.

If these people could only realize how much we mean to them and their future they would be more friendly. They are led around by their religion considerably and are away behind the times.

Very few horses but plenty of oxen which sure are well trained and very strong but slow. Guess they are speedy enough for the people as they can't walk very fast with wooden shoes.

It is strange at night to see big trucks autos and wagons moving along the roads without lights but that is the way it is done and they never have any trouble.

I must tell you a funny joke about our propaganda. We shot a lot of printed bills over in the Boche lines at night and a couple of days later he shot some back and wrote in them that he could not read them as they were not printed in good German. Can you beat it?

Well I must close for this time as it is past my bed time and it looks as if it might be rather quiet tonight, for awhile at least. One can never tell, however, and we sleep wit hour clothes partly on, even back here.

Lots of love to you and best wishes to all my relatives and friends.

Sonny.

We print today a letter from Lestre Waring just received by his father H. S. Waring telling quite a little of the life in Camp which is quite interesting.

Camp Farragut, Co. 47,
Barracks 946, Great Lakes, Ill.
Aug. 5, 1918

Dear Folks at home:

One week has passed, it seems like a month. We certainly are getting our share of work. Our commander's name is Hersh.

First thing in the morning at five o'clock, the bugle blows and everybody piles out. Ten minutes after five a fellow comes along with a ball bat and you get out then whether you want to or not. We get into our bath room and take a hot shower then a cold shower. Then we comeback, put on our clothes and roll up our beds which consists of a bag about 6x3 ft. with about 4 in of packed straw in it and we have two big blankets, 7 ft. square. We fold our clothes, then roll them up and have our pillows.

We are sleeping on the floor at present, but it is mopped clean three times a day, also the tables, walls and everything. At 5:30 we all fall in line east of the barracks and then police the grounds all over for pieces of paper, stubs of cigars cigarettes and matches etc. At six o'clock we fall in again and are drilled about half an hour, then we get in our barracks and line up for chow, (eats), after breakfast we are drilled again, but we have certain gangs, who do other work and they are exempt from drilling as long as their work last in the barracks.

There are three gangs: Chow gang those who get the food from the galley, (the main kitchen) the head gang, who keep the bath room and toilet clean and the swabbing gang those who mop and clean the main rooms in the barracks.

We have six guards on duty for three days at a time, each guard on for two hours. I have been on guard for the last three days my hours were the worse ones in the bunch as usual 1 to 3 o'clock a. m. and P. m.

After breakfast we have a chance to do our shaving, bathing or sewing, anything we wish until 8:30, then we fall in again and drill until 11:00, we have our chow at 11:30 then we can rest till one o'clock, then drill until 4:30, then we do anything we wish until 6:00 o'clock when we fall in again and police the grounds, then we have chow again at 6:30.

At 7:00 o'clock we fall in again and go to the ditch an amphitheatre and here they have a program every night amateur boxing matches, singers, vaudeville, speakers etc., then we are marched home again. We are supposed to be in at 8:30 making our beds and taking our bath before 9:00 o'clock, for at nine sharp the bugle blows and we pile into bed. At nine five the bugle blows again "Taps" this time, no talking after it blows either, "Some life I tell you too."

Went to church Sunday (Pres.) came home and stood guard all the afternoon, but all the rest had to pile lumber of my company, and I got out of it. We work harder every day. I get my second shot in the arm this afternoon.

Give Roger my best when you write to him, right away.

Saw Dr. Trask here.

With lots of love to you and Uncle Tribou and everybody.

Yours, Lester Waring.

Another good letter fro Charley Hanna, this time received by Guy E. Nemire:

Somewhere in France,
July 10th, 1918.

Dear Friend Guy:

Don't think I have forgotten you, just because you have not heard from me but I have so many people writing me and with what little time I do have to myself, it keeps me writing most of the time.

Well, Guy, this is sure some different life than living in Tecumseh. I have got used to it and don't mind it at all. We roll out in the morning at 5:30 by the old bugle blowing "Can't Get Them Up," fall in line at 5:45 for roll call, then we make up our bunks and wash up for our first hash of the day at 6 and fall in line again at 6:30 for our daily work. We leave camp at 5:30 and take our mess kits with us for we get our dinner at a field kitchen. Can you imagine about a thousand of us sitting around eating? Some dining hall! It is not so bad in nice weather, but oh you sloppy weather!

We quit work at 5 and by the time we get back to camp wash and have supper it is about 7. So you see we do not have much time to ourselves, for Uncle Sam makes us go to bed at 9:30 and besides we work a good share of the nights, we generally have have to work Sunday. The Sunday's we have off it takes me all morning doing my washing and taking a bath. Believe me, I am some wash woman. Can you imagine me down by a creek washing clothes? Some life!

Evenings we generally play ball or watch a game there are always about a dozen games going on. We have a swell ball team, have not been beaten yet.

I am able to get off quite a lot to go to different places and play. A week ago Sunday we went to —— city, and played the Harper Hospital Unit team. We beat them 2 to 1, and this gave us the opportunity to go to Paris and play, so I am going to see the big city after all. This was our first time in a city since we came here and you can imagine what kind of a time we had after being up here in the woods so long.

I am working at my trade. Most of my work is movable machine shop work. We repair all the big guns and also make all kinds of repairs and gun wrenches. I like the work very well and am getting along fine. We have some fine entertainments at the Y. The other night Elsie Janis was here and she sure is good. We have a small town here that is just a good walk. We often take the walk and get a real feed. We are only allowed to go into the cafes between the hours of 10 to 1 in the daytime and 5 to 8 in the evenings. The cafes here are open Sundays as well as week days. It certainly makes it nice for us fellows.

We have a Masonic Social Club here and we meet every Wednesday night. We have members from every state in the Union. There are several members from Michigan, but I am the lone representative of old No. 69.

We are having swell weather. It is very hot in the daytime and very cold at night, makes it fine to sleep and we certainly get lots of that.

Well, Guy, the news you would like to get I dare not write for we have a censor, so you will have to wait until the old boy gets home again. From my view point it will last until a year from this fall, and, oh! this winter sure will be h—l.

Are you catching any fish this year? I sure would like to take one of those old trips again.

The first bugle has blown for the lights to go out, so will close for this time. Hoping to hear from you soon, wishing you the best of health and good luck, I remain as ever the same old "Nifty."

Yours fraternally,
Frederick C. Hanna.

P. S. Give my regards to the old bunch.

CASUALTY LIST CONTAINS 706

Names of Soldiers Who Fought At Marne Have Begun to Arrived.

Washington.—Names of American soldiers who have fallen in the great Franco-American drive which turned the German offensive on the Marne into an utter defeat, have begun to come from overseas. They swelled to 706, total casualties made public by the war department in two separate lists.

Although nearly three times as great as the largest number heretofore announced in a single day, the total represents only a part of the lists, which have been accumulating since the great battle began July 15. And it is not to be assumed that this represents the losses for any one day.

No estimate of American casualties in this continuous fighting has been received from General Pershing, and it was said authoritatively that none is expected.

In that connection, Acting Secretary of War Crowell deprecated any guess as to casualties in the overseas forces, saying that publications, which would exaggerate, or minimize, the total, would create unnecessary anxiety among relatives and friends of American soldiers.

Of the names, made public 459 were of those who were killed in action, and 80 who died from wounds. The second list contained only names of the dead—256 killed in action, and 13 who died of wounds—but the first list showed 48 wounded severely, 100 wounded, degree undetermined, and three missing in action. In the first list, there were also nine who died of disease, one of an aeroplane accident, and six from accidents and other causes.

MAY TAX RICH 75 PER CENT

INCOMES OF $5,000,000 OR OVER COMMITTEE URGES HEAVY TAX TO MEET WAR NEEDS.

10 PER CENT LUXURY TAX URGED

80 Per Cent Straight Tax On All Business Profits Derived From War Contracts Or War Business.

Washington—A sharp clash between the treasury department and the ways and means committee over war profits taxes in the revenue bill developed at a recent session of the committee.

Treasury officials demand a straight tax of 80 per cent on all business profits derived from war contracts or war business. The committee favors a double system, including high excess profits tax and war profits tax, giving the treasury the alternative of selecting the one which will yield the government the greatest amount of revenue.

Chairman Kitchen stated that the difference in the amount that would be raised under the treasury plan and the excess profits plan would be considerable if the excess profits rates were made high enough to catch all those whose profits before the war were as high as present profits.

The committee decided that super taxes on personal income which were previously agreed on, were too low and accordingly voted to raise them as follows:

On incomes between $200,000 and $300,000, 55 per cent.

On incomes between $300,000 and $500,000, 60 per cent.

On incomes between $500,000 and $1,000,000, 65 per cent.

On incomes between $1,000,000 and $5,000,000, 70 per cent.

On incomes over $5,000,000, 75 per cent.

The sub-committee which has been considering the question of luxury taxes made a preliminary report recommending a tax of 10 per cent on all articles above a certain fixed price. This tax the sub-committee recommends should be placed on costly jewelry, clothing and a hundred or so other articles on the "luxury list," submitted by the treasury department.

Opinion of the sub-committee is that where the price is such that the article in question is within the reach of persons of ordinary means there should be no tax, but where the price is increased because of artistic workmanship or extravagant use of materials the excess in price should be taxed. The tax would have to be in the nature of a sales tax and, in some cases, would be designed by affixing a stamp.

EARL C. MICHENER, of Adrian

Candidate for Nomination for Representative in Congress. Second District

Has lived in Lenawee County thirty-one years. Forty-one years of age. Lawyer by occupation. Served eight years as Assistant and Prosecuting Attorney,—four wet years as Assistant and four dry years as Prosecutor in the County.

He is not a candidate of any faction, organization or machine. If nominated and elected he will at all times energetically represent the masses of the people.

He stands for a new deal. Believes that a Congressman should be elected by the people,—that he should not buy his votes with money, or secure his election by pre-election promises. Neither does he believe that one or two men in each County should have the right to dictate which candidate will receive the votes in that County for office. He stands for clean politics and a square deal. He has never been a candidate for Congress and has no enemies to punish and no political friends to reward.

He is for AMERICA FIRST, LAST, AND ALL THE TIME.

If you want such a man go to the Primary on August 27th and vote for him.

THORNTON DIXON, of Monroe,

Candidate for Nomination for Representative in Congress, Second District.

DIXON'S PLATFORM:

"WIN THE WAR"

We are in the war and we can come out of it only as conqueror or conquered, victorious or dishonored; as an independent or subject nation. Our lives, our homes, our institutions, all that Washington fought for and Lincoln died for, are at stake. Our only way now is to FIGHT IT OUT for the simple cause of AMERICA AND AMERICANS. We must, as Benjamin Franklin said, "hang together or hang separately." The man who in public or private life subordinates this cause to any other consideration, no matter what, or who FAILS IN THE FULL, DEVOTED AND EFFICIENT PERFORMANCE OF HIS DUTY to the nation, is a traitor to himself, his family, the republic and the right.

OUR SAVED FOOD FED THE ALLIES

Food Administrator Writes President America Conserved 141,000,000 Bushels Wheat.

CREDIT DUE TO WOMEN.

Meat and Fat Shipments Increased by 844,600,000 Pounds.

Conservation measures applied by the American people enabled the United States to ship to the Allied peoples and to our own forces overseas 141,000,000 bushels of wheat and 844,600,000 pounds of meat during the past year, valued in all at $1,400,000,000. This was accomplished in the face of a serious food shortage in this country, bespeaking the wholeheartedness and patriotism with which the American people have met the food crisis abroad.

Food Administrator Hoover, in a letter to President Wilson, explains how the situation was met. The voluntary conservation program fostered by the Food Administration enabled the piling up of the millions of bushels of wheat during 1917-18 and the shipment of meat during 1917-18.

The total value of all food shipments to Allied destinations amounted to $1,400,000,000, all this food being bought through or in collaboration with the Food Administration. These figures are all based on official reports and represent food exports for the harvest year that closed June 30, 1918.

The shipments of meats and fats (including meat products, dairy products, vegetable oils, etc.) to Allied destinations were as follows:

Fiscal year 1916-17	2,166,500,000 lbs.
Fiscal year 1917-18	3,011,100,000 lbs.
Increase	844,600,000 lbs.

Our slaughterable animals at the beginning of the last fiscal year were not appreciably larger than the year before and particularly in hogs; they were probably less. The increase in shipments is due to conservation and the extra weight of animals added by our farmers.

The full effect of these efforts began to bear their best results in the last half of the fiscal year, when the exports to the Allies were 2,133,100,000 pounds, as against 1,266,500,000 pounds in the same period of the year before. This compares with an average of 801,000,000 pounds of total exports for the same half years in the three-year pre-war period.

In cereals and cereal products reduced to terms of cereal bushels our shipments to Allied destinations have been:

Fiscal year 1916-17	259,900,000 bushels
Fiscal year 1917-18	340,800,000 bushels
Increase	80,900,000 bushels

Of these cereals our shipments of the prime breadstuffs in the fiscal year 1917-18 to Allied destinations were: Wheat 131,000,000 bushels and of rye 13,900,000 bushels, a total of 144,900,000 bushels.

The exports to Allied destinations during the fiscal year 1916-17 were: Wheat 135,100,000 bushels and rye 2,300,000 bushels, a total of 137,400,000 bushels. In addition some 10,000,000 bushels of 1917 wheat are now in port for Allied destinations or en route thereto. The total shipments to Allied countries from our last harvest of wheat will be therefore, about 141,000,000 bushels, or a total of 154,900,000 bushels of prime breadstuffs. In addition to this we have shipped some 10,000,000 bushels to neutrals dependent upon us, and we have received some imports from other quarters.

"This accomplishment of our people in this matter stands out even more clearly if we bear in mind that we had available in the fiscal year 1916-17 from net carry-over and as surplus over our normal consumption about 200,000,000 bushels of wheat which we were able to export that year without trenching on our home loaf," Mr Hoover said. "This last year, however owing to the large failure of the 1917 wheat crop, we had available from net carry-over and production and imports only just about our normal consumption. Therefore our wheat shipments to Allied destinations represent approximately savings from our own wheat bread.

"These figures, however, do not fully convey the volume of the effort and sacrifice made during the past year by the whole American people. Despite the magnificent effort of our agricultural population in planting a much increased acreage in 1917, not only was there a very large failure in wheat, but also the corn failed to mature properly, and our corn is our dominant crop.

"I am sure," Mr. Hoover wrote in concluding his report, "that all the millions of our people, agricultural as well as urban, who have contributed to these results should feel a very definite satisfaction that in a year of universal food shortages in the northern hemisphere all of those people joined together against Germany have come through into sight of the coming harvest not only with wealth and strength fully maintained, but with only temporary periods of hardship.

"It is difficult to distinguish between various sections of our people—the homes, public eating places, food trades, urban or agricultural populations—in assessing credit for these results, but no one will deny the dominant part of the American women."

A boarder is a man who is more interested in getting his bite than in giving his bit.

AMERICANS ASKED TO LIMIT USE OF SUGAR

Must Use No More Than Two Pounds Per Person a Month if the Present Meagre Allied Sugar Ration Is Maintained.

Stocks Will Be Short Until Beginning of New Year—Ration May Be Enlarged Then.

Two pounds of sugar a month—half a pound a week—that is the sugar ration the U. S. Food Administration has asked every American to observe until January 1, 1919, in order to make sure there shall be enough for our Army and Navy, for the Allied armies and for the civilians of those nations.

By New Year's the world sugar situation will be relieved somewhat by the new crop. Cuban sugar of this year's crop will be arriving in this country.

Every available sugar source will be drawn on by the Food Administration during the next winter months to maintain sufficient stocks here to keep up our national sugar supply. During October the first American beet sugar will arrive in the markets. By the middle of November some of our Louisiana cane crop will be available. All of this sugar and more may be needed to keep this nation supplied on a reduced ration and to safeguard the Allied sugar ration from still further reduction. In Europe the present ration is already reduced to a minimum.

Our Situation.

The situation which the United States faces in its efforts to maintain a fair distribution of sugar to the Allied world is as follows:

Sugar supplies throughout the country, in homes, stores, factories and bakeries are at a low ebb. We must make increased sugar shipments to the Allies.

Production of American beet and Louisiana cane crops have been disappointing.

Porto Rico crops have been curtailed.

Immense sugar stocks in Java cannot be reached on account of the shipping shortage; ships are needed for troop movements and munitions.

Army and Navy sugar requirements have increased as well as those from the Allies.

Most industries using sugar have had their allotment reduced by one-half; some will receive no sugar.

Households should make every effort to preserve the fruit crop without sugar, or with small amounts of sugar. Later, when the sugar supply is larger, the canned fruit may be sweetened as it is used.

Saving Sugar Saves Shipping

UNLOADING HAWAIIAN SUGAR AT A CALIFORNIA PORT.

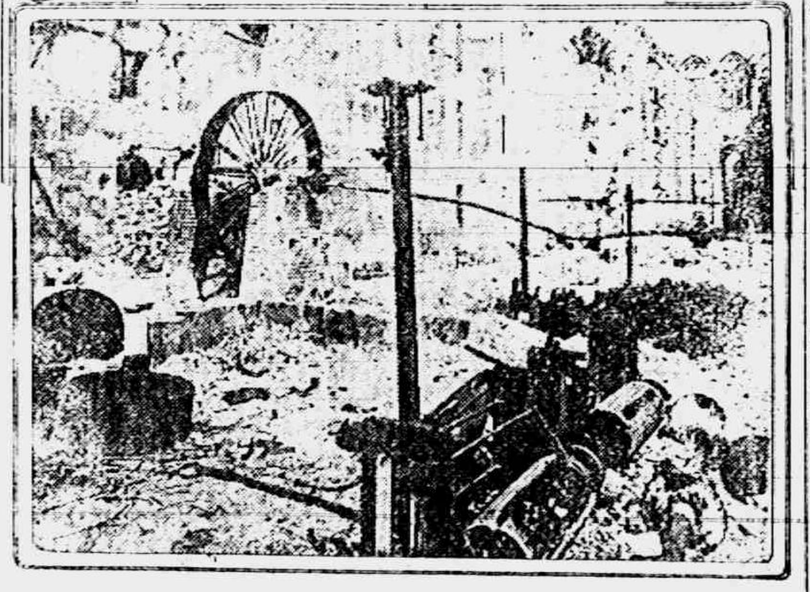
LOADING CANE IN HAWAII FROM WHERE AMERICA GETS HALF A MILLION TONS OF SUGAR A YEAR.

AMERICAN families would have less sugar than the people of war torn France, if we depended entirely on our home-grown sugar stocks.

Approximately 75 per cent. of our sugar is shipped to our shores. We produce about 1,000,000 tons of sugar a year. Our imports from abroad amount to over 3,000,000 tons a year in normal times.

The United States Food Administration asks each family to limit its use of sugar to two pounds per month per person for household use. The military situation demands that every available ship be placed at the disposal of the Army or Navy. When we save sugar, we save shipping.

French Sugar Mills Destroyed



France must import sugar today, most of it from this side of the ocean, because the largest portion of French sugar beet land is in German hands. As a result, the French people have been placed on a sugar ration of about 18 pounds a year for domestic use, a pound and a half a month. This photograph shows how the German troops destroyed French sugar mills. Thanks to the French rationing system the annual consumption has been cut to 600,000 tons, according to reports reaching the United States Food Administration. Before the war France had an average sugar crop of about 750,000 tons of sugar and had some left over for export.

Standish—Albert Hagley, Jr., son of a prominent farmer near this city was pinned between a barn and a traction engine and killed. He expected to go to camp in the next draft call.

Lansing—Governor Sleeper has appointed John H. Hands, of Sandusky, as a member of the board of control of the Michigan Farm Colony for Epileptics at Wahjamega, to succeed Elmer Rice, deceased.

Holland—The deputy fire marshal, Fred Armstrong, has ordered 60 wooden buildings in the business section to be torn down within 90 days. Many buildings have been condemned in Zeeland and Grand Haven.

Hillsdale—The Hillsdale fair announces that all baked goods must conform with the rules and regulations, as issued by the national food administrator, or the same will not be received for entry. This rule is imperative.

Port Huron—A monster sturgeon weighing 185 pounds and containing 48 1-2 pounds of caviar, was caught in the river near Sarnia. This is the largest sturgeon taken in waters near here for several years and is worth about $90.

Bay City—Nine army men who have been doing work as chemists at the Dow plant in Midland, and who have been gassed, passed through Bay City recently on their way to the base hospital at Camp Custer. They were in charge of their captain and a lieutenant, both of whom also suffered slightly from the same cause.

Hillsdale—By a temporary injunction issued in circuit court, the First National Bank here is restrained from the collection of an attachment for $3,700 against the Hillsdale Hardware company. The defendant claims George N. Smith, one of the principal stockholders should be the principal in the case and not the corporation itself. A bond of $10,000 has been filed, pending determination of the injunction.

Corunna—Stanley, 14-year-old son of L. G. Cudney, a Corunna farmer, accidentally hung himself Sunday morning. Planning to go on a picnic the lad arose early to care for the stock. After turning a cow loose from the stall he is believed to have playfully swung a chain around his neck. His neck was broken when he stumbled. Examination of the body which was found a few minutes later indicated he had not strangled.

RUMORED THAT D. T. & I. SHOPS WOULD BE LOCATED AT TECUMSEH AGAIN

It has been rumored that the D., T. & I. car shops would be again located in Tecumseh and that the buildings formerly occupied by the railroad people would be used. We inquired Thursday of the president of the Commerce Club whether or not there was any likelihood of such a change being made. He stated that the secretary had written the railroad people since the fire at Napoleon in regard to a possible change and offering Tecumseh as a location.

They replied that Tecumseh would be considered in locating their shops but aside from this nothing definite was given.

The Commerce Club at present do not feel that the railroad people are considering Tecumseh strongly although they hope that they may avail themselves of the opportunity afforded by the old site and decide to locate their shops here.

MODERN HOME ON WHEELS

Luxurious Traveling Van Passes Through Tecumseh Enroute to California

P. H. Ginsberg of Monongahela City, Pa., has built a home on wheels that contains all the conveniences of a city flat and with this vehicle he, his wife and son stopped in Tecumseh for a short time today.

Mr. and Mrs. Ginsberg are bound on a cross country trip to California, but from here they went to Detroit to visit friends, going from that city back to Morenci to take with them Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Hill, former neighbors who expressed a desire to accompany them when they visited there with their house on wheels a few days previously.

The big car attracted considerable attention on our streets today and Mr. Ginsberg was obliging enough to allow a few by-standers to look his outfit over. It was equipped with two full size beds, which when placed for the night would allow a curtain between them, thus making two separate bedrooms. Electric and gas lights, a refrigerator of 50 lbs. of ice capacity, hot and cold water, wash stand, gasoline stove and gas hot plate, lockers for clothes, in fact the car contained a complete equipment for housekeepments for tools, extra tires, etc.

The machine proper was a Buick and the house built thereon was the work of Mr. Ginsberg, with the exception of the painting.

In traveling they take their time, stopping in towns for a half hour or more, and evenings they always find farmers willing to allow them to place their house on wheels in their yards for the night. Father and son are both musicians and at the stopping places farmers are treated to music and enjoy getting acquainted with the travelers.

YOUNG BULGARIAN BOUND TO ENLIST

Is Offended When Placed in Class V

Triffon Urdanoff, who works for I. W. Boltz on the Mills farm, is a Bulgarian of unusual merit. He is well educated, speaks seven languages and has traveled all over Europe in the nursery business. At the breaking out of the war he came to America, at the age of 19 years. He has declared his intentions of becoming an American citizen and has taken out his first papers.

Now, at the age of 24 years, he comes under the draft law and has been placed in Section F, Class V, as an alien. This has made him very indignent as he is anxious to join Uncle Sam's fighting forces.

When he asked "Why am I in Class V," the matter was explained to him, when it was discovered that he had brothers in Bulgaria.

He was asked, "Don't you think it would be wrong for brothers to fight against each other?"

He answered, "Brothers! Huh! Brothers here fight with clubs. What difference does that make? I fight for democracy."

Urdanoff was sent to the court house in Jackson where he was trying to enlist to see what could be done about completing his naturalization papers, so that he might fight for his adopted country.

Some of the slackers about town might learn a lesson of patriotism from this young Bulgarian.

SLIGHT BLAZE

The fire department was called out Thursday afternoon for a fire at the home of Raymond Tucker, corner of Maumee and Kilbuck streets. A fire had been built in the cook stove and sparks from the chimney were thought to have lodged on the roof. The blaze was put out with chemicals which was very fortunate as the water supply is very low at this time.

The damage was slight, a hole being burned through the roof near the eaves.

SOLDIERS IN FRANCE NEED MORE BOOKS

The Tecumseh Public Library has received today a request from the American Library Association's Headquarters in Washington for more books from this community for the men overseas.

The appeal from Washington states that new novels and good Western stories, whether new or old, are most needed. Books by Zane Grey, Rex Beach, Jack London, Ralph Connor, Owen Wister and O. Henry are very popular. The Public Library announces that it will receive and forward all suitable books that are turned in. It urges the friends of the soldiers and sailors, many of whom have already responded most generously, to give more books.

The communication received by the Library from the Washington Headquarters states that over 600,000 books have been sent overseas. The supply is nearly exhausted, and several hundred thousand more will be needed soon by the six dispatch offices which are now shipping books to France. The books are packed at these dispatch offices in strong cases, so built that they serve as a bookcase.

They go on the decks of transports in cargo vessels and in naval vessels. Those that go on the decks of transports are open so that the men may have reading matter for use on the voyage. All these books are gathered together again, however, replaced in the cases and delivered to the proper officials in France.

In France, the books are distributed by an experienced Librarian, representing the American Library Association. Most of them go to Y. M. C. A., Red Cross and Salvation Army huts, hospitals and canteens. Others go directly to chaplain and officers.

GOOD CROWD IN FOR WEDNESDAY'S ENTERTAINMENT

In Spite of Heat Our Streets Were Full of People

In spite of the fact that Wednesday was one of the hottest days that Michigan people ever experienced, a fine crowd came in for the evening entertainment and our streets were again full of people. Our merchants were kept busy waiting on the trade and report a good business for the day.

The program was good and consisted of a trick bicycle act by the Jackson Riders, a juggling act and Houpf and Rome in their comedy acrobatic act. The program was a good one and met with the apparent approval of the crowd. The music was furnished by the Clinton band.

The size of the crowd on Wednesday evening argues well for the success of our entertainments for ordinarily people would have been slow to come to town on such a night and it only goes to show that these entertainments are popular with the people and they don't want to miss any of them.

FRUIT! FRUIT!

Full Steam Ahead on Canning

WHY?

BECAUSE:
1. Canning saves the crops
2. Canning saves transportation
3. Canning saves labor
4. Canning builds up home reserves
5. We can afford to waste nothing

Slow on Sugar

WHY?

BECAUSE:
1. German submarines sunk sugar
2. German submarines sunk sugar boats
3. Boats have been released to help feed Belgium
4. Germans have rendered useless sugar beet factories of Northern France
5. Our own crop of sugar is smaller than anticipated

Are you a "good [illegible]" Housekeeper? Then full steam ahead on canning. Never mind the shortage of sugar. Take care of the fruit now and the future will take care of itself.

Who says you need sugar for canning? You Don't!

SAVE SUGAR IN CANNING

Sugar is not needed as a preservative if fruit is properly sterilized and sealed. By canning we can get along without the use of heavy syrup and and thus save sugar.

FRUIT JUICE

Fruit juices can be bottled without sugar and used as fruit drinks, in jelly, desserts, pudding sauces and ice creams.

Direction for making fruit juices:

Prepare fruit, cook until soft and strain. Boil the strained juice for five minutes and pour it into jars of glass bottles that have been sterilized by boiling for 15 minutes, filling the jars to overflowing. Seal the jars immediately. Stopper the bottles with corks sterilized in the same manner as the bottles, and make air tight seal by dipping the cork and the lip of the bottle into hot paraffin. When sugar is more plentiful, fruit juices may be made into jelly.

FRUIT LEATHER

Use in place of candy. Concentrate fruit juices by boiling them over direct heat, then by drying them in the top of a double boiler or in a moderate oven. Dry the leather in thin sheets, sprinkle with granulated sugar over the surface and roll like jelly rolls, then cut them across; or dry in sheet ¾ of an inch and cut in cubes. In either of these forms the leather makes a tempting confection. It should be stored in airtight containers or in a dry place. Leather may also be cooked up with water and made in fruit juice, or it may be added to watery fruits to help supply sugar and pectin for making juices and jellies.

Leathers are also made from unsweetened or slightly sweetened fruit pulp. Peach leather is unsweetened peach marmalade, dried in the oven, sprinkled with sugar, rolled and cut.

DRIED FRUITS

Apples, peaches, cherries, prunes, apricots, the desert or sweet varieties of pears, black cap raspberries, purple canes, in some cases blackberries, and strawberries may be dried for home use.

Fruits that are dried with the skin on should be dipped by means of a wire bucket or a piece of cheese-cloth into a solution of lye made in the proportion of one cupful of concentrated lye to four gallons of water. They should then be rinced two or three times in clear water. The lye perforates the skin and thus facilitates evaporation, moreover, it destroys micro-organisms that might cause spoilage.

Once the drying has been started it should be carried on continously to completion generally with a gradually increasong heat as more and more water is lost.

Dried products must be stored in a dry place to prevent the development of moulds and weevils. They must be carefully protected from flies. Most dried fruits can be stored in glass jars, crocks or tin boxes and sealed. Dried apples may be stored in heavy twilled cotton bags if they are kept in a very dry place.

DRYING ON THE KITCHEN STOVE

A very slow oven may be used for drying fruits and vegetables spread on papers or on large platters or sheets of metal. There is a danger of scorching the products if the fire is not carefully controlled. The oven door should be left slightly open to allow a circulation of air to carry off the moisture set free by evaporation.

Any piece of home-made appartus that provides means for free circulation of air and for regulating the temperature is likely to prove satisfactory.

If the dried fruit is to be stewed for sauce no sugar should be added before the drying but if it is to be used in cakes, breads, breakfast cereals, puddings or as a confection, a small amount of sugar sprinkled over the layers of fruit when it is prepared for drying will improve the flavor.

BAD FIRE NEAR TIPTON

Sparks from Passing Train Fire Fields of Grain doing much Damage

Tuesday afternoon fire was discovered in an oatfield on the Clarence Fisher farm, evidently having been set by sparks from a passing train. Five acres of oats in the shocks and several shocks of wheat were destroyed. Pasture lots were burned over and the wood lot on the Howard Luce farm was also fired, the flames leaping to the tops of the trees.

The buildings of the Poucher Bros. were threatened, but were saved by the efforts of nearly two hundred men who responded when the alarm was given. Several auto loads from Tecumseh armed with shovels and other implements drove to the scene.

Fires were started on the farms of Wm Witherell, the Waldron Sisters, Thos Langton and Brasilla Hurry, but were extinguished before much damage was done.

HAVOLINE OIL

"It Makes a Difference"

The lubrication is the most important thing on your Ford Tractor, or any other tractor. Parts of this tractor are subjected to 2000 degrees heat and a lubricating oil must have the quality to give you the best results.

The Fordson Tractor Co. have just purchased 25,000 gallons of Havoline Tractor Oil, 10.000 gallons Havoline Gear Oil and 30 barrels of Havoline Motor Grease.

The endorsement of Havoline Oil and Grease by the manufacturers themselves should dispel the slightest doubt as to the correct lubrication for Fordson Tractors.

Order a barrel of this oil and have it ready for your fall plowing.

PRIMITIVE WAYS IN ARABIA

Mode of Life Differs Little From What It Was in the Time of Abraham.

It appears that in certain parts of the Arabian desert life is as primitive as in Abraham's time. Sheep are still slain to seal a vow. The salt or bread covenant is observed and when a man dies his tent is torn down and destroyed.

Old names like Joseph, Moses, Alexander, etc., are still in common use among Arabs, although pronounced "Yusuf," "Musa" and "Skandar." To divorce his wife a man may repeat the formula "Ent telek" three times; usually uttering it once makes the woman behave and the repetition is not necessary. The evil eye superstition is common, and the first injunction given a foreigner by experienced Arabian travelers is that he must not point at animals or persons in Arab settlements.

Arabs say that a man possessed of this malign power can look at a bird flying in the air and it will drop dead; that if he chooses to cast his wicked spell on a camel it may go lame, or a child may be struck blind. None of the lower class can read or write, but the Arab is noted for his ready wit and his habit of speaking in allegory.

"Swat the Rat!"

Since the introduction of the house rat in the United States they have become extremely abundant and widely distributed throughout the country, where they destroy annually many millions of dollars' worth of food products and crops. These losses occur alike in cities, villages and farmsteads. Their inroads upon food products occur in freight departments of railroads and steamboat lines, storage places of grain and food dealers, commission houses, wholesale drug houses, candy shops, bakeries, flour mills, cold-storage houses, city and country dwellings, granaries, fields and poultry yards. The loss of food and other products in the United States from this source amounts to not less than $200,000,000 annually, which amount does not include indirect losses occasioned by human disease disseminated by rats and the necessary expenditures in combating them.

AMERICAN MACHINE GUNNERS WIPED OUT ENIIRE BATTALION OF 1,200 MEN

Germans Were Getting Into Position to Attack a Group of American Bridge Builders When American Gunners Opened Fired.

OBSERVERS SAY THEY DID NOT SEE A SINGLE GERMAN GET AWAY FROM THE LEADEN HAIL

With Their Backs to the Aisne, Germans Continued Preparations for What May Either Be a Stiff Resistance for Time to Further Withdraw Their Troops.

With the American Army on the Aisne-Marne Front.—American machine gunners, protecting [illegible] position on the Vesle, west of Fismes, wiped out an entire battalion (about 1,200 men) of German infantrymen and machine gunners. Germans were getting into position to attack a group of American bridge builders, who were approaching the location.

Bridge material already has been moved near the south bank of the Vesle and the Germans, apparently discovering this fact, had sent a battalion to a hill position to prevent Americans carrying out their plan. A detachment of crack American machine gunners, however, previously had taken an elevated position commanding the location and opened fire when the Germans appeared.

Observers reported they did not see a single German get away from the leaden hail and, according to last accounts, not even enemy stretcher bearers approached the scene. The Germans replied so feebly with their fire because of the surprise that there were no American casualties.

With their backs to the Aisne, Germans continued preparations for what may either be a stiff resistance to give them more time for further withdrawal, before a definite stand. Minor actions along the American portion of the front and in the adjoining French sectors marked the day.

The little force of men who were sent into Fismes still maintains foothold, although the men are not yet across the river, which flows through the extreme northern portion of town.

Under a heavy barrage all their wounded have been taken out, and during the night food was taken to them.

Paris.—Germans are withdrawing under more or less pressure along most of their dangerous salients from near Ypres south to Rheims. Rear guards are fighting desperately, and for the first time under protection of big guns, to cover the Crown Prince's retreat to the Aisne or beyond. Farther north, from Montdidier almost to the Belgian border, Rupprecht is retiring from advanced lines, closely pressed by British troops. Meanwhile German guns are belching forth nervously along the entire Flanders front, apparently fearful Haig will launch an offensive while Rupprecht's crack reserve divisions are aiding the Crown Prince to fight off the Allies as the big retreat is in progress. There are indications, however, Germans are preparing for another great assault and seek to retire to natural defensive positions while reorganization is under way. Strengthening this belief is the renewal of bombardment of Paris by long range guns, which in nearly every instance heretofore has signaled the beginning of an offensive.

Germans are imposing strong opposition to the further advance of Allied troops along the Vesle river, from the east of Soissons to west of Rheims.

Meantime, however, the main bodies of the enemy continue to make their way toward the Aisne, to the north of which stream they hope somewhere to reach a haven of safety from the persistent onslaught of the American, French, British and Italian troops, who in less than three weeks have all but blotted out the Soissons Rheims salient.

Notwithstanding bringing into play by the enemy of large numbers of machine guns and artillery of heavier caliber and employment of large numbers of picked troops, including the well-tried Prussian guard and the Bavarians; and in spite of the fact rains have sent the Vesle out of bounds and turned the lowlands into quagmires. Americans and other Allied troops have forced crossings of the river at new points and on the north side of the stream are engaging the enemy.

The latest French official communication, which recently has been extremely modest in chronicling gains made by the Allies, says Monday saw only local engagements and the situation on the battlefront is without change. Correspondents with the Allied headquarters, however, assert that at several points between Sermoise, east of Soissons, and Fismes, and between Fismes and Mulzon the French and Americans have taken further ground across the Vesle and have nullified German counter attacks delivered in an endeavor to recoup the losses.

German jealously are guarding this part of the line, an advance through which to any considerable depth would compel them entirely to loose their hold on territory in which they are entrenched around the shell-torn city of Rheims. In addition to the heavy infantry actions here violent bombardments also are in progress.

It is doubted in Allied military circles it is the purpose of Germans to turn about and face their enemies south of the Aisne. The hill region north of the Aisne—probably the old Chemin-Des Dames battle front—is considered the more probable sector on which the crown prince will elect again to test the mettle of the men of General Foch's command.

In addition to a retreat near Montdidier to the west bank of the Avre river, retrograde movements in the face of attacks around Albert and an evacuation of territory over a front of half a mile north of La Bassee canal, Germans are nervously bombarding British and French positions at various points, possibly with the idea of ascertaining their strength.

LUDENDORF SAYS "STAKE NOT WAS WORTH THE COST"

General Ludendorff of the German Army Gives Out This Statement to German Newspaper Reporters.

Amsterdam.—"The enemy evaded us on July 15, and we thereupon, as early as the evening of the sixteenth broke off operations. It is always our endeavor to stop an undertaking as soon as the stake is not worth the cost. I consider it one of my principal duties to spare the blood and strength of our soldiers."

General Ludendorff, first quartermaster-general of the German army, made this statement to an assemblage of German newspaper correspondents, who were received by Field Morshal von Hindenburg and himself, according to dispatches received here.

"His plan was undoubtedly to cut off the entire arc of our front south of the Aisne by a break-through on the flank. But with the proved leadership of our seventh and ninth armies that was quite impossible.

"We reckoned with an attack on July 18 and were prepared for it. The enemy experienced very heavy losses and Americans and African auxiliary troops, which we do not underestimate, suffered severely.

"By the afternoon of the nineteenth we already were fully masters of the situation and shall remain so. We left the abandoned ground to the enemy according to our regular plan 'Gain of ground' and 'Marne' are only catch words without importance for the issue of the war. We are now as before, confident."

Field Marshal von Hindenburg also dilated on how economically troops of Germany had been used. He said:

"This circumstance, and supply considerations, decided our measures and we transferred the fighting to favorable ground where the troops could easily be supplied.

"We all want pecae, but it must be peace with honor."

ALLIES CAPTURE 36,000 TEUTONS IN PICARDY DRIVE

French Win Town of Marquivillers Near Roye and Many Other Villages.

GAIN BETWEEN AVRE AND OISE

Foch's Victorious Troops Continue Advance and Have Passed the Old Lines Held by the Germans Before Their Retirement to the Hindenburg Line.

Paris, Aug. 12.—The number of prisoners taken so far in the allied offensive in Picardy is now estimated at 36,000, including more than 1,000 officers. More than 500 guns have been captured, according to latest advices. The French advancing east from Montdidier have captured thousands of Germans cut off by the rapidity of the allied advance.

The French First army advancing in the face of stiffened German resistance northwest of Montdidier, has occupied the village of Marquivillers, which lies only three miles and a quarter southwest of Roye, the nerve center of the German Picardy pocket. Grivillers village, four miles and a half southwest of Roye and situated on the Montdidier-Roye railway, also has been taken by the French, the war office communique announces.

French Win Many Towns.

Paris, Aug. 12.—Notwithstanding the resistance of the Germans the French troops gained further ground between the Avre and the Oise rivers, taking several villages from the west and south of Roye to the Oise, according to the official communication issued by the war office tonight.

The communique further shows that the French right, pressing northeastward north of the Oise, has pushed ahead to within only six and a half miles of Noyon, the southern pivot of the whole German Picardy front. The village of Cambronne, which is that distance from Noyon, has been captured. Machmont village, two and three-quarter miles below Cambronne, also is in French hands.

Between Montidier and Noyon, the French have reached the outskirts of Canny-sur-Matz, less than two miles slightly northeast of Lassigny, and a little more than eight miles northwest of Noyon.

Foe's Attack Fails.

London, Aug. 12.—Strong German attacks delivered with fresh reserves against the British at Lihons and north and south of that village were repulsed, and in the fighting the Germans suffered great losses, according to the British official communication received from Field Marshal Haig.

The allied forces continue their victorious advance all along the line, pushing in the general direction of the upper reaches of the Somme.

They were smashing the stiff resistance interposed by the rear guards of the retreating Germans, the bulk of whom are fleeing in disorder.

British cavalry are reported operating close to the town of Nesle. (Nesle is six miles southeast of Chaulnes.)

Allies Pass Old Hun Line.

Many hours ago the British, French and American troops had reached, roughly, the old lines held by the Germans before their retirement to the Hindenburg line. They have now pushed beyond in many places.

Goyencourt, two miles northwest of Roye, is reported to have fallen to British troops.

French troops continue to follow up their successes, pushing far east of Montdidier and taking many additional prisoners and enemy guns.

The retreat of the Germans has been disorderly, harassed as they were by French cavalry and armored cars. They have been making vain efforts to disengage themselves from the French pursuit.

British Move Forward.

The German defense was stiffened southwest of Noyon, but the French nevertheless gained a stronger foothold on the heights of Thiescourt.

There are indications that Von Hutier is organizing a line of resistance on the general front of Roye, Lassigny and Noyon to protect the withdrawal of the great masses of munitions and supplies gathered just to the rear and to ease up a retreat which is becoming more difficult to keep in hand.

The British pushed forward on their left flank north of the Somme and made progress also south of the river.

On the right center the French pushed forward on the south bank of the Avre to the outskirts of L'Eschell-St. Aurin, seven miles northeast of Montdidier.

Between the Avre and Oise French troops captured the entire massive chain of hills of Boulogne-La Grasse and penetrated to the east of Bus, six and one-half miles east of Montdidier.

Farther south the French have penetrated the wooded area between the rivers Matz and Oise, reaching in this region the environs of La Berliere and Cury.

Moreuil-Lamotte has been captured and the French line pushed two miles to the north of Chevrincourt.

Between Arras and Albert the enemy is showing signs of great anxiety and apparently is anticipating a wide extension of the fighting front to the north.

Chaulnes, the key to the southern line of the German salient, was captured by Australian and Canadian troops. The fall of Chaulnes is said to have followed a desperate struggle with strong German forces rushed up to cover the retreat.

British Advance on Bray.

The British encountered fierce opposition north of the Somme, but they are now advancing down the long slopes toward Bray, if they have not already succeeded in reaching that [illegible]

At noon the allied line was as follows, starting from the north: West of Meaulte, which is still in German hands; thence to Etinhem, Framerville and Lihons, which are still German; Hallu station (the Germans hold Hallu); Parvillers, L'Eschelle and Armancourt, and thence through Tilloloy Park and through the station of Roye-sur-Mats to Mareuil-Lamotte to Samson and Machemont, from which it joins the line on the Oise.

Foe Calls Reserves.

The enemy apparently is calling on his reserves to help him save all material possible.

The pivot of the German resistance at this stage of the battle, it now appears, is Noyon, about midway between Montdidier and Soissons.

The enemy is throwing in reserves from this base to prevent, regardless of cost, the allies from gaining control of the Noyon-Ham road, which is choked with material, guns and troops.

Try to Cover Flight.

The Germans are expected to make a desperate stand on the Roye-Noyon line to permit the columns retreating in the direction of Nesle and Ham to reach safety.

The resistance of the Germans is stiffening against the Fourth British army under General Rawlinson. They are reacting violently in the region of Lihons, which changed hands twice during the night, but which in the morning was firmly held by the British.

In the area before Vauvillers the enemy has been supported by heavy artillery, but farther south the French Frist and Third armies have advanced slightly, and in this neighborhood the Germans do not appear to be too well supplied with artillery.

Fires Behind Line.

Large fires and long transport columns in the enemy's back areas strengthen the belief his heavy counter-attacks against the British are intended to afford time to evacuate his stores.

The allied casualties in the first two days of fighting were comparatively light because the allies virtually ran through the German positions. But since Saturday the fighting has been of a more severe character.

All the morning reports show extreme confusion among the enemy forces in their precipitate retreat.

Among the prisoners taken are generals, colonels and officers of all grades. Eleven divisions of Generals Von Hutier and Von Marwitz have been identified by prisoners taken.

BIG HUN GUN IS SILENT

Long-Range Cannon Which Germans Bombard Paris Has Not Been Heard From for Two Days.

Paris, Aug. 12.—The long-range cannon with which the Germans have intermittently bombarded Paris for more than four months past have now been silent for two days. This fact may be explained by the allied advance toward Noyon and Guiscard, six and one-half miles north of Noyon, whence the recent firing is said to have been proceeding, as these localities are now endangered by the French forward push.

Detroit 6-Cent Fare Causes Riot.

Detroit, Mich., Aug. 12.—Riots in which trolley cars were overturned and workingmen threatened violence to conductors and motormen began in various sections of Detroit during the rush hour when the Detroit United railway halted cars when passengers refused to pay the new 6-cent fare.

KEEP FOE ON THE RUN

Gen. March Says This Is Time for Greatest Effort.

Chief of Staff Outlines Part Taken in Drive by the Rainbow Division.

Washington, Aug. 12.—"This is the time for the greatest efforts; keep the enemy running."

General March, chief of staff, summarized thus to newspaper men the situation in France. Standing before the greatest military maps at the war department that show clearly just where the German is being beaten back, he pointed out that the great battle front was rapidly being straightened out from Reims to the sea.

"This is the time for the greatest effort; keep the enemy running. That is the reason the United States is being called upon for increased man power; that is the reason we want the age limits for the draft both lowered and raised to get more men.

"It is no time now to talk about the war being over. It is the time to hit hard.

"The greatest advantage of the while thing has been the change of the allies from the defensive to the offensive, which is a great military asset. We have the enemy guessing now instead of guessing ourselves."

General Pershing had not advised him what American division is operating with the British in the present Picardy drive, General March said. A London report says American troops achieved a "considerable success between the Somme and the Ancre."

General March outlined the part taken in the drive by the Rainbow division.

"The Rainbow division," said General March, "had its combat training in the Lorraine sector north of Luneville. It left that position to arrive east of Reims, where on July 15 it helped break the main German attack. When the French-American counter-offensive was launched on the Marne salient the division appeared there shortly in relief of other units. Our reports indicate the following:

"In eight days of battle the Forty-second division has forced the passage of the Ourcq, taken prisoners from six enemy divisions, met, routed, decimated a crack division of the Prussian guard and Bavarian division and one other division, and driven back the enemies' lines for 16 kilometers."

Hillsdale—Delbert Baker and wife were bruised but not seriously hurt, when the brakes on their automobile failed to work on the steep Jonesville hill three miles from here. They were thrown into a ditch. The car was badly damaged.

YANKS REPULSE THREE ATTACKS ALONG THE VESLE

Americans Capture 80 Prisoners —Huns Strengthen Defenses Near Fismes.

FOE PLANS TO MAKE STAND

Franco-American Heavy Artillery Drives Two Regiments of Enemy Troops From Rock Cave in Region of Longueval.

With the American Army in France, Aug. 12.—The Germans have attacked the Americans along the Vesle three times within the last 24 hours. The Americans met these attacks with machine gun fire and in one case with hand-to-hand fighting. A third German counter-attack netted the Americans 80 prisoners. The three attacks made no material change in the situation.

Huns Digging In Along Vesle.

With the American Army on the Vesle, Aug. 12.—Allied aviators have reported that the Germans are digging in opposite the Franco-American line along the Vesle. The observers also have reported that the enemy is stringing barbed wire along the hills northwest of Fismes.

Allied officers express the belief that the Germans will not give ground here unless they are deliberately pushed off the plateaus.

Shelled From Cave.

The Americans learned from German prisoners that the enemy was using an old rock quarry cave in the region of Longueval large enough to conceal two regiments. He employed it as a refuge for troops at rest. The Franco-American heavy artillery shelled the cave all day and the Germans were finally compelled to abandon it as a hiding place.

The guns of the Franco-Americans got the range of the entrance to the cave and kept up a continuous fire all day. Observers reported that the cave had been considerably damaged and was rendered virtually untenable.

Enemy Digs In.

The Germans are digging trenches along the line west and east of Longueval and also in the valley of the Perles.

Allied aviators on Saturday did not observe the Germans building any big gun emplacements, but here and there they were installing batteries. Most of these were of light caliber, which the Germans will be able to move to other positions when the French and Americans discover their locations.

Embassy Staff Flees From Moscow to Pskov as Counter-Rebellions Spread.

LENINE READY TO LEAVE

Anti-Bolshevik Movement Is Growing Rapidly and the Soviet Organization Has Gone to Pieces—Premier Plans 'Visit' to Germany.

Copenhagen, Aug. 12.—The German embassy at Moscow will remove immediately to Pskov, owing to conditions in Moscow, according to advices from Berlin.

(Pskov is 162 miles southwest of Petrograd and approximately 400 miles nearly direct west of Moscow.)

Owing to traffic conditions, it is stated, the embassy will be compelled to travel by way of Petrograd, Helsingfors, Finland, and thence to Reval, on the Esthonian coast, and to its destination.

Lenine Plans Fight.

London, Aug. 12.—The anti-bolshevik movement in Russia is growing rapidly, the bolshevik Soviet organization having virtually gone to pieces.

Nikolai Lenine, the premier, and Leon Trotsky, his war minister, intend to flee to Germany should the situation become too serious.

These statements are made in recent Russian newspapers.

Several Soviets Overthrown.

The Petrograd newspaper, Isvestia, is quoted by a correspondent as stating that at several points "in that part of Russia not occupied by the enemy" counter-revolutionary movements have broken out in a number of towns.

The bolshevik soviets have been overthrown in these places and replaced by menshevik councils or moderate representatives.

In the city of Kazan, the newspaper adds, the widely-known bolshevik leader, Olschinsky, has been killed, and there has been great bloodshed among the bolsheviki in the Novgorod and Riazan districts.

THE SENATORIAL SITUATION

Michigan Newspapers Consider Newberry the Outstanding Figure.

Edmore Times: "Newberry is the logical man for United States Senator."

Vermontville Echo: "Truman H. Newberry is considered one of the ablest men in Michigan."

Lake Linden Native Copper Times: "Truman H. Newberry is the candidate that should appeal to fathers and sons of the boys over there."

Cedar Springs Clipper: "And now the only thing for the 365-day-in-the-year Republicans to do is to nominate Truman H. Newberry, and do it good and hard."

Bronson Journal: "As Secretary of the Navy in the cabinet of President Roosevelt, Mr. Newberry proved himself the Roosevelt type of man, aggressive and efficient."

Niles Daily Sun: "Truman H. Newberry, Republican candidate for United States Senator, looms like a full moon in the political heavens, and his good friends hereabouts are many."

Linden Leader: "Truman H. Newberry, of Detroit, is a man who has not made heretofore any great noise in the political arena, but withal a man who has been doing things which count."

Addison Courier: "Newberry was an efficient secretary of the navy and began the work which resulted in more privileges, more pay and more public recognition for the enlisted man in the service."

Richmond Review: "Just as sure the chills of winter approach will the Republicans and their supporters pick and place the next United States senator for Michigan and right now it looks like Truman H. Newberry."

Mount Pleasant Times: "The Times endorses Mr. Newberry for the United States Senate because it believes he is capable, honest, a man of high character and the candidate best qualified to represent Michigan in the United States Senate."

Keweenaw Miner: "Personally we favor the candidacy of Mr. Newberry as we have long been an admirer of him and of his course in public life and feel that he is the one upon whom should fall the mantle once worn by Christiancy, and that he is a man who can command the undivided support of every real republican in the state of Michigan.

Highland Park Times: "Candidate Newberry comes from that school of politics that has firm ideas along definite lines. In our industrial life the men can see the trade war to follow the present bloody conflict and these citizens are favoring a protectionist of the firmest kind for the senate, such as the Newberry record shows. It is this same feature that is attracting the workmen, together with the excellent past record of Commander Newberry in the industrial world where their interests were involved."

Paw Paw True Northerner: "The True Northerner sincerely believes that of all the available candidates, Commander Newberry is the man of the hour. He possesses that combination of senatorial values, by temperament, ability and experience which equip him most admirably to represent the great state of Michigan in the senate. He is a man who really does things without resorting to the blare of trumpets; a man who commands the respect of the nation, and for whom no man need ever make excuses."

Ispheming Iron Ore: "Truman H. Newberry is a plain business man who has had much experience in state affairs, who is a gentleman and a scholar, who is clean and honest and who is now serving his country, making no pretense at being an extraordinary man or the only one fitted to represent this great state of Michigan. He has good ideas of the needs of the country, is level-headed and progressive. We want men loyal to the United States, real men, like those we have in the service of the country today offering their blood for liberty."

NEWBERRY A RED-BLOODED MAN

Houghton Mining Gazette: "We don't want a senator from Michigan who will talk pacifism. We do want a red-blooded man on the job.

"Such a man is Truman H. Newberry. Of that we can rest assured.

"He has always advocated and worked for preparedness. He has always gone the limit in his personal and public way for preparedness. And when opportunity came his way he did his duty with good judgment, with actual results, and with a proper mental capacity to understand his position. His sons are in the service. In his life there have been two wars in which this country took part. In each he did not miss his opportunity to do the best job that any man can do for the country.

"Republicans in Michigan need never be ashamed of their senator if they elect Newberry. He hasn't an opportunity to come home from his job in the harbor of New York to make a campaign of speeches throughout the state. His friends are doing that. And he has a great number of them."

Muskegon—Richard Block, alias Joseph Smith, wanted at Manitowoc, Wis., on train wrecking charge, is held at the local jail. Block, it is said, was convicted of an arson charge and admits he broke jail. He was working in a local foundry when arrested.

Hillsdale—When the steering gear of his automobile went wrong, the machine turned a complete somersault and landed right side up in a ditch, throwing Elles Potter and his wife, of Orseo, out. They escaped with slight bruises, but the machine was wrecked.

EARL C. MICHENER, of Adrian

Candidate for Nomination for Representative in Congress. Second District

Has lived in Lenawee County thirty-one years. Forty-one years of age. Lawyer by occupation. Served eight years as Assistant and Prosecuting Attorney,—four wet years as Assistant and four dry years as Prosecutor in the County.

He is not a candidate of any faction, organization or machine. If nominated and elected he will at all times energetically represent the masses of the people.

He stands for a new deal. Believes that a Congressman should be elected by the people,—that he should not buy his votes with money, or secure his election by pre-election promises. Neither does he believe that one or two men in each County should have the right to dictate which candidate will receive the votes in that County for office. He stands for clean politics and a square deal. He has never been a candidate for Congress and has no enemies to punish and no political friends to reward.

He is for AMERICA FIRST, LAST, AND ALL THE TIME.

THORNTON DIXON, of Monroe,

Candidate for Nomination for Representative in Congress, Second District.

DIXON'S PLATFORM:

"WIN THE WAR"

We are in the war and we can come out of it only as conqueror or conquered, victorious or dishonored; as an independent or subject nation. Our lives, our homes, our institutions, all that Washington fought for and Lincoln died for, are at stake. Our only way now is to FIGHT IT OUT for the simple cause of AMERICA AND AMERICANS. We must, as Benjamin Franklin said, "hang together or hang separately." The man who in public or private life subordinates this cause to any other consideration, no matter what, or who FAILS IN THE FULL, DEVOTED AND EFFICIENT PERFORMANCE OF HIS DUTY to the nation, is a traitor to himself, his family, the republic and the right.

MESSAGE TO MINERS

President Wilson Calls on Workers to Speed Up.

Declares Coal Scarcity Is Real War Peril to the United States—Issues Proclamation.

Washington, Aug. 12.—President Wilson, aroused over the grave danger in the coal situation of the country and continuing decreases in production, addressed a proclamation to all persons engaged in coal mining, calling for prompt and vigorous action by operators and miners.

The text of the president's proclamation reads:

"The existing scarcity of coal is creating a grave danger—in fact, the most serious which confronts us—and calls for prompt and vigorous action on the part of both operators and miners. Without an adequate supply our war program will be retarded; the effectiveness of our fighting forces in France will be lessened; the lives of our soldiers will be unnecessarily endangered and their hardships increased, and there will be much suffering in many homes during the winter.

"I am well aware that yoour ranks have been seriously depleted by the draft, by voluntary enlistment, and by the demands of other essential industries. This handicap can be overcome, however, and sufficient coal can be mined in spite of it, if every one connected with the industry, from the highest official to the youngest boy, will give his best work each day for the full number of working hours.

"The operators must be zealous as never before to bring about the highest efficiency of management, to establish the best possible working conditions and to accord fair treatment to everybody so that the opportunity to work at his best may be accorded every workman.

"The miners should report for work every day, unless prevented by unavoidable causes, and should not only stay in the mines the full time but also see to it that they get out more coal.

"The other workers in and about the mines should work as regularly and faithfully, so that the work of the miner may not be retarded in any way. This will be especially necessary from this time forward, for your numbers may be further lessened by the draft, which will induct into the army your fair share of those not essential to industry.

"Those who are drafted but who are essential will be given deferred classification, and it is their patriotic duty to accept it. And it is the patriotic duty of their friends and neighbors to hold them in high regard for doing so. The only worker who deserves the condemnation of his community is the one who fails to give his best in this crisis, not the one who accepts deferred classification and works regularly and diligently to increase the coal output.

"A great task is to be performed. The operators and their staffs alone cannot do it, nor can the mine workers alone do it; but both parties, working hand in hand, with a grim determination to rid the country of its greatest obstacle to winning the war, can do it. It is with full confidence that I call upon you to assume the burden of producing an ample supply of coal. You will, I am sure, accept this burden and will successfully carry it through; and in so doing you will be performing a service just as worthy as service in the trenches, and will win the applause and gratitude of the whole nation.

"WOODROW WILSON.

THE BLIND AND THE MUTILATED

By Dr. ESTHER LOVEJOY

IN the years to come this war will prove a blessing to the blind. A new world is being evolved. Nature has at least one extraordinary sense in reserve for those who lose any of the five ordinary senses. The blind feel things that are not within reach. They are conscious of vibrations that are not perceptible to seeing men.

The sightless learn to read very quickly by the Braille method. It is interesting to watch the face of a blind man as his fingers pass over the upraised dots of a Braille book and his mind perceives the mysteries recorded there for him. They have special stenographic machines and special printing presses. Books and magazines are translated into the written language of the sightless.

Men blinded in battle are acquiring great skill in the textile arts, as moulders, and in other industries where a highly developed sense of touch is essential to good work.

The higher type of blind men have great personal charm. Their souls seem nearer the surface. They are peculiarly beloved people, and their clairvoyance makes them conscious of the kindness and affection with which they are regarded. Naturally they react to it. Perhaps that is why they usually seem so happy and cheerful.

Unfortunately there are forms of mutilation which have the opposite effect. When a man knows that he is repulsive to every man, woman and child who looks upon him; when he shrinks from the reflection of his own disfigured face in the mirror, and shudders at the strange sound of his own voice, he wants to die.

A great deal is being done for these mutilated men. They are being refitted with arms and legs. Plastic surgery is doing its part, too, in the way of restoring palates, teeth and facial contour, and the American Red Cross in Paris is attempting to make life more livable for them by providing masks which restore their original features. They will be useful members of society, but the soul of man craves more than service. Life and liberty are precious possessions, but the pursuit of happiness is the dearest right of man. We are all alike. We want to go through life with the sweet illusion that the blue bird of happiness is just within reach, and this illusion is almost impossible to the disfigured man.

It is the sacred duty of all those who have been benefited by their sacrifice to leave nothing undone to restore their usefulness; to employ every art to increase their mental and physical powers and the charm of personalities, to the end that their lives may be enriched rather than impoverished by the fortunes of war.

How Would You Get Rid Of Miles of Barbed Wire?

One of the Many Problems the Red Cross Has to Meet.

Have you ever thought what strange and baffling problems must come up to the Red Cross workers when they start out to rebuild a French town—just the problem of the barbed wire, for instance? This letter tells it:

"We have nearly every day about half a dozen German prisoners working amongst us, who are escorted in to work in the morning by a poilu and called for in the evening. They appear quite harmless, but we have too many evidences all around us to prove that their race is quite to the contrary.

"You should see the barbed wire—miles and miles of it. How any one could ever get through it, let alone under fire, is beyond me. It's usually coiled and stretched around iron stakes or crosses about four feet long, and the whole thing makes a waist high mass sometimes 15 or 20 feet wide. There are really acres of it around here, and when you think how many strips of it there are, stretching from Belgium to Switzerland—why, it's going to be a real problem after the war to get it all up and out of the way. I bet a lot of people walk into it through the snow this winter.

"We came across unexploded shells now and then and hand grenades of various shapes and sizes also; but, believe me, we leave them alone. There are four on the wall in our back yard and several in a field near by."

The Red Cross Answers

By THEODOSIA GARRISON

Of the Vigilantes.

Dear God, to leave this sheltered place wherefrom I may not go
To give my service to a world torn through with war and woe,
To heal the wounds of broken men, to mend the shattered mind,
To lend my hands unto the maimed, my eyes unto the blind;
To give a woman back her man from out the very dead—
"But I will do this for you," said the great Cross of Red.

Nay, but there are little towns that once were white and fair
Now burned and bleak and desolate 'mid blackened fields and bare;
If I might bring its people back to find there as before
The staunch roof, the decent hearth, the vines about the door;
If I might lift a frightened child and leave it comforted—
"But I will do this for you," said the great Cross of Red.

"You may heal the wounded and you may guide the blind,
You may bring new comfort and joy to humankind,
If so within your sheltered place you give me for your part
The strength within your two hands, the pity at your heart;
Through you, from you, of you I am, by your own heart-strings led,
I fail but if you fail me"—said the great Cross of Red.

DROP MANIFESTOES IN VIENNA

Feat Accomplished by Patrol of Eight Italians, All of Whom Return Safely.

Rome, Aug. 12.—The feat of dropping manifestoes on Vienna was accomplished by a patrol of eight Italian machines and all returned safely except one. The airplanes were commanded by Capt. Gabriele d'Annunzio and the patrol was comprised of one biplane and seven monoplanes. The total flight was about 1,000 kilometers of which 800 was over enemy territory.

The airplanes left their base early in the morning and after surmounting fairly serious atmospheric difficulties, reached Vienna in less than four hours. They dropped to a height of 800 meters and threw out several thousand manifestoes. Throngs in the streets could be seen plainly by the aerial visitors. The Italian machines returned by way of Vienna-Neustadt, Gratz, Laibach and Trieste. A semiofficial note says they were not attacked. The patrol kept close together throughout the journey and arrived at its base again at noon.

The missing machine appears to have been obliged to land near Vienna-Neustadt owing to engine trouble.

NEW CALL FOR WAR WORK

States Will Be Asked by Government to Furnish 500,000 Unskilled Workers.

Washington, Aug. 12.—Reports on their unskilled labor needs to October 1 by all war employers who had not made return by August 1, when government control of unskilled labor recruiting became effective, are due at the department of labor by next Thursday, according to an announcement. On the basis of these additional returns supplemental quotas will be issued to the states. It is expected that the new quotas will be for approximately 500,000 men.

He visited all the principal bean growing districts and elevator points throughout Michigan and conferred with Administrator Prescott and Gov. Sleeper.

U. S. STEEL SHORTAGE ACUTE

Steel Throughout Nation Will Be Inventoried—Ships Held Up.

Washington—Inventories of all steel on hand in the country is being demanded by the government at once, together with estimates of the amount of steel to be needed the coming year. The government also is taking stock of its own supplies and needs. The war industries board is back of the move.

A shortage of steel already is being felt in some shipyards. Others have more steel than they need, which officials believe is the result of the "cost plus" system of contracts, under which the builders felt free to expend large sums on materials not needed for many weeks.

Recently an inventory of stocks was taken with a view of equalizing the supply of material, but no great help was forthcoming from the facts revealed, and Chairman Hurley has ordered another inventory as a check on the first.

Other departments of the government also are checking up their supplies of material. A "tendency to hoard" has been observed on the part of some government agencies, as well as the public, which it is hoped to prevent in the future by exact knowledge of requirements and strict allotment of output.

Additions of steel mills now being made will add 750,000 tons to the annual output in a few months, but officials do not believe that will be sufficient to take care of the increased demand.

MOONEY CONDEMED TO DIE

Taking to San Quentin Prison to Await Fate Pending Appeals.

San Francisco—Thomas J. Mooney, condemned to die next month in connection with the preparedness day parade bombing, which caused 10 deaths, will be taken to San Quentin tomorrow.

Mooney still has an appeal pending in the supreme court, which is to be argued Monday, and his case is before Governor Stephens on an appeal from President Wilson for executive clemency.

Mooney's attorneys stater that no further efforts would be made to avoid execution if the appeal is denied and the governor refuses to intercede.

3 KILLED, 11 HURT IN R. R. WRECK

All the Injured Were Brought to Detroit—Last Three Cars Ditched.

Adrian, Mich.—Three persons were killed, 11 were seriously hurt and more than 100 passengers were imperiled when the parting of a brake beam hurled the last three cars of Train No. 28 on the Wabash railroad, due in Detroit at 3:15, down a 40-foot embankment at the crossing of the River Raisin, four miles east of Adrian, at 3 o'clock Monday afternoon.

The dead, all members of the Pullman car crews, are: Pullman Conductor Cook. J. D. Carter, Negro porter, residence unknown. Dan Hughes, Negro porter, St. Louis. One of the injured, Robert Fairbolt, Negro porter, St. Louis, was reported to be dying late Monday night.

All the injured except Fairbolt were taken to Detroit, and names were unobtainable here. All were occupants of the last three cars of the train, which were the only ones wrecked.

Muskegon—The Holland Home Association will open a home here soon for aged Hollanders. About 100 persons will be provided for.

TECUMSEH SCHOOLS TO OPEN SEPTEMBER 2d

Expected New School Building Will be Ready for Opening

Every indication now points to the opening of our new High School on the opening day of school, September 2d. Work on the finishing is being rushed and many of the recitation rooms are now finished and furniture is being moved in. As fast as the rooms are done furniture will be moved in and made ready. The big auditorium is fast reaching the state of completion, the balance of the flooring is now being laid and most of the woodwork is already completed. There has been some delay in getting the lockers which are to be placed in the halls, but they have arrived and are now being put in.

The contractor claims that the building will be nearly completed by September 1st. It is rather doubtful about the gymnasium being finished but as this room will not be put in commission at present anyway, it will not interfere with the school work.

A general cleaning up is in progress, both in and out of the building. The grounds which have been piled full of building material, etc., are being cleared and the lawn leveled and gradd.

A member of the school board told us this morning that while he did not anticipate there would be any delay in opening school on the 2d, still if it was necessary, school would be delayed one or two weeks rather than try to open in one of the other buildings. The delay caused could be easily made up during the season some time.

Tecumseh people may have every reason to feel proud of their new building, for when the doors are thrown open in September our pupils will have the privilege of attending one of the finest school plants in Michigan and considered as such by experts who have been here and looked the ground over.

With the opening of school here a new branch of school work will be taken up, namely: domestic science, which will add much to the popularity of high school work. The laboratory equipment connected with physics will be put on an up-to-date footing, new appliances having been purchased and ready to install. In fact every department will be modern and up to the minute which will place our Tecumseh schools on an equal with the best schools in the state.

AND THE RAIN CAME!

Breaking a Drougth of About Six Weeks

Sunday afternoon the drougth that had hung over us for so long was broken, rain being ushered in with thunder, lightning and a strong wind. The rainfall is reported as 1½ inches. One inch means a ton of water to the acre. That sounds good for our first real storm of the season.

But the wind storm was not so favorable, doing much damage all over the country. Trees were blown down, whole orchards of fruit were shaken off and lay in heaps on the ground. Corn fields look as if a steam roller had gone over them. Silos were laid low, telephone and electric poles were blown down. At Newburg a regular cloud burst did much damage and raised the streams to overflowing. Sluiceways were washed out between Newburg and Clinton which temporarily closed Tecumseh also between here and the roads to traffic.

But the good that was effected by this storm cannot be told and will mean many thousands of dollars saved to crops throughout the county. It is thought that the rain will benefit much of the corn and will help the late crop of potatoes.

TECUMSEH BASE BALL

The game between A. S. & W. vs Brewers last Thursday was won by A. S. & W. score 12 to 2.

Last evening the game between the clerks and A. S. & W. was won by the latter 20 to 13. Both games were very much of a hit and run game.

The next game is on Thursday evening, Brewer's vs Heesen's. Come out and see the fun. The ball boys are standing all the expense. If any one or party wishes to buy some balls for the teams they will be cheerfully accepted. Leave them at W. L. Coller's store.

July 14, 1918

Dear Friend Ken:

I suppose you think I have forgotten you but am going to offer an excuse that I've been too busy and you probably will think same old excuse ha! ha!

Well everything is progressing fine so far. We've been in the trenches three times and am in reserve and have had some valuable experiences. Can't tell you what I think of it because we have censors but there has been excitement, but very little to what we expected but just as well satisfied though. Most of the men take it like veterans, didn't seem nervous and think that the Americans will get there if anything does, or at least I believe all of them are by anyway.

Red is with the Intelligence section I've only seen him once since we were up here this time, but there was a little excitement on his post or on mine to the first morning up but there were only fifteen out of the company in it, some shrapnel and big explosives and machine guns, I almost forgot them, the little things, they are so harmless to an advancing enemy. There probably would have been something doing but the Americans put a stop to it. They wont ever get a chance to start over, I don't blame them any for I was tickled when it was over, believe me the buzzing of that stuff makes you feel different than as if you were at an entertainment some place.

Ken we have profited by some experience before we are launched into the heaviest of it.

I don't think that will be very far off either. Oh! well the quicker they finish the better we can get a chance to go home then. The Americans don't like the idea of laying around these damp, ill smelling and rat infested dugouts and also cooties, but there aren't many here.

This place is sort of like a preliminary bout, before the main go, the real fighters are appearing now, Well here's hoping it will be a short snappy bout, I don't like the prolonging matter of anything.

Well Ken how's business now. You ought to be a very busy man if they adopt the French method. All of their bread is baked and issued out to them every day and baked by men. That includes the rich as well as the poor and it is dark colored and don't taste as good as Hay's.

Many thanks for the Heralds Ken, Tell them all I sent my best. Please write proper address.

As ever your Friend

Leon Temple is in receipt of the following letter which he hands us for publication.

July 22, 1918

Hello Temp old Scout.

I've just received your letter and it was the best and most newsy letter I've had since, well for something like ten years. But say, old an, if you think anything of me answer as soon as you get my letters or better still write every week, it will give you a little extra exercise and you can bet I'm glad as blazes to hear from you. Would like to hear from Mrs. Temple also and the boys if they have time to write.

Your business news couldn't have pleased me more if I had been in it. You must have done some hustling to add more work to your place. As I remember you always were going like a scared cat anyhow. I can't imagine how you give any attention to the auto part of the job. The coal sounds good to me. Hope you sell more than you can deliver. (How do you like that).

How has the Studebaker agency turned out. I like the Overlands O. K. but I always thought the Studebaker was about the poorest thing that runs on four wheels. Would you mind sending a few views of the town in next letter. By the way I have some photos of Mrs. T. and the boys also one of you did you know it.

Am glad to hear what you have to say about the war and hope it will be all you wish for. We the whole army are doing our best as you can see by the papers.

Well Temp I've used a lot of paper and not said anything about myself. I'll give you a line up of it. Health, couldn't be better; work, driving a truck going like the Devil, about nine days a week and 25 hours a day and the rest of the time have as good a time as possible.

If the censor cuts out any of this letter it wont hurt my feelings a bit Don't stick this letter away but answer it tout De suite. Best regards to everybody as ever

Dear Marcia:

I suppose you have received my card by this time telling of my safe arrival in France and it sure is a very interesting country. I am billeted with a French family, I and six other fellows. We have an apartment of a French home to sleep in. It sure is interesting to study the customs of these people, their dress and ways are so much different than in the States.

We are going to have a parade in this village in honor of the French. Today is a holiday for them. It's the same as our Fourth, it is the day of the fall of Bastile and the beginning of the French Republic.

We are kept busy here believe me. We pay 50c for a bar of chocolate almost like a Hersey and 60c for a quart of wine. All the people here drink wine almost the same as water, but in a milder form.

Believe me these French sure are an industrious race. Every available inch of ground is under cultivation. They work from sunrise to sunset and six days a week.

They have one building and in one part is their living quarters and next to it is their barn and believe me they have plenty of cattle. We have beautiful weather here almost continuously, although at present it is trying to rain.

The French people sure think the world of the Yanks and cant do enough for us and to watch the people one wouldn't know there was a war in this fair France for they sure take the crisis with a smile. May God grant that our people may continue looking at this war game in the same way.

COLLINS REUNION

The fourth annual reunion of the Collins family and friends was held Thursday August 8 at the farm home of Mr. and Mrs. George Collins of Macon.

The extreme heat and the crowding nature of work kept a number of friends from being present but regardless of these hinderances, automobiles from Adrian, Ann Arbor, Saline, Monroe, Milan, Tecumseh, Harrison, Mich., and Weston, O., to the number of ninety.

The abundance of big handsome shade trees which covered the lawn afforded a most delightful and cooling shelter from the sun.

A gracious welcome from the host and hostess made everyone feel that it was a pleasure to be there.

When the big long tables were spread by hands that were deft in "eats" it was a happy, joyous, patriotic body of people that sat down to partake of what had been set before them.

After dinner had been served the president Mr. Swick called the assembly to order for a short business meeting and for the election of officers/ A brief report having been made by the secretary Ellsworth Collins, the following were elected officers for the ensuing year:

President—Guy Collins
Vice President—Elton Osborn
Sec'y. and Treas.—Mrs. Earl Betser
Executive Committee—Lydia Mills Agnes Osborn, Florence Winterstein.

Delightful piano solos by Miss Nina Hoag of Adrian, Mrs. Swift of Toledo and Mrs. Bessie Collins of Macon. Several pleasing recitations by the children, a patriotic song by a girls' quartette and an able address upon the war by Dr. Wm. C. Burns of Ohio constituted the program and made the occasion a red letter day in the lives of those present.

Hannah N. Hood was born Feb 5th, 1827, in Allen township, Northampton county, Pa., coming to Michigan in 1868 when she located in Tecumseh township and settled on her farm home in 1870. She departed this life August 6th, 1918, at the age of 91 years and six months.

She was the daughter of Abraham and Mary Noland Hood, being one of six children all of whom have preceded her to the Great Beyond.

Her mind was clear and she was able to be around until four weeks ago, since which time she has looked forward to the end.

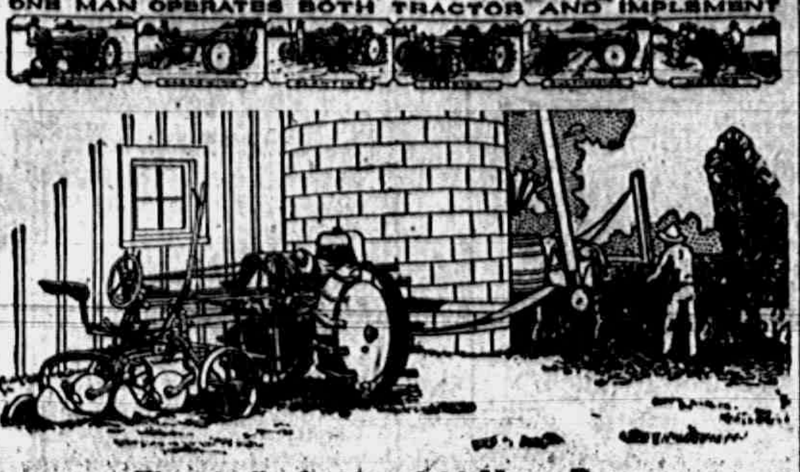
ONE MAN OPERATES BOTH TRACTOR AND IMPLEMENT



Electrically Governed 18 Horse Power with the New

MOLINE UNIVERSAL TRACTOR

It Solves The Farm Help Problem

The perfected 4-cylinder overhead-valve engine of the new Moline-Universal Tractor, Model D, develops 18-horsepower on the belt, pulling a 24-inch grain separator or 16-inch ensilage cutter, with a belt speed of between 2400 and 3000 feet a minute.

Variations in load do not affect the engine speed of the Moline-Universal in the slightest, due to an electrical governor that instantly regulates the throttle to compensate for the slightest change in pull. Electricity, the most sensitive, quickest acting force known to man, holds the engine of the Moline-Universal under control, and makes it run steadily under all conditions.

The pulley on the Moline-Universal Tractor is located directly in front of the engine, making it easy to change from one operation to another. Running a silo filler, corn shredder, feed grinder, wood saw, clover huller, hay press, water pump or electric lighting plant are only a few of the many uses to which the Moline-Universal can be put.

Unusual economy is shown by the Moline-Universal Tractor, because of the perfected overhead-valve construction of the engine, with a small bore and long stroke, and valves that measure half the diameter of the combustion chamber. A specially designed intake manifold heats and dries the gas to a perfect condition for burning. These features in combination extract every ounce of energy from the gasoline, producing power at remarkably low cost.

The construction of the Moline-Universal engine is such that it will stand up without faltering under the hardest test to which it can be subjected. Extra large bearings, lubrication under 35 pounds pressure, alloy steels and careful machining give it the stamina to stand up for long runs under full load.

The real superiority of the Moline-Universal Tractor, however, lies in field work. Here it enables one man to perform every field operation, including planting, harvestng and cultivating. Its universal adaptability practically does away with horses and also solves the farm help problem.

It is easily the most useful and greatest labor saving device ever invented for the farm.

Investigate what this machine can do for you.

FRED MANLEY ACCIDENTALLY SHOT

Pistol Explodes while being Loaded by Homer Marsh

While loading a target pistol Monday afternoon Homer Marsh accidentally shot Fred Manley through the right thigh, the bullet, a 22, passing completely through the thigh and entering the calf of the left leg where it evidently lodged against a bone.

The men were down by the river below the electric light plant and Mr. Marsh was loading the gun when it accidentally exploded. Mr. Manly was kneeling by him watching him.

When the bullet exploded, Homer asked, "Where did that bullet go?"

After a minute's pause Mr. Manley remarked, "Well, I guess I got it."

Howard Manley, brother of the injured man, who had just driven into the place of the shooting, helped place Fred in his car and he was taken to the home of Mr. Marsh.

Dr. Conklin was called and dressed the wounds. He probed for the bullet but was unable to locate it and advised an X-ray picture be taken of the injured leg to locate the hiding place of the bullet.

Mr. Manley was suffering a good deal of pain yesterday, but no serious results are anticipated as the wound is a clean one, the flesh being little torn by the bullet.

This morning Mr. Manley was taken to the office of Dr. P. B. Hardy where an X-ray picture was taken and an effort made to remove the bullet. This is the third time Mr. Manley has been the victim of shooting, once before being shot in the hand and again in the body.

When seen Monday afternoon Mr. Marsh said that he was unable to explain why the pistol exploded and that he had loaded it hundreds of times before without any trouble.

SIX DIVISIONS LEFT HERE

Washington, Aug. 12.—One regular army division, two National army divisions and three National Guard divisions are all that remain in the camps in this country of the nation's organized military program.

By the middle of September, army officers said, these remaining six divisions will have been moved overseas, and the attention of the war department will be centered on speeding up the formation of the new divisions recently authorized. The divisions still in training in this country include: Eighth regular division, at Camp Fremont, Cal.; Thirty-first division, National Guards; Thirty-fourth National Guard division, comprising state troops of Minnesota, Iowa, Nebraska and the Dakotas, at Camp Cody, N. M.; Thirty-eighth division, made up of Indiana and Kentucky Guardsmen, in training at Camp Shelby, Miss.; Eighty-fourth National army division of Illinois, Indiana and Kentucky selectives, at Camps Taylor and Sherman; Eighty-sixth division, composed of Illinois and Wisconsin conscripts, at Camp Grant.

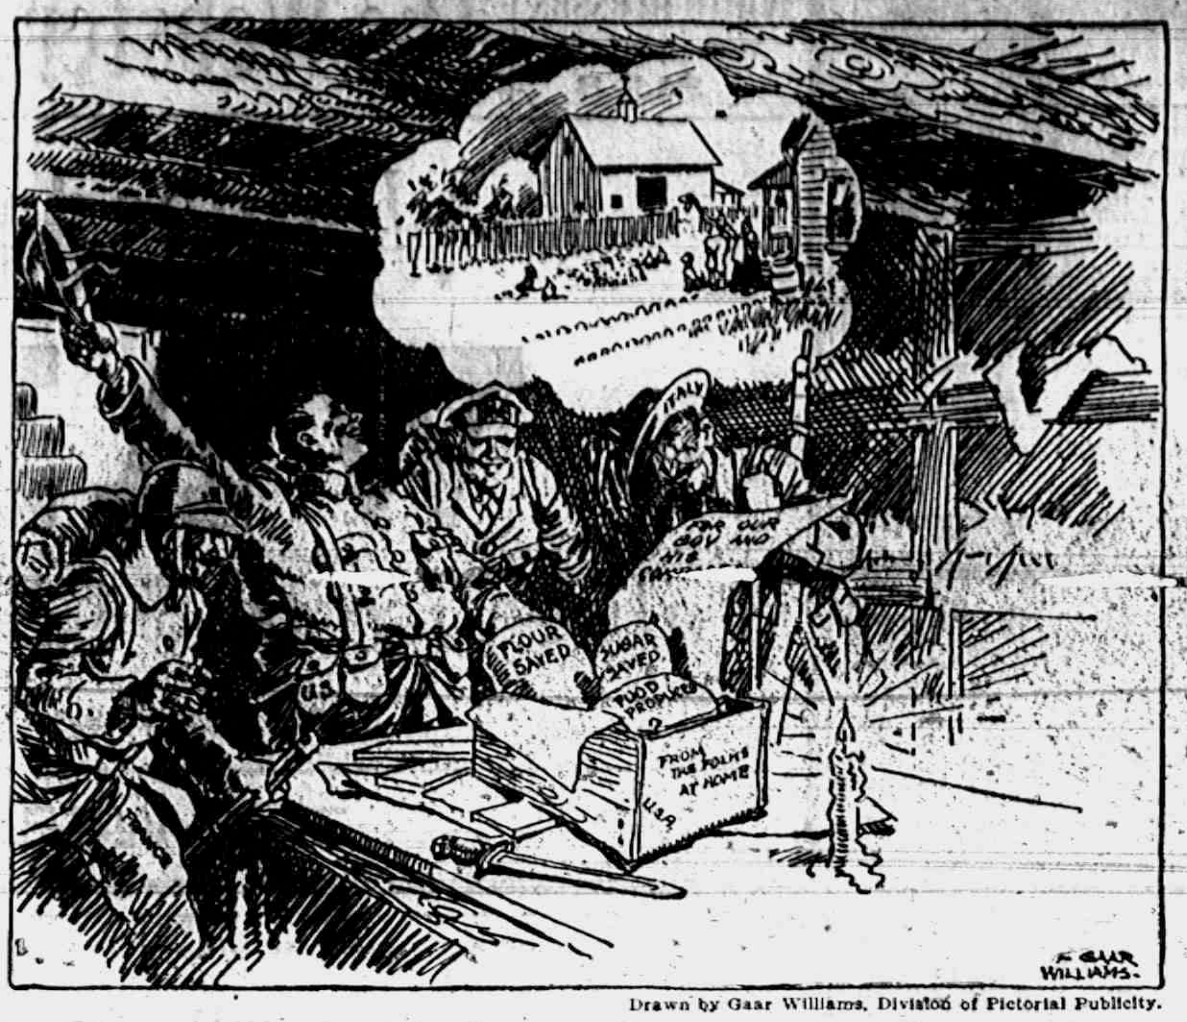
A BOX FROM HOME



FROM THE FOLKS AT HOME
GAAR WILLIAMS

Drawn by Gaar Williams, Division of Pictorial Publicity.

Food savings of millions of Americans during our first year of war enabled this government to send enormous food shipments abroad for our fighting forces and the Allied nations. Our savings in cereals—out of a short crop—amounted to 154,900,000 bushels; all of which was shipped to Europe. We increased our meat and fat shipments 844,600,000 pounds. This was America's "box from home" to our army abroad and the civilians and military forces of the Allied nations.

SHARE OUR SUGAR WITH THE ALLIES

British Get Two Pounds a Month. French Pound and Half, Italians One Pound.

GERMAN SUPPLY PLENTIFUL.

All Nations Permit Use of Sweetening for Home Preserving Purposes.

America's new sugar ration of two pounds a month per person is equitable when compared with the sugar ration enforced by rigid governmental order in England, France and Italy, nations with which we are sharing sugar.

Each Allied nation—in the matter of sugar consumption—is sharing on nearest possible equal terms the hardships imposed by greatly altered conditions in the world sugar situation.

Formerly classed as a luxury, sugar is now a war time essential. The fair and just division of this essential is in the hands of the various Allied food controllers.

The United States Food Administration has asked this nation to observe a voluntary sugar ration of two pounds per person a month.

In the other countries at war with Germany sugar is one of the scarce articles on every menu—whether in the households of both rich and poor, or in the hotels.

England today has a sugar ration of two pounds per month per person. In France the ration is a pound and a half and in Italy it is one pound a month. And the prices in allied countries are from two to three times as high as in America.

If you go to a hotel in England or France these days and order tea or coffee they serve absolutely no sugar with it. If you want sugar you must bring it with you.

In England it is allowable to use one-seventh of an ounce of sugar in the preparation of each luncheon. In France many persons carry little saccharine tablets about with them for use in hotels and in England rich and poor must take their sugar with them if they wish to have sweetened tea while visiting friends.

Before the war started France had 625,000 acres devoted to sugar production. By 1917 the French sugar acreage had decreased to 180,000 acres. Today the French man or woman with a sugar card has no assurance whatever that he or she will be able to actually buy sugar. To buy it, one must first find it.

Italy Has "State Sugar."

Especially drastic regulations govern the use of sugar in Italy. Its manufacture, distribution and sale are closely controlled, and in part actually taken over by the state.

Saccharine is permitted to be sold and used as a substitute for sugar and the government manufactures a mixture of saccharine and sugar called "State Sugar," which is largely used.

German Sugar Ration Adequate.

Germany, before the war, produced a great surplus of sugar and exported large quantities. Today the Germans have virtually gone out of the export business, but have plenty of cheap sugar for home use.

Wholesale prices prevalent in the Allied nations, according to information received by the United States Food Administration are as follows: England, 10 cents a pound; France, 12 cents; Italy, 26 cents.

While these high prices are being paid abroad the American wholesale price is being held at 7½ cents.

AIR RAID ON KARLSRUHE

Allied Aviators Drop Bombs on German City and Cause Explosion in the Station.

London, Aug. 12.—An official communication issued by the air ministry announces that an air raid has been made on Karlsruhe and that there was an explosion in the Karlsruhe station.

Harrisonville—Frank Barton was seriously injured, Mrs. Barton's leg was broken and face badly cut, and two others were hurt Saturday when a new Ford automobile they were driving was struck by a locomotive. Clarence Baldwin and Mrs. R. O. Pattee were the other passengers. All were from Barton City, Alcona county.

Lansing—Saloon-keepers and wholesale liquor dealers in Toledo are advising their customers not to attempt to smuggle liquor into Michigan. According to the state food and drug commissioner, Fred L. Woodworth, persons purchasing a bottle in Ohio towns near the Michigan line are being warned that it is dangerous to carry it across the state line.

War Time Sweeteners

AMERICA has several excellent war time sweeteners that will be used largely during the shortage in the sugar supply.

They are maple sugar, syrups, honey and molasses and may be used in preparing desserts and other dishes requiring sweetening.

When a cup of syrup or honey is used to replace a cup of sugar the liquid in the recipes should be decreased one-fourth. One-third of a cupful of sugar is equivalent to one-third of a cup of honey, about one-half cup of syrup and about one-half cup of corn sugar. One-fourth of a cup of sugar is equal to about one-half cup of syrup or one-third cup of corn sugar. One tablespoon of sugar is equal to one tablespoon of honey, about one and one-half tablespoons of syrup and one and one-third tablespoons of corn sugar.

Sugar may be saved by the use of raisins, dates, figs, dried pears and fruit pastes used on the breakfast cereals.

Fruit marmalades, butters and jellies should be used to take the place of the ordinary sweetening at a meal and not as accessories to it. Fruits may be preserved without sugar. It may be added when sugar is more plentiful.

Preserving demands this year a thin syrup instead of a heavy syrup.

If sugar is used one-half of the amount may be replaced by another sweetener.

Drying is a means of preserving (without sugar) apples, cherries, strawberries and black caps.

When ready to use they may have added the needed sugar in the form of a syrup. When sugar is more plentiful fruit juices may be made into jellies or may be used as fruit juices with or without sugar, as beverages, fruit gelatins and frozen desserts.

Fresh fruits supply the place of sugar in the diet. They should be used freely. Desserts where sugar is scarce may be made of gelatins, junkets, custards, puddings and cakes.

MILITARY AND POLITICAL LEADERS OF CENTRAL POWERS ARE GATHERING AT GRAND GERMAN HEADQUARTERS

Emperor William of Germany Calls Meeting At Berlin of Kings of Teuton Nations—Peace Offer Thought in Sight Over Defeats in West.

THE FRENCH TAKE POWERFUL RANGE OF HIGHTS

Naval Battle Reported to Have Taken Place Off Skaggerak—French and British Continue to Smash German Line, French Take Lassigny.

Amsterdam.—The military and political leaders of the Central powers are gathering at grand German army headquarters for a conference of transcendent importance, German and Austrian advices indicate. Belief is expressed a new peace offer will be made to the Allies.

Emperor Charles, of Austria, and the Austro-Hungarian foreign minister, Baron Burian, are reported to be on the way to the conference. Crown Prince Boris, of Bulgaria, already has arrived in Berlin.

For the first time in the war such a conference takes place at a moment when Germany has suffered severe defeats on the battlefield. Her allies, political observers here suggest, are likely to take full advantage of this fact. "The military crisis is bound to pull Germany from her high horse in the eyes of her allies," one student of European politics said, "and they are not likely to overlook this chance to do a little dictating of their own."

Big Naval Battle Reported.

London.—A large scale naval action appears to have been fought August 12. Copenhagen advices state that for two hours heavy cannonading went on in the Skaggerak and a great number of warships were seen. Later cannonading was heard further southward.

French Remove Last Obstacle.

London.—Lassigny, last obstacle in the way of a French dash to Noyon, is in the grasp of General Humbert's French third army. Practically the whole of the powerful range of hights in front of the town is in French hands. Lassigny lies 14 miles southeast of Montdidier, eight miles south of Roye, and seven miles west of Noyon.

With the fall of this town and the remainder of the ridge fronting it, the great Picardy battle will automatically spread to the Aisne. At least 25 miles of attacking front—from the Oise to Soissons—will be added to the line of the drive, the total length then will be 70 miles.

With Lassigny hights and town Germans will have lost virtually all the terrain they gained west of the Oise below Noyon in their drive on Compiegne. To escape disaster, all their forces on the east bank of the Oise below Noyon must go back. Indeed, such a German retirement was begun recently on a local scale.

But this means Germans must relinquish their hold on the whole region in the Noyon-Ribecourt-Soissons angle. Such a retirement would bring the French far to the north of the Aisne between Noyon and Soissons and present the gravest possible flanking menace to the entire German Aisne-Vesle front. Presently the attacking front would spread again, include another 35 miles, between Soissons and the east of Rheims, and the great center of the whole German battle line would be under assault.

Thus, the next two or three days are sure to see one of two things—an eleventh hour rally by Germans and a consequent halt to the Allied Picardy drive—which seems unlikely in view of the sustained pressure of Foch's offensive—or the most terrific, perhaps the decisive battle of the war, along a front from the Ancre to the east of Rheims, 100 miles.

British Recognize Czecho-Slovaks.

London.—The British government has issued a declaration formally recognizing the Czecho-Slovaks as an Allied nation and the three Czecho-Slovak armies as an Allied force regularly waging warfare against the Central powers.

U. S. Still Considering Question.

Washington.—Recognition by the British government of the Czecho-Slovaks as an independent Allied nation, arrayed against the Central powers, follows similar action by Italy and France.

This question still is under consideration by the American government and there has been no indication as to what course will be followed.

It is recalled, however, that only recently Secretary Lansing, in a formal statement, expressed the deep sympathy with which this government views the national aspirations of the Czecho-Slovaks and other oppressed people of the Austro-Hungarian empire.

When informed of the action of Great Britain, Professor T. G. Masaryk president of the Czecho-Slovak national council, and as such commander-in-chief of the Czecho-Slovak forces operating in Italy, France and Siberia, expressed his high appreciation and said it was doubly valuable, since it comes after adoption of a similar course by the other two great Allied powers.

Hastings—George Vandewalker, of Kalamazoo, paid a fine of $23.95 for using a set line in fishing in lower Crocked Lake.

Port Huron—The ground upon which the old city opera house block stood for years, was sold at public auction for $300 per foot.

Port Huron — Kimball township farmers will have as their guests on August 21, Governor Sleeper, Henry Ford and Chase S. Osborn.

Bay City—Montiville Hale, 22 years old, bookkeeper for the Thorne Electric company, used chloroform to put himself to sleep. He was found dead in bed.

Albion—The Albion Vigilance corps has taken up a plan proposed by factory men, for every laboring man in the city to work Labor day and give the proceeds to the Red Cross.

Italians Bomb Vienna.

Zurich—According to the Viennese Press, the Italian air raid is sole topic of interest in the talk in cafes and streets of the Austrian capital. The Reichsport, military organ, says an inquiry is pending to punish those responsible, and adds that the fear of reprisals combined with difficulty of carrying heavy explosives for such a distance, deterred the Italians from bombing Vienna.

While comments of the official press are guarded, the fact that the raid made a tremendous impression upon the public is proved through the comments. The Fremedenmblatt, which until a fortnight ago, was subsidized organ of the Austrian foreign office, is being severely consored.

The Fremedenpblatt significantly refers to the eagerness of the public to read the manifestos, which a strong wind had scattered over the populated districts of the city.

The raid excited all the more amazement, because the Viennese were convinced of their immunity, thanks to protection, afforded by the high Alpine barrier in the south.

British Cavalry in Action.

With the British Army in France—Allied forces continued their victorious advance all along the line Sunday pushing in the general direction of the upper regions of the Somme. They were smashing stiff resistance interposed by rear guards of retreating Germans, the bulk of whom, according to reports considered reliable, are fleeing in disorder. British cavalry is reported operating close to the town of Nesle. (Nesle is six miles southeast of Chaulnes.)

Many hours ago British, French and American troops had reached, roughly, the old line held by Germans before their retirement to the Hindenburg line. They have pushed beyond in many places.

Goyencourt, two miles northwest of Roye, is reported to have fallen to British forces were on the front of Chaulnes-Hattencourt and Villers-Les-Roye.

Germans are retiring gradually everywhere in the face of fire from British guns, rifles and machine guns.

Down 64 Planes In One Day.

London—Sixty-four German machines were brought down by the British Sunday. Only 12 British machines were lost. The war office report on aviation states. British raiding planes dropped 541 1-2 tons of bombs on various German targets—a record amount of explosives used in this way. British flyers took active part in the pursuit of the Germans in Picardy.

British aviators again successfully bombed the railway station of the German city of Karlsruhe. An explosion was observed to result from the raid. Three hostile machines were brought down, the raiders losing only one machine.

French Down 338 Planes In July.

Washington—During July, French aviators and anti-aircraft guns accounted for 338 enemy machines, according to information received at the French embassy. In addition 49 German captive balloons were destroyed.

Bombing aviators in the same period, threw 194 tons of projectiles upon the enemy by day, and more than 356 tons by night.

Most of the work was concentrated on bridges used by the enemy on the Marne, on German troops, who were advancing south of the Aisne, and on the stations in the region of Loan-Hirson and Rethel.

More U. S. Troops Going to Italy.

Rome—Franklin D. Roosevelt, assistant secretary of the United States navy, in speaking at a luncheon given in his honor by Admiral Delbono, minister of the navy, gave assurances that additional American troops would be sent to Italy, Mr. Roosevelt stated, was to seek means of preventing enemy submarines from leaving the Adriatic, while it was also desired to find ways for keeping the Austrian fleet from operating against Italians.

Michigan Boy Takes Two Iron Crosses.

Flint—Corporal Ralph Dort, United States marine corps, has sent to his father, J. Dallas Dort, local manufacturer and director of war fund campaigns, two photos and certificates of iron crosses, second class, taken from German prisoners. When he enlisted Corporal Dort's father offered him $1,000 for every German helmet he brought or sent home. Acknowledging receipt of trophies. Mr. Dort told his son they were no good, as they were taken from live Germans.

Flint—Fred Kavesky, of Flint, reported severely wounded in action, has been sought by the local draft board as a draft delinquent. The board did not know Kavesky was in service.

Albion—The village of Springport turned out over 1,000 strong for the town's annual picnic at Duck Lake Friday. Capt. W. B. Pullinger, for two years on the French front, spoke.

Muskegon—George H. Knutson, a Muskegon young man, is now a consulting engineer in the purchasing division of the emergency fleet corporation, with headquarters at Philadelphia.

Petoskey—Thomas Gordon, Jr., of Howell, Mich., president of the Bay View Camp Ground association, was re-elected to the board of trustees for three years at the annual election in Bay View.

WORK OR FIGHT BILL TO PREVENT STRIKES

NEW PROVISION FOR EDUCATING YOUTHS UNDER 21 NOW SERVING AFTER THE WAR.

2,398,000 MEN NOW AVAILABLE

Bill Prepared Under Direction of Secretary Baker to Enable the Nation to Increase Its War Program.

Washington.—With a broad "work or fight" amendment, designed to prevent strikes, and a new provision for education at government expense, after the war, of youths under 21 serving in the military or naval service, the administration man-power bill extending draft ages so as to include all men between 18 and 45 years of age, was ordered favorably reported by the senate military committee.

The bill which was prepared under direction of Secretary Baker, is framed to enable the nation to increase its war program in accordance with an understanding, reached with the Allies. About 13,000,000 men would be registered under the new law, and Provost Marshal General Crowder estimates it will make available at once for military service 2,398,000 men between the ages of 18 and 20 and 32 and 45.

Action by the committee followed about a week's consideration. During that time, Secretary Baker, General March and General Crowder appeared to explain the imperative necessity for extending the draft ages and to urge prompt action.

The "work or fight" amendment, accepted, was offered by Senator Reed, Missouri, as substitute for one presented by Senator Thomas, Colorado. It provides that "when any person shall have been placed in deferred or exempted class, he shall "not be entitled to remain therein unless he shall, in good faith, continue, while physically able to do so to work and follow such occupation." Should he fail to do this he would become subject to immediate draft.

FIRST U. S. FIELD ARMY CREATED

American Army Now Placed On Same Footing As French and British.

Washington.—Secretary Baker was formally advised by General Pershing that the First American Field army had been created, General Pershing retaining command of the army as well as of the entire American expeditionary force for the present. The dispatch added nothing to details of the army organization already made known from Paris, Mr. Baker said.

The announcement is regarded as having deep significance at the war department, mainly because it places the American army in France on the same footing as the French or British forces there.

Formation of the army is taken here to mean that the Americanization of a definite portion of the front has been completed. Supply lines, railways, bases, storage facilities, debarkation ports and the like, created and operated by Americans, stand behind the first army.

The only statement of the location of this American front is that it is "south of the Marne." Presumably this means a part at least of the long line from St. Mihiel to the Swiss border, where American troops have been put in at intervals during the last few months.

U. OF M. GETS $260,000 WAR FUND

Government Plans to Increase the Number of Men Sent to U. of M.

Lansing.—The Michigan war preparedness board authorized a loan of $260,000 to the University of Michigan for finishing the Michigan Union building in Ann Arbor.

The government plans to increase the number of men sent to the University of Michigan for mechanical training from 700 to 2,200, and it was pointed out that there will be no place for them to eat and sleep after the college opens in the fall. It is planned to use the Michigan Union club as a mess hall and barracks for the duration of the war.

MEN IN SERVICE TO VOTE BY MAIL

Those Properly Registered Under Absent Voters Law Can Vote in Primary.

Lansing.—Attorney General Groesbeck has rendered an opinion to Secretary of State Vaughan that any Michigan voter in the state or federal service may vote by mail at the primary, if he is properly registered under the absent voters law. This applies to those who are not in the military service as well as men in the army and navy who are still in this country. Many state employes in the capitol are planning to vote by mail.

Ludington — Emergency bonds amounting to $5,000, will be issued shortly by the city of Ludington to cover the cost of the building of a bridge over the Bayou of Pere Marquette Lake on Madison street. Construction already has been started.

MUCH DAMAGE DONE BY STORM

LIGHTNING STRIKES POSTOFFICE AT HILLSDALE RIPPING HOLE IN THE ROOF.

RAIN BENEFITS CROPS GREATLY

Planing Mill At Romeo Was Also Destroyed By Lightning—Rain Saved Crops.

Lansing—Rains in central, southern and southeastern Michigan Sunday night and Mondoy have broken a drought that in some sections had lasted for more than four weeks.

Corn, beans and potatoes have been greatly benefited.

Considerable damage because of these storms has been reported. Near Romeo the heavy wind blew a tree limb on the D. U. R. track, stopping the grst section of a north-bound local. The second section skidded into it, injuring two passengers. A planing mill at Romeo was also burned by lightning.

Storm Hits Hillsdale Postoffice.

Hillsdale—The wind and electrical storm which passed over here Sunday afternoon did some material damage, lightning striking the postoffice and ripping a hole in the roof. A cow belonging to William Donley, of amden longing to William Donley, of Camden township, was killed by lightning. Through breaking trees and telephone poles telephone communication was shut off and at noon Monday there was but one wire running out of the city.

Hay Burns Near Grand Ledge.

Grand Ledge—While Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rander were attending camp meeting at Sebeawa Corners Sunday night their barn was struck by lightning and destroyed. It was filled with hay.

Gratiot Drought Broken.

Alma—A three-weeks drought here was broken Monday by a short rain. The ground had become so dry that even the trees were suffering. The leaves in many cases having turned yellow and fallen to the ground just as in the fall of the year.

Rain Saves Oakland Crops.

Pontiac—Some damage was done by a storm Sunday evening in Oakland county. At Holly barns belonging to Bert Tucker and Charles Spalding were destroyed, with a total loss of $7,000. Thousands of dollars' worth of benefit resulted from the rain, which is believed to have saved the bean, potato and corn crops.

CAR RIDERS WIN FIRST VICTORY

Court Restrains D. U. R. From Collecting 6-Cent Fares.

Detroit—Following the admission of temporary defeat by Detroit United railway Monday in directing its conductors to carry passengers for a nickel if they refused to pay the 6-cent fare, Judge Harry J. Dingeman at a midnight session in circuit court issued a temporary injunction restraining the company from violating the Kronk ordinance which fixes six rides for 25 cents as the legal rate of fare and reestablishes workingmen's eight-for-a quarter rush hour tickets.

The minute Judge Dingeman signed the order copies were handed to deputy sheriffs with instructions to serve them upon President Frank Brooks and other D. U. R. officials before morning.

Judge Dingeman issued the temporary injunction on the application of Corporation Counsel Frazer, filed after a consultation between Frazer and Atty. Gen. Alex J. Groesbeck. The order requires the D. U. R. to show cause why the injunction should not be made permanent.

By this prompt action the city took the D. U. R. by surprise and draws first blood in the legal end of the trolley fare war, although the company had filed a petition in the United States district court Monday afternoon asking that enforcement of the Kronk ordinance be enjoined.

District Court Judge Tuttle, however, did not act on the application at that time, setting 9 o'clock Tuesday morning as the time to hear argument and notifying the corporation counsel to be present.

The car riders of the city had already scored a distinct victory over the D. U. R. late Monday, when trolley conductors were instructed to inform passengers who inquired that the fare was six cents, but to take no further steps to enforce its payment.

Motormen and conductors of the D. U. R. are evincing uneasiness over the situation and make no secret of their intention to refuse to run cars if riots over the fare increase shall recur.

28,000 Army Coats Defective.

New York—More than 28,000 army raincoats, similar in poor material and workmanship to large numbers of supposedly waterproof garments delivered to American soldiers overseas, have been found defective by inspectors who reported on an examination of government stores. Federal officials announced that 55,000 raincoats, withheld from shipment when General Pershing forwarded from France, complaints of leaky storm garments issued to thousands of his troops.

Reed City—Reed City has had three fires in less than four days. The dining quarters of the Seventh Day Adventists camp burned to the ground. Boys using matches set the Evangelical sheds on fire and then the Dell Watkins lumber mill suffered a loss.

Coldwater—Fire started by an exploding lantern destroyed a big grain barn on the Shoemaker farm near Coldwater with all the summer's crops and much farm machinery. The farm was occupied by H. B. Clouse, who loses all the proceeds of his summer's work.

Iron Mountain—William Osterberg, 19 years old, of Norway, was drowned in Hamilton lake while bathing. He dove from a raft and his head became stuck in the mud and he failed to come to the surface. Two friends tried to rescue him, one nearly meeting a like fate.

Candidate for Nomination for Representative in Congress, Second District

Has lived in Lenawee County thirty-one years. Forty-one years of age. Lawyer by occupation. Served eight years as Assistant and Prosecuting Attorney,—four wet years as Assistant and four dry years as Prosecutor in the County.

He is not a candidate of any faction, organization or machine. If nominated and elected he will at all times energetically represent the masses of the people.

He stands for a new deal. Believes that a Congressman should be elected by the people,—that he should not buy his votes with money, or secure his election by pre-election promises. Neither does he believe that one or two men in each County should have the right to dictate which candidate will receive the votes in that County for office. He stands for clean politics and a square deal. He has never been a candidate for Congress and has no enemies to punish and no political friends to reward.

He is for AMERICA FIRST, LAST, AND ALL THE TIME.

If you want such a man go to the Primary on August 27th and vote for him.

DIXON'S PLATFORM:

"WIN THE WAR"

We are in the war and we can come out of it only as conqueror or conquered, victorious or dishonored; as an independent or subject nation. Our lives, our homes, our institutions, all that Washington fought for and Lincoln died for, are at stake. Our only way now is to FIGHT IT OUT for the simple cause of AMERICA AND AMERICANS. We must, as Benjamin Franklin said, "hang together or hang separately." The man who in public or private life subordinates this cause to any other consideration, no matter what, or who FAILS IN THE FULL, DEVOTED AND EFFICIENT PERFORMANCE OF HIS DUTY to the nation, is a traitor to himself, his family, the republic and the right.

RIGID SAVING IN FOOD ASKED

Allied Directors Say Situation Now Good But Must Plan For Future.

LARGE RESERVE IS NEEDED

New York, Aug. 2—The federal food board made public Thursday night the text of a joint resolution adopted by the food controllers of the United States, France, Italy and Great Britain and received from abroad from Federal Administrator Hoover with the request that it be given "wide publicity." The text follows:

"Resolved, That while the increased production of the United States renders it possible to relax some of the restrictions which have borne with peculiar hardship on all people it is absolutely necessary that rigid economy and elimination of waste in the consumption and in the handling of foodstuffs as well as increased production should be maintained throughout the European allied countries and North America.

"But it is only by conservation and elimination of waste that the transportation of food supplies from North America to the European front can be accomplished and that stocks of foodstuffs can be built up in North America as an insurance against the ever present danger of harvest failure and the possible necessity for large and emergency drafts to Europe. We cannot judge the food problem on the basis of one year's war. We must be prepared for its continuance if we are to insure absolute prosperity."

IN FLANDERS FIELD

Lieutenant Colonel John C. McCrea, an officer serving with the British forces in Flanders, wrote a short poem that was printed in Punch. During the war men serving in the field have written several that will live long after they themselves have been resolved to dust. Taking high rank among these noble offerings is Colonel McCrea's poem, In Flanders Fields. We print it here:

In Flanders Fields the poppies grow
Between the crosses, row on row,
That mark our place, while in the sky
The larks, still singing bravely, fly
Unheard amid the guns below.

We are the dead. Short days ago
We lived, felt dawn, saw sunset's glow,
Loved and were loved, and now we lie
In Flanders Fields.

Take up our quarrel with the foe;
To you, from failing hands, we throw
The torch, be yours to hold it high,
If ye break faith with us who die
We shall not sleep, though poppies blow
In Flanders Fields.

Colonel McCrea himself now sleeps in Flanders Fields. New rows of crosses have been added to the old. There in the long alignment he has found his place. He who lived, felt dawn, saw sunsets glow, loved and was loved, now with his comrades lies in Flanders Fields. Let us take up his quarrel with the foe. To us he flung the torch. It is ours to hold it high and carry on. As we keep faith so shall they sleep well where poppies blow on Flanders Fields.

It is not for all of us to serve in uniform. For every one who takes his place in the trenches scores must remain at home. We, too, can help—we, too, be torch bearers. It is as we buy bonds we keep our faith with those who fought our fight, and dying, died reposing trust in us. Shall they have died in vain? Shall their trust be broken?

"Our Pilgrim fathers lived entirely without wheat, and surely no one ever looked upon them as weaklings", said Dr. J. N. Hurty, secretary of the Indiana State Board of Health, and one of the most famous "health cranks" in the world. Dr. Hurty sees nothing unreasonable in the Food Administration's appeal for an entirely wheatless diet.

Muskegon—This city will have a deficit of $120,000 by December, officials say. Local banks say they cannot lend the amount and propose a bond issue.

Petoskey—Thirty Harborn Springs young men of army enlistment age surrendered to the appeals of a company of pretty Petoskey girls, who made a recruiting rally in that village for Sergt. Kent of the Petoskey army recruiting station. The young women are visiting all nothern Michigan points.

Saginaw—Theodore N. Eller, a traveling salesman, died at St. Mary's hospital as a result of an accident which he suffered in Flushing. Eller was cranking his auto when it started, jamming him against another machine and tearing about six inches of bone from his right leg. Mr. Eller served as justice of the peace here for six years.

Holland—Recent deaths of Mrs. Leuntje Dekker, at Zeeland, and Mrs. T. M. Vandenbosh, at Holland, have brought to light the coincidence they were born in the Netherlands, in cities five miles apart and their deaths occurred in cities in western Michigan five miles apart. They died from the same disease within three days of each other and now are buried in the same cemetery.

Muskegon—The state convention of the Michigan Council of Carpenters, elected James Sharrock, of Detroit, president. Other officers are: Raymond Wamzo, Kalamazoo, vice-president; J. E. Whittaker, Jackson, secretary and treasurer; William Gessnes, Monroe, and C. S. Wattlauffer, Saginaw, members of executive board. For the first time in the history of the organization, a woman, Mrs. Retta Reams, Battle Creek, attended the convention as a delegate. The 1919 convention will be held in Kalamazoo.

Monroe—Prohibition fines here amounted to $5,020 between July 24 and August 7.

Ann Arbor—Enrico Caruso will open the U. of M. Choral Union concert series October 19.

Lapeer—Amenzo Hoard, 91 years old, Civil War veteran and second boy born in Macomb county, is dead.

Battle Creek—The food administration is holding a car of smutted wheat owned by the King Seed Co., of this city.

WIPE PRUSSIA OFF THE MAP!

The map of Europe needs a change,
A thing we can't deny!
And certain "kultured" protions
No more offend the eye;
The land where Greed and Hatred rule,
While all mankind they sap,
Should be obliterated, so,
Wipe Prussia off the map!
The very name hath grown a stench—
The world must not endure,
But Prussianism is an ill
That Yankee guns can cure!
The Kaiser Bill and all his breed
Are due to hear the clap
When Freedom's thunder strikes
Wipes Prussia off the map.
The nations clustered thereabouts
Will welcome Prussia's fall!
They have no love for Butcher Bill—
The fiend's curse to all.
His gang and he have earned a hate
Of all who stand for Right;
His frightfullness appalls the world,
It brought us in the fight.
The world-wide hate that Germany
By fiendishness has earned;
Her treachery and faithlessness,
The million homes she's burned,
Her brutal lust and grasping might—
There's none would care a rap
If Yankee grit and Yankee brawn
Wiped Prussia off the map!

IMMEDIATE STEPS FOR A JEWISH STATE

The British Declaration, Approved by the Allies, in Favor of a National Jewish Home in Palestine, Makes Possible Laying Foundation Even While the War Is On—A Great Hebrew University Planned.

All the allies are pledged to a Jewish Palestine. All southern Palestine, including the capital, is already in British hands, and in that region the British government can even now take in hand the realization of the task to which it has committed itself.

The economic expansion of Palestine will provide an economic basis for military operations in Palestine. The more Jewish labor is there, the more is produced, the more expert assistance is put at the disposal of the military and civil authorities in Palestine, the easier is the military task of General Allenby. Economic expansion operates in another way. As soon as the British army acquired control over a considerable fraction of the country the British authorities assumed responsibility for the feeding and maintenance of the population which had been reduced to bitter suffering under Turkey. These people must be fed and supported and the best way of doing that is not by unlimited extension of philanthropic relief work, but by preparing the foundations of the new Jewish Palestine, and so creating a natural support for the indigent. The British military authorities have shown prompt appreciation of certain aspects of the situation; they have provided the Jewish colonists with seed and with the means of carrying on production.

It is not only material work which can be done there. The new Jewish Palestine will have to justify itself mainly as a moral entity by its emancipation of the Jewish spirit and by its individual contribution to the sum of civilization. It is well known that a considerable Hebrew school system was created in Palestine before the war. It has, of course, suffered very greatly during the war, partly because the war deprived it of many pupils and of money and partly because the Turks persecuted it.

For more than a score of years the establishment of a Hebrew university has been one of the goals of Jewish striving, and every Jewish element throughout the world with a tinge of Jewish consciousness has sympathized with it. On the eve of the war the project was very near to realization. A site for the university had been found and a scheme drawn up for a real, though a modest, beginning. It would be difficult to conceive a nobler pledge that the new Jewish Palestine could give than the creation, in the midst of the war, of a Hebrew university at Jerusalem. It would show the whole world that the new Palestine is not to be an El Dorado for fortune hunters nor a miniature reproduction of imperialist vulgarities, but a spiritual force for universal Jewry and for the whole world.

Port Huron—The Foundation company, Port Huron, shipyard, incorporated, has begun preparations for the construction of 10 steel seagoing tugs, each 150 feet long, 27 feet beam and 16 feet deep, for the United States shipping board emergency fleet corporation. The boats will be finished by the middle of April. Six hundred more employes are needed at once for this government contract.

Muskegon — With five children, three sons and two daughters, enlisted in the United States service, and a sixth, a son, employed in an aeroplane factory where he is engaged in turning out parts for aircrafts, Mrs. Louis H. Kanitz, of this city, is the champion war mother of Muskegon. Two sons are in the navy, one in the aviation service, and the two daughters are in the naval reserve as yeomanettes.

Lansing—Members of draft boards are to be exempt in the new 18 to 45 draft, it was announced recently by Colonel Bersey, upon advices from Washington. They are to be considered as already in the military service. Certification by the adjutant general or governor will be necessary just as is now required from any government employe, through the head of department in which he is located.

Traverse City—The Northwestern Michigan War conference have passed resolutions pledging the full and unimpeded forces of this state and its resources to the government, demanding prosecution of the war with no compromised peace, indorsing the plan for fixing just and equitable quotas for counties in national campaigns, favoring the erection of a community house at Camp Custer by state war board, to be operated at state expense, to accommodate visitors at Camp Custer at a minimum expense.

H. BREWER & CO. TO TAKE ON MORE WAR WORK

H. Brewer & Co. have recently received contracts from the Emergency Fleet Corporation covering the manufacturing of bilge and ballast water pipe and fittings for thirty-seven 3500 ton ships and seventy-two 5000 ton ships. This factory is already busy on other war work and these additional orders mean a busy season ahead for this Tecumseh firm.

TECUMSEH FARMERS FIGHT FEED PRICES

Use Co-operative Association to Secure Economical Mixing of Grains

East Lansing, Mich. Dairymen living in the vicinity of Tecumseh, in Lenawee county, have found a partial remedy for the climbing habits which dairy feed prices seem to have become addicted within the last two years. The Tecumseh farmers, who are members of one of the most active farmers co-operative associations in the state, have perfected a plan whereby they have secured for themselves the mixing of a standard feed from pure grains. This feed is now being distributed to diarymen in southern Michigan at practical cost, and is saving members of the association an amount varying from 10 to 20 per cent of what their mixed feeds formerly cost them.

The Co-operative organization through which the work in Tecumseh is being done is the Tecumseh Co-operative association. The feed-mixing project was worked up by it co-operatively with the Michigan Agricultural college.

NO MORE ROAMING ROUND AT NIGHT FOR M. A. C. FRESH

College to Require Incoming Youngsters to Live in Dormitories Under Barracks Rules.

East Lansing, Mich. Midnight escapades, and the roaming 'round in the stilly hours which in days of yore afforded a dash of excitement to the life of incoming freshmen at M. A. C., will be done away with in the campus this fall. The freshmen, instead of being assigned to private rooming houses about the city of East Lansing will all of them be gathered together in the dormitories of the college and held under barracks rules.

This decision was made by the faculty of the college in order to simplify the work of the military department of M. A. C. and to place the institution on a strictly war-time basis. All of the young men will also become members of the reserve officers training corps and as such will be required to wear the regulation army khaki.

A corps of between 30 and 40 trained officers will drill the M. A. C. student cadets when the college term commences on October 7.

CARUSO IN ANN ARBOR OCTOBER 19TH

Sig. Enrico Caruso will open the Ann Arbor Concert series in Hill auditorium October 19. The engagement of the greatest singer the world has ever known marks the culmination of many years of persistent effort on the part of the University Musical Society, and the story of the negotiations employed would almost fill a book.

Since coming to the Metropolitan Opera Company in 1903 Caruso has been the magnet of that august institution, and Caruso nights have always meant sold out houses, even to the last available foot of standing.

Some month ago, a rumor became public that he would possibly sing in a few concerts this Summer and Fall, and University Musical Society was not slow in getting close to the situation. After several special trips to New York City, and an immense amount of negotiations by telegraph and mail a tentative arrangement was entered into two weeks ago, leading to the execution of final contracts which now repose safely locked in the vault.

In July Caruso sang in concert at Ocean Grove before an audience of 12,000; this month he is to sing at Saratoga Springs, and on Saturday evening, the 19th, in Ann Arbor.

Caruso is now in his prime and each succeeding season has been greater than the one before. The fact that at the present time he is acting for a moving picture, to be known as "My Cousin Carus" for which he is said to receive $100,000 will make it possible for many people throughout the country to see, if not to hear this remarkable man.

Caruso is extremely patriotic, and since the beginning of the great war has been of material assistance. He is known as a tireless worker for democracy, having by reason of his great gifts done more than any other artist to aid the allies. By means of his golden voice alone he has poured in over $5,000,000 to the Red Cross and other war activities. In Carnegie Hall, during the Third Liberty Loan drive he succeeded in selling $3,060,000 worth of bonds, and in supporting the Itailan cause he has personally contributed hundreds of thousands of dollars. His recital at the Hippodrome in New York raised more than $45,000 for American Jackies, while another recital netted more than $41,000 for each the Italian and the American Red Cross. In addition, he paid last year in War Income Tax, nearly $100,000. He says "I am trying to do my bit by singing for my country and America and thereby help the Allies and their cause." His two sons are officers in the Italian army. Both of them were actively and brilliantly engaged in the recent struggle over the Piave with the Austrian forces.

Sunday Dr. and Mrs. Conklin and children and his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Myron Conklin, motored to Detroit and visited Erwin Conklin and family. The doctor came home that night but the others are making a more extended visit.

RAYMOND R. JONES

Raymond, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Jones, passed away at 9 o'clock Thursday evening at the age of 9 years and 5 months, death due to acute bronchitis. Funeral services will be held at the home Sunday at 2 o'clock. Burial in Grubb cemetery, Franklin.

SOCK KNITTERS

Mrs. Hartzog wishes all who have been knitting socks to bring in their work next week. All yarn should also be brought back next week. This is necessary because many socks have to be changed before being sent to Adrian. The small bits of yarn you have left will be needed to complete socks already started.

A STEAK ROAST PARTY

Miss Lucile Camp entertained a few friends Friday evening honoring her cousin, Miss Frances Stone of Irvington N. J. A steak roast at the pond was the event of the evening.

Those present enjoying the spread were the Misses Esther Pratt, Edna Taylor, Florence VanWinkle, Lillis Howard, Marjorie Boyce and Ruby Reckner. A most enjoyable time was reported.

A WORTH WHILE SURPRISE

William Lowry, living north of town, was the victim of a very timely surprise Wednesday when 48 of his friends and neighbors dropped in upon him to help with his threshing. Mr. Lowry is past 80 years of age and is doing his bit for his country, having given three sons for the service, two of them, Adam and David, are with the 85th Division in France and Robert is in training at Camp Custer. Mrs. Lowry and daughters prepared a fine dinner for the men which was highly appreciated.

Mr. Lowry and family wish to publicly thank their friends for their thoughtfulness and their tokens of friendship on this occasion.

OUR SPECIAL WEDNESDAY

Week after week we wonder, "Will there be a crowd in town Wednesday night?" and week after week the answer comes back, "Yes, and then some."

Wednesday of this week was no exception, our streets being packed with friends from far and near, and we are sure that no one went home disappointed. The Tipton band furnished most delightful music and the whole program was of the best.

The four musical Lunds with cornets, trumpets and xylophones, were certainly artists and gave us some very fine selections.

The cowboy vocalist was quite a singer and received much applause. He at one time was leader of a cowboy chorus and has had quite an experience.

The program was a good one throughout and met with the hearty approval of the crowd. Rest assured that next week will be equally good, so don't miss it.

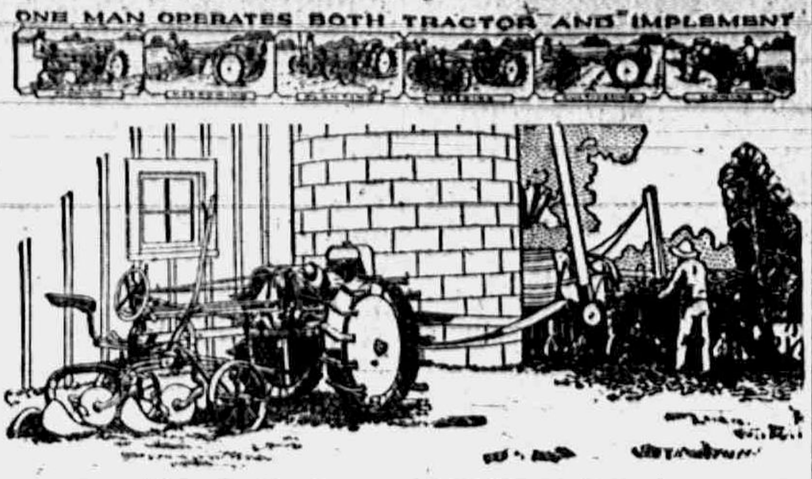
ONE MAN OPERATES BOTH TRACTOR AND IMPLEMENT



Electrically Governed 18 Horse Power with the New

MOLINE UNIVERSAL TRACTOR

It Solves The Farm Help Problem

The perfected 4-cylinder overhead-valve engine of the new Moline-Universal Tractor, Model D, develops 18-horsepower on the belt, pulling a 24-inch grain separator or 16-inch ensilage cutter, with a belt speed of between 2400 and 3000 feet a minute.

Variations in load do not affect the engine speed of the Moline-Universal in the slightest, due to an electrical governor that instantly regulates the throttle to compensate for the slightest change in pull. Electricity, the most sensitive, quickest acting force known to man, holds the engine of the Moline-Universal under control, and makes it run steadily under all conditions.

The pulley on the Moline-Universal Tractor is located directly in front of the engine, making it easy to change from one operation to another. Running a silo filler, corn shredder, feed grinder, wood saw, clover huller, hay press, water pump or electric lighting plant are only a few of the many uses to which the Moline-Universal can be put.

Unusual economy is shown by the Moline-Universal Tractor, because of the perfected overhead-valve construction of the engine, with a small bore and long stroke, and valves that measure half the diameter of the combustion chamber. A specially designed intake manifold heats and dries the gas to a perfect condition for burning. These features in combination extract every ounce of energy from the gasoline, producing power at remarkably low cost.

The construction of the Moline-Universal engine is such that it will stand up without faltering under the hardest test to which it can be subjected. Extra large bearings, lubrication under 35 pounds pressure, alloy steels and careful machining give it the stamina to stand up for long runs under full load.

The real superiority of the Moline-Universal Tractor, however, lies in field work. Here it enables one man to perform every field operation, including planting, harvestng and cultivating. Its universal adaptability practically does away with horses and also solves the farm help problem.

It is easily the most useful and greatest labor saving device ever invented for the farm.

BURGLARY ALARM SYSTEM BEING INSTALLED AT THE TECUMSEH STATE BANK

Adding Much to the Efficiency of this Up-to-date Bank

Ever zealous of protecting the interest of their customers the Tecumseh State bank are keeping just a litte ahead of the times and are now installing an electric burglar system in their building workmen are now here and are busy putting the system in commission.

The system was purchased of a Grand Rapids concern and when installed and ready for use will give the depositors and customers of this progressive bank additional protection.

A large gong has been affixed to the wall of the building outside from which wires will be run to points of contact at convenient places inside of the banking office. Buttons will be placed at the desks of the officers, at the teller's windows and other convenient places for use in case of emergency. A slight pressure on any button connected with the system sets the gong outside to ringing which gives warning to the officers and public of any trouble within. A contact is also made with the vault doors and any tampering with them will also cause the gong to ring.

The system is so well thought of by the burglar insurance people that a reduction in premium rates will be accepted by them.

SMOOT COMMENDS FOOD ADMINISTRATION

UTAH SENATOR HAS BEEN A CLOSE STUDENT OF FOOD REGULATIONS AND PROBLEMS.

Issues Comprehensive Statement Touching on the Various Angles of the Food Question.

Washington, Aug. 7.—Senator Reed Smoot of Utah, who has in the past year kept in close touch with the Food Administration, especially in the lines of its activities which affected sugar beets or other phases of the western agricultural production, and whose cooperation has been of great value in dealing with western food questions, recently made the following comprehensive statement:

The Food Administration is an emergency organization that has lived up to its war-obligations to the fullest extent. Before it lay the tremendous task of so managing the Nation's food supply that we at home here would have enough, while we fed our armed force and the Allies. How well it has accomplished that task is proved by the fact that our cause is going on to ultimate triumph in Europe, a triumph that would have been impossible without the aid extended from these shores by shipment of food.

Although there has been some criticism of the Food Administration in the Senate, there has been no word of criticism concerning the manner in which it has furnished food to the Allies, which was our country's greatest war obligation. No one can doubt that it has succeeded. Had our people consumed wheat as they were accustomed to in normal times there would have been only from 20,000,000 to 25,000,000 bushels for export as the surplus of the 1917 crop. Instead, we have already sent nearly 150,000,000 bushels, and before the 1918 crop is available it is hoped that this figure will stretch to 170,000,000. This excess has been saved by the people of the country, as a result of the food conservation campaign, and it has been the absolute salvation of the Allies.

Before the war the United States had almost ceased to be a food-exporting nation, while the nations of Europe imported heavily. This country then supplied about 10 per cent of their food deficit. In 1917 it supplied about 50 per cent, although the food reserves of our nation had been drained by the demands of other war years and the crop was slightly deficient. From the 1918 crop, unless shipping facilities increase more rapidly than the public pronouncement of today would indicate, the United States may be called upon to supply more nearly 100 per cent of the Allied food deficit.

This may have to be done at a time when millions of our young men have been taken from the farms for the Army and war-industries. It is likely that we shall be this year at the peak of agricultural production and that next year will see a fall, because of lack of labor at home. In that case we shall be doubly in need of such management of our food resources as the Food Administration has proved it can give us. Measured in terms of nutritive or life-sustaining value, the 1917 crop was 7 per cent below normal. Had this decrease amounted to 15 or 20 per cent there could be no question that the Allied countries would have been lost. We escaped by that narrow margin. In 1919 we must escape again—and by a wider margin.

Exportation of all meat for the calendar year 1917 totaled 1,694,242,000 pounds. The per capita consumption in this country for 1917 was 159.8 pounds, as compared with 167.8 pounds for 1916. In short, the difference of 8 pounds per person, due largely to the food-conservation propaganda, aggregated almost one-half our total exportations to the Allied countries.

There is no doubt that, no matter how abundant the 1918 crop may be, we should build up a reserve, both here and on the other side of the Atlantic, against possible lean years to come. Recently we have been laying by a small meat reserve abroad. The effect upon the morale of the French and British people that comes from knowledge that the United States is building up even a small stock as a surplus is incalculably good. They accept this policy as assurance that we shall see to it that they have enough to sustain life indefinitely—and we shall not fail them.

In the 41 days after the United States entered the war the average rise in food prices was more than 20 per cent. This was between April 6 and May 17, 1917. Upon this last date Mr. Hoover was appointed Food Administrator, although without powers of law, and was instructed by the President to obtain such relief as was possible through voluntary co-operation of the people. In August the Food Control Act was passed and staple commodities came under regulation.

The rise in prices indicates what speculators and profiteers would have done had they not been checked. The date of Mr. Hoover's appointment marks the highest price in general foodstuffs; and although greatly lowered prices cannot generally be promised in time of war, regulation has proved that speculation can be checked.

DOING WITHOUT WHEAT

Bread and milk make a meal; so will mush and milk.

Bread and gravy go together; potatoes and gravy are just as nourishing.

Toast and fruit are fine for breakfast; but any other cereal with fruit will stay the stomach as effectively.

Griddle cakes, muffins, all sort of quick breads, can be filling and appetizing without any wheat.

There is one test. Wherever bread is used for convenience, that is the place to leave it out.

Patriotic School Reunion

There was a large crowd at the First Patriotic School Reunion held on the school grounds, Friday August 9.

People began to arrive early in the forenoon and at the noon hour there were many groups scattered about, partaking of the contents of their well filled baskets. Some on account of home duties could not come until afternoon.

By 2 o'clock the crowd had increased and after a good old social time with the old friends an excellent program consisting of recitations, songs, drills, readings and speeches was rendered. Patriotic speeches by R. W. Rothfuss and Hon. Harry Larwill and singing by Roscoe Swift, all of Adrian, were special features, but the home talent came in for its share of applause also.

After the program came election of officers, Mrs. Wm Allen being chosen president and Clarence Hall secretary and treasurer.

The auctioning off of a cake, a couple of puppies and the old post-office building owned by George Harriott, the selling of ice cream and sandwiches and the taking of a collection helped to swell the Red Cross fund to the amount of nearly $90.

YANKEES WIN VILLAGE NEAR FOE'S BORDER

Americans Capture Frapelle and Wipe Out German Salient.

HAIG WINS ON 4-MILE FRONT

British Advance Mile in Flanders and Take Village of Outtersteene and 400 Prisoners—French Drive Forward Mile and Seize 1,000 Captives.

With the American Army in Lorraine, Aug. 19.—The Americans captured the village of Frapelle and eradicated a considerable German salient in the allied lines.

Prisoners were taken by the Americans and the Germans evidently suffered heavy casualties in killed and wounded.

This sector has been regarded as a quiet one, and the action began merely as a raid into the enemy's positions. The raid was preceded by a straight bombardment for a few minutes, followed by a box barrage that penned the Germans off from escape.

Yanks Hold Foe's Trenches.

When the Americans went over the top to attack at 4:30 o'clock they succeeded in sweeping all enemy resistance before them and the raid became an organized attack. The Germans replied heavily to the American artillery fire and they also shelled the entire neighborhood throughout the day.

The enemy fire, which included a barrage, was ineffective. The Americans have occupied the former German trenches and consolidated against counter-attacks.

Gain More Ground.

The Americans gained more ground at Frapelle, despite a total of 2,500 shells dropped by the enemy on the village and a raid by 45 Germans, which was repulsed by the American artillery and automatic rifle fire.

In the Woevre an American patrol had a lively engagement. One American, wounded in nine places, heroically carried a wounded comrade to safety.

Shelling on the Vesle.

With the American Army on the Vesle Front, Aug. 19.—The Americans started Sunday by putting over a large number of shells north of the Vesle, the German heavy guns replying until after daylight. During the day the French and Americans averaged two shells to the enemy's one.

[Frapelle is about three miles from the German border, five miles east of St. Die and 34 miles southeast of Luneville. The Americans evidently pushed the Germans back nearly a half mile on a front nearly a mile long, as the salient extended from Frapelle to Lesseux.]

British Win on Four-Mile Line.

London, Aug. 19.—British troops advanced on a four-mile front to a depth of nearly one mile between Vieux Berquin and Baileul, on the Flanders front, capturing the village of Outtersteene and several farms.

Four hundred prisoners were taken. Progress was also made by the British southwest of Merville, in Flanders.

Gain in Picardy.

On the Picardy front during the day British forces advanced between Chilly and Fransart, while during the night they made slight improvements of their line south of Bucquoy, between Albert and Arras, in the sector where the Germans have been withdrawing their lines recently. A hostile raiding party was driven off in this neighborhood.

French Repulse Attack.

Quite spirited artillery activity on the Avre front and between the Oise and the Aisne rivers is reported in the French official statement. The statement says that two surprise attacks by the Germans in Champagne were repulsed.

Foe Admits Yank Victory.

The German war office statement admits that "the enemy gained a footing in our front lines as Autreches, in the Soissons sector," and adds:

"In the Vosges we fell back at Frapelle."

This village was captured by American troops.

French Strike New Blow.

Paris, Aug. 19.—The French struck suddenly in a new sector on Saturday, driving into the German lines midway between the Picardy and Soissons-Reims fronts, the war office announced.

Enemy positions were carried on a front of nearly two miles to a depth of more than a mile in the region of Autreches, nine miles west and north of Soissons.

Continued progress on both sides of the Avre was reported. Capture of Camp de Cesar, a mile and a half northwest of Roye, was confirmed.

French Take 1,000 Prisoners.

Canny-sur-Matz, two miles northwest of Lassigny, also was captured while French troops advanced to the outskirts of Beuvraignes, three miles southwest of Roye.

The French have taken 1,000 prisoners north and south of the Avre in the last 24 hours.

British troops made further advances near Chaulnes between that town and the Somme. They repulsed an attack near Scherpenberg and a raid at Locre.

ANOTHER ACCIDENT ON THE BLOOD CORNER

Car Turns Turtle—Pins Two Ladies from Jackson Underneath

Two Jackson ladies, who were motoring from Jackson to Toledo, came to grief when they reached the corner down by the Blood place, Monday forenoon about 11:30. They were traveling, as one of the ladies stated, between 20 and 25 miles per hour and, while trying to make the bend in the road, missed connections and ran into the ditch. The car, an Overland, turned turtle and pinned the occupants underneath. One of the ladies succeeded in freeing herself and aided her friend to pull free of the wreckage

Except for a slight cut on the head of one of them and various scratches on both, their injuries were slight. The car was badly demolished. The top was broken so badly that it couldn't be raised. The front wheel and spindle were smashed, frame of body broken, front lamp and windshield smashed, stearing wheel twisted and in fact, the whole front of the car was badly demolished.

Word was sent to the Big Chief Garage and a crew of men went out and towed the wreck to the garage where repairs are being made.

The two ladies, whose names we were unable to secure, left on the afternoon train for Toledo where they expect to purchase the necessary parts to put the car in commission again. This seems to be a fatal corner as several wrecks have occurred at this place this year.

HUN PRINCE OUSTED

Rupprecht Removed for Defeat on Somme Front.

Amsterdam Dispatches Announce General's Arrival at Munich—Enjoying "A Brief Vacation."

London, Aug. 19.—Amsterdam dispatches announce the arrival in Munich from the front of Crown Prince Rupprecht of Bavaria. The prince, the announcement states, is enjoying "a brief vacation."

In a recent announcement from Paris it was stated that Gen. Hans Von Boehn, the German "retreat specialist," had been appointed to supreme German command on the Somme front.

The German withdrawal north of Albert was looked upon in Paris as the first move by General Von Boehn in the application of his retreat tactics.

The "vacation" of Crown Prince Rupprecht is regarded here as merely a polite term for his removal from command.

URGE ADVANCE ON IRKUTSK

Commander of Czecho-Slovak Forces in Siberia Makes Suggestion to Allies.

Vladivostok, Aug. 19.—General Diedrichs, commander of the Czecho-Slovak forces in Siberia, has presented a memorandum to the allied representatives here setting forth the urgent need of speedy assistance on a large scale and that an advance on Irkutsk should be ordered. He points out that if the allied forces do not reach Irkutsk within six weeks the delay will be tantamount to the loss of all western Siberia by the Czecho-Slovaks. General Diedrichs says that this would leave Russia entirely at the mercy of the Germans.

SENATOR MAY NOT RECOVER

Reports as to the Condition of United States Senator Ollie James of Kentucky Are Conflicting.

Baltimore, Md., Aug. 19.—Only conflicting reports could be had as to the condition of United States Senator Ollie James of Kentucky, who for more than two months has been a patient at Johns Hopkins hospital. Physicians insist that Senator James' condition is "unchanged" and that his situation is not serious. On the other hand, according to some who have seen the Kentucky statesman within the past few days, Senator James' condition is very grave.

FIGHT AGAINST HEAVY ODDS

New York Airman Killed When Thirty German 'Planes Attack Three American Machines.

Paris, Aug. 19.—Lieut. Walter B. Miller of New York city, a former member of the Lafayette escadrille, who was transferred to the American service, was killed in an aerial combat August 3. His patrol, consisting of three machines, was attacked by a German squadron of 30 airplanes. He fell inside the American lines. The other members of the patrol escaped after a fierce struggle.

"Friendliest" Man Is Dead.

St. Louis, Aug. 19.—Rev. Dr. W. J. Williamson, nationally known as the "friendliest man in St. Louis," and former pastor of the Third Baptist church, one of the city's most fashionable parishes, died suddenly Sunday of hemorrhage of the brain.

Tank Car Explosion Kills Two.

Beaumont, Tex., Aug. 19.—As a result of an explosion of a car of naphtha on the Gulf, Colorado & Santa Fe railroad at Harrington two men are dead and three seriously injured.

WEDNESDAY ENTERTAINMENTS WDENESDAY ENTERTAINMENTS

Committee Visited Tecumseh Recently to Investigate the Tecumseh Plan

The Howell business men have started a series of weekly free entertainments similar to those given here in Tecumseh. In fact a committee of business men from Howell recently visited Tecumseh and watched our plan in action. They also called on the merchants and Mr. W. L. Jones and got a line on the fine working points of the plan.

The result was that on returning to Howell, they took the matter up with the other business men and they decided to put on a series of free entertainments similar to the Tecumseh plan. The entertainments are given each Wednesday, the same as we are doing here.

Howell, July 94.—The Reo Motor Co band and the Reo male quartette of Lansing will be the opening attractions in the series of free open air entertainments given by the Howell Amusement association at this place. The concert will be given on the streets here Wednesday evening beginning at 7:30. All business places will be kept open during the entire evening and a record breaking crowd is expected.

NEW MANAGER TAKES CHARGE

Albert B. Boyce General Manager of the Columbus Dry Goods Co.

Albert B. Boyce, formally manager of the Webster Anderson Company store of this place, has assumed his duties as General Manager of the Columbus Dry Goods Company at Columbus, Ohio. In last Wednesday's issue of the Columbus Evening Dispatch appears a two page advertisement announcing a big reorganization sale and a further announcement that Mr. Boyce has assumed the management of the big store.

The Ohio State Journal, under date of August 3d., has the following to say:

New Manager Takes Charge

Albert B. Boyce of Detroit has taken a financial interest in the Colubus Dry Goods Company. He has been elected a director, vice president and general manager. Mr. Boyce, who has had a life-long and very successful experience in the dry goods and ready-to-wear business, has arranged to be relieved of his outside interests, so that he may give his entire time and attention to the affairs of the dry goods company. He has a progressive policy outlined for the future, a prominent feature of which is to make the ready-to-wear departments of this store rank with the very best to be found in any store in the state. Mr. Boyce, during his many years' residence at Detroit, was connected with the Newcomb-Endicott Company and Edson Moore & Co., the last eight years being given up entirely to the management of the ready-to-wear departments of the latter concern. He severed his connections to go to New York to become president and sales manager of the American Girl Coat Company, which developed into one of the progressive manufacturing concerns of New York.

A correspondent of The Dry Goods Economist said of Mr. Boyce: "His experience in the wholesale, retail and manufacturing business, coupled with his unusual executive ability, insures to him a very successful career as manager of the Columbus Dry Goods Company.

RED CROSS AT WAMPLERS LAKE

Mr. Nisle donated the services of the Belbridge Orchestra from Jackson. Mr. Wm. Kramer sang the "Big Red Dawn", Miss Linda North gave the Flag song, both of which were enthusastically encored. Mr. Kramer had charge of the program, and Miss Elizabeth Farrel was advertising manager.

Mrs. Jenny C. Law Hardy was the speaker and made the appeal for the Red Cross.

A. J. Water the Captain of the Manchester Home Guard was the very efficient chairman. At the close of the speech he ordered the first Red Cross nurse to go East and collect, and sent a guard marching behind her to protect her collection, the second was sent to the West in like manner, the third to the south, the fourth to the west and others areund the hotel grounds.

The two remaining guards were told to go and capture the Kaiser, who was said to be lurking in the vicinity. The guards were on their job, for before the money was counted they had him, helmet and all.

He was brought before Captain Water who charged him with all his crimes, to which he pleaded guilty. He was summarily shot by six guards, and his body was thrown into the water, his clothes having been previously salvaged. Mr. Wm. Holmes impersonated the Kaiser.

The audience was generous, and the collection netted $110.20 which went to the Manchester Red Cross.

AT THE BRADLEY

"The Auction Block"

Patrons of the Bradley will have an exceptional treat in the way of a photoplay entertainment when Rex Beach's greatest picture, "The Auction Block" will be presented for their approval on next Friday evening, August 23.

"The Auction Block" is the life story of a million American girls, not only of the cities but the smaller towns as well. Rex Beach is a writer of red blooded stories and handles them in an open and fearless way. He personally produced "The Auction Block" and produced it in the same way that he writes. "The Auction Block" is the authors most tremendous offering produced in a way that only Rex Beach could be capable of producing. It is thrilling, sensational and interesting.

If you have read the book you couldn't resist seeing the photo play but if you haven't read the story see the pictures anyway, if you don't you are missing something well worth while.

Miss Rubye deRemer, a most plausible beauty from Denver, plays the leading role of Lorelei Knight in a most charming manner.

"In Old Kentucky"

The greatest racing melodrama ever written, "In Old Kentucky" is booked for a one nights appearance at the Bradley Opera House on Wednesday, August 28th. Three thoroughbred Kentucky race horses are carried by the company and one of the big sensations of the play is the most thrilling horse race ever staged "In Old Kentucky" is a thrilling, peturespue and romantic story of life in the 'blue grass' state and has been playing on the American stage for the past 23 years to record breaking business everywhere. This year the production is being sent out by Rowland, Clifford and Gatts, one of the biggest Chicago producers of high class city attractions, who have given the piece an entirely new scenic production and one of the most expensive casts the play has ever had.

"In Old Kentucky" is a fitting production for the management of the Bradley to offer on one of our big Wednesday nights and all who go to Tecumseh on Wednesday August 28 should go with the intention of seeing this wonderful play, if you can find room in the theatre to 'get in' The best way to do is order your seats well in advance, there is no extra charge for reserving seats at Hay's bakery ('phone 99) where the seats go on sale commencing Tuesday morning, August 27th, at 8:00 a. m.

The company travels in their own special cars, two pullman cars being required to transport the company, horses and big scenic production.

BIRTHDAY SURPRISE

Mrs. Rose Burrow had a birthday Monday and her friends planned a pleasant surprise for her, the party consisting of Mrs. Florence Coller, Bernice Blythe and the girls from the Rosecrans store, Mrs. Margaret Carr, Misses Edyth Gray and Anna Schreder. They went to Military Square for the evening. A bountiful picnic supper was served and a pleasant hour was spent after which they adjourned to the New Royal for the picture show. Mrs. Burrow was the recipient of many beautiful presents.

TWO INTERESTING LETTERS FROM THE FRONT

George Hawkes has just received a letter from Charlie Hanna which he allows us to print, also one from his son Capt. Milburn Hawkes, both of which are quite interesting:

Somewhere in France, July 26, 1918.

Dear Friend George:

Just received your letter and was sure glad to hear from you. Your letter was lost in some way for I should have received it three weeks ago. We generally get our mail about 25 or 30 days after you mail them, but from now on we will get them sooner for we have our own American mail trains now. Before, if there was fighting going on the mail was stopped until the fight was over.

Well, George, I am feeling fine and dandy and hope you and the rest of the boys are the same.

I am still working at the same old job and getting along fine. We find it pretty easy when the fighting is dull, but when the battles are going on, they keep us busy night and day.

I suppose you have read about the way we smashed them the last ten days. They fully know now the Yanks have come for business and, believe me, they realize they are not bucking the English and French. In these battles the Yanks pulled off some of the most daring stunts ever seen before in the war.

Of course a great number of the boys lost their lives, but that has to be looked for in a war like this. I was in one of the base hospitals a couple of weeks ago and it was an awful sight to see our own boys with arms and legs off, also gassed and cut to pieces with schrapnel.

If we can only get one more good wallup at them, I think it will soon be over.

You should see the German prisoners look when trainload after trainload of American soldiers go by. They don't know what to think. They suppose our boys can't get across on account of the subs. But you notice they get here!

Well, George, I haven't been able to talk to Milburn yet, but I have seen him a couple of times. He sure is in fine condition and one swell looking, fine man. You don't have to worry, He will get through all right

I think, if nothing happens, we will be home by Xmas. The motto seems to be "Heaven, Hell or Hoboken by Xmas." Believe me, the boys are sure in good mood. You can hear them singing coming and going. They all seem to be discouraged when they first come over, but they soon realize they have to be here to the end and they soon get over that. But it is sure some different over here than the way they had it in camps in the states. I am used to it now and don't mind it at all, only I sure will be glad when I can get back with you boys again.

I have seen only a few of the boys I knew, but hear the ...... Div. are on their way so I expect to see a lot of them soon for most of them will go by here.

I will have to close for this time as I am due back to work in ten minutes. Wishing you all the best of health and good luck, I remain as ever

Your friend.

The same old Nifty.

A. E. F., July 18, '18

Dear Dad:

Just a few lines to let you know I am well as usual. We are out of the trenches for a rest (?) Don't have as much time to write as we did in the trenches. Expect that you won't hear from me very soon again. Can't say more.

One family where I was billetted has a son in the German army but they treated me just grand. When I returned to the town this time I did not get the same billett with them but met one of the girls on the street and she enquired where I was. The next day she brought me a nice plate of fruit and invited me to come over as her father and mother wished to see me. Of course I called one evening and they sure were glad to see me. They They just got a letter from the boy—get one a month. They are lovely people, kind, and I believe they are Pro-Ally.

I nearly forgot to send you some of the money such as they use here. They have lots of paper money, the smallest of which is 50 centimes or one-half franc. A franc is worth about 20c. Each locality has their own money so if we move from this place very far we will have to change it all except the large money which is Bk. of France and is good anywhere. They also have 1 Fr silver and ½ Fr silver, some lead and copper coins as 10 centimes, 15 C. and 25 C. Some of it has holes in it. A few francs in change weighs about a pound.

Can't think of anything more to write about. Send me any magazines after you have read them as the boys are short on reading matter. Also enclose a few tooth picks in each of your letters. They won't let you send any packages but you can send toothpicks, a few in a letter.

Lots of love for you and all the others.

Sonny.

SERGEANT G. F. MAITLAND DELIVERS LECTURE IN TECUMSEH

Sergeant G. F. Maitland gave a most interesting lecture at the Presbyterian church, Friday evening, on "My Life in the Trenches." Sergeant Maitland is a pleasant speaker and is possessed with a fine bass voice. He sang several selections to open his progrom and again at the close. The Sergeant is a Canadian and has seen service in France and told a very interesting story of his experiences, many of which were new to a Tecumseh audience. He gave as his opinion that the war would be won by the last of the year but urged the home folks to do everything in their power to assist the Government in their war activities. A very small house turned out to hear the speaker.

How YOU Can Meet the Coal Situation

WE SELL JEWEL STOVES AND RANGES THE "QUALITY" LINE

From the Detroit Free Press, Friday August 16th. "Washington, August 15th Shortage of coal essential to steel production, including the smokeless variety essential to the Navy has reached such alarming proportions that the government may have to curtail the less essential industries more drastically than was first contemplated.'

The Free Press for Sunday, August 17th, says the trip of the Detroit representatives to Washington to get hard coal was in vain; soft coal will have to be used.

Do you fully realize how serious the coal situation is getting to be? Do you know why you cannot get Pocahontas coal? Our new ship-building program will give the United States the largest merchant marine in the world. Pocahontas is the variety of coal used on these ships now, and it will be used in steadily increasing quantities. We cannot expect to get Pocahontas for domestic use, either this winter or in the future.

HOW WILL THIS AFFECT YOU AND ME?

You will be asked at first to use soft coal, later the grade will be much "softer", in other words more dirty. You can find fault with the dust and dirt, clean house and buy vacuum cleaners, new carpets, curtains, etc., but the dust will be with you always. You cannot begin to get enough hard coal or coke, because the demand is so much larger than the production.

WHAT SHALL WE DO to avoid all this dirt and dust, yet heat our homes successfully with a reasonably priced fuel?

The Best answer is "PUT IN A FURNACE." Then the question comes up, What kind?

JEWEL PIPELESS FURNACE

If your house is compact, not rambling all over the lot, you can heat it, heat every room in fact, successfully, without tearing out any partitions or cutting more than one opening, if you put in a JEWEL PIPELESS FURNACE. You can have one of these furnaces installed in ONE DAY, and your house will be warm and free from coal dust for years to come. Do not confuse this furnace with the ordinary kind. It is heavier, lasts longer, and carries the guarantee of the Detroit Stove Works.

If your house is suited to one register furnace, then install a Jewel Pipe Furnace.

If you really think you can get along with a good heating stove. Investigate the Jewel Smoke Consuming HOT BLAST HEATER: you will get more heat and less waste with this stove than with any other on the market today.

Even the soft coal situation grows worse daily; if you have not purchased yours, you are the loser: shortly you will be unable to get any of the better grades. Now is the time to make up your mind and get protected on your coal and your heating.

One thing more, the government states there are tons of fuel wasted because of poor stoves and heating plants. Does this apply to yours? If so, why delay; get busy this week, as this is the best time before the fall rush begins.

EARL C. MICHENER, of Adrian

Candidate for Nomination for Representative in Congress. Second District

Has lived in Lenawee County thirty-one years. Forty-one years of age. Lawyer by occupation. Served eight years as Assistant and Prosecuting Attorney.—four wet years as Assistant and four dry years as Prosecutor in the County.

He is not a candidate of any faction, organization or machine. If nominated and elected he will at all times energetically represent the masses of the people.

He stands for a new deal. Believes that a Congressman should be elected by the people,—that he should not buy his votes with money, or secure his election by pre-election promises. Neither does he believe that one or two men in each County should have the right to dictate which candidate will receive the votes in that County for office. He stands for clean politics and a square deal. He has never been a candidate for Congress and has no enemies to punish and no political friends to reward.

He is for AMERICA FIRST, LAST, AND ALL THE TIME.

If you want such a man go to the Primary on August 27th and vote for him.

MICHIGAN STATE FAIR
DETROIT
SIXTY-NINTH ANNUAL FAIR
AUGUST 30-SEPTEMBER 8 1918

Huge War Exhibit

BY U. S. GOVERNMENT

The Michigan State Fair has been selected by the Federal authorities as a gigantic war agency. Colossal displays will be made by the departments of War, Navy, Interior, Agriculture and Commerce and the Food Administration, covering 15,000 square feet of space. A special car of mine rescue machinery will give demonstrations of mine rescue work during the entire 10 days. These exhibits are assembled and manned by Government Employes.

Every Department of the Fair will co-operate with the Federal Propaganda working for the elimination of the Hun.

Patriotism will predominate. Every man, woman and child will be shown how they may do their part in assisting the Boys at the front. This exhibit is patriotic, educational and entertaining.

All Wolverines should deem it their duty to attend this great rally to the support of the war.

"OVER THERE"

Charles Richman and Anna Q. Nilsson give splendid performance in the new Select production, "Over There," which is being shown at the New Royal theatre next Tuesday, August 27. This picture, which was made by the Charles Richman Pictures Corporation, is being distributed through Select exchanges and is rated as one of the most gripping patriotic plays of the year.

Monte Jackson, good looking, wealthy, and with an assured social position, was the love of Betty Adams, the lovely daughter of a retired army officer. Only one thing does he keep from her and that is his inherent fear of fighting and the sight of blood. Coming from a long line of soldierly forebears, his seeming yellow streak is unexplainable, and he gaurds his secret carefully.

The declaration of war between the United States and Germany plunges Betty's set into a furor of excitement. The girls throw themselves into Red Cross work and the men enlist in different departments of the service. Tommy Hill, who is in love with Betty's kid sister Dolly gives a dinner. During the evening Tommy rises to his feet and announces his intention of entering the country's service. In the excitement of the moment he calls on his guests to do likewise. Every man in the room with the exception of Monte, responds to the appeal. Even Tommy's butler comes forward. Monte passes the matter off lightly and his delinquence is forgotten for the time.

Later, however, his course becomes a subject for discussion. Betty is cut to the heart on more than one occasion by bits of sarcasm unintended for her ears, and the matter is further aggravated when Walter Mason, one of Colonel Adams' aides, deeply in love with Betty, denounces Monte as a coward to his face. The encounter takes place in the clubhouse before a group of members and Monte's tame acceptance of the challenge damns him utterly.

That night his engagement to Betty is formally announced at a dinner in the Adams' home Walter Mason enters with a message for his commanding officer, which proves to be a summons to headquarters. Forced to leave earlier than he had expected, the older man makes a last appeal to Monte, urging him for Betty's sake to do his bit. Driven to the wall, Monte quite defiantly refuses to enlist. Betty, her faith finally shattered, returns his ring before them all and announces her engagement to Mason.

The next day Monte's partners request him to withdraw from the firm; he is cut by his friends and blacklisted at his club. Only his mother is left. She alone knows Monte's secret and its cause. Shortly before his birth she had witnessed a murder, and so powerfully had it shocked her that she had marked her unborn child with an unreasoning dread of violence. How Monte blindly works out his regeneration, wins back his friends and his love, furnishes a strong and impelling theme. Both Mr. Richman and Miss Nilsson rise to the demands of their roles and the picture is a gripping presentment of young America's loyalty and patriotism.

RED CROSS NEWS

Workers are urgently needed for work on chemises next Wednesday and Thursday at Headquarters. This work must be finished and shipped by the end of the week, so please come if you possibly can, even for an hour or two. This is for the noncombatants, many of whom have not a garment to wear, for the non-combatants of France and Belgium, who have sacrificed their all. Anyone who can sew, can do this work, do not fail us.

Miss Phelps reports the following articles which were sent to Adrian Wednesday morning with Mr. Wesley Keyser's car:

50 oakum pads, 12x12
300 wipes, 4x4
100 pairs of white knitted socks
13 pairs gray knitted socks

A good deal of false gossip is going the rounds again. Please do not repeat anything against the Food Administration, the Red Cross. If you try and trace the rumor or gossip, you will find it vanish into thin air. You who repeat slanders against your own government, your own native land, you are doing the Kaiser's work just as truly as if you received pay for it.

Publicity Director.

TECUMSEH SCHOOLS WILL OPEN MONDAY, SEPT. 16

New Building Will Then Be Ready

At a meeting of the School Board held recently, it was decided to postpone the opening of school to Monday, Sept. 16th. This move is made in order to give the contractor ample time in which to have the new building completed and ready for occupancy. While it would have been possible to open the school Monday, Sept. 2, as in former years, yet there would have been some confusion as workmen would have to take charge of the unfinished work. Therefore after careful consideration the board thought this move advisable.

One of the two weeks will be made up during the holiday vacation, taking one week instead of two, and the other week will be made up in June, closing school one week later than usual.

ANOTHER MESSAGE FROM "OVER THERE"

The following letter has been received by Bradley Scudder from his son Jesse while in the hospital. His sister received a letter written the last of July saying that he was slowly improving and was around on crutches, but still at the hospital.

"The Fourth" In France

Dear Father:

I am spending this Fourth in the hospital. I wrote Gertrude as soon as I could after entering the hospital and presume she let you know. Hope to be out of bed in a few days, altho it will be some time before I can get around on my leg. I have a fracture of the ankle and some other shrapnel wounds in the leg. Have had first class surgical treatment and nursing and am getting along nicely. Was injured on the 14th. Seems rather quiet back here after spending a few days at the front. Believe there is quite a bit of celebrating in France today, but I don't hear any of it from my cot.

We just had our dinner, had pie for dessert, which was a real treat. Today is dark and gloomy, not a very bright Fourth. Wish I were home to spend the day with you at Wamplers.

The latest I heard from you was your card from Jacksonville. I wrote Hazel on Decoration day and didn't have a chance to write after that until I entered the hospital.

Hope everyone at home are will. I will write again as soon as I get up. Am feeling pretty good now. Address my letters as given below. Love to all —Jess.

"IN OLD KENTUCKY"

The history of the American stage does not record a more enduring success than that achieved by "In Old Kentucky" which will be seen at the Bradley Opera House next Wednesday, August 28. Notwithstanding its marvelous career of many years, it goes on delighting thousands, as strong in popular esteem as in the first year of its existence. From Maine to California, from British Columbia to Mexico, from the British Isles, from France and Germany, and even from far-off Australia come resounding echoes of its enduring popualrity. In every city it annual visit is looked for with pleasurable anticipation. It is the American play of our time that will endure. It is the sweetest and prettiest story of American life ever written for the stage. It is as pure, clean and wholesome as the clear crystal spring water which trickles down the rugged sides of the Kentucky mountains, to give life and vigor to the beautiful blue-grass region below, where the stirring scenes of the play are laid.

The play does not depend for consideration upon its great pictorial scenes, nor upon its many ingenious scenic devices. The incidents and strong climaxes are led up to gradually and logically, and are a part of the story. Pure sentiment, valorous deeds, romance, humor, splendid clean-cut comedy are combined with keen dramatic instinct.

The characters are drawn with skill and are types which will be recognized everywhere. It is the faithful drawing of these characters of our own country and of our own time, and the faithful portrayal of a phase of American life hitherto neglected by the dramatist that have made "In Old Kentucky" the greatest popular success of this generation, and that is why it will go on forever delighting thousands.

The seat sale for "In Old Kentucky" opens at Hay's next Tuesday morning at 8 o'clock and it is advisable to get your seats well in advance—there will be a big crowd in town Wednesday and it is safe to say a big majority of this crowd will see this wonderful play, so take our advice and guarantee yourself a good seat. It won't cost you a cent extra and you will be able to enjoy the show.

Leon Rosacrans and family, who have been visiting her brother Bert Meyer and wife in Chicago for the past week, returned home Wednesday.

OBITUARY

Raymond Richard Jones was born in Franklin Michigan, March 3rd, 1909.

In April the same year the family moved to Tecumseh where they have resided since. The deceased is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Jones, and an only brother, Mr. Chas. Jones and wife of this place

Raymond up to the time of his departure had been a faithful and regular attendant of the Friends church both Sunday school and Junior Endeavor of which he was a member.

His death August 15, 1918 after an illness of two days came as a very severe shock to the family and a large circle of friends and playmates.

But, "The Lord gave and the Lord
taketh away,
Blessed be the name of the Lord."

To Our Son

Farewell Darling we shall miss you,
From our earthly home below,
But, we know that we shall meet you
In that Home beyond the blue.
By Mamma.

As these few last thoughts appear to papa,
They are moistened thru with
scalding tears,
Of being left on this side the river,
For a few brief lonely years.
For just a few more heart throbs,
For just a few more cares,
For just a few more heartaches,
And just a few more tears.
For our dear little Raymond,
We feel our loss today.
Since the Angels have around thee hovered
And have borne thy spirit away.

Our tears can never wake thee,
Dear Raymond dead and gone,
But still we know we will meet thee,
In that fairer brighter Home.
For Jesus is coming shortly
To open wide the dark tomb door
Then our spirits will be united
Forever and forever more.
For we are trusting in Jesus
To the end to lead us right
Then we'll join thee forever,
In that Celestial home so bright.
By Papa

BARGAIN DAY

Despite the heat, in spite of the fact that rain threatened, there was the usual large crowd in town Wednesday night. One is led to wonder where they all came from.

The entertainment was surely one of the best in years. Riffell's pets were certainly fine and were much enjoyed by old and young. When bears, cats, dogs and mice harmonize as lovingly as did those pets, it shows what careful training can do. The comedy acrobats, Wheeler and Walsey, were the finest ever shown in Tecumseh, their wonderful feats calling out the applause of the audience. Miss DeWeese, with her violin and banjo, was a marvel and captivated the music loving audience her trick dog was a great attraction.

Every act was of the very best and was most highly appreciated by everyone.

In another column will be found the added attractions for next Wednesday. The "In Old Kentucky" colord band which no one will want to miss will play both afternoon and evening. You canno afford to miss this treat.

SWIFT & COMPANY U.S.A.

Packers' Profits Are Regulated

The public should understand that the profits of the packers have been limited by the Food Administration since November 1, 1917. For this purpose, the business of Swift & Company is now divided into three classes:

Class 1 includes such products as beef, pork, mutton, oleomargarine and others that are essentially animal products. Profits are limited to 9 per cent of the capital employed in these departments, (including surplus and borrowed money), or not to exceed two and a half cents on each dollar of sales.

Class 2 includes the soap, glue, fertilizer, and other departments more or less associated with the meat business. Many of these departments are in competition with outside businesses whose profits are not limited. Profits in this class are restricted to 15 per cent of the capital employed.

Class 3 includes outside investments, such as those in stock yards, and the operation of packing plants in foreign countries. Profits in this class are not limited.

Total profits for all departments together in 1918 will probably be between three and four per cent on an increased volume of sales.

The restrictions absolutely guarantee a reasonable relation between live stock prices and wholesale meat prices, because the packer's profit cannot possibly average more than a fraction of a cent per pound of product.

Since the profits on meat (Class 1) are running only about 2 cents on each dollar of sales, we have to depend on the profits from soap, glue, fertilizer (Class 2, also limited) and other departments, (Class 3) to obtain reasonable earnings on capital.

Swift & Company is conducting its business so as to come within these limitations.

EARL C. MICHENER, of Adrian

Candidate for Nomination for Representative in Congress. Second District

Has lived in Lenawee County thirty-one years. Forty-one years of age. Lawyer by occupation. Served eight years as Assistant and Prosecuting Attorney.—four wet years as Assistant and four dry years as Prosecutor in the County.

He is not a candidate of any faction, organization or machine. If nominated and elected he will at all times energetically represent the masses of the people.

He stands for a new deal. Believes that a Congressman should be elected by the people,—that he should not buy his votes with money, or secure his election by preelection promises. Neither does he believe that one or two men in each County should have the right to dictate which candidate will receive the votes in that County for office. He stands for clean politics and a square deal. He has never been a candidate for Congress and has no enemies to punish and no political friends to reward.

He is for AMERICA FIRST, LAST, AND ALL THE TIME.

If you want such a man go to the Primary on August 27th and vote for him.

We take this opportunity of announcing to our patrons and many friends that on Monday, Sept. 2nd, The Tecumseh Herald will be taken over by Mr. Emil H. Ahrens, formerly of the Clinton Local, who will become owner and proprietor. cumseh people or, in fact, to Lenawee county at large. He was born in Adrian. Some 29 or 30 years ago he first came to Tecumseh to learn the printer's trade and was employed in the office of C. F. Field who then conducted The Tecumseh News. Mr. Ahrens stayed here one year and while here played in the old Tecumseh band. Since that time he has followed the newspaper business and has the reputation of being one of the best weekly newspaper men in Michigan. For everal years he successfully published the Morenci Observer, giving that Lenawee town an up-to-date paper. A little over two years ago he came back to Tecumseh, purchasing and rebuilding a home in Brownville.

After a short stay in our midst he sold his property and went to Clinton where he purchased the Clinton Local. He made good in Clinton and gave to our neighbors to the north a fine weekly paper. About two months ago he leased his paper to Pinkstone Brothers who are now conducting it.

The Tecumseh Herald is the oldest newspaper in Lenawee county having made its first appearance in 1849 and has been continuously published since that date. A high standard has always been maintained and we feel assured that the new management will cotinue this policy.

We bespeak for Mr. Ahrens a successful future in Tecumseh and earnestly urge our friends and patron to give him their hearty co-operation and support.

ENTERTAINED AT SUPPER

In Honor of Her Guests Esther and Clement McClelland

Miss Mary Barrett entertained Thursday evening in honor of Esther and Clement McClelland of Marshall. A fine supper was served at 9 o'clock. A unique feature of choosing partners was used. Slips of paper were passed to the guests on which were written a verse of popular music, each being made in duplicate. At a given signal each began singing their song, the two singing the same were partners. After supper games were enjoyed.

Beside the hostess and her guests those present were Bernice Austin, Dorothy Clark, Gayle Bowen, Donna Bowen, Eleanor Caldwell, Marian Williamson, Charlotte Arnold, Helen Deming, Alice Hall, Geraldine Westcott, Margaret Turner and Beatrice Barrett, Dale Bowen, Thomas Meade, Erwin Anderson, Donald Brown and Sam Sisson.

JACKSON COUNTY FAIR BETTER AND BIGGER THAN EVVER

The Jackson County Fair has the distinction of being the best county fair in Michigan, because the management thinks that a fair has greater developing influence in things worth while than any other medium, and their policy has been to give to their patrons a full week of solid education, advertisement and please the big crowds daily.

Every one of the 15 big departments is jammed full of the best things it is possible to produce, and stands as a demonstration of successful production, giving to their patrons an education that months of search could not produce elsewhere. Therefore a few days spent at the Jackson County Fair is so valuable that none miss it. Hence the big crowds aidly.

Besides the best of education, there is provided clean amusement as "all work and no play" becomes tedious. This year's amusements will excell anything heretofore attempted. Beginning a 10 a. m. and continuing until the close of each day will find entertainment to educate, to amuse and to thrill, so that the policy to have something doing every minute will be carried out to the perfect satisfaction of the public, and there is no doubt but the 1918 Fair will exemplify their motto—Bigger, Better each Year.

LABOR AGAINST DIXON

Monroe Mich., Aug. 9, 1918

J. G. Henley,
"Square Deal,"
Jackson, Mich.

My Dear Sir:

I promised that I would investigate the Labor record of Thornton Dixon of this City, who is now seeking nomination from the Second District.

I have made a careful inquiry and cannot find that he has ever turned his hand over for organized lebor in any way, shape or form. He has alway been a Corporation Attorney and the only business that he has been closely indentified with in this vicinity is the Stone Quarry business.

As far as I have been able to learn from careful inquiry, he has never employed Union Labor in operating same, and never made any attempt to do so. Indeed the quarry was closed down several years ago and is still closed.

I was born and raised in the city of Monroe, and all my life I have tried to be active in supporting and advancing the interests of Organized Labor, and I have no hesitancy in saying that I am not supporting his candidacy for Congress, and neither are my co-workers in the Labor field in Monroe county Instead we are now supporting MARK R. BACON of Wyandotte, whose record we all know and who, we believe, we can trust at all times to look after our interests in Congress and here is hoping our Labor friends throughout the Second District of Michigan will do likewise.

With kindest personal regards to yourself, I am

Yours truly,
(Signed) Wm. M. Gessner,
Secretary Carpenter's Local 1464.

PATRIOTIC PICNIC AT SAND LAKE DRAWS BIG CROWD

The Good Time Lasted All Day Thursday

Speaking, Music, Sports, Big Auction and Ball Game Were Features

The big all day Patriotic Picnic put on by Tipton people at Sand lake Thursday was a big success and brought a large crowd to the shores of this popular lake. They came from all parts of the county with their lunch baskets well filled to provide for their wants for the day.

A fine program was given as follows:

Chairman of the Day—Leroy German
Music by Tipton band
Invocation—Rev. H. R. Brewer
Song—G. Roscoe Swift
Remarks—Rev. S. N.
Recitation—Mrs Mabel Dave
Address—Hon. Geo. S. Ladd of Massachusetts
Address—Hon. H. L. Larwill
Song—G. Roscoe Swift
Music by the band

All kinds of sports were indulged in, including a boat race for a good prize. A dance was given both afternoon and evening with Coller's Orchestra furnishing the music. A big auction was held during the afternoon at which a quantity of grain, implements, live stock, etc., was disposed of. A good horse was also raffled off.

A ball game was played late in the afternoon between Tipton and the Tecumseh clerks, which resulted in a victory for Tipton, the final score being 4 to 1. Batteries for Tipton, Treat and Warner; for Tecumseh, Drake and Mattis. Umpires, McClure and Root. The game was called at the end of the seventh inning on account of darkness.

A big basket dinner was served at noon. The program was given in the grove. All proceeds from the day was turned over to the Red Cross. We were unable to learn how much the proceeds were but a large sum was realized.

NOT A BURGLAR THIS TIME

People in the downtown section were somewhat disturbed late Wednesday afternoon when the new burglar alarm system, recently installed by the Tecumseh State Bank started ringing. Most people thought it was the fire gong and expected to see the fire team come bounding out but a few of the wiser ones knew that there was trouble at the bank or of course the gong would not have rung. One of these, Attorney George Rathbun, hastily deputized himself an officer of the law and came running across the street, armed with a dangerous looking gun over his shoulder and in bold relief upon his manly breast was an immense officer's star. George bolted into the bank and no doubt he got the burglars for nothing further was heard of them. It is not known whether Pres. Joseph Smith was peacefully sleeping on one of the buttons or that the system just got tired of being idle and wanted a little exercise. Either way it certainly produced the goods and aroused the natives.

BACON for CONGRESS

MARK R. BACON

To the Voters of the Second Congressional District;

Consulting my own interests I had no desire to become a candidate as personal matters demand my attention, but my friends throughout the district think I owe it to the People to give them a chance to rebuke the proceedings whereby the District was deprived of its duly elected Congressman — legally elected under our Michigan laws, as evidenced by the action of the canvassing boards, the circuit and supreme courts, and by the Certificate of Election.

I am an American citizen. My grandfather Bacon, and great grandfather Pickering, fought with Washington through the American Revolution. My two sons were among those who early offered their services in the present war —one now serving, the other after graduating at the Aviation School, from which he was sent to a Washington hospital for an operation, and then out west on account of tubercular trouble, where he is trying to regain his health and anxious for service.

We are engaged in an awful war, and WE MUST AND WILL WIN. I said practically the same thing over a year ago in Congress when I said on April 26, 1917 (see Cong'l. Record); "We have gone into this war and we have gone in to WIN, and WE WILL WIN."

I favor all adequate appropriations, carefully considered, and efficiently expended for the Army and Navy; also for the tender, fostering care for dependents of our heroes who have given and are giving, the last full measure of sacrifice to our country, or who may return to us maimed, or helpless from strife.

I believe the heaviest burdens of taxation should be carried by those best able to bear it.

The Tariff should be promptly adjusted to provide urgently needed Revenue and to safeguard our labor, and our home markets from exploitation after the war ends. I believe in efficiency in every department of our government. Efficiency implies and demands absolute honesty; and I would invoke the severest punishment of profiteers and all violators of law. Speculation in food, clothing, cotton, wool or munitions should, and can be prevented.

Sedition in any form should be firmly stamped out, but laws for that purpose must not be made a mask to aid scheming politicians to suppress loyal freedom of speech and of the Press.

I hold all citizens equal before the law and I demand equal protection for all.

I favor all plans to win the war but I condemn inefficiency, waste and extravagance in the expenditure of public funds.

While fighting to sustain democracy abroad, we should avoid unnecessary autocracy at home.

We must continue to help the Red Cross and all war charities, and buy War Savings Stamps and Liberty Bonds.

I stand for the working man, and said in Congress on April 26, 1917 (see Congressional Record), to wit: "I have been a laboring man myself." * * * "I am one of the many who believe they (labor) have a right to be reckoned with. * * * "I hope to be found battling for the rights of labor at all times when I know they are in the right." * * * "Our laborers are the peers of any in the world, whether in efficiency or in intelligence, and I will back their judgment with any class of people on earth, whether it be in legislative halls, on the farms, or in the factories, and I am ready to tip my hat to the laboring men of this country, wherever their vocations may lead—whether it be farm, or factory, railroad or foundry, or wherever it may be found."

Now that we are in the war the first and main thing is to win, and win decisively, and as quickly as possible, with a thorough and complete victory; then to work for a permanent and everlasting peace.

I want you to understand my position in congress at the Declaration of War. Being the grandson of a soldier of the American Revolution. I had instilled into my early education the patriotism of George Washington, and when it came to taking his advice, or that of one who had made no preparation for war, but on the contrary had told us that "we are too proud to fight." I took the advice of Washington—to avoid foreign entanglements.

When it came to accepting the opinion of General Grant, and the views of Roosevelt with 280,000 men waiting to volunteer, or of the man who had told us, "the war is 3,000 miles away," I favored the volunteer system.

At that same hour I would have voted our last dollar and our last man to defend our country against any foe or combination of enemies, and I am now for the vigorous prosecution of the war.

Many Republicans, including the Chairman of the national Republican Congressional Committee (Mr. Woods), and many Democrats, like the Speaker of the House, and Floor Leader of the House, took the same position, believing that the election having just been won on a Peace platform, using the plea that Wilson "kept us out of War," firmly and patriotically believed a majority of the people sanctioned that policy. Each and all are now doing their best to help win the war.

Believing that Congressmen should be willing to go where they were sending the boys, I voted for an amendment to make every Congressman, regardless of age, subject to the draft.

Business principles and close examination of all expenditures by Congressmen is of vital importance. Reckless waste will not help win the war.

It is far from essential to my comfort, convenience or happiness, to return to Washington, but am willing to serve you and work for the best interests of the people, and the nation, but I am not willing to go to Washington as a "Rubber Stamp."

Cut Off More Corn This Year!

Thirty per cent of the feeding value of your corn crop is in the stalks This fact is based on tests made by the best agricultural authorities. Yet thousands of acres of cornstalks are practically wasted every year by field feeding—a loss that amounts to an enormous sum.

Cut more corn this year. You will increase your net profits whether you cut the green corn for the silo, whether you shred and store the fodder. or whether you feed the whole stalk in the feed lot. You can cut more corn, at the right time if you use the

John Deere Corn Binder

The Binder with the Power Carrier and Quick Turn Tongue Truck.

You can cut corn more timely; you can cut it five to seven times as fast as by hand: you can help solve the present shortage of farm labor by cutting your corn with a John Deere Corn Binder. In addition to its labor saving features, its better, more lasting construction and its many operating advantages will have a particular appeal to you.

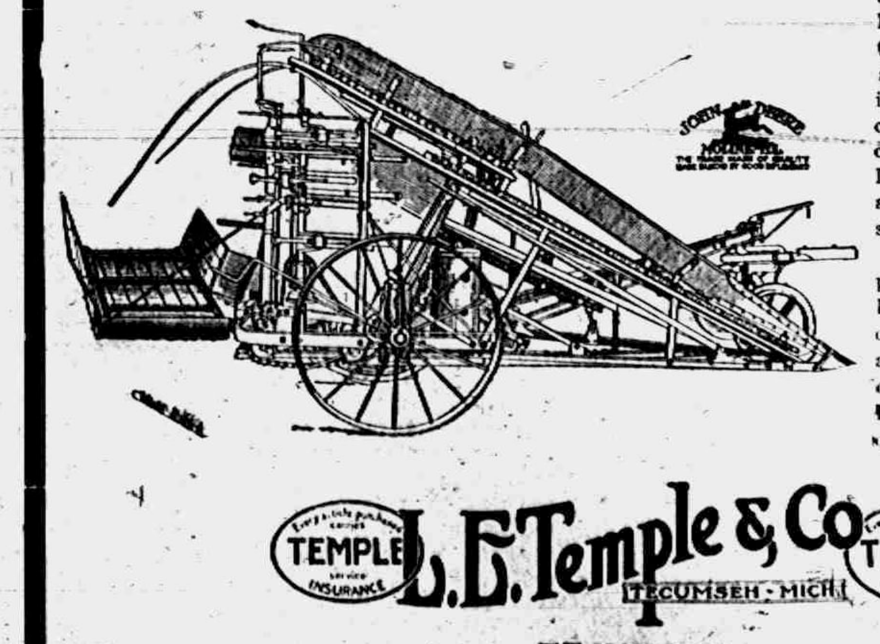
These Features Save You and Your Horses.

Power carrier relieves you of all the hard work—simply press the foot trip lever and the carrier, which is always in receiving position, dumps the bundles in the windows, free of the horses' path, parallel to the standing corn.

The Quick Turn Tongue Truck, another valuable feature relieves the horses of all neck-weight and makes turning at the ends easy as when the horses are hitched to a wagon. The truck with a flexibly mounted axle conforms to uneven ground perfectly, keeps the gatherers to their work, prevents sluing on side hills and does away with side draft.

In addition to the above features, you get a binder that is built right throughout. The big wheels with wide tires, give ample support to the machine. The big drive wheel with wide tires and high lugs, has plenty of driving power. The frame is strong and rigidly built. Main boxes are self-aligning—the working parts continue to run true. Seventeen roller and ballbearings used in all important parts of the machine, lighten the draft.

Flexible throat springs adjust themselves to the volume of corn—continuous and even elevation is assured.



Regular binder attachment has three packers instead of two, as commonly used, resulting in better bundles. Four discharge arms insure proper discharge of bundles onto carrier. Levers are readily accessible and easily operated from the seat.

Like other John Deere implements, the John Deere Corn Binder is built on the standard of quality that insures service and satisfaction. Place your order early with us for a John Deere Corn Binder. Be assured of delivery when you need it.

"CUBS" WIN PENNANT

Chicago Nationals to Play Red Sox for Championship.

First Game of the World's Series Expected to Open in Chicago on September 4.

WORLD'S SERIES.

Teams—Chicago Cubs and Boston Red Sox (probably).

Opening Date—Wednesday, September 4, at Chicago.

Schedule—At Chicago, September 4, 5 and 6; at Boston (probably), September 9, 10, 11 and 12.

Time of Games—2:30 p. m.

Cubs Eligible—Fred Mitchell, manager; Turner Barber, Paul Carter, Thomas A. Clark, Charles A. Deal, Phil B. Douglas, Max Flack, Claude R. Hendrix, Charles J. Hollocher, F. Otto Knabe, William Killefer, Jr., Leslie Mann, Fred C. Merkle, E. C. Martin, W. F. McCabe, Robert O'Farrell, Charles Pick, George H. Paskert, George A. Tyler, James L. Vaughn, William L. Wortman, James E. Walker and Rollie Zeider.

Chicago, Aug. 26.—Coincident with the clinching of the National league pennant by the Cubs Saturday came the official announcement from the national commission that the world's series will open September 4 in the city represented by the National league, which means that Chicago fans will see the start of the big show.

While the details for the series were arranged some days ago, official announcement was withheld as there was a possibility of a change being made in the starting day. President Johnson was of the opinion that the regular season should close on August 31 to comply strictly with the recent ruling of Secretary of War Baker. In that case, the big series could have been begun on September 2, Labor day.

To avoid traveling under present congested conditions in railway service, the schedule will differ materially from that of other years. The first three games of the series are to be played in Chicago and the remainder in the city of the American league champions. Chicago fans are sure of seeing three games, but only three. If the series goes to seven games, the rival team will have the advantage of four games at home.

While the American league championship is not decided, indications are that the Boston Red Sox will hold their lead and will be the team to appear against the Cubs. The Cleveland team still has a chance, but a slim one.

Ream of San Diego, Cal., flight surgeon of the British-American "flying circus" which started from Indianapolis to St. Louis, was killed when an airplane piloted by Lieut. Wesley Benner of Metuchin, N. J., fell 150 feet at Effingham, Ill., at 10 a. m. Lieutenant Benner suffered a compound fracture of a leg and internal injuries. His condition is serious. According to information received here Lieutenant Benner was approaching a landing in a cornfield when his engine apparently stalled and his plane did a nose dive to earth. It was reported a severe rain caused the flyers to attempt to land.

U. S. FLYERS IN RAID

Americans Drop 38 Missiles on Town of Conflans.

Ten Direct Hits Observed—Three Enemy Planes Shot Down—Nine Killed in Karlsruhe.

American Forces on the Lorraine Front, Aug. 26.—American bombing airplanes dropped 38 bombs on Conflans, a town on the Cerdun-Metz railroad. Ten direct hits were obtained.

Three aerial combats were reported in the Woevre region. Lieutenant Jones attacked and apparently destroyed an albatross biplane over Marre, northwest of Verdun.

Lieut. Hugh Bridgeman, while on a reconnaissance patrol, attacked two Fokkers, which disappeared, seemingly falling to the ground.

Another airman saw a German machine going downward in a steep sideslip after it had been fired upon by each pilot of the American patrol.

Amsterdam, Aug. 26.—A telegram from Karlsruhe to the Frankfort Zeitung says that ten British airmen bombed Karlsruhe. Most of the bombs fell in the open country, resulting in considerable damage to private dwellings in one place. Nine persons were killed and six injured. Five of the attacking airplanes, according to the telegram, were destroyed.

London, Aug. 26.—During the last week British airmen have carried out 21 raids on German towns and airdromes. In the same period there has not been one raid on London.

The frequent appearance of British raiding planes over German territory has made it necessary for the German authorities to issue orders that for ten miles behind their lines no ligths—not even pocket lamps—are to be allowed at night.

AUTO MEN TO FINISH CARS

Manufacturers Given Permission by War Board to Complete Machiens Now in Factories.

Washington, Aug. 26.—An agreement whereby manufacturers of passenger automobiles will produce for the second half of this year no more than 25 per cent of the number of cars produced by them in the entire year of 1917 was reached by Bernard M. Baruch, chairman of the war industries boaord, and representatives of the automobile industry, who have been in consultation here for several days on curtailment problems. To effect the limited production for the remainder of 1918, the war industries board will extend preference treatment to automobile manufacturers in the matter of obtaining the materials they require to "match up" the stocks now in hand, upon condition that the manufacturers subscribe to the pledges required by the priority division of the board.

"RIVER" OF WHISKY ON FIRE

Green River Distilling Plant Destroyed—Loss Estimated at $9,590,000.

Owensboro, Ky., Aug. 26.—Fire in the Green River Distilling company destroyed the entire plant and 43,000 barrels of whisky. The whisky alone was valued at $2,840,000, and the loss to the United States government in taxes is approximately $6,750,000.

The blaze started in a pile of trash alongside the bottling plant. The flames jumped to a warehouse containing 9,000 barrels of whisky and then to the still house. Two other warehouses containing 34,000 barrels of whisky then took fire. The fire was spectacular, the flames mounting hundreds of feet. Burning streams of whisky ran through the ditches of the open fields into the Ohio river, the whole surface of which seemed at times to be on fire.

THREE U. S. MARINES KILLED

Americans Slay Large Number of Bandits in Fight in Seibo Province of Santo Domingo.

Washington, Aug. 26.—Three American marines were killed and one wounded in a bloody fight with bandits in the Seibo province of Santo Domingo on August 13. A report reaching marine corps headquarters here says many of the bandits were killed or captured. The dead marines, who are buried at San Pedro Macoris, are: Corp. Bascome Breeden, Archville, Tenn.; Private Russell W. Jones, 2225 Seventh avenue, Altoona, Pa., and Private Joseph C. Haydel, New Orleans.

18 TO 45 DRAFT WINS IN HOUSE

Rep. London of New York and Gordon of Ohio Oppose Measure.

FINAL VOTE WAS 336 TO 2

Farmers Are to Be Placed in Deferred Classes if Senate Accepts Amendment—Fight to Call Youths Last Fails.

Washington, Aug. 26.—By a vote of 336 to 2 the house passed the administration man-power bill, making the draft age limits eighteen to forty-five years, substantially as drafted by the war deptartment.

The only votes against the bill were cast by Representative Meyer London of New York, Socialist, and Representative Gordon of Ohio, Democrat.

The Man-Power Bill.

The new man-power bill as passed by the house of representatives provides for extension of the army draft to men between the ages of eighteen and forty-five.

Amendments to the bill agreed to by the house provide that members of congress and state legislators are not amenable to the draft; that farmers are to be placed in deferred classes; that the provost marshal general may cause men to be re-examined after their cases have been decided by local boards, and that citizens of co-belligerent countries will be subject to the draft except where treaties would be violated.

An attempt to have men between the ages of eighteen and twenty called only after all in class 1 over thirty-one years had been called failed.

The senate failed to reach a vote, as had been expected. So many senators indicated a desire to discuss the bill that Senator Chamberlain of Oregon, chairman of the senate military affairs committee, foreseeing the impossibility of reaching a vote asked that it go over until Monday.

An informal understanding has been reached with the drys temporarily to sidetrack the unanimous consent agreement calling for consideration of the nation-wide wart-time prohibition measure Monday long enough to dispose of the man-power bill.

Kill Congress Draft Plan.

The house lost its nerve on conscripting its own members. The Gregg amendment, adopted Friday, making officers of the executive and legislative branches of the government subject to the draft, was defeated on a second vote, 143 to 89.

The house also voted down the amendment offered by Representative Madden of Illinois providing that no employee of the executive departments of the government should be granted exemption or deferred classification simply because of the nature.

This amendment, which caused such an uproar in the house when it was proposed, seemed likely to go into the bill at first, but after thinking it over the house decided to reject it, 140 to 128.

Reject Strike Amendment.

Representative Black of Texas forced a showdown on the question of drafting workers who strike after being exempted for essential industry. He proposed an amendment similar to that recommended by the senate military affairs committee. It was rejected 91 to 52.

The house agreed to an amendment offered by Representative Treadway of Massachusetts giving the provost marshal general broader authority in dealing with local draft boards. The amendment would enable the provost marshal general, if dissatisfied with the work of a local board, to send special examiners into the district to reexamine the men in deferred classifications.

The Treadway, McCulloch and Campbell amendments, adopted Friday constitute the only important changes made by the house in the bill. The McCulloch amendment orders the drafting of the resident subjects of nations co-belligerent with the United States unless they are specifically exempted by treaty. The Campbell amendment specifically authorizes the placing of persons engaged in agricultural occupations in deferred classes.

Baker Fights McKenzie Move.

Secretary of War Baker came out flatly against the McKenzie amendment in a letter to Representative Dent, in which he declared the McKenzie amendment "unwise" and likely to impair seriously the army program.

In the senate there were continued manifestations against the drafting of the men under twenty years of age. It is believed, however, that the provision lowering the minimum age limit to eighteen years will be adopted by a substantial majority.

Selects Will Entrain Between September 3 and 6—40,503 Called for Limited Service.

Washington, Aug. 26.—The first draft call for September, issued by Provost Marshal General Crowder, summons a total of 186,733 men.

The call provides for the entrainment between September 2 and 6 of 125,500 white and 21,270 colored men for general [illegible]

Donate Sponges to Red Cross.

The Greek-American sponge fishermen at Tarpon Springs, Fla., have made one of the most unique gifts that the American Red Cross has yet received. Each fishing captain, as his boat unloaded, contributed a bunch of sponges to the lot being gathered for the Red Cross. The sponges were sold for $808 at public auction on the Sponge exchange, the only public square sponge market in the United States. The money was sent to the Red Cross.

"No, I'm satisfied. You see I enlisted in the matrimonial ranks for the duration of the war."

BRITISH TROOPS ENTER BAPAUME, GREAT HUN BASE

Bullecourt, on the Hindenburg Line, eRached by Haig's Patrols.

PRISONERS TOATL 40,000

Number of Important Towns and Many Big Guns Captured—Austrians Aid Germans—French Continue Gains Between the Aliette and the Oise.

London, Aug. 26.—British patrols entered Bapaume, the Germans' great base, and the complete capture of the city is expected momentarily, according to a statement of the British war office.

The city was entered after General Haig's forces had driven forward on three sides of the stronghold in face of heavy counter-attacks.

A number of important towns were crushed in the advance and complete domination gained of the entire Albert-Bapaume road.

Patrols Enter Martinpuich.

The Germans exhibit signs of cracking at some places, but are offering desperate resistance. Many more guns, some of large caliber, have been taken. One British corps alone has counted 80 guns.

There is evidence of confusion in the enemy rear. Units of the same divisions hurled into the battle have been taken at points separated by many miles. Quantities of material are falling into British hands because the Boche has not troubled to apply the torch or explosives.

British patrols were seen entering Martinpuich, where apparently the Boche made good his escape.

Baucourt L'Abbaye and Courcelette have been occupied by the British.

Reach Hindenburg Line.

The fringe of Bullecourt, on the old Hindenburg lyine, seven miles northeast of Bapaume, has been reached by British outposts and Highwood, east of Albert, has been captured.

General Mangin's Tenth French army also was successful during the day, sweeping forward between the Aisne and the Aliette, repulsing heavy counter-attacks and further menacing the German line on the Chemin des dames.

Austrians Aid Huns.

Austro-Hungarian re-enforcements have arrived on the southeastern end of the western front, a number of soldiers from Austrian units having been captured by French patrols in the Woevre region, says the French official statement.

The British war office also reports the capture on the western front of an Austrian officer and four gunners of an Austro-Hungarian battery. This confirms the presence of Austro-Hungarian artillery units there.

40,000 Prisoners Taken.

Forty-two German divisions have suffered considerable losses in the present British drive, losing 40,000 soldiers, including several hundred officers, in prisoners alone.

Since August 21 more than 17,000 have passed through the collecting stations of the British Third and Fourth armies.

Attacking on the River Somme, Haig's forces captured Contalmaison three and three-quarter miles north east of Albeat, and Warlencourt-Eaucourt, on the Albert-Bapaume road three miles southwest of Bapaume, according to the official statement issued by the war office.

The British now hold the road from Albert to Bapaume as far as the outskirts of Le Sars.

North of Bapaume the British have captured Sapignies and Behagnies.

French Stop Counter-Attacks.

French troops made further progress to the east of Bagneux, on the battle front between the Aisne and the Ailette rivers, it was officially announced by the French war department.

The Germans are launching heavy counter-attacks along the front, the statement adds. The Teutons are trying to stem the advance of General Mangin's army, which is menacing the German positions on the Chemin-des-Dames.

French Report.

Paris, Aug. 26.—The text of the French official communique reads:

"North of Roye an enemy raid obtained no results other than to leave a score of prisoners in our hands. There was quite a violent bombardment in the region of Beauvraignes.

"Between the Ailette and the Oise French troops continued their progress east of Bagneun (northwest of Soissons).

"On the right bank of the Meuse and in the Woevre our patrols took prisoners, of which a number belonged to Austro-Hungarian units."

British Report.

London, Aug. 26.—The war office statement says:

"Our attack to the north of the Somme is continuing. Our troops hold the road from Albert to Bapaume as far as the outskirts of Le Sars and have captured Contalmaison and Warlencourt-Eaucourt.

"The number of prisoners taken by the Third and Fourth armies on the battle front since the morning of August 21 and passed through the collecting stations now exceeds 17,000.

How He Got His Uniform.

He was a recruit in an aviation camp in Texas. Uniforms were short there, and many were forced to wear civilian clothes. One young man, who was especially resourceful, was missing from inspection one morning.

"Where's Blank?" asked the lieutenant.

"In his tent, sir," replied a friend. "He has no clothes."

The lieutenant made haste to get to the tent.

"What are you doing here without your clothes?" he shouted.

"I borrowed the clothes I wore down here from a friend and promised to return them. Last night I boxed them up and sent them by express to his home."

Needless to say the lieutenant soon "dug up" a uniform for the recruit.

YANKEES MAKE NEW GAIN IN FISMES SECTOR

Push Line Forward on Front of More Than Half a Mile.

GERMANS PLAN TO RETREAT

Artillery South of the Vesle Is Hammering Hun Communications in Region North of the Aisne District.

London, Aug. 26.—A week of continuous allied success closed gloriously Saturday when the British stormed no fewer than 15 important strongholds. A semiofficial statement from Paris emphasizes that the whole interest Saturday centered on the British front, where gains of ground of the most important tactical value had been achieved.

Yanks Hammer Hun Lines.

The significant part of the success is that the Americans west of Fismes and south of the Vesle have been lately assigned to the task of hammering the German communications in the region north of the Aisne district.

They have been steadily re-enforced all the time, and if their present movement develops it is likely to have serious consequences for the Germans, whom Generals Mangin and Humbert are outflanking. While General Ludendorff deems it prudent to retire from this region, his decision to withdraw to the 1917 line may be hastened by the Americans.

Huns to Retreat?

With the American Army on the Vesle Front, Aug. 26.—Observers reported that the German long-range cannon north of the Aisne were firing in the direction of Soissons. They also reported seeing smoke from fires which burned all night at various pointsh between the Vesle and the Aisne. Prisoners recently taken declare they are unable to explain these fires, which have been burning for three days. Belief is growing here that the Germans are being forced to withdraw north of the Vesle.

Enemy Plans to Retire.

With the American Army on the Vesle Front, Aug. 26.—The diminished activity of the German artillery north of the Vesle gave rise to the suspicion that the enemy was preparing to abandon the ground south of the Aisne being compelled to do so by the rapidly menacing flank movement north of Soissons.

Only minor clashes between patrols marked the day. One prisoner was taken by the Americans.

German prisoners say the general opinion among the German soldiers is that Germany cannot win a decisive victory. They believe that Germany will endeavor to hold on in an attempt to obtain a peace by negotiation.

Give Services to Community Theater.

Having enlisted the services of many stage people in the vicinity, a group of public-spirited citizens in Hollywood, Cal., have recently established a community theater of a very interesting and distinctive sort. There is no commercial motive behind the enterprise and everyone connected with it, from the paper hanger to the playwrights and actors, donate his or her services. Funds raised from contributing members and by the sale of tickets, which cost 50 and 75 cents each, were employed in remodeling an old skating rink into a most attractive playhouse. The enthusiastic audiences that gather here show by their representative character that this is truly a community enterprise.—Popular Mechanics Magazine.

ADMIT GERMANY CAN'T WIN

Prisoners Say Kaiser Will Quit If Germany Is Invaded by thee Allied Armies.

With the American Forces on the Vesle, Aug. 26.—Captured prisoners say the general impression among German soldiers, now that so many powers had combined against Germany, was that it was not possible for Germany to win. They believe, however, the entente allies never would be able to enter Germany, because the Germans had seen too much of the destruction in France to permit of Germany suffering in a similar manner. The prisoners said Germany would be defended to the last man. If that did not suffice, an immediate peace must avert an invasion.

The Oliver No. 7—the Plow for the Fordson

Oliver No. 7 has been built for the Fordson.

Henry Ford & Son recommend it as the plow that will work to the best advantage with their machine.

Oliver No. 7 is strictly a one-man machine. A trip lever right at the operator's hand raises or lowers the bottoms. An even depth adjustment lever is right at hand, too.

You will appreciate the high clearance of plows and beams because they save time and annoyance—just as the rake between bottoms prevents clogging with trash and makes every second of operating time count in plowed ground.

The Oliver No. 7 embodies principles of plow construction founded on sixty years of making plows, of intensive study of every existing soil condition—constant attention to the plow requirements of the tractor since the tractor industry began.

Come in and see this complete outfit—the Fordson and the Oliver No. 7 Plow.

NO SECOND TABLE

This Man Has Gone Back on Time-Honored Institution.

Event of His Youthful Days, in Which a Parson and a Barrel Stave Figured Prominently, Soured Him Permanently.

"Wonder if that measly custom of makin' children wait whenever there is company at the table is in force anywhere in civilization today?" asked "Dune," the barber.

"Why?" asked the customer, who knew Dune's failing. "That does not concern you now, does it?" He was about to say something else, but the lather was too close.

"Not directly," replied Dune, "but I was a victim of the cussed tall timber style so many times when I was a kid that I never have forgotten it."

That was enough. The customer, a regular, knew that Dune was in a reminiscent mood, so he closed his eyes and let the yarn unravel.

"I never could understand the sense in such a fool custom. I never cared to eat with company. In fact, I preferred not to, as their presence interfered with my freedom of motion. I used to eat by the 'touch system;' that is, I never had to look. My father said I was a walkin' allegory of hunger. I have been intendin' for forty years to find out just what he meant, but somehow I haven't had the time.

"Well, anyway, if mother had just given me a handout, anything in the form of food, I would have been willin' to eat it in the kitchen or the woodshed. But, no, we must wait and wait nice. There were five of us, each one just as empty as I always was. But if the children didn't wait nice the family wasn't in good standin' when I was a kid.

"The worst lickin' I ever got was for bawlin' out a preacher when he took the last piece of chicken. Five of us were on the firing line just outside the dinin' room. 'I was in the first line trench, lookin' through the crack. After that salamander had finished his pie he said: 'Sister Beezer, you certainly cook the best fried chickin' of anyone I know. I'm not goin' to leave any for manners. I'm just goin' to take this last piece.'

"And it was the last piece and I knew it, for I had counted 'em from where I stood. I had that piece set and intended to grab it at the first charge of the bread line which I headed."

"Why did he call your mother Mrs. Beezer?" asked the customer. "Your name is Duncan, isn't it?"

"Duncan McCarty Beezer," replied Dune proudly, "that's it. Well, anyway, I let an awful yelp out of me. I was hostile and told the preacher he didn't have any manners to leave. I got a wallopin' with a barrel stave, and nothin' to eat at all, and I always have been sore about that.

"I swore then that if ever I grew up, got married and had children they'd get theirs if the company had to do on half rations. And I've kept that oath. The four Beezers at my house never had to wait for their chow."

ALL HAD TRAGIC HISTORY

Carolina the Last of a Quartet of Ships That Seemed to Be Doomed to Misfortune.

"The sinking of the Carolina by a German U-boat removed the last of a quartet of ships that have had a tragic history," remarked Brooks Amiss of Baltimore, a former resident of Washington at the Willard according to the Washington Post. "The Carolina was formerly the Grand Duchess, built for the Plant line in 1896. She made her first trip from Boston to Halifax and two years later she was taken over by the government to be used as transport in the Spanish American war. Her maiden voyage in the transport service was from Charleston, S. C., carrying a regiment of Wisconsin troops and high army officers to Porto Rico.

"General Miles, a short time before had [illegible] in command of the American army and he left Washington with members of his staff early in July. At Charleston General Miles went on board the Yale, which had been the City of Paris of the American line. He left Gen. Roy Stone of his staff at Charleston to recruit a gang of laborers for the army in Porto Rico. General Miles proceeded to Cuba on the Yale and after staying there a few days went to Guanica on the southern coast of Porto Rico. It was while he was lying in the wonderful little harbor of Guanica on board the Cherokee, the Yale being too large to enter the harbor, that he was joined by members of his staff who had sailed on the Grand Duchess. The Cherokee, another Plant liner, took the staff to Ponce, and among others on that vessel was the late Richard Harding Davis, who had sailed from Cuba on a dispatch boat. The Cherokee arrived off Ponce the next morning to find that the city had been taken the previous day by an ensign of the navy in a dispatch yacht.

"A few days later the protocol ending the war was declared and most of the members of the Miles party sailed back for the States on the Oldam, a transport that had been purchased from the Holland American line.

"The curious part of the thing is that the Yale was sunk in some manner; the Oldam ran ashore off the coast of Cuba while in the transport service; the Cherokee foundered somewhere in the Atlantic and now the Grand Duchess, rechristened the Carolina, has been sent to the bottom by a German U-boat."
